One such occasion he writes: "Dear ——: I am the only person, I believe, on the press who does not care in the least whether his lucubrations do or do not appear in print. It has always appeared to me that the making of an art (article) requires two persons, one to write it, the other to cut it down, and generally to cut out what the first man most admires."—London Truth.

Wanted His Money Back.

A young man had taken his wife to a show, and as there was no one to look after the baby they had brought it along. It cried lustily all through the first act. At the close of the act an usher came down the aisle and informed them that if they could not keep the baby quiet they would have to go to the box office, get their money back and go out.

They succeeded in squelching the baby, and all went well for a time.

Then, five minutes after the last act had commenced, the young father leaned over and said, "How do you like the show?"

"Rotten!" was the reply.

He was silent for a moment, and then, leaning over again, he whispered: "Stick a pin in the baby."—Everybody's.

A FAMOUS FENCER

GREATEST DUEL ON RECORD.

To give an idea of what a brave man can do if he knows fencing thoroughly and but keeps cool and collected in danger we will relate a historical duel. So extraordinary is this combat that it would be held a romance had it not been witnessed by a whole army. The hero is Jean Louis, one of the great masters of the sword of the beginning of last century, and the duel happened in Madrid in 1813. He was the master at arms of the Thirty-second regiment of French infantry. The First regiment, composed entirely of Italians, formed part of the same brigade.

Regimental esprit de corps and rivalries of nationality caused constant quarrels, when swords were often whipped out or bullets exchanged. After a small battle between the two factions of the brigade had occurred in the streets of Madrid, in which over 200 French and Italian soldiers had taken part, the officers of the two regiments, in a council of war assembled, decided to give such breaches of order a great blow and to re-establish discipline. They declared that the masters at arms of the two regiments involved should take up the quarrel and fight it out.

The drum is heard. Two men, naked to the waist, step in the ring. The first is tall and strong. His black eyes roll disdainfully upon the gaping crowd. He is Giacomo Ferrari, the celebrated Italian. The second, tall, also handsome and with muscles like steel, stands modestly awaiting the word of command. His name is Jean Louis. The seconds take their places on either side of their principals. A deathlike silence ensues.

"On guard!"

The two masters cross swords. Giacomo Ferrari lunges repeatedly at Jean Louis, but in vain. His every thrust is met by a parry. He makes up his mind to bide his chance and caresses and teases his opponent's blade. Jean Louis, calm and watchful, lends himself to the play, when, quicker than lightning, the Italian jumps aside with a loud yell and makes a terrible lunge at Jean Louis, a Florentine trick often successful. But with extraordinary rapidity Jean Louis has parried and riposts quickly in the shoulder.

"It is nothing," cries Giacomo, "a mere scratch." And they again fall on guard. Almost directly he is hit in the breast. This time the sword of Jean Louis, who is now attacking, penetrates deeply. Giacomo's face becomes livid, his sword drops from his hand, and he falls heavily on the turf. He is dead.

Jean Louis is already in position. He wipes his reeking blade; then, with the point of his sword on the ground, he calmly awaits the next man.

The best fencer of the First regiment has just been carried away a corpse, but the day is not yet over. Fourteen adversaries are there, impatient to measure swords with the conqueror, burning to avenge the master they had deemed invincible.

Jean Louis hardly has two minutes' rest. He is ready. A new adversary stands before him. A sinister click of swords is heard, a lunge, a parry, a riposte and then a cry, a sigh, and all is over. A second body is before Jean Louis.

The signal is given. The Italian is as tall as the one who lies there a corpse covered by a military cloak. He has closely watched Jean Louis' play and thinks he has guessed the secret of his victories. He multiplies his feints and tricks; then, all at once, bounding like a tiger on his prey, he gives his opponent a terrible thrust in the lower line. But Jean Louis' sword has parried and is now deep within his opponent's breast.

What need we to relate any more? Ten new adversaries followed him, and the ten fell before Jean Louis amid the excited yells and roars of an army.

At the request of the Thirty-second regiment's colonel, who thought the lesson sufficient, Jean Louis after much pressing consented to stop the combat, and he shook hands with the two survivors, applauded by 10,000 men.

From that day fights ceased between French and Italian soldiers.

This wonderful and gigantic combat might be held a fable were not all the facts above stated still found in the archives of the ministry of war.—Lippincott's.

Carnegie's First Library.

When Andrew Carnegie was a mere lad in the employ of the Pennsylvania railroad he with the other boys of the old First ward, Allegheny, Pa., now the north side, Pittsburgh, had for many years the use of the private library of a Major Anderson. Mr Carnegie, while speaking at the installation of his libraries, often said that much of his success was due to the influence of the books obtained in this library and that when he became wealthy the building of the Allegheny free library was one of his first acts.—New York Sun.

JOIN THE BRANDON SYNDICATE.

Approximately $1,000 for each $100 invested and one-half of this profit should be reaped in four months, and the balance by December, this year.

The wise man is he who reads the sign of the time and acts accordingly. You are not buying lots but become a shareholder in an undivided interest of a first class sub-division, and a party to the selling of lots, instead of buying, a review of the history of real estate speculation show the greatest profits have been realized from purchase and sale of sub-division and close in business property. The Syndicate plan appeals to all. The capitalist has an opportunity of securing a high rate of interest on his capital invested, the man of moderate means has the same opportunity with the additional prospect of largely increasing his principal and his chances of becoming independently rich are increased a thousand fold. Shares in this Syndicate are $100, and for those who cannot pay outright all to have a chance at following terms: $33.35 cash, balance equally divided, due in 30 and 60 days. Now then, property the same distance out is being held at $500 per acre. I could sell at even $200 per acre, and clear a handsome profit, account of securing the property before the boom although by sub-dividing can clear as much several times over and in addition make big money for many others.

Do you know that Brandon, Manitoba is on the eve of the first genuine growth activity in the history of that thriving city. The Dominion Fair will be held there in 1913, and $135,000 is being spent in preparation for it. Brandon ranks among the first as a distributing centre; 278 towns that can be served by wholesalers on a competitive freight rate basis, 134 towns within a radius of 60 miles, all inspired with progress, Electric Ry. now going in. Charter has been granted to a Company to build and operate radial lines to all important towns, including Rapid City, Minnedosa, Neepawa, Carberry, Souris, Wawanesa and etc. With rapid transit quick service what will it mean for Brandon, all of this wealth knocking at her door? Brandon's assessment increased in one year, 1910 to 1911, $1,227,492. Elevator capacity, Brandon city trading territory, 19,324,000 bushels, or one third of the total capacity of Alberta, Saskatchewan, and Manitoba. Inland revenue, 1910, $87,113.36. Bank Clearings, April 1st to March 31st, 1911, $27,271,695.00. Brandon is a shipping area. Brandon rates are from three cents to thirty cents less per 100 lbs., according to class and destination, than Winnipeg rates to the same points, and from 6 to 51 cents less than Regina rates.

Building and construction work in Brandon, 1911, $3,259,000, including Provincial asylum $600,000, new dwellings $200,000, new provincial normal school, Technical school, addition to the college, apartment houses, hospital addition, new primary school, warehouses, churches, bank buildings, and many others; C.N.R. hotel and station, $500,000, Canadian Pacific station $250,000, Grand Trunk Pacific building, in this year contracts awarded. Four transcontinental lines and, including branches, 27 lines run in or radiate from Brandon, the present terminus of the Great Northern, having Hudson Bay its objective point. Think what this means to Brandon. Also upon completion of the Government's railroad to Hudson Bay, as well as C.N.R and C.P.R. surveying lines to that point, which is 100 miles nearer Liverpool than New York City to Liverpool, Brandon will have adequate shipping facilities. 500,000 horse power available; already the immense water powers of the Winnipeg river are being harnessed to make the wheels of industry hum at Brandon.

JOIN THE BRANDON SYNDICATE.

Join the Brandon syndicate and become interested in the best piece of sub-division property in or near Brandon. The property is located directly south of the business centre of Brandon, and in line of its surest and quickest developments. The property is admirably located, and every lot on it will be readily sold. Property sub-divided one-half mile further out, and one-half the lots sold without even advertising. The initial and only payment demanded of this syndicate is $30,000, and the syndicate will reap seventeen times that amount. In other words approximately $1,000 for every share, 200 shares reserved, 300 sold, 500 issued altogether. By reserving the 200 shares is where the syndicate promoter benefits. The difference between cost of land $24,140.00 and the $30,000 will sub-divide and cover cost of advertising, consequently the promoter will not derive any benefit only along with the shareholders, after subdividing and larger returns for shareholders will mean the same for the promoter. The contract you will receive upon receipt of remittance gives you an undivided interest in the land and also those who may make default in payments, their money to be refunded with 6 per cent. interest on completion of the syndicate. Here is a Big Speculation.

Here is a big speculation for the man of little means. The man with $100 in this syndicate will participate in the profit just the same as the man with $1,000. The small investor will realize the same profit as the big real estate operators have made in the west, and who always keep to themselves such chances as these. This is a chance for the small investor in a piece of property that is absolutely safe, in a town that is going to surprise the whole west this year.

Think this over, sign the coupon and send in with your remittance, as the adv. may not appear again.

A Champion Hen.

Canadian chickens will have to take off their hats to the hens at the Ontario Agricultural College. That these classy fowls have got the whole wide world beaten in the matter of egg production is revealed in the report of the Minister of Agriculture for the year ending Oct. 31, 1911.

"It is a well-known fact," says the report, "that 200 eggs in a year from one hen is a splendid record and one seldom attained. Yet of 53 barred rock pullets of the bred-to-lay type, 13, or nearly 25 per cent., surpassed this high mark. The top record was 282, the showing of the first half dozen being 282, 268, 252, 243, an average of 250.5 eggs in a year."

This record, it is understood, has not been surpassed anywhere on the continent, or, for that matter, in the world. For the whole 53 pullets the average for the year was 174, a total of 9,204 eggs.

"An experiment was carried on with a view to a comparison between 23 bred-to-lay pullets and 23 exhibition pullets. The bred-to-lay pullets laid 1,032 eggs more than the exhibition variety and at the same time consumed appreciably less food.

"Tests as to cost of feeding were made with 341 pullets. The final figures showed the average cost per dozen in the winter months to be 20.76 cents, in the summer 9 cents, an average of 12.48 for the 11 months. The average cost of feeding each hen in winter was 11.76 cents, in summer 10.03 cents, making an average of 10.90 for the 11 months."

Shops Named After Him.

The C.P.R., in accordance with its well-known plan of naming its new car shops after the veterans in its service, has struck a happy thought in designating its newest plant in the west Ogden. Since the spot which bears that name will, undoubtedly, prove one of those western centres where expansion is by no means slow, Vice-President Ogden, after whom it has been named, also has ground for self-satisfaction.

Vice-President I. G. Ogden is one of the old guard of the C.P.R., being a veteran of 31 years in the company's service. A New Yorker by birth—belonging to a family of financiers, his forefathers having been bankers—Mr. Ogden has spent the larger portion of his busy life in the finance departments of railways. In 1871 he became paymaster and accountant of the Chicago and Pacific Railway, and five years later was auditor of that company. The high reputation he gained with the Chicago and Pacific Railway attracted attention towards him, and at the birth of the Canadian Pacific Railway Co., in 1881, he was selected to take charge of the finances of the western division of the road, with headquarters at Winnipeg. Two years' excellent work in the west was followed by his promotion to the position of chief auditor of the entire system, the higher title of controller being bestowed upon him in 1887. Other honors quickly followed, and in 1901 he was made vice-president of the company, with the finances of the large corporation particularly under his charge.

Marriage Penalties.

Much is heard of the taxation of bachelors, but little is ever said of the communities wherein matrimony is deemed a punishable offence. Perhaps the most extraordinary ideas with reference to this subject may be said to be held at Oxford University in England. There, for instance, a fellow of All Souls College forfeits his fellowship if when studying the classics he should take unto himself a wife. In such event he must not only pay a penalty, but must also present his college with a memorial in the shape of a silver cup, with the further condition that on this cup shall be inscribed in Latin, "He backslid into matrimony."

There is an aristocratic club in London, the Bachelors' of Piccadilly, whereof the members who so far forgot their loyalty to the club as to marry are actually expelled and ostracized. The only saving feature of such expulsion is that by the payment of a fine of $100 the offending one may retain an honorary membership, but so far as active membership is concerned he is strictly out of it for the rest of his life.

There is a similar organization in Germany, the Junggesellen Club. Whenever there comes to the officials of this club any intimation that a member contemplates matrimony he is immediately summoned for trial in the club court, with the president as judge. The culprit is allowed to plead in extenuation of his offence, and upon his skill in presenting such plea depends the amount of his fine, which ranges from $100 to $1,000. The humorous feature of the fine consists in the application made. The money is devoted to a dinner, whereat all members appear in mourning attire. At the conclusion of the repast the president solemnly reads the sentence of expulsion, and the delinquent is led from the room amid the groans and lamentations of his erstwhile club members.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

FORETOLD HIS END.

W. T. Stead's Prediction to Dr. Goldwin Smith.

It was at Toronto and to the late Dr. Goldwin Smith, in the course of a memorable interview at the Grange, that William T. Stead, the noted English editor, who was numbered among those who went down with the ill-fated Titanic, decreed the manner of his death.

The conference took place on the occasion of Mr. Stead's last visit to this city some six years ago. Dr. and Mrs. Goldwin Smith had invited the well-known journalist and his cousin, Mr. E. J. B. Duncan, of the legal firm of Proudfoot, Duncan, Grant & Skeans, to a typical English afternoon tea, served in the quaint and richly stocked library at the Grange. Smith and Stead had known one another for years and in a couple of hours of illuminating conversation the two men — both of world-wide note — discussed world figures and world events with a rare and intimate knowledge. The veteran philosopher sat in his arm chair by the cheery and typically English fireside; the younger publicist paced the floor with almost nervous energy as he spoke. Dr. Smith finally raised his hand in protest. The constant dynamic activity of the visitor drew forth a physician's warning.

"Have no fear, doctor," quoth Stead with characteristic directness. "There has come to me the assurance that I shall live every moment of my days. I shall be wiped out at the end—sometimes it is borne upon me that I shall be kicked and beaten to death by a mob on the streets of old London, at other times I seem to realise my end as one of the victims in a great disaster which will wipe out hundreds."

"Strange idea," was Dr. Goldwin Smith's quiet and only comment.

"I shall know when the end comes. Till then I have my work to do," replied the fatalist. And other conversation proceeded.

Missouri Horse Talk.

Speaker Champ Clark enjoys telling of an incident that occurred in a circuit court of Missouri during a "horse case" in which a horseman well known throughout the state for his expert knowledge was called as a witness.

"You saw this horse?" asked counsel for the defendant.

"Yes, sir, I"—

"What did you do?"

"I opened his mouth in order to ascertain how old he was, and I said to him. I said, 'Old fellow, I guess you're a good horse yet.'"

At this juncture opposing counsel leaped to his feet. "Your honor," he cried, "I object to the statement of any conversation between the witness and the horse when the plaintiff was not present."—Pittsburgh Chronicle.

Overdone.

The Attorney For the Defense—You see, your honor, my client is a foreigner who can't speak a word of English. He doesn't understand our laws. He didn't know it was wrong to carry a revolver.

"Two revolvers and a dirk," corrected the judge.

Sartorial Discord.

Field Marshal Sir Evelyn Wood was greatly attached to a regiment of highlanders when the latter were stationed at Portsmouth. Sir Evelyn, then a captain, one day returned from London and with great hurry proceeded to array himself for parade. When he at last emerged he observed that his men were evidently at great pains to conceal their laughter, and he quietly questioned his subaltern as to the probable reason. "Well, sir," replied the latter, "you are dressed correctly as to kilt, sporran and all the rest of it, but you have forgotten to remove your tall hat!"

According to a Persian proverb, "Ispahan is beautiful, Shiraz is lovely, but Teheran is most beautiful of all." The Persians call Teheran the "Paris of Persia." This city lies on a sandy level. There are gentle hills to the north, and far in the distance one may see a range of mountains crowned by a majestic and snow covered peak.

The features of Teheran that attract the traveler's attention first are its city walls and its hundred towers that stand at intervals in the wide circle of the ramparts. In the center of the town is the great square of the arsenal, where an enormous number of now obsolete arms are stored. The great Boulevard des Ambassadeurs, as the French would call it, which is near the arsenal, is one of the finest to be found outside Paris.

If this part of the town has a modern aspect the southern part of the city has retained its oriental character, and here palaces, bazaars and mosques jostle one another, surrounded by narrow, winding, mysterious streets. Teheran is one of the dream cities of the east.—London Family Herald.

Ministerial Perquisites.

Not only stationery office officials, but cabinet ministers, used formerly to enjoy sundry little perquisites now no longer legitimate. At one time, for instance, each secretary of state received on his appointment a silver inkstand which he could retain and hand down as a keepsake to his children, but Mr. Gladstone when chancellor of the exchequer abolished this little perquisite, and the only token of office an outgoing minister can take with him is his dispatch box. The wife of a minister who had long occupied an official residence on being evicted said with a pensive sigh, "I hope I am not avaricious, but I must say when one was hanging up pictures it was very pleasant to have the board of works carpenter and a bag of nails for nothing."—London Chronicle.

Not the Same.

It was in the smoking car, and the two fat men were talking.

"Well, I have a good deal of trouble with my kidneys," said the first. "Can't seem to get 'em just right. How about you?"

"Oh, my kidneys are generally all right; it's liver with me," said the second. "Been running wrong all season."

"Excuse me for butting in," said the drummer for a patent medicine house, "but if you gentlemen will take Peterkin's Pepper Pellets For Peevish Patients they will relieve you instantly."

"What's that got to do with us?" asked the fat men simultaneously. "We ain't sick; we're retail butchers."—Harper's Weekly.

Meridians Run Due North and South.

A man "following the absolute line of the tenth meridian east from the north to the south pole" would travel due south and never southeast or southwest so long as he remained on the meridian upon which he started. If on the tenth meridian east, for instance, his angular distance from the meridian of Greenwich does not change. He is always 10 degrees east of that meridian from one pole to the other. He could only travel southeast or southwest by departing from that meridian on one side or the other.—New York American.

Perturbation.

"Don't you want to leave any footprints in the sands of time?"

"I don't know," replied Senator Sorghum. "There's so much sleuthing going on that a man gets shy of a thumb print, a footprint and even of leave to print."—Washington Star.

An Occasion When Abell Made Up His Mind In a Hurry.

It is probable that on no occasion has any other musician had to practice his art under more disagreeable circumstances than that in which Abell, a singer of the seventeenth century, once found himself.

It appears that while Abell was rambling through Poland he was sent for to go to court, and after evading the request by excuses for a short time he was commanded to attend. At the palace Abell was placed in a chair in the center of a spacious hall and suddenly drawn up to a great height. The king, with his attendants, appeared in a gallery opposite him as he sat thunderstruck in his suspended chair. At the same instant several bears entered the hall with their keepers.

As the singer gazed in horror at these ferocious creatures the king calmly inquired whether he preferred to sing or be let down among the bears. The singer's choice, of course, was quickly made, and he afterward declared that in spite of his terror he never sang better in his life, although he admitted he might have introduced a few more "shakes" than usual in his songs.—New York Press.

Fata Morgana.

The kind of mirage known as fata morgana is seen across straits or lakes in southern Europe and shows in calm weather such images in the air as those of towns, castles and palaces. On the Lake of Geneva it is sometimes seen on fine afternoons of spring or summer. F. A. Forel, the well known Swiss investigator, has been giving some attention to the curious apparitions and concludes that they are due to a peculiar distribution of temperature in the air over the water. In the morning, the air being cooler than the lake, the opposite bank seems to be depressed, exaggerating the earth's rotundity, and late in the afternoon, the air having become hotter than the water's surface, the opposite bank apparently rises above the true horizon and the earth's circumference is enlarged. For a few moments only, at the change from one condition to the other, the fata morgana may be seen.

Why He Had to Have an Office.

An inherited fortune and the disposal of an organized business enabled a well known Chicagoan to retire. He had the inclination for leisure, but could not surrender the idea of having a definite business abiding spot. He rented an office in a lofty building and went to Europe. After a six months' absence he returned, looked the building over and went to South America. Then after again verifying the report that the building was not crumbling, he took a jaunt to Japan. Not long ago one of his old cronies said:

"Frank, why don't you give up your office? You don't need it."

"That's true," said Frank. "I would give it up, but I don't know what to do with the rug."—Chicago Post.

Duties of the Claquers.

The claque has never flourished in English theatres, but is a powerful institution in France, where a "chief de claque" enjoys a recognized status and makes a comfortable income. It is a mistake to suppose that the only duty of claquers is to applaud. A well organized claque includes some members who have cultivated the art of infectious laughter. These "chatouilleurs" attend the lighter forms of drama and laugh so heartily and naturally that their neighbors join in and leave the house convinced that the play must be a funny one. Then there are the "pleureuses," who are paid to shake with sobs at the right moment during melodramas.—London Chronicle.

POPULARITY OF BASEBALL.

Qualities In the Game That Endear It to the Public.

There must be special qualities in a game that can take and keep such a hold on millions of hard headed, healthy Americans from boys to earnest old men. What are these qualities? Here is an attempt to define them:

First.—Efficiency. No other spectacle shows the human being to such advantage on the side of efficiency. If polo be mentioned to controvert this it certainly cannot compare in the next three advantages to be mentioned, and the inferiority of the circus the astute reader can figure out also from what follows:

Second.—Visibility. A person who understands the game sees almost every play perfectly. He sees the delivery by the pitcher, the preparation and swing of the batter, the ball dashing away, the rush, grasp and recovery of the infielder, the race of the runner down the line, the catch of the baseman and is ready to dispute with the umpire whether the ball arrived a tenth of a second before or a tenth of a second after the runner.

Third.—Sustained suspense. An English student of American affairs, endeavoring to make his countrymen understand the hold of the game, stated that if they would imagine the most intense moment in the fifth set of a tennis match being played for the championship of the world they might get an idea of the intensity of interest that pertains to a ball game at almost any time in any one of the nine innings.

Fourth.—The democratic background. The interest of watching the experts is inseparable from the fact that almost every boy in the United States is brought up to play the game itself. One sometimes hears it said that watching the game is less desirable than playing it, which is creating an absurd dilemma, as the clerk in a great town, who may be able to spend two hours of healthy interest in the baseball park, could not possibly be indulging in the game himself and also because watching the game makes one all the more eager to play it if he had the chance, just as playing it makes him all the more eager to see how it is played by the greatest experts in the world.—Norman Hapgood in Metropolitan.

NELSON'S COOLNESS.

A Dangerous Fire Aboard His Ship Didn't Excite the Admiral.

Two or three days before the battle of Trafalgar a boy on the Victory carelessly set fire to a bottle of ether. The result was that the flames extended to some sails and also to a part of the ship. There was a general confusion—running with buckets and what not—and, to make matters worse, the fire was becoming dangerous, as it was rapidly extending to the powder magazine.

During the hubbub Lord Nelson was in the chief cabin writing dispatches. His lordship heard the noise—he could not do otherwise—and so in a loud voice he called out:

"What's all that noise about?"

The boatswain answered:

"My lord, the loblolly boy's set fire to an empty bottle and it's set fire to the ship."

"Oh!" said Nelson. "That's all, is it? I thought the enemy had boarded us and taken us all prisoners. You and loblolly must put it out and take care we're not blown up. But pray make as little noise about it as you can or I can't go on with my dispatches." And with these words Nelson went to his desk and continued his writing with the greatest coolness.

"CATARRHOZONE" A BOON TO MANY THOUSANDS.

Because you are old is no reason for suffering with everlasting coughing—those terrible chest troubles and difficult breathing can be thoroughly cured with Catarrhozone. You simply breathe the healing vapor of Catarrhozone and instantly its rich balsamic fumes are carried by your breath into the tiniest recesses of the nose, throat, chest, bronchial tubes and lungs.

Just think of it—a direct breathable medicine, full of soothing antiseptic pine essences that reaches every sore, congested membrane in two seconds. No drugs to take—nothing to harm or sicken the stomach, because Catarrhozone is the purest, safest cough, catarrh and cold remedy ever devised.

"For many years," writes Richard McCallum, Stirling, Ont., "I have suffered from Catarrh, and continually hawked and coughed, so that my throat was always in an inflamed, irritable condition.

"Doctors' medicine did not help me in the least, and all other remedies I used were quite useless. In one case it was time wasted in snuffing powder up the nose; in another using a greasy ointment, and so on. Not one of them was the least bit of good.

"I heard Catarrhozone favorably spoken of, and tried it. Really it benefitted me more in a few hours than years of treatment with doctors and other so-called remedies.

"Receiving such immense benefit I continued using Catarrhozone and in a few weeks I was completely cured of Catarrh and throat trouble."

Get Catarrhozone to-day. Large size costs $1.00 and lasts two months. Smaller sizes 25c and 50c. All dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y. and Kingston, Ont.

Summer School in Port Hope.

Under the auspices of the Missionary Society of the Church of England in Canada, a summer school will be held in Port Hope Trinity College School. There will be study classes, courses of lectures, conferences for the discussion of missionary and Sunday school subjects, and also normal classes for the training of teachers and leaders. Each afternoon will be kept free for recreation of various kinds. The location of the school provides abundant opportunity for this. The registration fee is $2.00 and board is $5.00 a week. Programs in detail will be issued and further particulars may be obtained by applying to either the president or secretary of St. John's Woman's Auxiliary.

Knox Brotherhood Excursion.

Members and friends of Knox Brotherhood held their annual excursion to Idyl Wyld, on Saturday. The Stoney Lake left the city at 8.30 and after a very enjoyable sail down the river arrived at their destination about noon. After dinner an excellent programme of sports was entered upon the principal event of which was a baseball match between the married and single men of the party, which ended in a tie 7-7. The boat left the park at 5.30 reaching the city about 8 o'clock. The weather was all that could be desired and everyone expressed themselves of having thoroughly enjoyed the outing. The pleasure was greatly enhanced by Knox orchestra, which gave excellent music both going and on the journey home.

St. George's Society Appoint Committee.

At the regular meeting of the St. George's Society held on Friday night, Messrs. Moss, Pretty, John, Jay, and Guy were appointed a committee to interview both the Dominion and Provincial members with regard to ways and means of helping immigrants when they arrive in the city and need assistance.

Mr. Howson, immigration officer, who will be asked to be present at the meetings which may be arranged.

The committee was appointed following a discussion on matters appertaining to the condition, in which immigrants find themselves on arrival in Peterborough. The Society feels that assistance should be given the new arrivals while they are engaged in finding houses and employment.

Mr. J. John, in a report to the Relief Committee, pointed out that many immigrants come to Peterborough in very poor circumstances. The report went so far as to say that some are brought on what was practically false pretences. Cases were cited to show how necessary it was that firm action be taken in the matter of new comers.

President Moss then explained that the Government had empowered the immigration officer to secure a place of accommodation for immigrants, but this matter had not been taken up by the local officer.

—Home Re-union association —

Mr Jay, when called upon to tell of the Imperial Home Re-Union Association, said that Messrs. J. J. Turner and Mr. G. N. Gordon were taking a great interest in the work, both gentlemen being imbued with the spirit of progress and fellowship.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

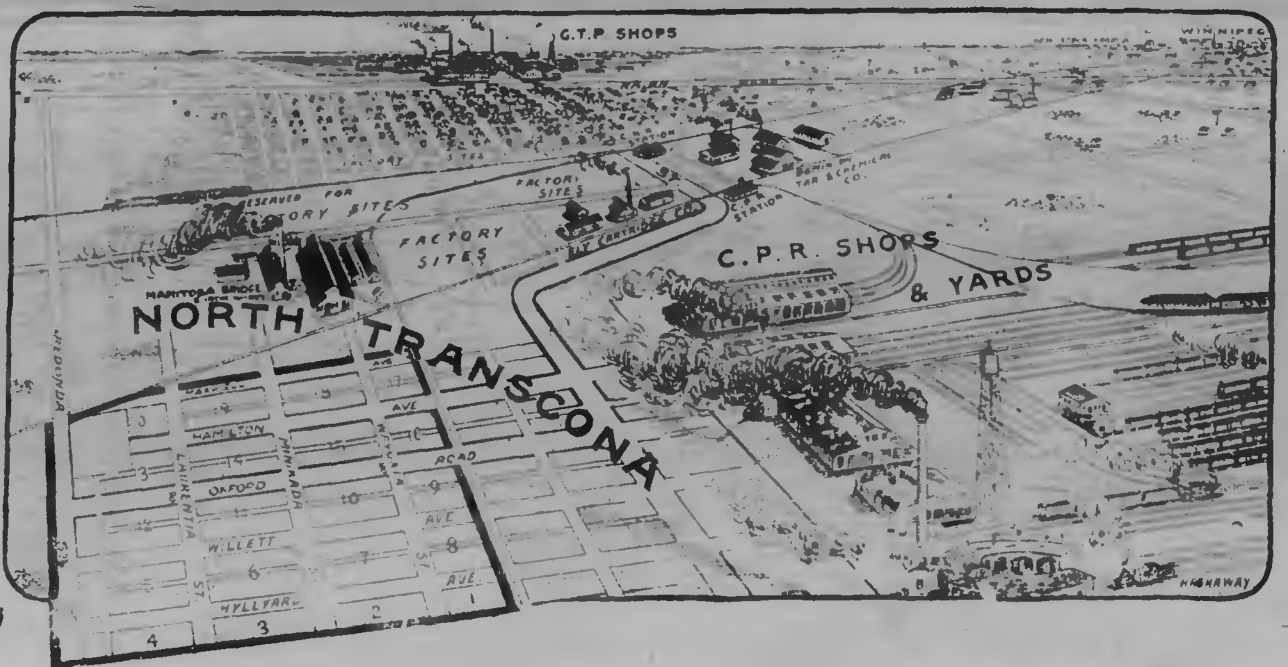
Take Our Advice and Invest in Transcona To-day



Winnipeg's Railway and Industrial Centre

TRANSCONA is rapidly becoming the recognized manufacturing centre of Winnipeg, and will be to Winnipeg what Toronto Junction is to Toronto.

The Grand Trunk Pacific are rushing to complete their immense shops at Transcona, one unit of theses are already finished, the machinery is now being tested, and in a few weeks' time one thousand men will be employed permanently and other sections will be pleted as rapidly as possible, and will give employment to a small army of mechanics.

The C. P. R. are now building the largest railway yard in the world at Transcona, together with elevators, round houses and other terminal facilities. Several industrial plants are already located in Transcona, and many others will be located there in the near future. The Dominion Tar and Chemical Co., and the Ely Cartridge Company now have their plants in operation. The Manitoba Bridge and Iron Works are building an enormous plant, and expect to have a part of it completed by the first of the year.

The G. T. P. shops will give employment to four or five thousand men, and in the near future the C. P. R. will require fully one thousand mechanics and yard men and the several manufacturing plants will require sufficient men to bring the total number of employees in Transcona up to fifteen thousand, this will mean a city with a population of over fifty thousand people.

Transcona has been incorporated, a progressive Council elected, and contracts have been already let for several mile of sidewalks, streets graded, electric light, and the question of sewage is now under consideration.

Investors who buy in Transcona to-day will make large profits. Real estate values in Transcona are exceptionally low, considering the possibilities of this young City. Fly Your Flag on July 1st.

Peterborough will be thronged with visitors on July 1, when the forty-fifth anniversary of the national birth day is to be appropriately celebrated by the city. Every effort is being made by the committee to prepare a program of such length and variety that all may be entertained and in all possible ways to make the holiday a memorable one. As it is to be everybody's entertainment, every sport and event free to the public, the citizens of Peterborough are asked to help in perfecting arrangements. The suggestion is made that the city be arrayed for the occasion in holiday attire. Merchants are asked, especially, to decorate their places of business and private residences should not be neglected. All of them can, at least, fly the Union Jack.

THE CHURCHES YESTERDAY.

In the absence of the pastor, Rev. R. Pogue, who went to Ottawa to open the new Westminster church there, the Rev. Prof. Robertson, of Knox College, occupied the pulpit at St. Paul's yesterday at both services. Prof. Robertson occupies the chair of apologetics. He came to Canada about two years ago from Scotland. This was his first visit to Peterborough.

Rev. Wm. Roulston, of Belleville, took the services at St. James' church yesterday.

At St. Andrews the pulpit was occupied by Rev. Samuel Lundy, of Ireland.

Rev. C. J. Cameron, of Toronto, preached at the Murray street church yesterday.

Farewell sermons were preached by the Rev. G. W. Henderson at Charlotte street church yesterday.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mr. W. E. Brooks, proprietor of the hotel at South Beach was in the city on Saturday.

Mr. Harold Matthews who has been attending the Royal Military College, Kingston, is home for the summer.

Count and Countess De Lesseps, and their child, and Sir William and Lady Mackenzie, with a retinue of servants are at Kirkfield for the season.

LITTLE LOCAL LINES

Six big transformers, made by the C.G.E. left the C.P.R. station yesterday en route to Winnipeg. They are consigned to the Winnipeg Street Railway Company.

MCFARLANE VS. COLLIER.

Former Claimed $4,300 for Permanent Engagement, But the Judge Is Not Convinced.

Toronto, June 22.—Andrew McFarlane, superintendent of the William Hamilton Company, Limited, of Peterborough, sued Wesley H. Collier, president and principal stockholder, claiming $4,300 for becoming permanently engaged when the company was reorganizing, but Mr. Justice Britton has dismissed McFarlane's action.

According to Mr. McFarlane, an agreement followed the objection that the stock would not be available if McFarlane were not permanently engaged, and in the Oriental Hotel, McFarlane said he was promised $4,300 if he would stay on a permanent basis, instead of a daily hire.

Mr. Juseice Britton, feeling a reasonable doubt that this contract was agreed upon, does not allow McFarlane's claim.

VOL. XXXIX, NO. 150 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, TUESDAY, JUNE 25, 1912 PRICE, TWO CENTS.

FRENCH SHOULD CLAIM THE WHOLE OF THE DOMINION

Sir Wilfred Laurier Uuges Them to Drop Provincial Spirit and Aim For Bigger Things

Quebec, June 24.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier was the principal speaker at the banquet of the St. Jean Baptiste Society last night at St. Sauveur, Quebec.

Responding to the toast of Canada, he said he was glad that being no more absorbed with official duties he could now come and celebrate the French-Canadian National day amongst his old Quebec friends. He pointed out that not only the Province of Quebec, but the whole of Canada should be claimed by the French-Canadians as their country.

He had been proud to say, and he was proud to repeat, that Canada was now a nation. To the critics who pretend that this is not so, that it has not been changed for twenty years, that our organic laws remain what they were then, he said that the laws did not make up a people, but the people made the laws.

"Canada," he said, "feels in its veins the strength of a young giant."

Sir Wilfrid claimed a great future for Northern Canada which was going to be developed by the new transcontinental, and where there could be found a place for new Provinces as rich as the present ones.

He paid a tribute of loyalty to the Royal family of England, which he considered were doing honor not only to monarchy but to humanity. He hoped that when he left this world his eyes would close on a country of liberty and tolerance.

Sir Wilfrid concluded by saying that there was as much dignity in recognizing one's duties as in affirming one's rights.

Mr. Armand Lavergne responded to the toast of the Province of Quebec, and urged his compatriots to turn their eyes towards their fellow-citizens of the West, who were suffering from the violation of the rights that all classes enjoyed in Quebec, and to help them. He reviewed his Nationalist declarations.

Buffalo, N.Y., June 24.—Five bodies and a list of eighteen missing persons were brought here to-day by the medical examiner from the scene of last night's disaster at Eagle Park, on the west shore of Grand Island, about ten miles below Buffalo, where over a hundred people were thrown into the Niagara River by the collapse of an excursion dock.

George Richmeyer, who lost his wife and ten year old son, saw them swept clear of the wreckage by the current that sweeps past at the rate of ten miles an hour and carried away in the gathering twilight. He was clinging to a pile, holding his infant son in his arms, and could do nothing to save the other members of his family.

George McKee, who also lost his wife and infant son, saw them go down in the mass of struggling people, and they did not reappear. Many others, it is feared, were swept away, and, until a careful canvass is made of the city, the exact number of dead will not be known.

The section of the dock which gave way precipitating the crowd of men women and children into the river, was about 50 feet in length and 25 feet in width. The medical examiner, who examined the wreckage at dawn found that many of the jagged ends of the broken planks were rotten, and that directly beneath the collapsed portion of the structure there were no supporting piles. The platform of two-inch planks rested on cedar beams laid across the full width of the dock, and many of these showed signs of decay.

Boats were sent down the river from Eagle Park early to-day to recover the bodies, sixteen being recovered.

Latest reports say that dead and missing will number about thirty.

FIRE CHIEF HOWARD WILL PROBABLY BE ASKED TO RESIGN

F. W. and L. Committee of One Mind as to Making a Change. A Fishing Episode and What Came of it. Chief To Appear Before Committee Wednesday in Own Defence.

Fire Chief Howard will be asked to tender his resignation unless the City's Fire, Water and Light Committee change their minds by Wednesday. All the members were a unit in expressing their conviction that he could not offer any justification in regard to his recent fishing trip that will warrant their overlooking his overriding the mayor and chairman Ald. Johnston, together with alleged infringement of the by-laws governing the fire brigade. But Ald. Brown and Ald. Buller contended that the Chief should in fairness, be given an opportunity to appear before the committee in his own behalf. Hence he will be invited to meet the Fire, Water and Light Committee, Wednesday evening at 7.30.

The Story.

The Fire, Water and Light Committee met last evening, when Chairman Ald. Johnston explained that some time ago Chief Howard had asked his permission to take a day or two's trip to Bobcaygeon, when the fishing season opened, in company with two of the brigade. He (Ald. Johnston) replied that he would consult with the Mayor and try and arrange the matter for him. He and his worship decided to concede to Chief Howard's request. But the original idea was that the journey should be made by auto, finally, however, an understanding being reached that the mode of transportation should be by train; the party was to leave yesterday morning week. It was also definitely understood that Chief Howard was to leave the brigade up to full strength by substituting the absent members with men borrowed from Street Commissioner Evans. Saturday week, continued Ald. Johnston, the Chief phoned me that he was going and left me with the inference that he would do so by train as arranged. But on Sunday at two o'clock, he and two firemen piled into that heavy rig the Chief drives and made the one horse pull the outfit, laden with three men and considerable equipment all the way to Bobcaygeon and back. "Now," Ald. Johnston went on to say, "I was absolutely innocent of any such arrangement as that, and would not have sanctioned it under any circumstances. When I assumed the chairmanship of this committee, I would be fair to the Chief and his brigade in every possible way. I have been fair and considerate, but must take exception to such conduct on Chief Howard's part, and have concluded that it is too bad he had taken this matter in hand without authority. He did not even leave the brigade up to its strength by putting men in place of the absentees as agreed upon. It seems that the Chief ignores the Committee's opinion and does exactly as he pleases." Ald. Johnston here incidentally remarked that men had left the brigade on account of language addressed to them.

Ald. Morgan—"Was the horse abused?"

Ald. Johnston—"Well, to drive it to Bobcaygeon, with three men in that heavy rig is not going to do it any good."

Ald. Anderson—"When did be return?"

Ald. Johnston—"Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock."

The chairman here remarked that no other department can afford its head to drive around with a coachman. "I want, gentlemen, some action taken on this matter; I have presented the case fairly and without any prejudice; you put me in as your chairman, and I assure you I'm not going to stand to be ignored."

His Worship here corroborated Ald. Johnston's explanation of the arrangements understood for the fishing excursion.

Ald. Buller—"It's time to call a halt. We cannot afford a horse and rig to take two or three firemen out to fish."

Ald. Brown said he had always opposed the maintenance of an assistant Chief as offering opportunity for more or less laxity. He thought the Chief, however, had been toeing the mark under Ald. Johnston's chairmanship of the committee.

Ald. Morgan—"Yes, he's doing better. At the Peter Hamilton fire, for instance, there were about five or six men in the hall when the alarm was sent in and both Chief's were absent. The Chief away at supper and Grange off for the day. And had it not been for the wet weather; the building would have been gutted. I don't want to knock the Chief, but he knows it is an infringement of the by-laws for both chiefs to be absent from the hall at meal hours.

Ald. Gordon—"No! I see you are keeping up your reputation of last year, getting some one to play detective, and chase the Chief all over the city."

Ald. Morgan—"I'm not spying on him; at the time of the Hamilton fire, Ald. Johnston and I happened to drop into the hall when the alarm rang."

Ald. Johnston here explained that he and Ald. Morgan visited the hall on that occasion in reference to the rubber boots that were to be purchased for the brigade, in accordance with instructions from the committee.

To his worship Ald. Johnston replied that some minor difficulties had arisen between the chief and he, but had been settled without calling the committee together. He must admit, however, that Chief Howard had been sleeping away from the hall too frequently—13 nights in one month; 7 in another, and 10 in another.

Ald. Johnston was here asked if the men wore their uniforms on their fishing trip.

Ald. Morgan—"They did not wear them, but took them with them."

The Mayor—"How do you know that?"

Ald. Morgan—"The detective Ald. Gordon alludes to, told me about it."

Ald. Gordon—"Have you discussed this matter with the Chief, Ald. Johnston?"

Ald. Johnston—"Discussed it with him! that's the rub! He came to me on Wednesday, and said he thought I would be pleased at his action. He tried to make it appear to me that he did a fine thing in taking that horse up to Bobcaygeon so that in case of a fire he could return to Peterborough in a few minutes, all prepared. To think that he should take me for such a galoot as to swallow that. (Laughter).

Ald. Anderson—"I'm deeply sorry that this episode has occurred. When this committee assumed office every member promised that Chief Howard should be given a fair opportunity to make good with the committee. And I think he has taken advantage of our generosity, and the sooner we replace him the better in the city's interests."

Ald. Buller—"I feel like Ald. Anderson, this thing has got to be stopped and he should not be allowed to play any more games. Still, in fairness, he ought to be given an opportunity to explain himself, but I don't see how he's going to do it."

Ald. Anderson—"If the facts are as stated, and I believe they are, I do not see how he can justify himself."

The Mayor—"Ald. Johnston's explanation of the fishing episode is quite correct. Then the Chief himself agreed that both he and his assistant should not be absent at meal hours, and he has violated that agreement."

Ald. Morgan—"Instead of improving he is getting worse. Personally I like the fellow, but I think that if given time he will hang himself and the men who support him. For that reason I move that Chief Howard be asked to send in his resignation. This is too good a city to be handicapped by such a man."

Ald. Brown—"The Chief is well liked by his neighbors; but he must do his duty. In fairness he ought to be given a chance to justify his action, although I don't see how he is going to do it."

Moved by Ald. Gordon, seconded by Ald. Buller, That Chief Howard be asked to meet this committee at 7.30 Wednesday evening, to show what justification he can advance for his course of action.—Carried.

Firemens' Uniforms.

Tenders for the supply of uniforms for the fire brigade were to hand, as follows:

From T. L. Anderson, city: 10 pea jackets at $14 each, one overcoat $16.50; 14 serge suits $24.50, and $25.50 each, according to quality; one uniform coat for chief $1 extra; extra pair of trousers for each suit, $5.50 each. Cloth for suit to be 24 oz. Forbes' serge and Irish frieze for over coats.

From Geo Ball, city: 14 serge suits and one officers' coat $375; 10 Irish frieze pea jackets, $190; one overcoat $25. This tender is for 24 oz. Forbes' serge for suits and included an extra pair of trousers for each man, 14 in all.

Ball's tender in bulk figured out at $590, and Anderson's best quality material tender summed up to $591.50.

Committee, however, could not decide whether Anderson's cheapest specimen of serge for suits at $24.50 each is of equal quality with the specimen submitted by Ball; if so, Anderson's tender would figure out considerably lower than that of his competitor. Hence the committee did not award the contract, but will report on the matter to Council in session next Tuesday night, when more specific information regarding the tenders will have been secured.

There were present Mayor W. H. Bradburn, Chairman Ald. Johnston, Aldermen Morgan, Anderson, Gordon Graham, Brown and Buller.

LABOUR LEADERS INCLUDING GOMPERS MUST GO TO JAIL

Messrs Morrison and Mitchell Must Also Serve Sentence In Connection With the Buekstone and Range Cases

Washington, June 24.—Sam. Gompers, Frank Morrison and John Mitchell, the labor leaders, were to-day held guilty of contempt of court by the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, in connection with court's injunction in the Buck Stove and Range boycott case. They will attempt to appeal again to the Supreme Court of the United States which reversed their former conviction.

Justice Wright sentenced Gompers to one year, the same as upon his previous conviction, Mitchell to nine months and Morrison to six.

WILL APPEAL.

The decision of the court covered 72 closely typewritten pages and took about two hours to read.

Bondsmen were on hand and attorneys for the labour men gave notice of an intention to file an appeal to have the Supreme Court review the judgment. In its previous review of the case the Supreme Court reversed the conviction on the ground that the contempt proceedings had been improperly instituted. New proceedings were at once begun. The sentences under the first conviction were, Gompers, one year; Mitchell, nine months; Morrison, six months.

The charge was that these men as officers of the American Federation of Labor, through the organization's official publication, has disregarded Justice Gould's injunction against the publication of the Buck Stove and Range Company's name in its boycott list.

GARBAGE COLLECTION NOT SATISFACTORY AND A CHANGE WILL BE MADE

Members of the City Property Committee are in hot water over the garbage by-law, and are keeping to the back streets to avoid angry citizens who are paying for garbage collection, which is not being done. Downey has so far refused to sign his contract for removal of refuse, etc., because, as he contends, the by-law does not enforce garbage being left sufficiently convenient for his ready collection, but on the other hand, Chairman Ald. Geo. Duncan told the Property Committee in session last night, that he receiving complaints from all quarters that refuse is even left on the sidewalk in places day after day and not collected.

Ald. Graham—"I am continually hearing the same thing."

Each member of the committee had similar stories to tell, and Ald. Duncan advanced that definite action had to be taken at once, as citizens wanted to know if they are to remove their own garbage or have it done by the city scavenger, under contract, for which service they are paying.

Ald. Graham said that if the scavenger will not sign his contract unless the by-law is amended to suit him, the city had better arrange to have the work done by corporation help.

When Scriver threw up his scavenger contract, the Council were in favor of this course, but a hitch arose from the fact that the city has no suitable refuse ground, and Council could not see where the money is to come from with which to buy one, under appropriations already arranged for this year.

Ald. Johnston offered that some citizens frequently put garbage on the street, convenient for collection, where it remains all day awaiting the scavenger, who never attends to it.

The committee decided that the Chairman and Ald. Brown inspect the three properties previously offered for sale in North Monaghan as refuse grounds, with a view to having Council on Tuesday evening next taking definite action in regard to employing men to remove city garbage, etc., and taking care of same on property acquired for that purpose. For, as Ald. Morgan remarked, "the money will come from somewhere."

Tenders For Coal All at Same Price.

The city coal dealers tendered for supplying the corporation buildings with coal next season, and were all of one mind $7.50 per ton.

The committee will divide the contract amongst the dealers.

The chairman of the Board of Works will be asked to replace the water pipe in Central Park disconnected when the concrete walk was laid.

BRYAN HIMSELF A CANDIDATE FOR DEMOCRATIC CHAIRMANSHIP

Baltimore, Md., June 24.—William J. Bryan may be the candidate named by the progressives to make the fight against Judge Alton B. Parker of New York, for the temporary chairmanship of the Democratic National Convention.

That was the plan that was being considered by the Bryan and Wilson forces to-day shortly before the National Committee met to name the temporary chairman and settle the contest cases.

Bryan was plainly angered this morning. He said the Conservatives were trying to divide the Progressives. He stated that he was willing to lead the fight in Person.

That an open break between the forces of Champ Clark and Bryan is impending was the general opinion of the majority of the Democratic leaders here.

DEMOCRATS DELIGHTED

Baltimore, Md., June 24.—Comments by the Democratic leaders here indicate a general, and in some cases, a jubilant satisfaction with the result of the Republican deliberations in Chicago. While some of the more radical said that Theodore Roosevelt running on a strong progressive platform might draw votes from the radical Democrats, they declared that the Democratic party has nothing to fear from this score if it nominated a progressive candidate. But they agreed on the contention that any losses from this cause would be more than offset by damages that would be wrought to the Republican vote between two tickets.

That a progressive Democrat might be asked to run on the ticket with Col. Roosevelt was admitted here, but none here, either personally or through friends, and supporters, would countenance the suggestion that he would consider overtures from the Roosevelt Camp.

DOCTOR'S SHIFT.

Now Gets Along Without It.

A physician says: "Until last fall I used to eat meat for my breakfast and suffered with indigestion until the meat had passed from the stomach.

"Last fall I began the use of Grape-Nuts for breakfast and very soon found I could do without meat, for my body got all the nourishment necessary from the Grape-Nuts, and since then I have not had any indigestion and am feeling better and have increased in weight.

"Since finding the benefit I have derived from Grape-Nuts, I have prescribed food for all my patients suffering from indigestion or over-feeding and also for those recovered from disease where I want a food easy to take and certain to digest and which will not overtax the stomach.

"I always find the results I look for when I prescribe Grape-Nuts. For ethical reasons please omit my name." (Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont.)

The reason for the wonderful amount of nutriment and the easy digestion of Grape-Nuts is not hard to find.

In the first place the starchy part of the wheat and barley goes through various processes of cooking, to perfectly change the starch into dextrose or grape-sugar, in which state it is ready to be easily absorbed by the blood.

The parts in the wheat and barley which Nature can make use of for rebuilding brain and nerve centres are retained in this remarkable food and thus the human body is supplied with the powerful strength producers so easily noticed after one has eaten Grape-Nuts for a week or ten days.

"There's a reason," and it is explained in the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true and full of human interest.

GO TO FLORIDA FOR HEALTH AND wealth.—The question is asked me repeatedly: Why, if all that is claimed for the climate and earning capacity of the land in Florida is true, how is it that only a percentage of the State's area is under cultivation? It is a fair question, and the answer is a simple one. After the war between the North and the South Florida found herself in a deplorable condition financially. The State Government leased hundred of thousands of acres of its best prairie and timber lands for periods running as high as 66 years. This latter period tied up the great Kissimmee Prairie until recently. It is now, however, in the hands of a splendid colonization company, whose selling agent is the Hunter Land Company, Kissimmee Prairie is in the Southern portion of Osceola County, and is noted for its fertility and uniformity of soil. It is the healthiest spot in North America, and every day in the year is a growing day. Write for maps, illustrated literature, excursion particulars and any desired information. Address Alf. Law, Ontario, Manager, 65 Cecil street, Toronto. D-6 in J4

PINE TAR CORDIAL

NUGENT'S SARSAPARILLA—PRICE FOR large bottle, 100 full doses, 50c, and well worth it, too. It's better to sell a medicine at all than to depend upon cheap concoctions that are compounded to sell at a low price and a big profit just because there is a large demand for certain remedies at certain seasons of the year. There are so-called Sarsaparillas offered to us to sell to our customers at 25c a bottle that would bring us a larger profit than Nugent's Sarsaparilla sold at 50c. Nugent's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, arouses the torpid liver, drives out all impurities, cleanses and tones up the system, and helps Nature throw off the dullness that comes from the indoor life of winter. It arouses energy, brightens the eye, clears the brain, gives life and force to movements. Nugent's Sarsaparilla is not the only thing you will find in this drug store. We make a specialty of Nugent's Remedies. Nugent Drug Co., 366 George St. directly opposite Creamean's store.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

A Canadian Invention.

A most original and valuable invention, which will benefit the children of the elementary and secondary education classes, was demonstrated at the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada at a recent meeting.

The invention consists of three globes, representing the sun, earth and moon so mounted and mechanically fixed that by simply turning a handle not only the correct motions of the heavenly bodies are automatically produced, but what is the most striking feature of all, the phenomena resulting therefrom are most beautifully represented. For instance, the observer actually sees the correct position of the sun at any time of the year, the sun or moon partially or totally eclipsed day or night, changes in the length of day or night at all places on the earth's surface, the phases of the moon and all the other related phenomena.

The simplicity of this instrument, its completeness, and its effectiveness may be realized when it is seen that all these motions and phenomena are brought about by the simple method of turning a handle.

Numerous attempts have been made by inventors to perfect an instrument simple and automatic for the teaching of astronomical, mathematical and physical geography in schools and colleges and the demonstration proves that a Canadian in Mr. Park of Brantford has at last succeeded where others have failed.

Something Like a Coat.

A remarkable coat was that of Mr. Bright, an Essex (Eng.) grocer, who scaled 616 lbs. His size was such that the coat could easily be buttoned round seven full-grown men. Mr. Bright was one of the heaviest men ever born, and Daniel Lambert only beat him by 31 lbs.

THE CURSE OF THE CATERPILLAR.

Those who have spent any time in the Eastern States during the last few years may form some conception of the real curse of the caterpillar, whose invasion of Peterborough and its environs has been one of the disagreeable features of the summer.

The depredations and havoc wrought by the gypsy moth and brown tail moth in New England are great beyond all description. Whole tracts of foliage have been ruined, so that a forest fire could not have left a greater waste behind. Even the parts of the cities haven been devasted and this spring the trees have dropped caterpillars, with their irritating poison, upon the passerby.

And all this has been in spite of the fact that hundreds of thousands of dollars have been spent upon the attempt to exterminate the pests. Numerous brigades have persued them with clippers in the fall, creosote in the spring, and white lead spray in the summer. And still they are a plague.

Hence the advent of this plague of the caterpillar can hardly be viewed too seriously. Save by some natural phenonmenon, there is no alternative between the ruin of foliage and the determined fight against the evil. While the caterpillars may not be as poisonous as the others mentioned, the results otherwise can be little different.

The situation requires the action of all. The caterpillar burner takes his place on the civic level of good citizenship with the fly swatter, if indeed he does not serve a larger good. The torch of freedom from the caterpillar curse is a wired bunch of cotton waste soaked in kerosene.

It is unfortunate that the warning given by the experimental farm was not better heeded. Ottawans have themselves to thank for the infliction. One torch in time would have saved a barrel of kerosene. It is better to think once about it this year, to some advantage, than to think thrice next year, and without greater profit.

Militarism is most excellent when appliedto common foes. Here is one worthy of attack. Once intrenched, he is not to be driven out. Because of his size he is not to be driven out. Let the war begin.

PEACE IN SIGHT AT LAST.

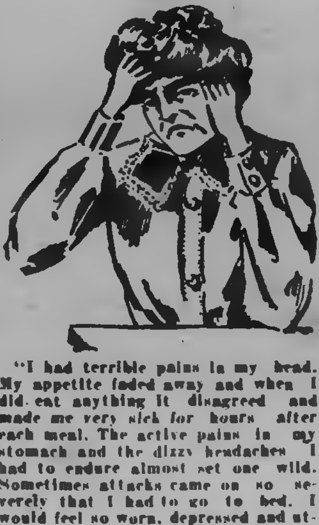
If Italy has agreed to a conference of the powers to arrange peace with Turkey, the last chapter of the war has probably begun. The Young Turks will welcome a conference, although they are sure to assume an air of yielding to pressure. The loss of Tripoli will mean that the true purpose of the young Turk revolution has failed. That purpose was not to set up a constitutional regime in Turkey, but to prevent further disintegration of the Ottoman empire.

Italy, by accepting a conference, presumably Raives her hitherto irreducible minimum recognition of the annexation of Tripoli. Turkey, for her part, must waive her demand for the restoration of the territory. Thus the conference will have a free hand. One does not need to be the seventh son of a seventh son to predict what the terms of peace will be. Italy will have virtual sovereignty over Tripoli and Cyrenaica, but there will be a formal recognition of the ultimate overlordship of the Sultan and of his spiritual authority as Caliph. Italy will give back the islands she has seized recently. This will be painful to the islanders, but the powers must make ample arrangements for their protection. There must be no reprisals — meaning massacres.

Peace with Turkey will not mean the end of Italy's troubles. Tripoli is likely to cost much blood and treasure yet.

DIZZY HEADACHES CURED IN ONE NIGHT

IF TROUBLED WITH HEAD-FULLNESS, RINGING NOISES, AND SPECKS BEFORE THE EYES THE STOMACH IS AT FAULT.



"I had terrible pains in my head. My appetite faded away and when I did eat anything it disagreed and made me very sick for hours after each meal. The active pains in my stomach and the dizzy headaches I had to endure almost set one wild. Sometimes attacks came on so severely that I had to go to bed. I would feel so worn, depressed and utterly miserable that for hours I wouldn't speak to my family. My system was poisoned with wastes, and nothing helped me till I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Without this grand system-cleaning remedy I would be sick, but each day brought me better health and spirits. I was cured and made as strong ruddy and healthy looking as one could wish, and will always use and recommend Dr. Hamilton's Pills."

"MRS. B. C. CURRAN,
"Westport P.O.

Thousands who are in ailing, low state of health need nothing else but Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They cure blood biliousness, liver, stomach and kidney disorders, pimples, rashes, bad color, troubles. Mild, certain and safe. Beware of imitations and substitutes. 25c per box or five boxes for $1.00 at all dealers or the Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Ont.

Editorial Notes

It is now the end of June, and Hunter and George streets are still being paved with the good intentions of the city Council.

In Orillia a few days ago, they put all the clocks ahead an hour. They could have accomplished the same result by getting up and going to bed and starting and quitting work an hour earlier. But maybe it will be easier if they make the clock lie to them.

The high cost of living has no terrors for the Vancouver Fishermen's Union, who have organized a local monopoly. The other day they threw twenty thousand fresh herrings back into the sea to keep up the high price of fish. Men such as these are enemies of society, and should be treated as such.

If these suffragette attacks on Premier Asquith and other Cabinet ministers are to continue, a good policy would be for the minister on all public occasions to be protected by a bodyguard of husky females who would have no scruples in handling the suffragette viragoes as they deserve.

The latest addition to the list of human diseases which are spread through the instrumentality of biting insects is according to the Lancet, kala-azar, or black fever, and the propagator is the bedbug. The disease is found most often in India, and there, under the direction of European scientists, war is being made on the bug. "This incrimination of the bedbug," says an English army surgeon, "affords another instance of the importance of cleanliness in dwellings and the need of waging constant warfare against biting insects, more particularly on those which rely upon man for sustenance."

THE MARKETS

Liverpool Wheat Futures Close Lower, Chicago Higher—Live Stock —Latest Quotations.

CHICAGO, June 22.—In attempting to guard against possibility of an upheaval of prices Monday when the Chicago Board of Trade will not be in session, wheat shorts competing today forced a material advance. The market closed steady at a rise of 3-8c to 7-8c over last night. Corn finished 1-4c to 1-2c to 5-8c up oats dearer by a shade to 1-2c, and provisions varying from 2 1-2c decline to 5c increase in cost.

The Liverpool market closed to-day on wheat ⅝d to 1d lower than yesterday, and on corn ¼d to ½d lower. Antwerp closed unchanged on wheat. Berlin 1½c lower, Buda Pest 1c higher and Paris unchanged.

Montreal Grain and Produce.

MONTREAL, June 22.—The foreign demand for Manitoba spring wheat shows no improvement, and the cables on oats were weaker, with prices bid 1½d to 3d lower, while, on the other hand, the market here was firmer, with sellers of round lots of extra No. 1 feed asking 49½c c.i.f. for shipment from Fort William. The demand for car lots from outside sources was fair, but the local trade was quiet. Spring wheat flour continues quiet and firm, but there is a fair demand for winter wheat grades, of which supplies are small and prices strong. Demand for millfeed is quiet. Butter is firmer, but prices show no change. Receipts for the week were 20,480 packages, against 23,110 a year ago. Cheese is quiet and easy, owing to the limited demand from abroad. Receipts for the week were 75,798 boxes, against 88,806 a year ago. Eggs fairly active and steady. Receipts for the week were 8,300 cases, against 6,230 a year ago.

DIRECTORS:

H. E. HAND, Toronto, President; Director Hamilton Brewing Association, Limited; Director Grant's Spring Brewery Company.
W. H. PARSONS, Montreal, Manufacturer; Director Colin McArthur Wall Paper Co.
W. W. CANHAM, Toronto, Importer, of Wilson & Canham, Limited.
K. McWHINNEY, Toronto, Contractor.
S. J. PLANT, Toronto, Ceramic Expert, Managing Director.

TRUSTEES—Imperial Trusts Co. of Canada, Toronto.

This company is organised to engage in the making of building brick, terra cotta, fireproofing, etc. The demand for brick is greater than the supply, and there is need of another factory to make really high-class brick. The demand for building brick is such that contractors are obliged, in many cases, to use inferior brick, probably endangering the safety, and assuredly endangering the durability, of the buildings so constructed.

The Canada Brick and Fireproofing Company's property, consisting of 150 acres, and contains a very valuable and practically inexhaustible deposit of shale, clay and building stone.

The deposits in this property are of such a nature that the best bricks, with a density and hardness not surpassed, and commanding the highest market price, can be made at a very low cost. Bricks can be made the year round, winter as well as summer, as the company will have a thoroughly tested and specially designed dryer, which obviates all difficulties. No such opportunity has come to invest in the brick industry in many years, and, considering the unsupplied market, the attractive prices for the product, the low cost at which the Canada Brick and Fireproofing Co., Limited, are able to produce, the extraordinary good quality of the brick that can be made, and the well-known ability of the managing director of the company, this opportunity to invest is one of the best this company has ever had the pleasure of offering its clients or the general public.

THE LOW CAPITALIZATION.

This company could easily have been incorporated for $1,000,000.00 but to enhance the actual value of the shares, and to make the returns on the shares of practical consequence for all future time, the capitalization was made small in comparison with other flotations, but large enough to give ample capital, pay all charges and put up a three-unit plant, fully equipped with the most up-to-date, fastest and best brick-making machinery, and to supply plenty of working capital. We recommend this stock to all seeking safe, reliable and profitable investment.

The plant will be located in the Township of Esquesing, in the County of Halton, and will have a capacity of 150,000 bricks per day.

The present sale is to provide funds for completing the contract for the installation of the works of the Company, and for working capital.

PROFIT-SHARING ARRANGEMENT.

Preferred stock will share all dividends in excess of 6 p.c. in the following proportions:
For every 1 p.c. extra paid on the Preferred, 3 p.c. is to be paid on the Common.
For example.—When the Common stock receives 3 p.c., Preferred stock will receive 7 p.c.
" " " 6 p.c. " " 8 p.c.
" " " 9 p.c. " " 9 p.c.

After this point of dividend-sharing has been reached any additional dividends are to be shared equally by both Preferred and Common. The Preferred is also "Preferred" as to return of capital.

Two shares of Preferred stock carry a bonus of one share of Common.

PROPERTY.

The property consists of 150 acres of land in the Township of Esquesing in the County of Halton, containing valuable deposits for the purpose of the Company. This was selected after careful investigation of many much-praised deposits in different localities. 100 acres contains clay and shale and 50 acres contains a valuable deposit of building stone, known as "Credit Valley" stone, which is in great demand, and in itself alone should realize a good profit for the Company. There is an unfailing stream of water through the property, affording abundant water for the Company's operations.

TRANSPORTATION AND LABOR.

The railway running through the property gives excellent transportation facilities, and as the property is situated in the same shipping zone as the Milton, Terra Cotta, Halton, and Port Credit Companies, the same rates will be secured as are paid by those companies. Cheap and efficient labor is available in the surrounding towns. The Company propose to build workmen's houses within a short distance of the plant.

MARKET.

The rapid growth of the City of Toronto and the extraordinary building activities in the suburbs and the surrounding districts, which will doubtless continue for many years, has caused a demand for brick, fireproofing and clay products in excess of the capacity of the brick plants that are in a location to supply the city and surrounding country. All the present brick companies in Ontario are taxed to their utmost, and much delay has been caused in building operations owing to the inadequate supply of brick, and in some cases it has forced owners to abandon building operations entirely.

ESTIMATED EARNINGS.

The earnings of the Company are estimated on the basis of a profit of $2.50 per thousand bricks. The average cost per thousand, as estimated by the managing director of the Company, is $5.00. In this is included selling, operating, and all incidental costs of production, and as the Canada Brick & Fireproofing Company, Limited, are installing one of the most modern and up-to-date plants, both for handling and manufacturing bricks, this cost should be materially reduced.

In estimating the earnings of the Canada Brick & Fireproofing Company, Limited, the cost per thousand is put at $7.00 (f.o.b. Toronto and delivered on the jobs) to cover all possible contingencies, and the gross income is put at $9.50 per thousand or considerably below the average price, which is more than $10.00 per thousand.

On this basis the earnings will be as follows, allowing 250 working days to the year

Unit No. 1.

CAPACITY	WORKING DAYS	BRICKS PER YEAR
50,000 per day	250	12,500,000

Gross income, at $9.50 per thousand $118,750
Cost of manufacturing, operating, etc., at $7.00 per thousand 87,500
Surplus .... $ 31,250
As the Company will instal three units, each having a capacity of 50,000 per day, the output would be three times the above amount, or a total profit per annum of .... $ 93,750
6 per cent. interest on preferred stock 18,000
Leaving for reserve fund, contingencies, dividends on common and preferred stock, etc. .... $ 75,750

It will be seen that the Company should earn over 7 per cent. on the Preferred shares and 3 per cent. on the Common stock from Unit No. 1, and Units Nos. 1, 2, and 3 should earn 18 per cent. on both the Common and Preferred shares.

MANAGEMENT.

The Company has secured the services of S. J. Plant, Ceramic Engineer and Clay Specialist. He has been associated with the brick business all his life, in the manufacturing of all classes of brick and high-class clay ware, both plain and ornamental, and has a thorough knowledge of the construction and erection of brick plants.

Samples made from shale off the lands of the Company may be seen at the offices of the Standard Bond Co. Wire-cut brick will be manufactured by the Company equal in appearance to pressed brick, and at no greater cost.

Applications may be sent in by telegram at our expense, and where application blanks are not available, a letter stating the number of shares desired, and a deposit of $1 per share for the number of shares applied for, will be sufficient. Applications will be considered in order received and remittance for applications in excess of issue, will be returned.

On Application .... $1 00 per share
On Acceptance .... 3 00 per share
On August 1st, 1912 .... 3 00 per share
On November 1st, 1912 .... 3 00 per share

Address all communications for particulars, information, or for shares and for expert reports on the property, to the Standard Bond Company, Standard Bank Building, King and Jordan streets, Toronto, Canada, and make cheques payable to the Trustees, The Imperial Trusts Co. of Canada, Toronto, Canada.

Interim receipts will be issued by the Trust Company pending the issue of the regular stock certificates, which will, together with the bonus stock, be delivered on the completion of payments.

Three per cent. will be allowed on all payments made in full.

The right is reserved to reject applications and to stop receiving applications at any time.

STORIES OF PIUS IX.

The Lady Who Told the Pontiff She Wished He Were Dead.

Lady Paget in the Nineteenth Century has a chapter of recollections dealing with life in Rome during the first years of completely united Italy, when Lady Paget's husband was British ambassador to the Quirinal. Among her stories are some of Pope Pius IX., which show that pontiff in a most amiable light. Though the pope had twice excommunicated the king, they really loved each other, says Lady Paget, "for they were made of the same kind of stuff, and both belonged emphatically to the days that are past and gone. Impulsive in action, primesautier and generous in temperament, they allowed themselves the luxury of sometimes letting their feelings deviate from what others might consider the stern path of duty."

When King Victor Emmanuel died his chaplain, against all rules, gave him absolution for everything, though he was under the major excommunication. The pope sent for the priest, inquired most feelingly about the king's last moments, and when the chaplain confessed Pius IX., with tears in his eyes, cried: "Hai fatto bene! Hai fatto bene!" ("You have done well! You have done well!")

Another story illustrates Pius IX.'s sense of humor. It concerns Mme. de Corcelles, the wife of the ambassador to the Vatican, a delightful old lady, who often visited Lady Paget, in spite of prohibitions. "For," she declared, "I am the granddaughter of Lafayette, and I do what I please." She never addressed the cardinals as eminence, but hailed them in cheery tones as her "dear cardinals." When one day she visited Pius IX. he asked her whether she had seen all the sights of Rome. "Yes, holy father," she replied, "but I should dearly like to see a conclave."

This story was told by the pontiff himself.

A Single Blow.

"You say he died from a single blow administered by himself?"

"That is just what he said."

"But it isn't possible."

"Yes, it is."

"But how did he do it?"

"Blew out the gas."

"Oh!"—London Telegraph.

A Faith Cure.

"Have you ever really known of a cure by faith?"

"Yes. When I was sixteen years old I fell madly in love with a widow of thirty, but my mother and father had faith that I would live if I didn't get her, and I did."—Judge's Library.

Happy Thought.

Abby, the littlest girl of the family, was seated at the breakfast table one morning. As usual, eggs were served. Either she was not hungry or she had grown tired of the inevitable bill of fare, for very earnestly and soberly she remarked, "I do wish hens would lay something besides eggs."—Youth's Companion.

FAMOUS DANCER GIVES COMPLEXION SECRETS.

(Aileen Moore in Beauty's Mirror.)

I've learned the secret of Dolore's entrancing beauty — the wondrous charm that has dazzled the courts of Europe and captivated vast audience everywhere. The famous dancer abhors rouges and cosmetics. Yet, despite the strenuosity of her life she retains the incomparable complexion best described as "indescribable." An intimate friend tells me the senorita regularly uses on her face what druggists know as mercolized wax. This is applied at night in the manner cold cream is used and washed off in the morning. It absorbs the dead particles of skin which daily appear, and a fair, soft, fresh, girlish complexion is always in evidence.

Dolore's skin is not marred by a single wrinkle, not even the finest line. She wards these off by daily bathing the face in a solution made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half-pint witch hazel. As your drug stores keep these ingredients, as well as mercolized wax (one ounce of this is sufficient), no doubt your readers will welcome this information.

GERMANY AND ALSACE.

A Very Suspicious Doll and a Ruse That Saved a Life.

For many years after it was taken over by the Germans the province of Alsace had many difficulties. Every possible precaution was taken to guard against any demonstration of the French national spirit, and, though the children were allowed to learn the language of their ancestors, they were not allowed to be taught it by French instructors. The following instances indicate the extent to which the Government carried its practice of watching the people:

A little girl was seen playing with a doll which was dressed in red, white and blue. The suspicions of the official were aroused, for it certainly was dreadful to see the power of the German empire so boldly threatened. The child was tracked to its home, and there the officer learned that the doll was a present. He immediately proceeded to the woman who had given it to the child and obtained the address of the shop where the dangerous plaything had been bought. It was a modest little establishment, but the officer found it at last and then discovered that the doll had been made and dressed in Leipzig. This was a surprise, but the matter did not end here, for the manufacturer in Leipzig was officially requested not to send any more red, white and blue dolls to Alsace.

The other story is that two Germans were walking one cold day on the banks of a large pond when one of them fell in. He could not swim and screamed for aid. The other, who was an officer, did not feel inclined to take so cold a plunge and calmly watched the struggles of the sinking man. All at once the man in the water began to sing a verse of the "Marseillaise," and the officer jumped in forthwith, for his strict orders were to arrest any person whom he heard singing that famous song. The unfortunate citizen was imprisoned for eight months, but that was better than drowning.

THE DREAM OF ISRAEL

IT IS SOME DAY TO RETURN TO THE HOLY LAND.

Israel Zangwill, the Great Anglo-Jewish Auther, Who Has Struggled Hard to Reach His Present Pinnacle Is an Ardent Leader In the Zionist Movement—He was Born In Poverty and Rose to Fame.

A notable Jew once took his small son to the House of Commons, and introducing him to Disraeli, asked the latter to speak some word by which the little chap should remember him.

"Boy," said the veteran statesman, "boy, remember this: you and I belong to a race which can do anything but fail!" It was a fine message from Jew to Jew. That boy might have been Israel Zangwill, for the latter has the profoundest faith in the race of which he is so brilliant a member.

Two thousand years of association with the western world has failed to divest the Jewish mind of its old Oriental fatalism, and belief in signs and manifestations, and an incident that attended the infancy of Mr. Zangwill colored his faith and that of his relative in the propitious possibilities of his destiny.

It was while he was very young that his poverty-stricken mother spared a few pence from her scanty store to hire a girl to look after him while she made a pious pilgrimage, on the day of Atonement, to the little synagogue at which she worshipped. The girl employed for the day was a Christian visionary, and the mother, feeling strangely uneasy, quitted the synagogue during the service and returned to her home. She found the girl in the street, and was assured that the child was sleeping peacefully in its cradle.

But the mother insisted on entering the house. There she found her little son screaming on his cot, his head covered with a pillow, his face black, and his mouth filled with blood. The girl confessed that, in revenge for the death of Christ she had pricked a bloody sign of the Cross upon the tongue of the little Jew.

After his escape from death at the hands of a maniac, the parents believed in the future of their little one, and he himself, since his mother told him the story, has never ceased to share their optimism. Scott, who had an equally miraculous escape from the clutches of a murderous nurse, had the same belief in his future.

But whatever may have been his dreams as to the fate in store for him, young Israel Zangwill had a bitter struggle for a place in the sun. Born in London, of miserably poor Jewish parents he was schooled at Plymouth and Bristol and then, in open competition won a scholarship at the Jews' Free School in London, where, they say, he was the brightest pupil that ever entered the school. He won every prize for which he entered, as much by slavish industry as by indisputable genius. There was grinding poverty in his home, and his sole ambition was swiftly to equip himself so that he might bring money and more food and clothes into that home. He felt himself fitted for the task, because he was the ugly duckling of the family in so far as personal appearance is concerned. A good-looking Jew, he tells you, is considered the fool of the family.

At the end of his school days proper, he became a pupil teacher, first at his old school and afterwards in Whitechapel. Truly, he knows the Ghetto of which he has written. After what he describes as "the hellish torture of a day's teaching," he ground away at higher tasks, and studied for his degree, which he obtained at London University, with honors in French, English, and in Mental and Moral Science.

But with all his tremendous toil, he had a brave and gay young heart under his shabby exterior. He composed a rampageous two-volume novel of his school days, and at sixteen he fell in love with the art of J. L. Toole and vowed to do him a good turn. He wrote a three-act farce, took it under his arm, and went off to Ramsgate with it, not with certain hope, but the theory that the comedian might possibly be there. He loitered about on the sands hoping that the lion of humor would turn up to be blessed with the farce. But he did not appear, and that farce has not yet been acted. So Israel went back to his work, and studied and taught until his soul was faint within him. Then he turned his back on school life and plunged into journalism as seedy and needy a young Jew as ever wooed the stony heart of Fleet street. He saw a five-guinea prize offered for a story, entered the competition, and won the prize, and kept his five guineas for two years—with a fixed purpose. He wrote a Jewish story, and paid the five guineas as half the cost of publishing it. The story was hawked in Whitechapel at a penny per copy, and it raised Jewry against him. But when he came to write "Children of the Ghetto" he turned up that old pennyworth, and used one of its chapters as the description of the market day in Jewry.

His first book proper was published in 1888, under a nom de plume, and in association with a compatriot. That book, he says, took them a year or two to write; for a year it was constantly being refused by publishers, and when it did come out the "Athenaeum" spoke better of it than of anything that he has since written!

Mr Zangwill is one of the few Jews who are proud to acknowledge their nationality. The rest of the world, he says, do not understand the Jews. We are not admitted into their family circle, and the Jews of fiction are unreal because Jewish writers have been afraid or ashamed to avow themselves and to reveal the knowledge which is in them. The avowed Jews he considers are of the salt of the earth, but he is unsparing in his treatment of the renegade Jew.

THE PRESIDENT'S OFFICE.

Elegance In Its Architecture and In Its Appointments.

The president's office is an ellipse in plan. A triple bay window forms one end and at the other is an open fireplace. Four doors, opening inward, are equally disposed, two on each side, and are curved to conform with the curve of the wall. The tall windows are hung with stately, heavy curtains and are flanked by bookcases set into the wall.

The fireplace is incased in fine marble, and fluted Ionic columns support the mantel, on which stands a bell glass covered clock, flanked by candelabra. In the fireplace are complete preparations for a wood fire. Even the paper is placed under the logs, ready to ignite.

The style of the room is classic colonial, and the woodwork is painted a creamy white with blue white embellishment. Each of the four large ornate door frames is surmounted by a rich pediment. The wall is covered by a warm olive green burlap, which extends up from a paneled wainscot to a wide, elaborate molding or entablature of plain plaster. A flat dome of this virgin plaster surmounts the room and gathers in its shallow, inverted basin the light from the bay window and gives play to every tint and shade of gray.

Pendent from the middle is a chandelier of electric candles, and triple groups of the same adorn the wall between the doors and windows.—William S. Nortenheim in National Magazine.

SIKH SOLDIERS.

An Interesting Division of the British Army In India.

In the English papers one may frequently see pictures of tiny soldiers, about seven or eight years of age, gravely saluting elderly officers. These infants at arms are boy recruits holding regular and dignified places in the Indian army. Each Sikh regiment is allowed twelve of these little chaps, who are trained almost from babyhood. They are paid each 3 rupees and 8 annas a month and at the age of sixteen enter the regular army.

The Sikh soldiers are an interesting and remarkable part of the British army in India. Their conduct in frontier engagements has distinguished them as brave, steady and devoted to their English officers. Yet about fifty years ago these well ordered soldiers were fanatical savages who in their mad uprisings shook the power of Great Britain. Once conquered, they accepted British rule and were trained and disciplined into a well equipped army of 30,000 soldiers. They formed part of the force that subdued the mutiny. The Hodson's horse troops, which helped capture Delhi, were composed of Sikhs whose devoted service to their leader made them famous. Their scarlet sashes and turbans gained them the name of "Flamingoes." Their descendants are no less determined fighters and stanch soldiers.—New York Press.

Assyrian Healing.

Some of the medical treatises of ancient Assyria are models of simplicity, and we cannot doubt the effectiveness of their prescriptions. Thus we are told that if a man has colic we should "make him crouch down on his heels and pour cold water over his head." That ought to cure colic if only the water is cold enough. Again, "When a man is bilious rub him with an onion and let him drink nothing but water and abstain from food altogether." The onion part is probably decorative. At least it can do no harm, while the abstention from food is salutary in the extreme, even for those who are not very bilious. But if a man is in "a weak state" why should it benefit him to "strike him on the head fourteen times with your thumb?" This is suggestive of faith healing.

Primrose Day.

Primrose day in England, the anniversary of the death of Benjamin Disraeli, Lord Beaconsfield, had its origin in the tribute, a modest wreath of primroses, sent by Queen Victoria for the funeral of Beaconsfield. The general impression that the primrose was Beaconsfield's favorite flower came from a misunderstanding of the words attached to the queen's tribute—"F. Victoria. His favorite flower." The public thought the queen meant that the primrose was Beaconsfield's favorite flower when in truth she meant that it was the favorite flower of the prince consort.—New York American.

"Swallowed a Word."

Little Mary was telling what she thought was an exciting story about a dream. She stuttered in her effort, gulped and paused hopelessly without completing the sentence.

"Why, child, what is the matter?" her mother asked.

The little girl smiled ruefully and replied, "I swallowed a word."—Indianapolis News.

JOIN THE BRANDON SYNDICATE.

Approximately $1,000 for each $100 invested and one-half of this profit should be reaped in four months, and the balance by December, this year.

The wise man is he who reads the sign of the time and acts accordingly. You are not buying lots but become a shareholder in an undivided interest of a first class sub-division, and a party to the selling of lots, instead of buying, a review of the history of real estate speculation show the greatest profits have been realized from purchase and sale of sub-division and close in business property. The Syndicate plan appeals to all. The capitalist has an opportunity of securing a high rate of interest on his capital invested, the man of moderate means has the same opportunity with the additional prospect of largely increasing his principal and his chances of becoming independently rich are increased a thousand fold. Shares in this Syndicate are $100, and for those who cannot pay outright all to have a chance at following terms: $33.35 cash, balance equally divided, due in 30 and 60 days. Now then, property the same distance out is being held at $500 per acre. I could sell at even $200 per acre, and clear a handsome profit, account of securing the property before the boom although by sub-dividing can clear as much several times over and in addition make big money for many others.

Do you know that Brandon, Manitoba is on the eve of the first genuine growth activity in the history of that thriving city. The Dominion Fair will be held there in 1913, and $135,000 is being spent in preparation for it. Brandon ranks among the first as a distributing centre; 278 towns that can be served by wholesalers on a competitive freight rate basis, 134 towns within a radius of 60 miles, all inspired with progress, Electric Ry. now going in. Charter has been granted to a Company to build and operate radial lines to all important towns, including Rapid City, Minnedosa, Neepawa, Carberry, Souris, Wawanesa and etc. With rapid transit quick service what will it mean for Brandon, all of this wealth knocking at her door? Brandon's assessment increased in one year, 1910 to 1911, $1,227,492. Elevator capacity, Brandon city trading territory, 19,324,000 bushels, or one third of the total capacity of Alberta, Saskatchewan, and Manitoba. Inland revenue, 1910, $87,113.36. Bank Clearings, April 1st to March 31st, 1911, $27,271,695.00. Brandon is a shipping area. Brandon rates are from three cents to thirty cents less per 100 lbs., according to class and destination, than Winnipeg rates to the same points, and from 6 to 51 cents less than Regina rates.

Building and construction work in Brandon, 1911, $3,259,000, including Provincial asylum $600,000, new dwellings $200,000, new provincial normal school, Technical school, addition to the college, apartment houses, hospital addition, new primary school, warehouses, churches, bank buildings, and many others; C.N.R. hotel and station, $500,000, Canadian Pacific station $250,000, Grand Trunk Pacific building, in this year contracts awarded. Four transcontinental lines and, including branches, 27 lines run in or radiate from Brandon, the present terminus of the Great Northern, having Hudson Bay its objective point. Think what this means to Brandon. Also upon completion of the Government's railroad to Hudson Bay, as well as C.N.R and C.P.R. surveying lines to that point, which is 100 miles nearer Liverpool than New York City to Liverpool, Brandon will have adequate shipping facilities. 500,000 horse power available; already the immense water powers of the Winnipeg river are being harnessed to make the wheels of industry hum at Brandon.

JOIN THE BRANDON SYNDICATE.

Join the Brandon syndicate and become interested in the best piece of sub-division property in or near Brandon. The property is located directly south of the business centre of Brandon, and in line of its surest and quickest developments. The property is admirably located, and every lot on it will be readily sold. Property sub-divided one-half mile further out, and one-half the lots sold without even advertising. The initial and only payment demanded of this syndicate is $30,000, and the syndicate will reap seventeen times that amount. In other words approximately $1,000 for every share, 200 shares reserved, 300 sold, 500 issued altogether. By reserving the 200 shares is where the syndicate promoter benefits. The difference between cost of land $24,140.00 and the $30,000 will sub-divide and cover cost of advertising, consequently the promoter will not derive any benefit only along with the shareholders, after subdividing and larger returns for shareholders will mean the same for the promoter. The contract you will receive upon receipt of remittance gives you an undivided interest in the land and also those who may make default in payments, their money to be refunded with 6 per cent. interest on completion of the syndicate. Here is a Big Speculation.

Here is a big speculation for the man of little means. The man with $100 in this syndicate will participate in the profit just the same as the man with $1,000. The small investor will realize the same profit as the big real estate operators have made in the west, and who always keep to themselves such chances as these. This is a chance for the small investor in a piece of property that is absolutely safe, in a town that is going to surprise the whole west this year.

Think this over, sign the coupon and send in with your remittance, as the adv. may not appear again.

JEFFERSON'S FAMOUS HOME.

Matchless In the Earthscape That Encircles Its Setting.

Monticello divides interest with Mount Vernon as the most historical homestead in Virginia. It is inseparably connected with the life of Thomas Jefferson, and his writings on philosophy, statesmanship, history, political economy and the common affairs of life, accomplished in its classic shades, have made him known as the "sage of Monticello." The architecture of the building is unique. It is, first of all, Jeffersonian, but as the name of the estate is Italian the builder preserved the harmonies in basing the form on Italian ideals.

The summit of the "little mountain" was leveled to form a park of some ten acres, in the center of which the lines of the mansion were laid. It has four fronts, and it is difficult to determine which presents the widest and most attractive view. In any direction there is outspread a superb view of a landscape that cannot be matched in its splendid setting of mountain and valley, highland and meadow, forest and stream. The prospect is an earthscape limited only by the power of vision.

The house was begun in Mr. Jefferson's youth and built in sections. Thirty years elapsed before its final completion owing to the fact that the builder was his own architect and contractor, and the demands of his country required more of his time than he could devote to his private affairs. When it was finally completed the influence of French art had left its impress on the builder's mind, and the interior decorations and furnishing reflected the taste of the Louis periods.—Francis N. Barksdale in Leslie's.

An Inveterate Punster.

"You have no business in that boat," said Theodore Hook one day to a stout man seated in a little craft on the Thames. "What do you mean?" said the man angrily. "Exactly what I say," retorted Hook. "You have no business in that boat." "Then perhaps it may interest you to know," said the stout man still more angrily, "that this is my own pleasure boat." "Exactly," said the inveterate punster, "a pleasure boat. That is just what I said. You have no business in that boat." And before the man in the boat had recovered from his astonishment Hook had strolled away.

Deadly Glasses.

A contrast to the Venetian glasses which were popularly supposed to fly to pieces if poisoned liquor were poured into them were glasses which poisoned all who drank from them. The poison was crystallized at the bottom of the glass, from which it was indistinguishable, and as it dissolved very slowly it could be used many times with deadly effect. Some such glasses can be seen at the British museum.—London Chronicle.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Health and Beauty Advice

BY MRS. MAE MARTYN.

X.T.: Large pores, I know, are disfiguring. However, you can soon reduce them if you use an almozoin cream-jelly, the recipe for which I give: Put two teaspoonfuls glycerine in half pint of cold water, then add 1 ounce of almozoin. When thoroughly dissolved it is ready for use. This almozoin cream-jelly should be applied plentifully and rubbed in well. After using the cream-jelly for a while you will find pimples and blackheads will have vanished and the skin once rough, oily and blotchy will be of a velvety softness, clear and beautiful. The almozoin cream-jelly is unfailing in protecting the skin from freckles, tan and sunburn.

A.G.B.: Dieting is a cruel method of flesh reduction and a needless torture, because with a parnotis solution, made by dissolving 4 ounces parnotis in 1½ pints hot water, you can reduce your weight without suffering or inconvenience. Taking a tablespoonful before each meal gently and gradually dissolves the fatty tissues without possible injury, and when your weight is where you want it, the flesh will be firm and the skin free from wrinkles.

Mrs. A. D.: Don't experiment with alleged "hair-tonics," because they may streak the hair. If your scalp is lifeless and scaly, you should shampoo with canthrox, then apply a little of the quinzoin tonic, made by pouring ½ pint water in ½ pint alchohol, to which is then added 1 ounce quinzoin. Occasional applications of this home-made tonic soon banish dandruff and correct unnatural oiliness. The faithful use of the quinzoin tonic will encourage the hair to grow in long and beautiful.

D.H.: Those troublesome hairs can be made to disappear like magic by applying a paste made with powdered delatone and water. After two or three minutes it should be removed and the skin washed when it will be found that the hairs have completely vanished. No pain or discoloration of the skin follows the use of delatone.

Violet M.: Failing strength is not due to age in your case, because at 40 a woman should be at her best mentally and physically. What you require is a blood-tonic and body-builder, and I am giving you the recipe for a good one here: Dissolve ½ cupful sugar in ½ pint alcohol, then stir in 1 ounce kardene, and add enough hot water to make a quart. Take a tablespoonful three times a day and your blood will soon be rid of poisonous accumulations, pimples and blotches will disappear and your sallow, oily complexion will give way to a healthy, pink, white color. This tonic is splendid to guard the body against sickness.

Jane: I do not wonder that soap will not rid your scalp of dandruff, because it lacks the necessary elements for that purpose. Dissolve a teaspoon of canthrox in a cup hot water, then rub a little at a time on the scalp. You will be surprised how quickly it entirely dissolves every atom of dust, dandruff and excess oil. After rinsing, the scalp will be clean and pliant, and the hair will dry ever so quickly, with a rich sheen and be soft fluffy and easy to arrange.

Anna G.: You cannot expect to have a smooth, clear skin and youthful complexion if you persist in the use of powder, because the dust-like particles clog the pores and cause a rough, pimply, blotchy and oily condition of the skin. Discard powder and try this inexpensive spurmax lotion and you will be delightfully surprised with the result: Dissolve 4 ounces spurmax in ½ pint witch hazel (or hot water) and add 2 teaspoonfuls glycerine. Apply this sparingly to the skin and rub lightly until dry. The spurmax lotion imparts a velvety smoothness and exquisite tint to the skin and rids it of impurities and unnatural conditions. It is especially nice for hot weather use, as it does not spot or streak from perspiration and is invisible when on.

Rena W.: Inflamed eyes greatly detract from physical charms, and unless this condition is corrected it may be necessary to wear glasses. Make up and use this inexpensive, harmless eye-tonic. In a pint of cold clear water dissolve 1 ounce crystos, then place two or three drops in the eyes daily. This quickly reduces inflammation, stops the smarting and gives to dull eyes a remarkable brilliancy. You will find it fine for granulated lids and removing foreign particles.

Why Wild Beasts Left Missouri.

No elk have been seen in central Missouri since 1836. Prior to that time they were reasonably plenty. They were attracted by the prevalence of the salt licks. Nathaniel Walker, or "Uncle Natty," as he was familiarly called, a famous pioneer hunter, claims to have counted fifty elk in a drove on the knoll near the present Saline county courthouse. The bear disappeared about the year 1840, though occasionally animals of the bear tribe were afterward seen. Old time Democrats said that the Whigs scared the bear, deer, elk and almost every other kind of game out of the country in 1840 by their yelling, anvil firing and torchlight parades in honor of General Benjamin Harrison, their successful candidate for president.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Fire Insurance Policies.

There are not many real estate brokers who know how to write a fire insurance policy. Many, however, think they are experts about such matters until a client of theirs learns after his property has been damaged by fire that he was only partly insured. "If buildings are to be insured," says R. O. Haubold, "care should be taken to issue the policy in the name of the persons in whom title is vested; that provision is made that should the building stand upon ground held in any other way than fee simple the policy will not be voided by that fact. If the premises be or become vacant for a period of more than ten days the contingency must be met."—New York Tribune.

Old Glory.

I have seen the glories of art and architecture and of river and mountain. I have seen the sunset on the Jungfrau and the moon rise over Mont Blanc. But the fairest vision on which these eyes ever rested was the flag of my country in a foreign port. Beautiful as a flower to those who love it, terrible as a meteor to those who hate it, it is the symbol of the power and the glory and the honor of fifty millions of Americans.—George F. Hoar.

A Sigh From the Author.

"Proofreading is Greek to me, even after having several books published," Miss Alice Louise Lee recently wrote to her publishers. "But what worries me is this psychological question. Will my corrections be as unintelligible to the printer as all his marks are to me? It seems to me very confusing. In the face of proofreading I feel like the farmer who before the rhinoceros' cage declared, 'There ain't no such beast!'"

COINS AND THE MINT.

Metal Money That Uncle Sam's Officials Buy and Sell.

The mint does not buy old coins or paper money, except certain rare colonial coins in fine condition, desired for the mint's cabinet. Mutilated or uncurrent United States gold and silver coin is purchased as bullion. The mint has no pattern pieces for sale, and the government pays no premium for the return of any of its coins or paper money.

New coins cannot be struck in this country in the absence of authorization by congress. The mint supplies United States coins only and not of any past date. The fifty dollar gold piece and the half dollar and quarter dollar pieces in gold were struck by private parties on the Pacific coast during the '49 period and not by the federal government.

The coinage of the following coins ceased in the years named: The half cent, copper, in 1857; one cent, nickel, 1864; half dime and three cent, silver, and two cent, bronze, in 1873; twenty cent, silver, 1878; trade dollars, 1883; one dollar and three dollar, gold, and three cent nickel, 1889. The Columbian half dollar was coined in 1892 and the Isabella quarter in 1893. The Lafayette dollar was struck in 1899, the date on the coin (1900) being that of the unveiling of the memorial.

Certain markings, indicating the place of coinage, are to be seen on our coins. Those struck at the Philadelphia mint have no mint mark, but those struck at all other mints are distinguished by a small letter on the reverse, near the bottom. These letters are "C" for Charlotte, N. C., discontinued in 1861; "CC" for Carson City, Nev., discontinued in 1893; "D" for Dahlonega, Ga., discontinued in 1861; "O" for New Orleans, and "S" for San Francisco.

The coins of the United States now authorized by law are: In gold, double eagle, eagle, half eagle, quarter eagle; in silver, dollar, half dollar, quarter dollar and dime; minor, five cent, nickel and one cent, bronze.

Proof sets of both gold and silver coins are to be had by purchase from the mint. When business there is slack medals may be struck from dies furnished by individuals, public institutions and incorporated societies at a charge sufficient to cover the cost of the operation and the value of the metal.—Scientific American.

Dickens' Humanness.

The best part of Charles Dickens, the great novelist, was the humanness of him, coming out in the tender pathos with which he streaked the funny side of life. Primarily a humorist, he was, like many another humorist, a humanist too. Dickens came out of that lower London life, one-third grotesque, one-third pitiful, one-third heroic, which he pictured in his writings. He had lived the struggles of Oliver Twist, of David Copperfield and of Philip in "Great Expectations." That was the reason why he was able to lay hold of people's hearts when he described those deathless persons.—New York Mail.

Tit For Tat.

Mrs. Jenkins was standing before the mirror arranging her thin hair when her baldheaded husband entered the room.

"Say, Emily," he began, "why don't you do your hair the way you used to?"

"Why don't you?" reported Mrs. Jenkins.—Lippincott's.

The Necessity Removed.

Baker—Manning's operation has been postponed indefinitely. Barker—Why's that? Baker—His surgeon's wife has inherited a large fortune.—Life.

CIPHER MESSAGES:

Rules That Will Help an Amateur to Read the Riddles.

Writing in cipher, where letters or figures or characters, grotesque or otherwise, are used to form the words, while it may look formidable to the uninitiated is really not difficult to solve if one will tackle it with care and patience.

The proper way to set about reading an unknown cipher is to find the letter or figure that occurs oftenest. This is sure to be "e," as "e" is by far the commonest letter in the language. The second commonest is "t," and if you find a three letter or three figure batch often of which the last is "e" and the first "t" the middle letter or figure is sure to stand for "h." Any letter or figure standing alone must, on clear reasoning, be "i" or "o" or "a."

The second commonest three letter word in a message of any length is sure to be "and," which gives you three more letters for addition to the alphabet.

Remembering that the commonest doubles are "ee," "oo" and "ff" (in the order given) and the commonest two letter words are "be," "by," "or," "as," "at" and "an" (in the order given), a person should be able to solve almost any cipher message.

Following the Rule.

"Barbara," the teacher scolded, "your writing exercise is very nice except the last line, which is dreadful. Why do the letters stagger and fall over one another in that disgraceful way?"

Barbara raised reproachful blue eyes wet with tears. "You 'ticularly said write every line better than the last!" she reminded her mentor.—New York Press.

The Real Reason.

Freddie—Mamma, me face is dirty. Please wash it. Mamma — Freddie, where in the world do you learn to say "me face," like a little street arab? Why don't you say "my face is dirty?" Freddie—Because your face isn't dirty.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

His Efforts.

"What did you do to catch that cold?"

"Oh, ran after it for a couple of Marathon sprints and then finally overtook it by borrowing a friend's racing car."—Baltimore American.

Meteors.

The frequency of meteors is at its highest toward the end of July and the beginning of August. During the first six months of the year the total number of meteors observed on a clear, moonless night is only about six an hour. At the beginning of July the frequency increases and attains its maximum, sixty-nine an hour, on Aug. 10. The mean for the entire year is twenty-four meteors an hour.—London Standard.

Progressing.

"I understand your boy Josh is experimenting on the lines of perpetual motion."

"Yes," replied Farmer Corntossel. "And I feel some encouraged about it. I thought for awhile that the only thing Josh was going to take in was perpetual rest."—Washington Star.

A Resemblance.

She—In a way, getting married is like using the telephone. He—How so? She—One doesn't always get the party one wants.—Boston Transcript.

Views of Optimist and Pessimist.

THACKERAY AT OXFORD.

A Jolt to the Author's Fame and an Awful Libel on Punch.

The ignorance of the scholar concerning what is going on in the world around him is proverbial. But a story of Thackeray's own telling gives an astonishing instance of "cloistered ignorance" at Oxford in the last century. Thackeray, it seems, was to lecture at Oxford and, according to custom, had first to get the vice chancellor's license to do so. This is the conversation that occurred, as the novelist reported it:

Vice Chancellor—Pray, sir, what can I do for you?

Thackeray—My name is Thackeray.

Vice Chancellor—So I see by this card.

Thackeray—I seek permission to lecture within your precincts.

Vice Chancellor—Ah! You are a lecturer. What subjects do you undertake, religious or political?

Thackeray—Neither. I am a literary man.

Vice Chancellor—Have you written anything?

Thackeray—Yes; I am the author of "Vanity Fair."

Vice Chancellor—I presume a dissenter. Has that anything to do with John Bunyan's book?

Thackeray—Not exactly. I have also written "Pendennis."

Vice Chancellor—Never heard of these works, but no doubt they are proper books.

Thackeray—I have also contributed to Punch.

Vice Chancellor — Punch? I have heard of that. Is it not a ribald publication?

Alaska's Delegate.

It takes the Alaskan delegate nearly a year to cover his district in a campaign. He reaches the coast cities by boat, goes down the Yukon to the interior and goes in as far as time and facilities permit to the interior camps. So closely is the population packed in the settled districts, however, that he is able to tell by midnight of election day from the telegraphed reports from the more important cities whether or not he has been elected.—Argonaut.

Always Against Them.

Mike Kelly had been a habitue of the courthouse for fifteen years and at every criminal trial had occupied a front seat, listening with evident admiration to the speeches of the prosecuting attorney.

"Ben," he said one day after the prosecutor had ended his remarks, "I've heard you speak again and again, but never, on my soul, have I heard you say a good word for the poor devil on trial."—Popular Magazine.

Mary's Little Ring.

Mary had a little ring; 'twas given by her beau; and everywhere that Mary went that ring was sure to go.

She took the ring with her one day when she went out to tea, where she might display it to the girls, who numbered twenty-three.

And when the girls all saw that ring, they made a great ado, exclaiming, with one voice, "Has it at last got round to you?"—London Tit-Bits.

Unreasonable.

"What is your objection to Dr. Foodlam?"

"His unreasonableness. He told me I should have to take more nourishment and then charged me so much that I couldn't afford to take any."—Satire.

Explained.

Mrs. Henpeck—There will be no marriages in the next world. Mr Henpeck—No wonder they call it heaven.—Philadelphia Record.

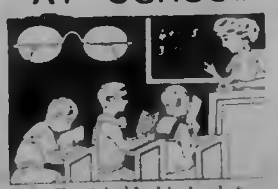
THREE PUPILS AT SCHOOL



The First holds his book too close and mistakes figures on the black-board—he is near-sighted—that is why he sits in the front seat.

The Third Pupil stoops awkwardly over the book because he does not see easily.

The other pupil sits erect to study, sees the figures on the black-board easily accurately and does home-work easily. Properly fitted glasses help all his school work and make his examinations successful.

Inspected the Alarm Boxes.

All the fire alarm boxes in the city are being inspected and generally overhauled and repaired. This operation is performed every year, and in no way interferes with the fire alarm system during its progress.

Opening Meeting of Tennis Club.

The opening meeting of St. John's Tennis Club, which had been delayed for some time on account of the weather, was held Saturday and a goodly number of members attended. Tea was served, and the meeting both as a business and social function was a successful event.

Steamer Otonabee Leaves.

The steamer Otonabee left yesterday for Lake Simcoe, where she will be used for the balance of the season. In the departure of this popular steamer, Peterborough's loss is considerable, and a large number of local people are sorry to see the steamer leave these waters.

League Leaders Defeated.

At the Oval on Saturday afternoon the Knox eleven league leaders, went down to defeat under the score of 3 goals to 2. This match was of importance, owing to the fact that Park street's win probably will figure out a three-cornered tie. The game was fairly fast considering the heat and as both teams were out to win a good game was witnessed.

ST. GEORGE'S CHORAL SOCIETY.

Excursion to Burleigh Falls, (by rail and boat) next Saturday, June 29th. Round trip, 60 cents. See tickets and time table. Get your tickets from Messrs. Coleman Bros., 426 George St., Mr. R. J. Devey, 285 Park St., or any of the members.

Re-Elected President.

Mr. Dawson Kennedy was last week re-elected president of the Ontario Peoples Salt Company, at the annual meeting which took place in Kincardin. The company has been very successful in the past and has a large and profitable business. It has an authorized capital of $250,000, and a paid-up capital of $37,000. Mr. Kennedy appears to be the right man in the right place.

Port Hope Alive.

Chief Clinton, of the Port Hope Police force, is going to attend the Constables' Convention in Brantford on July 3rd, 4th and 5th. This is a most important gathering, and is attended every year by a large number of police officers. At Friday night's meeting of the Port Hope Council $20.00 was voted the chief to defray his expenses. The chief will pay the expenses of his substitute during his absence. It is likely that Chief Thompson will also attend the convention.

Stoney Lake "Hung Up."

The steamer Stoney Lake was delayed nearly two hours in Lock No. 3, while on her way north yesterday morning. Strange as it may appear the difficulty was lack of water. The public, however, must not get the idea that the water in the canal is low, for it is yet away above normal. The trouble, it appears, was due to the condition of the stop logs which were either out, or not properly in place so that the water in the reach above this lock was not sufficient for navigation. The lockmaster was an employee of the late Government, so that the local Liberal organ will have another opportunity of taking a crack at one of its party friends.

New Industries for Lindsay.

Lindsay has secured two new industries. The nature of them for local reasons, cannot be divulged by the town council, but are moving to that place next week, and at the outset will employ twenty or thirty skilled mechanics. The Lindsay people are afraid that too much publicity will lose the industries for them. One of the concerns is a lock, nut and bolt factory. The factory will turn out a newly patented bolt, which it is claimed will become the standard bolt of Canada. The factory will employ thirty or forty hands, and will have a building 50 x 150 feet, the machinery costing $50,000. The industries were secured by the Lindsay industrial committee.

Concluded His Four Year Term.

Rev. G. W. Henderson concluded on Sunday his four year term as pastor of the Charlotte street Methodist church. The congregations were exceedingly large both morning and evening and addresses appropriate and befitting were delivered by the retiring pastor. During his pastorate of Charlotte street church Rev. Mr. Henderson has through faithful and energetic efforts witnessed great progress in the affairs of the church. At the morning service last Sunday the pastor gave a brief resume of the growth of the church and its finances, together with some statistical information on his pastoral work and the figures proved interesting inasmuch as they demonstrated beyond question the extreme measure of success that has crowned his efforts during his ministry in Peterborough.

St. Paul's S. S. Picnic.

Friday will be a big day for the scholars of St. Paul's Sunday school. In the morning the Brotherhood baseball team will play a picked team from the Sunday school. In the afternoon the annual Sunday school picnic will be held to Jackson Park, it not being possible to charter any of the available steamers on a suitable date after closing of the Public school. Games and other amusements will be held in the afternoon, supper will be served in the park, and afterwards the whole Sunday school will have a round trip ride on the street car. The occasion promises to be a very enjoyable one.

An Interesting Precedent.

In reporting a banquet in which the business men of Belleville entertained the County Council, the Belleville Ontario says: "History was made at a unique banquet at Hotel [illegible] last night. For the first time in the records of Ontario the county legislature was formally entertained by the leading business organization of the county town. It is probable that the example set will find many imitators because it is a movement so strongly in accord with common sense and good business judgment that it cannot fail to commend itself to others who are on the alert for bright ideas. Hastings has established precedents in the creation of a county roads' system, and in many other progressive lines. It is believed that another precedent was established last night at this unique banquet.

The Summer Fair.

At the meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Peterborough Health Association on Friday evening, hearty votes of thanks were tendered to Col. the Hon. Sam Hughes for the use of the Armouries, to Mr. J. H. Burnham, Col. Gregg and all others who helped the ladies in making the "Summer Fair" the surprising and gratifying success it was. A small purse and handkerchief, picked up in the cafe [illegible], is still in the hands of the secretary, 273 Hunter street. A pleasing feature of the meeting was the presentation by Mrs. Matthews on behalf of the convenors of beautifully framed photograph groups of the convenors to Mrs. Kendry and Mrs. Travers, with kind words of appreciation. A vote of thanks to them and to Mrs. W. H. Bradburn for their work in connection with the fair, were passed.

Fire Chief Howard.

Our Fire Chief, Mr. W. A. Howard, is an experienced fire fighter and perhaps has come through more grim battles with the flames than most of the Ontario Chiefs. At one fire particularly, in London, he distinguished himself and showed the qualities that afterward made him a fine chief. The fire was a very serious one and in a very high London building. The flames and smoke dealt death to the veteran old fire chief and his men, who were greatly attached to him became demoralized and were letting the fire gain headway. At this juncture Fireman Howard stepped forward and calling the men to their duty, lead the attack on the fire. With tears in their eyes and crying like youngsters over the loss of their chief, the men again summoned all their strength and went on fighting the fire. Three of them were burned to death. In the same fire Chief Howard won a gold medal for rescuing a man with a broken limb, who was trapped 65 feet from the ground. Should any of the local citizens discover that their property is in flames they have at least the consolation of knowing that all that courage and skilful direction can accomplish will be done to save the burning building.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. Roland Denne, with the Misses Margaret and Mary, are visiting in Wellington.

J. W. Stuart, of Peterborough, delivered a fine new organ to Alfred Africa this week.

Miss Cecil Clementi leaves to-day for Stauffer, Alta., to visit her sister Mrs. G. Bayley, of that place.

Mrs. A. Jones, of Montreal, is the guest of her father, Mr. Joseph Walton, Smith St. She is accompanied by her four children.

Beresford L.O.L. No. 122 will run an excursion from Mount Julian to Peterborough on Friday, July 12th, on the steamer Stoney Lake.

Dr. A. J. Robertson and family are leaving this week for Norwood, where they will spend the summer months, the guests of Mrs. Calder, Dr. Robertson's mother.

Mr. W. H. Meldrum, went up to Toronto yesterday, where he will join Mrs. Meldrum who has been the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Ernest Green. They will return home at the end of the week.

Rev. F. J. Sawers, of St. Luke's church, Peterborough, has been appointed as one of the two clergymen from the Diocese of Toronto to represent it in the work of the Sunday School Commission. This body shapes the policy for the Sunday schools of the whole Church of England in Canada.

Liquid Cough Mixtures Can't Cure Bronchitis

But the Healing Fumes of Catarrhozone, Which Are Breathed to the Furthest Recesses of the Bronchial Tubes, Being Quick Relief and Sure Cure.

Every sufferer from coughs, colds, bronchitis and all throat and chest ailments needs a soothing, healing medicine which goes direct to the breathing organs—in the chest and lungs, attacks the trouble at the source, disperses the germs of disease and cures the ailment thoroughly. And this medicine is "Catarrhozone."

The germ-killing balsamic vapor mixes with the breath, descends through the throat, down the bronchial tubes, and finally reaches the deepest air cells in the lungs. All parts are soothed with rich, pure, medicinal essences, whereas with a syrup the affected parts could not be reached, and [illegible] would result through [illegible] the stomach with drugs.

"I have been a chronic sufferer from Catarrh in the nose and throat for over eight years. I think I have spent four hundred dollars trying to get [illegible]; I have spent but six dollars [illegible], and have been completely cured, and, in fact, have been well for some time. Catarrhozone is the only medicine I have been able to find that would not only give temporary relief, but will always cure permanently. Yours sincerely, (Signed) WILLIAM RAGAN, Brockville, Ont."

For absolute permanent cure use Catarrhozone. Two months' outfit costs $1.00, smaller size 50c, at all dealers or the Catarrhozone Company, Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

BRYAN BEATEN BY PARKER AS CHAIRMAN OF DEMOCRATS

Nebraskan Accepted Nomination Himself When Kern Refused to Run As Chairman of the Great National Convention

Convention Hall, Baltimore, June 25.—The Democratic National Convention began its deliberations at noon to-day with a vast throng in attendance and amid scenes of enthusiasm. Cardinal Gibbons pronounced the opening invocation.

After Bryan had made a speech nominating Senator Kern, of Indiana, and attacking Alton B. Parker, Kern took the stand. He made a plea for harmony, asked Parker, to join him in withdrawing from the contest for temporary chairman and substituting any one of a list of several men. After waiting in vain for a reply from Parker, Kern himself withdrew and nominated Bryan.

Again Bryan took the platform. He accepted the nomination and the line-up for the struggle was complete.

Violent Disturbance.

The roll call on selection of temporary chairman-ship began at 2.40.

Great disorder prevailed on the floor and galleries during the debate. Sergeant-at-Arms Martin shouted above the disorderly din that the Convention would be adjourned unless order be secured and the speakers listened to. A platoon of police was marshalled into the hall and down the aisles, in an effort to quell the disorder. A delegate vehemently protested against "gag rule."

UPROAR IN BRITISH HOUSE OVER THE SUFFRAGETTES

Geo. Lansbury, M.P., Says Premier Asquith Is Beneath Contempt for Forcing Food on Them

London, June 25.—A wild scene was enacted in the House of Commons to-day as aresult of a forcible feeding of suffragettes who declared a "hungry strike" in Holloway prison. George Lansbury leaped forward toward the ministerial bench shouting at Premier Asquith:

"You are beneath contempt. You call yourselves gentlemen, yet you forcibly feed and murder women. You ought to be driven from public life. You'll go down to posterity as the murderers of innocent women."

Speaker Lowther ordered Lansbury taken out of the House.

THE EFFECT OF MARRIAGE LAW

Judges On Bench Make Caustic Remarks

THE RELIGIOUS BODIES

No Civil Marriage Comments Advocate—Mr. Wainwright Touches on Question of Religious Impediments.

Montreal, June 25.—"I do not believe than any religious body in this province has the right to govern the question of marriage," declared Mr. Justice Archibald, from the Bench in the Court of Review, when the Tremblay-Depatie case, concerning cousins marrying in the fourth degree, came up for argument.

This statement from the Bench led to a lively argument among the three judges in the Court of Review, Justices Tellier, Delorimer and Archibald—as to what the civil law of the province was in such a case.

Why cannot fourth cousins be considered legally married, when some first cousins are regarded as legally married according to civil law? That is the question which the lawyers for the woman whose marriage was annulled by the lower court, are demanding.

In this case of Tremblay Depatie the lawyers pointed out that a simple fee of $7 would have obtained the necessary dispensation from the Catholic Church allowing them to marry. But when they married they did not know that they were fourth cousins. Seven years afterwards when the husband discovered the fact, he had his marriage annulled by the ecclesiastical courts, and this was confirmed in the civil courts last autumn.

Question of Civil Marriage.

From these facts there arose a spirited discussion in court, Mr. St Germain, lawyer for the husband who had the marriage annulled, declaring "There is no such thing as a civil marriage in this province."

"That is a matter of opinion," retorted Mr. Arnold Wainwright, who appears on behalf of the wife.

Mr. Justice Delorimer, however raised the point of this husband suddenly discovering that he had been living in a state of adultery with his wife.

"If a man who married a woman in good faith, subsequently discovered a technical point like this, it would be monstrous to refer to them as having lived in adultery," declared Mr Justice Archibald.

The point in the case which Mr. Wainwright specially insisted on that these two parties Napoleon Tremblay and Mavina Depatie could have legalized their marriage by obtaining a dispensation for the sum of $7 and the marriage had been annulled because that dispensation had not been obtained.

"If this law is to stand," declared Mr. Wainwright, "it means that instead of having certainty in matters

R. H. THOMAS

JAMES B. MABON

When the members of the New York Stock Exchange were offering 100 per cent for call loans and no money was forthcoming from the banks on October 24, 1907, it was J. Pierpont Morgan who stepped in and saved the day, so Ransom H. Thomas, president of the Exchange in 1907 and 1908, told the Banking and Currency Committee of the House of Representatives, which is now delving into the "Money Trust" in New York.

So potent was Mr. Morgan's assistance, which was in the tangible form of $25,000,000 currency, Mr. Thomas said, that before the day ended Stock Exchange members were borrowing all the call money they wanted at three per cent.

James B. Mabon, the new president of the Stock Exchange in New York, was also a witness before the committee.

BRITAIN TO REDUCE DEBT BY TWENTY FIVE MILLION

Five Millions Will Go For Additional Ships---Disposing Of The Surplus

London, June 25.—The rumors that David Lloyd George Chancellor of the Exchequer, proposed to devote a part of the surplus of 32,500,000 to the reduction of the national debt, which led to an improvement in the price of consols on the market, were confirmed this afternoon, when the Chancellor announced in the House of Commons that $25,000,000 was to be used in the reduction of the debt and $5,000,000 for the construction of additional ships for the navy in the present year in order to meet Germany's naval increase. This he said would involve heavier charges subsequently. The other $2,500,000 is to be devoted to the development of the cotton resources, etc., of Uganda and British East Africa.

HALF MILLION NEW SETTLERS

Railway Officials Expect Big Influx This Year

AMERICANS STEM TIDE

If They Could Stop the Rush to Canada, They Would Do so—Hold Seattle Meeting to Stem Exodus—Montreal Official Says the Invasion is Inevitable and Part of a General Movement.

[illegible] of the C.P.R. in close touch with the Western situation declare that the immigration of American farmers into the west is constantly increasing and they believe that in the near future the present number of 150,000 settlers from the United States will increase to half a million annually.

This great influx of Americans is viewed with some concern in some quarters.

In Great Britain it is claimed we are getting too many settlers from the United States and that these people are not likely to be interested in the question of Canada's plan as part of the British Empire.

In Eastern Canada there is some feeling that the immigrant from the United States will be purely Western Canadian in sentiment and inclined to foster trade connections to the south rather than to the east.

In the United States the importance and magnitude of the movement to Western Canada has resulted in discussions in congress regarding amendments of the United States homestead laws, statements from men like Mr. Champ Clark, Mr. James J. Hill and others, and finally in the holding of conventions to try to devise ways and means of stemming the exodus. The latest of these meetings was the convention of the

BANQUET TO MR. BORDEN ON RETURN FROM ENGLAND

Ottawa Conservative Association Will Invite Provincial Premiers and Opposition Leaders

Ottawa, June 25.—Rt. Hon. R. L. Borden, Prime Minister, to-day accepted an invitation from the local Conservative Association to be the guest of honor at a great banquet and demonstration planned to be given in his honor on his return from England. All the Dominion Cabinet Ministers, the Conservative Premiers of the Provinces, together with their Cabinets, and the leaders of the Conservative Opposition in the other Provinces, will be invited to attend and honor their chief after his mission in the old country. Tentative arrangements have already been put under way for the demonstration, which is planned to exceed anything of the nature that has yet taken place in Canada. It will likely be held the latter part of August or early in September and the date will be definitely announced when the Premier sails for home.

GERMANY MEANS WAR.

"Let there be no mistake—Germany aims high, the stakes for which she is now competing are the greatest any nation has sought to obtain since Napoleon strode the Continent. At a [illegible] cost—heavy taxation on luxuries and necessities alike and [illegible] debt (Germany has created debt amounting to nearly £[illegible] [illegible]000 for the Navy since 1900)—she is pressing forward in [illegible] armaments, confident that she is now entering on [illegible] She has mortgaged so much in the contest that [illegible] must achieve victory abroad or meet the storm of strife which her policy has and is creating at home. The ruling Germans realize that this is the last lap in the race, the crucial test of endurance, either we or they must fail in the silent, bloodless [illegible] and fail soon."

"Can it be said that the British people have any conception of the peril which threatens them—of the fact that within four hundred miles of these shores a fleet is about to be placed on a war-footing momentarily ready to strike greater than the greatest fleet which we have maintained in the past, we with our prestige, our sea traditions, our sea needs? We have never had in home waters such a powerful, ever menacing engine of war as Germany proposes to set up within about a day's steaming of the mouth of the Thames."

* * * * * * *

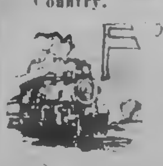
The foregoing are two paragraphs from an article in the [illegible] "Fortnightly Review" from the pen of Mr. Archibald Hurd, the [illegible] known English naval expert. They should be carefully considered by those among our people in Canada who feel any sense of responsibility for the course which this country takes in international politics. They are not the production of a "Jingo" writer. Mr. Hurd is noted for his moderation—nor do they appear in a "Jingo" publication. They come as the deliberate opinion of a moderate man, who has the advantage of "inside information," backed by a moderate Review which is more [illegible] and international than patriotic.

BIG PLANS FOR C. P. R. LINES

Double Track Intercolonial One Of The Projects

EXTENDS ITS SYSTEM

The Great Canadian Road to Make Halifax Its Principal Eastern Outlet—Great Advantage to the Country.



For some time it has been an open secret that the Intercolonial Railway would afford a means for the C.P.R. to increase its facilities in the Maritime Provinces. The announcement by Premier Borden that the Government is giving [illegible] attention to the proposal to double track the Intercolonial Railway to give the Canadian Pacific running rights over it, and to greatly extend the terminals at Halifax, does not come as a surprise. It has, however, created much interest in railway circles.

It is an open secret that the Canadian Pacific will shortly get an entrance for its traffic to and from the east into Halifax either by means of running rights over the Intercolonial or by building a line of its own and important projects are said to be afoot including the erection of a big [illegible] and probably a big independent or union station in the city. The importance of Halifax in connection with shipping and tourist traffic is now fully recognized and railway men think that much more business could be done there if the facilities were more up-to-date.

The new steamship service which is to be put on for the West Indian service—possibly by the C.P.R.—will also give added importance to Halifax, while important developments for developing the tourist possibilities of the lovely seaside resorts along the Annapolis Valley route of the C.P.R. line, the old Dominion Atlantic, are under way.

There is also a possibility that the C.P.R. will carry out a proposal to extend the road acquired Quebec Central Railway from St. [illegible] to Cabano, to connect with the Temiscouata Railway, running from Riviere du Loup to Edmundston, which some day would be connected with the St. John River branch of the C.P.R. It [illegible] expected that the Temiscouata [illegible] will [illegible] part of the C.P.R. system.

If [illegible] projects are carried out, the Canadian Pacific will have a [illegible] and wide-spreading system in the Maritime Provinces than any other organization.

WEDDING BELLS

Cameron—Campbell.

THE Presbyterian Church in Keene was the scene of a very quiet but charming midsummer eve wedding on Sunday last, when Miss Jean L. Campbell, B. A., daughter Mr. and Mrs William Campbell of that village, became the bride of Mr. Arthur J. Cameron, of Vancouver, B. C.

Rev. Mr. D. D. Macdonald, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, Keene performed the ceremony in the presence of the immediate relatives of the bride.

The bride was becomingly attired in a handsome gown of ivory satin, and wore the usual bridal veil. She carried a beautiful bouquet of roses, and was unattended.

After the ceremony the party returned to the home of the bride's parents where refreshments were served. Mr. and Mrs. Cameron will

PINE TAR CORDIAL

NUGENT'S SARSAPARILLA—PRICE FOR large bottle, 100 full doses, 85c, and is worth it too. It's better to take a medicine at all than to depend upon cheap concoctions that are compounded to sell at a low price and a big profit just because there is a large demand for certain remedies at certain seasons of the year. There are so-called Sarsaparillas offered to us to sell to our customers at 75c a bottle that would bring us a larger profit than Nugent's Sarsaparilla sold at 85c. Nugent's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, arouses the torpid liver, drives out all impurities, cleanses and tones up the system, and helps Nature throw off the dullness that comes from the indoor life of winter. It arouses energy, brightens the eye, clears the brain, gives lightness to the movements. Nugent's Sarsaparilla is not the only thing you will find in this drug store. We make a specialty of Nugent's Remedies. Nugent Drug Co., 396 George St., directly opposite Cressman's store.

A Family Circle.

Willie—Paw, what is a family circle?

Paw—A wedding ring, my son.

A Correction.

In a town of such size that every one knows every one else it is often customary to speak of people by their first names, even when one would not do so to their faces. The butcher is known as Joe Smith, the grocer as Frank Parsons, the lawyer as Will Andrews, and no offense is meant or taken. One day a friend was helping a teacher of the industrial school to put hats and coats on forty little members of the kindergarten class. Two little tow headed girls attracted her attention, and as she tied their hoods she asked:

"Are you Charlie Porter's little girls?" Two serious little blue eyes looked up as the elder replied:

"His name was Charlie when he was a little boy. He's Mr. Porter now."—Exchange.

ARCHBISHOP BRUCHESI'S THREAT.

The threat of Archbishop Bruchési to interdict Le Pays, the personal organ of Mr. Godfrey Langlois, M. P. P., savors of ecclesiastical tyranny of the worst description, says Saturday Night. It would come with better taste from His Lordship if a relative of his had not recently been defeated by Mr. Langlois in the recent elections for the Quebec legislature. The doctrine laid down by Mgr. Bruchesi is that if a journal in the diocese of Montreal does not secure his approval of its policies it must be banned, and excluded from the homes of the faithful. It is perfectly legitimate for a bishop to denounce a journalist, a journalist who attacks his Church or religion in general, but in the case of Le Pays it would appear that such offence has been carefully avoided. The head and front of Mr. Langlois' offending appears to be that it has in season advocated compulsory education and better education for the Province of Quebec. His position is clear. He holds that the French-Canadian will be outstripped—because his opportunities for education are not equal to those of English speaking Canadians. He thinks it ridiculous for the Nationalists to be constantly trying to persuade Jean Baptiste that he is the most enlightened man on earth when he is in reality illiterate and for that reason downtrodden Mr. Langlois claims that his warfare is not upon religion, but upon illiteracy, and puts the case in this wise:—

"We have talked very plainly to the French-Canadians about their material interests, about the necessity for their educating and training themselves to take a larger share in the financial, industrial and commercial progress of the Dominion, but we never interfered in any shape or form with religious questions.

"According to the census of 1901, there were over 250,000 people in the Province of Quebec who were unable to read or write. There are to-day over 130,000 children in the Province who have never gone to school. The average pay for our female teachers in the public schools is only $133, as compared with $183 for Ontario female teachers. Even at that, the pay of the Quebec teachers has been almost doubled in the past few years. In this province we have but 522 normal school teachers, while Ontario has 5,120.

"Because we have championed the cause of these 130,000 children, who have never gone to school, and of thousands of others who are almost illiterate, Archbishop Bruchesi has seen fit to threaten us with an interdict. This is certainly not consistent with British fair play or with the religious tolerance which we should expect in the 20th century in a British country."

So successful has been Mr. Langlois' single-handed fight for his people — a [illegible] more intelligent and much more unselfish than the Nationalist agitation of Messrs. Bourassa and Lavergne that it is said Sir Lomer Gouin can no longer evade the issue, and that the legislature of Quebec will [illegible] session be called upon to deal frankly with the matter.

His Grace Archbishop Bruchesi does not come out in the open on education. He has merely given to Mr. Langlois a "charitable admonition" that if Le Pays does not cease imprudent championing of something he does not name he will interdict the paper: that is to say he will endeavor to destroy, or at least to cripple it. With unction he intimates that the reason he has not done so already is that the Lord has counselled us not to extinguish the smoking flax. A more Pecksniffian utterance than the latter probably never emanated from the lips of any clergyman, Protestant or Catholic, within the memory of living man.

The most progressive people in Europe, the most generally prosperous and civilized are the French. One is not alluding to Paris, because it has been corrupted by idle and wealthy wanderers from the ends of the earth, but the French nation as a whole. The most backward people on this continent, industrially and otherwise, are the French-Canadians, this despite the fact that they had 150 years' start of the rest of the people. The cause is plain—illiteracy, that illiteracy which Mgr. Bruchesi would enshrine as part of their "national and religious traditions." How much truer to the interests of the Roman Catholic Church and its people is Archbishop Fallon, who is using his best endeavours to improve education conditions in his diocese. More power to Mr. Langlois' elbow.

Editorial Notes

Having enjoyed some October weather in June we may look forward to a rather full dose of July weather in November.

Doubtless it is very gratifying to the baseball fans and Fannies to know that the home team cannot lose more than two games in one day.

Sir Frederick Chalmers says the Titanic disaster could not happen again. In view of the fact that the Titanic is now about eight miles below the surface of the Atlantic we find it quite easy to agree with Sir Fred.

For the first time in his life Pope Pius saw motion pictures this week. If there were any blood-curdling wild-west scenes among them, such as those which form the bulk of the moving pictures commonly exhibited, we may expect to hear soon o this form of entertainment being put under the ban of the Church.

Couldn't Get Strong

SEEMED TO HAVE LOST ALL AMBITION, WAS PALE AND ANAEMIC.

Made Wonderful Recovery when Dr. Hamilton's Pills Were Used.

"I was never actually sick," writes Mrs. La Pierre, wife of a well-known resident of Labenen, "yet I never could get strong like other women. I ate well enough, but somehow blood rich and red I could never make. When I married I took a great pride in my housekeeping but it kept me tired all the time. Mrs. Lechance my neighbor, looked well, she told me her health had been made by Dr. Hamilton's Pills. I only thought of pills as a physic, but now I know that Dr. Hamilton's Pills are more, for they quickened my stomach, liver and bowels—made me stouter and stronger, gave me such color in my cheeks as I never had before. They do good to parts in ways I need not mention in this letter, but I sincerely believe Dr. Hamilton's Pills should be used at regular intervals by every woman—that's why I write this letter."

Montreal Grain and Produce.

MONTREAL, June 24.—Business in all lines of [illegible] the cable continues very quiet, but there was a fairly good enquiry for oats on spot, for which sellers were asking more money for round lots to arrive, which buyers did not feel disposed to pay, consequently no sales were made. The domestic and export demand for flour continues quiet, but the undertone to the market is strong. Demand for millfeed limited, but a fair trade is passing in rolled oats. Butter is quiet, but the feeling in the market is better. There was an increased demand from English buyers for cheese, but as the prices bid were in many cases below exporters' views, the volume of business done was small. Eggs fairly active. Provisions steady.

Prime to Fair.

Dealers were paying readily from $7.10 to $7.95 for handsome steers and heifers of grass-fed class, and were eager to take them at this range.

Medium to Common.

All in this class went without parleying at prices from $6 to $6.35, and the entire bunch was cleaned up by noon. The market demands a large number of the cheaper grades every day and at ruling figures yesterday no chance on losing an early bargain was passed.

Cows.

Good, heavy cows were sold at from $5.75 to $6.50, and there was no gnarling at the old ones. Canners even humped along at the rapid pace of from $3 to $3.50.

Butcher Bulls.

Altho the market was nearly stalled with old and discarded bulls, the price was not prevented from rising steadily, and figures of from $5.25 to $6.50 were paid.

Sheep and Lambs.

The supply was low, not being up to the usual number offered, and prices stiffened. Parcels that weighed, individually, around 120 lbs., went from $4.75 to $5.50. Lambs carried the high figures up to $10 in several instances, with a range of from $9 to $9.60 being recorded.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, June 24.—At the Montreal Stock Yards, West End Market, the receipts of live stock for the week ending June 22 were 1900 cattle, 1000 sheep and lambs, 2200 hogs and 1200 calves. The offerings on the market to-day were 1000 cattle, 250 sheep and lambs, 1200 hogs and 800 calves.

The bulk of the cattle offered were grass-fed, as all the stall-fed stock thruout the country are about exhausted, and as the former have not been feeding long enough to be well finished, the quality was generally poorer than it has been of late. Consequently really choice steers and heifers were scarce and prices ruled firm, but as there was an increased supply of stock the tone of the market was weaker and prices declined 25c to 35c per cwt. A few full car loads of choice grass-fed steers and heifers weighing 1300 pounds each, were bought by local packers at $8.25, and in small lots sales were made as high as $8.50 per cwt. Common cows in full carloads sold at $4.50 to $5 and the top price realized for bulls was $6.50 per cwt.

There was no important change in the condition of the market for hogs, prices being firmly maintained on account of the small offerings, with some drovers asking an advance of 15c per cwt., which packers would not pay. The demand was good and finally the market was cleaned up of all the selected lots at $9 to $9.25 per cwt., weighed off cars.

Supplies of small meats were larger than usual and the tone of the market was easier, common calves being $1.50 to $2 per head cheaper, but choice stock was scarce and in demand at full values. Sheep were lower, the top price paid for ewes being $5 per cwt., and spring lambs were unchanged.

Butchers cattle, choice, $8.25 to $8.50, medium, $6.50 to $7.50, common, $5 to $6, choice cows, $6 to $6.50, medium, $4.50 to $5.50, bulls, $4.50 to $6.50, milkers, choice, each, $60 to $80, common and medium, $35 to $55, springers, $50 to $60.

Sheep—Ewes, $5, bucks and culls, $4 to $4.50, lambs, $6 to $6.50.

Hogs—F o b., $9 to $9.25.

Calves—$1.50 to $8.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, June 24.—Cattle—Receipts, 3500, active, 15c to 25c higher prime steers, $9.25 to $9.40, shipping, $8.25 to $9, butchers, $6 to $8.90, heifers, $6 to $8.25; cows, $3 to $7, bulls, $4 to $7, stockers and feeders, $4 to $6, stock heifers $4 to $4.75, fresh cows and springers, active, strong to $2 higher, $30 to $75.

Hogs—Receipts, 18,000, active and strong; heavy, $8 to $8.05; mixed and yorkers, $7.75 to $8; pigs, $7.50 to $7.90, roughs $6.90 to $7; stags, $5 to $6; dairies, $7.75 to $7.90.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 4000, active, lambs and ewes, steady; others, 15c to 25c lower; lambs, $5 to $9.60, yearlings $7.50 to $8; wethers, $5.25 to $5.65; ewes, $3 to $4.75; sheep, mixed, $3.50 to $5.

DIRECTORS:

H. E. HAND, Toronto, President; Director Hamilton Brewing Association Limited; Director Grant's Spring Brewery Company.
W. H. PARSONS, Montreal, Manufacturer, Director Colin McArthur Wall Paper Co.
W. W. CANHAM, Toronto, Importer, of Wilson & Canham, Limited.
R. McWHINNEY, Toronto, Contractor.
S. J. PLANT, Toronto, Ceramic Expert, Managing Director.
TRUSTEE—Imperial Trusts Co. of Canada, Toronto.

This company is organized to engage in the making of building brick, terra cotta, fireproofing, etc. The demand for brick is greater than the supply, and there is need of another factory to make really high class brick. The demand for building brick is such that contractors are obliged, in many cases, to use inferior brick, probably endangering the safety, and assuredly endangering the durability, of the buildings so constructed.

The Canada Brick and Fireproofing Company's property, consisting of 150 acres, and contains a very valuable and practically inexhaustible deposit of shale, clay and building stone.

The deposits in this property are of such a nature that the best bricks, with a density and hardness not surpassed, and commanding the highest market price, can be made at a very low cost. Bricks can be made the year round, winter as well as summer, as the company will have a thoroughly tested and specially designed dryer, which obviates all difficulties. No such opportunity has come to invest in the brick industry in many years, and, considering the unsupplied market, the attractive prices for the product, the low cost at which the Canada Brick and Fireproofing Co., Limited, are able to produce, the extraordinary good quality of the brick that can be made, and the well-known ability of the managing director of the company, this opportunity to invest is one of the best this company has ever had the pleasure of offering its clients or the general public.

THE LOW CAPITALIZATION.

This company could easily have been incorporated for $1,000,000.00 but to enhance the actual value of the shares, and to make the returns on the shares of practical consequence for all future time the capitalization was made small in comparison with other flotations, but large enough to give ample capital, pay all charges and put up a three-unit plant, fully equipped with the most up-to-date, fastest and best brick-making machinery, and to supply plenty of working capital. We recommend this stock to all seeking safe, reliable and profitable investment.

The plant will be located in the Township of Esquesing, in the County of Halton, and will have a capacity of 150,000 bricks per day.

The present sale is to provide funds for completing the contract for the installation of the works of the Company, and for working capital.

PROFIT SHARING ARRANGEMENT.

Preferred stock will share all dividends in excess of 6 p.c. in the following proportions:
For every 1 p.c. extra paid on the Preferred, 3 p.c. is to be paid on the Common.
For example.—When the Common stock receives 3 p.c., Preferred stock will receive 7 p.c.
" " " " 6 p.c. " " 8 p.c.
" " " " 9 p.c. " " 9 p.c.

After this point of dividend-sharing has been reached any additional dividends are to be shared equally by both Preferred and Common. The Preferred is also "Preferred" as to return of capital.

PROPERTY

The property consists of 150 acres of land in the Township of Esquesing, in the County of Halton, containing valuable deposits for the purpose of the Company. This was selected after careful investigation of many much-praised deposits in different localities. 100 acres contains clay and shale and 50 acres contains a valuable deposit of building stone, known as "Credit Valley" stone, which is in great demand, and in itself alone should realize a good profit for the Company. There is an unfailing stream of water through the property, affording abundant water for the Company's operations.

TRANSPORTATION AND LABOR

The railway running through the property gives excellent transportation facilities, and as the property is situated in the same shipping zone as the Milton, Terra Cotta, Halton, and Port Credit Companies, the same rates will be secured as are paid by those companies. Cheap and efficient labor is available in the surrounding towns. The Company propose to build workmen's houses within a short distance of the plant.

MARKET.

The rapid growth of the City of Toronto and the extraordinary building activities in the suburbs and the surrounding districts, which will doubtless continue for many years, has caused a demand for brick, fireproofing and clay products in excess of the capacity of the brick plants that are in a location to supply the city and surrounding country. All the present brick companies in Ontario are taxed to their utmost and much delay has been caused in building operations owing to the inadequate supply of brick, and in some cases it has forced owners to abandon building operations entirely.

ESTIMATED EARNINGS.

The earnings of the Company are estimated on the basis of a profit of $2.50 per thousand bricks. The average cost per thousand, as estimated by the managing director of the Company, is $5.00. In this is included selling, operating, and all incidental costs of production, and as the Canada Brick & Fireproofing Company, Limited, are installing one of the most modern and up-to-date plants, both for handling and manufacturing bricks, this cost should be materially reduced.

In estimating the earnings of the Canada Brick & Fireproofing Company, Limited, the cost per thousand is put at $7.00 (f.o.b. Toronto and delivered on the jobs) to cover all possible contingencies, and the gross income is put at $9.50 per thousand or considerably below the average price, which is more than $10.00 per thousand.

On this basis the earnings will be as follows, allowing 250 working days to the year.

Unit No. 1.

CAPACITY	WORKING DAYS	BRICKS PER YEAR
50,000 per day	250	12,500,000
Gross income, at $9.50 per thousand		$118,750
Cost of manufacturing, operating, etc., at $7.00 per thousand		87,500
Surplus		$ 31,250
As the Company will install three units each having a capacity of 50,000 per day, the profit would be three times the above amount, or a total profit per annum of		$ 93,750
6 per cent. interest on preferred stock		18,000
Leaving for reserve fund, contingencies, dividends on common and preferred stock, etc.		$ 75,750

It will be seen that the Company should earn over 7 per cent. on the Preferred shares and 3 per cent. on the Common stock from Unit No. 1, and Units Nos. 1, 2 and 3 should earn 18 per cent. on both the Common and Preferred stocks.

EFFECT OF MARRIAGE

of marriage, instead of the marriage law being made clear, the whole question will be left in a state of chaos. Any marriage will be subject to annulment, merely on the ground of some ecclesiastical impediment recognized by some religious body. It means that you have hundreds of possible impediments to marriage.

Nothing Clear in Law.

So long as Article 127 of the Code is interpreted this way there will be nothing clear in the marriage law. How is a man to know when he is marrying his fourth cousin, when the relationship dates back 130 years. Marriage can be annulled merely on the ground of the existence of an impediment for which a dispensation could have been obtained at a trifling cost as a matter of course.

Mr. Wainwright then pointed out that if a man had no religious belief at all he could marry his first cousin and there could be no disputing it, because even the relationship of first cousins are made legal. But if a man happens to be a Roman Catholic he cannot even marry his fourth cousin unless he previously pays $7.

Entering upon the more legal aspects of the case, Mr. Wainwright claimed that it was never intended that any action should be entered to annull a marriage merely on the ground of ecclesiastical impediments referred to in article 127. He said the recognition of such impediments in the Code was merely intended to protect the officers of different religious organizations from being compelled to perform marriages in cases where such impediments existed.

Nullities Never Presumed.

In the cases of marriage, he said, nullities were never presumed, the marriage was always presumed to be valid unless it was specifically declared by the law to be null. Mr. Wainwright said it was almost impossible to know exactly who were fourth cousins, and the result of marrying in ignorance would be that either party could get out of their marriage.

Mr. Justice Delorimier [illegible] whether it was the husband or the wife that had [illegible] this particular action.

Mr. Wainwright: "The husband, of course. It is always the husband who brings action in cases of this kind."

From the evidence Mr. Wainwright pointed out, it had been [illegible] that neither party at the time of marriage was aware of the relationship. Seven years later the husband discovered the fact, and was told that the marriage could be legalized by a dispensation but he preferred to get it annulled instead, and this was done.

"Where is the certainty of our law?" Mr. Wainwright demanded. "What do we know about possible impediments of other religious bodies?"

Mr. Justice Delorimier said that possibly in such a case as this a man's conscience might trouble him. Therefore should not the law offer relief in such cases?

The argument in the case was concluded and the judges took the case en delibere.

CINEMATOGRAPH RUSES.

Some of the Tricks of the Moving Picture Man.

A trick picture is usually the combined efforts of the comic plot writer and the expert cinematograph operator, says The London Strand. The operator is continually puzzling his brain for new effects with the camera. He conveys these to the plot writer, who works them up in the form of a very short story. When we see the finished production on the screen it is, to most of us, a work of complete mystery, and it is asked, "Are they really taken from life?" We often see, for instance, flowers which jump from a table and arrange themselves in a vase or a man diving with the greatest of ease head first out of a river and landing on his feet on the bank. "How are these things done?"

In order to discover these secrets permission was obtained to join a picture company which was then engaged in the production of a film entitled "The Uncanny Suit." The party consisted of a stock company of a dozen or more actors and actresses, a stage manager, a photographer and some stage hands. The work to be done consisted chiefly of outdoor street scenes, and a journey was made some fourteen miles out of London in order to avoid the unpaying audiences which such strange scenes always bring together.

The work commenced outside a cigar store and each scene was most carefully rehearsed. A youthful actor, as an errand boy who was engaged in opening the shop, brought from it a dummy Scotchman in the act of taking snuff and placed it in position at the shop door. At this point the stage manager, who was conducting the operations, blew a whistle, and instantly the boy remained motionless.

The company understood by the whistle that they were to cease the slightest movement and the photographer that he must instantly stop the camera.

The dummy of the Scotchman was now removed, and an actor identically dressed was arranged in precisely the same position. The whistle went again, and the boy [illegible] work. When next passing the Scotchman he received a kick from him which caused him to bolt into the shop in terror. The whistle now sounded again, and a further substitution of dummy for man was made by the stage hands. An actor-tobacconist came out of the shop, and the boy explained what had happened, but was dumbfounded when the master turned the figure upside down and thus showed it to be lifeless. The scene proceeded, with many stops and changes from the live Scotchman to the inanimate dummy. Stopping the camera simultaneously with the cessation of all animation insured that the effect on the screen would be perfectly continuous, as, of course, the film would be run through without any break.

Red Cedar Nearly Gone.

There was a time within the present generation when red cedar was to be found in every part of Canada. There was so much red cedar, in fact, that everybody thought, without making any special calculation, enough was in sight to last a few thousand years. This being the situation, everybody who had nothing else to do took a hand at wasting it. Lavish use was made of it in hundreds of ways, and some persons actually were sufficiently ruthless to turn it into firewood.

More would have done this, no doubt, but it wasn't as a good heater. It made a fine blaze, but it was not a satisfying winter fuel. Of course, the people were riding to a fall in the timber, and many now wish their forefathers had not made such reckless use of red cedar. It has been getting scarcer and scarcer in the last ten years, and now we have reached such straits that it is being purchased either in the tree or in the fence wherever it can be found.

As a result of its paucity the use of red cedar is becoming more and more restricted. Twenty years ago railway companies put millions of feet of it under their tracks as ties, and vast use of it was made in interior house finishing, cabinet-making, cooperage and canoe building. Little by little timber workers have turned to other kinds of wood because cedar was so hard to obtain, and now its use is largely confined to cigar boxes and lead pencil casings.

Hotel for Working Girls.

Vancouver's W.C.T.U. has an active organization which was formed to own and operate an hotel wherein working girls and women will be provided with inexpensive quarters.

At a recent meeting of this organization it was decided to rent a house and open it at once, pending the more leisurely purchase of a site and erection of a building.

This step was decided on because of the pressure of the present need and the zeal and ability to meet such a necessity.

The "Look Out Committee" has already examined a number of houses in the central portion of the city in search of a suitable building.

WILLING, BUT LAZY.

Peruvian Indians Work When They Are Coaxed With a Lariat.

An American whose business interests in Peru have led him from time to time to spend considerable periods in the interior of that country has found that the Indians of Peru are the laziest people in the world. If they have a duty to perform, a promise to keep or a debt to pay, though not unwilling to meet the obligation, they can, it is said, hardly summon resolution to do so without some assistance. During his stay at a place called Cajamarca, in the Cordilleras, the American was enabled to witness an instance of this.

He was sitting one evening with his hosts at the door of their house. Suddenly there was a great noise in the quiet street, and a horseman rode up. It was a friend of the family, who was on his way to settle an account with a troublesome debtor. When the family hinted that a creditor would hardly be received at such an hour the man touched something hanging on the pommel of his saddle and said that he had something there that would settle things.

His debtor was an Indian who lived not far away in the country and who had promised to make for him three or four hundred large adobe bricks in payment for some small wares that he had purchased two years before. He seemed perfectly willing to fulfill his contract and whenever he was reminded of it would promise to be on hand the next day, but he never appeared. An hour later the merchant, who was repairing his house, returned with his man at the end of a lariat. The next day the American saw him cheerfully at work. It was but a matter of getting the Indian busy.—National Magazine.

His Ancestors.

The chauffeur never spoke except when addressed, but his few utterances, given in a broad brogue, were full of wit.

One of the men in the party remarked, "You're a bright sort of fellow, and it's easy to see that your people came from Ireland."

"No, sor; ye are very badly mistaken," replied Pat.

"What!" said the man. "Didn't they come from Ireland?"

"No, sor," answered Pat. "They're there yit."

JOIN THE BRANDON SYNDICATE.

Approximately $1,000 for each $100 invested and one-half of this profit should be reaped in four months, and the balance by December, this year.

The wise man is he who reads the sign of the time and acts accordingly. You are not buying lots but become a shareholder in an undivided interest of a first class sub-division, and a party to the selling of lots, instead of buying, a review of the history of real estate speculation show the greatest profits have been realized from purchase and sale of sub-division and close in business property. The Syndicate plan appeals to all. The capitalist has an opportunity of securing a high rate of interest on his capital invested, the man of moderate means has the same opportunity with the additional prospect of largely increasing his principal and his chances of becoming independently rich are increased a thousand fold. Shares in this Syndicate are $100, and for those who cannot pay outright all to have a chance at following terms, $33.35 cash, balance equally divided, due in 30 and 60 days. Now then, property the same distance out is being held at $500 per acre. I could sell at even $200 per acre, and clear a handsome profit, account of securing the property before the boom although by sub-dividing can clear as much several times over and in addition make big money for many others.

Do you know that Brandon, Manitoba is on the eve of the first genuine growth activity in the history of that thriving city. The Dominion Fair will be held there in 1913, and $135,000 is being spent in preparation for it. Brandon ranks among the first as a distributing centre; 278 towns that can be served by wholesalers on a competitive freight rate basis, 131 towns within a radius of 60 miles, all inspired with progress, Electric Ry. now going in. Charter has been granted to a Company to build and operate radial lines to all important towns, including Rapid City, Minnedosa, Neepawa, Carberry, Souris, Wawanesa and etc. With rapid transit quick service what will it mean for Brandon, all of this wealth knocking at her door? Brandon's assessment increased in one year, 1910 to 1911, $1,227,192. Elevator capacity, Brandon city trading territory, 19,324,000 bushels, or one third of the total capacity of Alberta, Saskatchewan, and Manitoba. Inland revenue, 1910, $87,113.36. Bank Clearings, April 1st to March 31st, 1911, $27,271,695.00. Brandon is a shipping area. Brandon rates are from three cents to thirty cents less per 100 lbs., according to class and destination, than Winnipeg rates to the same points, and from 6 to 51 cents less than Regina rates.

Building and construction work in Brandon, 1911, $3,259,000, including Provincial asylum $600,000, new dwellings $200,000, new provincial normal school, Technical school, addition to the college, apartment houses, hospital addition, new primary school, warehouses, churches, bank buildings, and many others; C.N.R. hotel and station, $500,000, Canadian Pacific station $250,000, Grand Trunk Pacific building, in this year contracts awarded. Four transcontinental lines and, including branches, 27 lines run in or radiate from Brandon, the present terminus of the Great Northern, having Hudson Bay its objective point. Think what this means to Brandon. Also upon completion of the Government's railroad to Hudson Bay, as well as C.N.R. and C.P.R. surveying lines to that point, which is 100 miles nearer Liverpool than New York City to Liverpool, Brandon will have adequate shipping facilities. 500,000 horse power available; already the immense water powers of the Winnipeg river are being harnessed to make the wheels of industry hum at Brandon.

JOIN THE BRANDON SYNDICATE.

Join the Brandon syndicate and become interested in the best piece of sub-division property in or near Brandon. The property is located directly south of the business centre of Brandon, and in line of its surest and quickest developments. The property is admirably located, and every lot on it will be readily sold. Property sub-divided one-half mile further out, and one-half the lots sold without even advertising. The initial and only payment demanded of this syndicate is $30,000, and the syndicate will reap seventeen times that amount. In other words approximately $1,000 for every share, 200 shares reserved, 300 sold, 500 issued altogether. By reserving the 200 shares is where the syndicate promoter benefits. The difference between cost of land $24,140.00 and the $30,000 will sub-divide and cover cost of advertising, consequently the promoter will not derive any benefit only along with the shareholders, after subdividing and larger returns for shareholders will mean the same for the promoter. The contract you will receive upon receipt of remittance gives you an undivided interest in the land and also those who may make default in payments, their money to be refunded with 6 per cent. interest on completion of the syndicate. References—Manager Bank of Montreal, Brandon. J. W. Flemming, Mayor, W. de Manbey, attorney at law, Brandon.

Here is a big speculation for the man of little means. The man with $100 in this syndicate will participate in the profit just the same as the man with $1,000. The small investor will realize the same profit as the big real estate operators have made in the west, and who always keep to themselves such chances as these. This is a chance for the small investor in a piece of property that is absolutely safe, in a town that is going to surprise the whole west this year.

Think this over, sign the coupon and send in with your remittance, as the adv. may not appear again.

HALF MILLION SETTLERS

Governors of the North Western States held at Seattle last week when the seriousness of the situation was discussed and steps taken to try and divert the movement of people from the east and middle west to Canada towards the colonization of land in Montana, Oregon and Washington.

Exodus Inevitable Says Officials.

"Very few people dealing with this matter," said C.P.R. official, "realize that the movement of settlement west and north west which has finally resulted in the overflow of Americans to Western Canada is a movement that started with those pioneers that crossed the Alleghany mountains from the Atlantic States and then again flowed west and north to the western and northwestern states of Minnesota, the Dakotas, Nebraska and Washington. When the advance wave of this movement crossed the imaginary line separating Western Canada from United States, it was like the advance wave of a slowly rising tide, almost imperceptible, but the tide has uniformly risen until it it is now flowing over the imaginary line in a wave that attracts attention from all sides.

"The advance and increase of this wave of immigration is inevitable and beyond any influences to check or control in any marked manner. One reason is because it is simply a continuance of that great movement westward that has gone on since the discovery of this continent. A second is because the people taking part in the movement are the overflow from one hundred million people living south of that imaginary line who are in search of cheap land and the chance to make new homes and finally because the endless stream of letters which are being sent back by American settlers who have emigrated to Western Canada commending in the highest terms the quality of [illegible] and character of crops pro[illegible] rate of taxation [illegible] the public school [illegible]

Hunter-Hughes.

St. John's [illegible] was the scene of a very pretty [illegible] wedding at seven o'clock yesterday morning when the marriage was solemnized of Miss Fannie Hughes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Hughes, 480 Aylmer street, and Mr. Albert E. Hunter eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hunter, 299 Boswell avenue.

The Rev. Canon Davidson performed the ceremony, and the young couple were unattended.

After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Hunter left for a trip to Niagara and Buffalo, and on their return will reside at 704 Keele street, West Toronto.

McKibbin—Finney.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at 104 Dublin street yesterday afternoon, when Miss Annie Isabel Finney was united in marriage to Walter E. McKibbin of Calgary, Alta., by the Rev. Robt. Pogue of St. Paul's church.

The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. J. A. Finney, while Miss Ada Graham, cousin of the bride, played Lohengrin's wedding march. Miss Margaret Cameron, niece of the bride, made a charming little flower girl.

The happy couple left on the 1.10 C.P.R. train for London, Rochester and Buffalo.

Mr. and Mrs. McKibbin will return to Peterborough before starting for their future home in the west, where they will be followed by the best wishes of their many friends.

Would Like to See Canada.

It is generally admitted that a man considers a fashionable wedding the height of boredom. That may be the reason why His Grace, the Duke of Sutherland, departed from England so soon after the marriage of his elder son and Lady Eileen Butler, and came to Canada to see his Western estates. The distinguished visitor refuses absolutely to discuss our late spring and the prospects of the Western crops with representatives of the press and turns a chilly shoulder to the bright young men from the morning papers who seek in vain to know his opinions on woman suffrage and the future of Home Rule. The Duke of Sutherland possesses in Stafford House one of the most imposing residences in London, and its projected closing is causing some anxiety among the [illegible] and [illegible] of London. The Duchess of Sutherland [illegible] remarkably [illegible] like K[illegible] quarter," [illegible] Duchess [illegible] Canada [illegible] the Duchess [illegible] taken a "cure" [illegible] of the [illegible] invalid [illegible] has begun to [illegible] of London. [illegible] Lady Enid F[illegible] one of the most beautiful girls of the season and bears a strong resemblance to her charming aunt. The future of the duchess's only daughter, Lady Rosemary Leveson-Gower, is being discussed by many match-making mammas. Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

He shrugged his shoulders, and I passed on. On the stairs I paused and then stole quietly back. The music had ceased, and all the confederates who had been playing so feverishly and winning so much had ceased also and were preparing to resume the siesta my advent had so fruitlessly interrupted.

Free Drinks.

In the French chamber of deputies each speaker has to mount a tribune near the president's chair. On a deputy coming forward to address the assembly an usher invariably brings a glass of some beverage and places it at his side. Under the empire orators were allowed only a glass of sweetened water, and nowadays when a new speaker advances the usher, to be on the right side, gives him a glass of sweetened water, but among the veteran speakers water alone is not very high in favor. Cold soup, coffee, wine, spirits and lemonade are among the favorite beverages.

Perpetual Motion.

Perpetual motion machine? Suppose that man could finally perfect a machine that would run itself. It would not deliver a trace of power. The entire force would be employed in the running. It would have to be free from friction, not nearly, but absolutely. This man cannot accomplish. But the machine would of necessity have to start itself, an impossibility. Only creative mind is able to do this.—New York American.

Tact.

Only Partly True.

"Did you say I was a deadbeat?"

"Nope. I never said you were dead."

Some reasons why Oakdale Park offers a gilt-edged investment:

"It has the best car service of any restricted residence district either inside or outside the city.

"Its proximity to Winnipeg's largest and most beautiful city park.

WINNIPEG PROPERTY

Has made FORTUNES for SMALL INVESTORS, and there is More Money being made TODAY than ever before in the History of the CITY.

Why you should buy in Oakdale Park:

Because: "It is the centre of a 500 acre restricted residential area.

Because: "It is farther from the smoke, dust and noise of railways than any Residence District inside or outside of the City, and with better car service."

Western Canada is the World's Attraction

The United States cannot keep people from realizing the GREATEST OPPORTUNITY ever offered, to secure Independent fortunes, by locating Homes in Western Canada. WINNIPEG is growing by leaps and bounds—A SUBSTANTIAL, PERMANENT GROWTH. VACANT HOUSES ARE UNKNOWN and yet Building is more active than ever.

OAKDALE PARK

Is the choice Residential District. All restricted property located in the West End reached by direct Electric Street Car Line in 20 minutes, from the Centre of the City (service every 4½ minutes). Beautifully treed; is directly opposite the largest City Park, where thousands spend the summer days. Can be reached in three minutes from OAKDALE PARK.

Sewers, Sidewalks and Water Supply arranged for.

Lots are nearly all Fifty feet frontage. (Only one house to be built on each lot).

PRICES, $12 per foot frontage up

TERMS—One Fifth Cash, balance in 5 semi-annual payments; interest 6 p. c.

Better value cannot be had anywhere.

Oakdale Park Property will increase more rapidly in value than any other Winnipeg Residence district.

It is the same distance from business centre of Winnipeg as Parkdale is from business centre of Toronto.

The history of Crescentwood will be repeated in Oakdale. Where in the former 5 or 6 years ago lots were sold at $15 to $25 per foot, with the same building restrictions as Oakdale Park has to-day, and now $80 to $150 per foot is being paid in Crescentwood and residences to the value of $10,000 to $100,000 are being erected. History will repeat this in Oakdale, but in less time, as it has better Electric Car Service now.

DEFY THE EXPLORERS.

Vast Unknown Regions In Western Brazil and Australia.

Lying within the basin of the head waters of the Amazon river in western Brazil are three regions much larger in area than all the New England states which are still outside the pale of our knowledge. This large territory lies between the parallels of 10 degrees south latitude and 5 degrees north latitude and the meridians of 60 degrees and 73 degrees west longitude. Not a country of South America has been accurately defined and fully explored. The great difficulties with which the scientist must contend in mapping this continent in the equatorial regions account for the large areas still uncharted. It is the hardest section in the world to penetrate. Dense forests, a deadly climate inducing the worst scourges of disease, as yellow fever, cholera, beriberi, etc., the fierce wild beasts, poisonous serpents and savage tribes are some of the obstacles to be encountered in penetrating the Amazon country.

The entire central portion of Australia is an unknown tract save for a direct line in which the transcontinental telegraph system has been laid. The greatest difficulty was encountered in stretching the wires across the desert waste, and the small strip thus opened up is all that is known of the heart of the island continent. It is supposed to be a vast sandy plain, interspersed here and there with salt lakes to vary the horrible monotony. Hundreds of daring men have tried to penetrate its mysteries, and most of them have paid for their temerity with their lives. Then there is the "Never-Never" land, in western Queensland, into which many have gone and few have returned. In the south of the country, extending for hundreds of miles inland from the great Australian bight, is a terra incognito the extent and nature of which can only be surmised.—Christian Herald.

A MASTER OF DETAIL.

Paintings to Suit Abbey Had to Be Historically Correct.

One of the strongest characteristics of Abbey was his terror of anachronism. No detail of a great canvas was small enough to escape his infinite precaution in this regard, no research too exhausting that yielded the correct answer to some archaic matter of dress or armor. Because of this scrupulous care his studio at Morgan hall, itself an ancient building, more than 300 years old, became a veritable museum of heraldic shields, coifs and casques. Whenever he wished to paint a certain detail of complicated armor he purchased or borrowed a whole suit as a model. Once, so the story is told, when Abbey had completed a large painting depicting an ancient court scene he discovered that the quarterings in the heraldic shield woven in a woman's skirt were incorrect. He painted out the skirt and corrected his error.

His masterpiece in oils, the "Quest of the Holy Grail," which he did for the Boston library, has been pronounced perfect in every detail of architecture, of dress and heraldry. His "Coronation of Edward VII." has been praised by antiquarians because of its perfection and accuracy of detail. It was this painting which won Abbey his greatest fame in England.

Though Abbey spent nearly all of his working years in England and on the continent, he did not consider himself an expatriate, and he was always keenly American in his sentiments. Baseball was with him a consuming passion. When he discovered that there was none to play his favorite game in England he took up cricket as the next best thing, and cricket was his favorite pastime.—New York Sun.

Friendship.

The plant of friendship grows only in the warm air of congeniality. Confidence binds its parts together and is the cohesive power of its nature, while sympathy is the life-giving sap coursing through every fiber. It is an evergreen and is indigenous to all lands. Its most beautiful flowers open during the night, and, while a perennial bloomer, it is most fragrant in winter. Time cannot wither or destroy it, age but strengthens and develops.—C. S. Field.

Hospital Ships.

According to the rules of civilized warfare hospital ships are exempt from capture. They must, however, fly the Red Cross flag as well as their nation's flag. All hospital ships are painted white, with a broad green band running right round the hull. The medical, hospital and religious staff of any captured ship cannot be made prisoners of war.

Contradictory.

"He said he couldn't live without her."

"Did she accept him?"

"Oh, yes, after looking him up in the financial reports and finding that he could."

All Settled.

Mistress—Going to leave, are you? Tired of working for a living? What are you going to do then?

Maid—Nothing, ma'am. The fortune teller tells me that I'm going to marry money.

Right In Line.

"If there is anything I like," said he to his wife, "it is a woman who knows enough to be a good listener," whereat the servant girl at the keyhole could not repress a smile of satisfaction.

Returned Thoughts.

"Do thoughts that come to you in the long ago ever return?" asked the originator of silly questions.

Her Hope.

Josie—I was taken for twenty-five today, and I am only eighteen. Julia—What will you be taken for when you are twenty-five? Josie—For better or worse, I hope.

The Test.

He—If I should propose to you what would be the outcome? She—That would depend largely upon the income.—Judge.

Novelty is the great-parent of pleasure.—South.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH WEST LAND REGULATIONS.

ANY PERSON who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years old, may homestead a quarter section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. The applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for the district. Entry by proxy may be made at any agency, on certain conditions by father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of intending homesteader.

Duties—Six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within nine miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres solely owned and occupied by him or by his father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister.

In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt a quarter section alongside his homestead. Price $3.00 per acre. Duties—Must reside upon the homestead or pre-emption, six months in each of six years from date of homestead entry (including time required to earn homestead patent) and cultivate 50 acres extra.

A homesteader who has exhausted his homestead right and cannot obtain a pre-emption may enter for a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $3.00 per acre. Duties—Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate fifty acres and erect house worth $300.00.

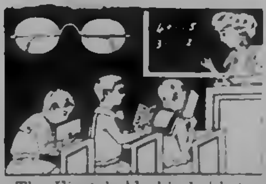
THREE PUPILS AT SCHOOL



The First holds his book too close and mistakes figures on the black-board—he is near-sighted—that is why he sits in the front seat.

The Third Pupil stoops awkwardly over the book because he does not see easily.

The other pupil sits erect to study, sees the figures on the black-board easily accurately and does home-work easily. Properly fitted glasses help all his school work and make his examinations successful.

You Can't Cure Catarrh By Swallowing Drugs

Cough Syrup, Tablets and Sprays Sicken the Stomach But Don't Reach the Germs of Catarrh—Hence Their Failure to Help.

To cure an ailment in the throat or chest, to route out Catarrh or Asthma, it is essential that the medicine be conveyed direct to the affected parts. This is why no other remedy has achieved such world-wide success as Catarrhozone, which alone can be breathed in one second to every air cell in the breathing organs. The healing vapors of Catarrhozone mix with the breath and descend through the throat, down the bronchial tubes to the deepest air cells in the lungs—all parts are saturated with the rich piney essences that ease, heal, and cure.

Catarrhozone has entirely displaced the old-fashioned remedies, such as cough syrups, sprays, tablets, and sedative powders. It contains none of the opium, chloral and drowsy narcotics so commonly found in liquid cough and catarrhal remedies.

Couldn't Breathe — "Catarrhozone" Cured.

"No one ever contracted a more obstinate attack of nasal catarrh than I suffered a month ago," writes Mr. G. E. Root, a well known resident of Bridgetown, W.I. "My head ached terrifically, I sneezed about every three minutes, but still my nostrils were entirely closed and I couldn't breathe through them. Ten minutes inhaling Catarrhozone gave me a little relief so I continued to use Catarrhozone every hour, and before the day was out I had improved. Catarrhozone quickly cured me. I am well ever since."

There is no remedy so certain and safe as Catarrhozone, but being a good remedy it is imitated. Beware of the substitutor. Large Catarrhozone last two months, price $1.00, smaller sizes 25c and 50c. All reliable dealers, or the Catarrhozone Co., of Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

Death of Former Citizen.

Word reached the city yesterday of the death at Lyn, Ont., near Brockville, of Mr. G. W. Green, who previous to leaving Peterborough four years ago, conducted a photographing establishment. The funeral will take place here to-morrow from the residence of Mr. H. F. Lindsay, 650 George street.

Narrowly Escaped Drowning.

Quick and heroic action on the part of Mr. Wm. Hoar, of Lindsay, [illegible] his son's life on Friday, when the youngster fell into a deep well, and was drowning. Attracted by the cries of his playmates the father rushed to the scene, jumped into the seven feet of water, and managed to bring the lad [illegible]

Ravaged by a Bear.

Mr. D. Watson, who lives on Pandash Lake Road has been losing sheep and expected the ravages were being perpetrated by a bear. He chased the blood marks of a sheep, and he found bruin in the act of eating it. He fired three shots at the bear, then finding he had brought no more ammunition with him he retreated to the house pursued by the bear. In the morning he found the bear dead about a hundred yards from the spot where he had dined on the sheep.

Report on Legal Offices.

The following, taken from the report of the Inspector of Legal offices is of local interest, in connection with the remuneration which is received by those officers paid by the general public: Jas. A. Hall, Sheriff, salary, $1,767.66; Judge Huycke, Surrogate Judge and local master, $1,360.50; R. E. Wood, Crown Attorney and Clerk of the Peace, $1,522.29; C. J. Sherry, Local Registrar, County Court Clerk and Surrogate Registrar, $3,195.18.

Why Not Try It Here?

Peterborough might profit by Orillia's experience in moving the clocks of the city one hour forward. In a despatch from Orillia we learn that the town's daylight saving by-law which came into operation on Saturday night, is proving a great success and very popular. Most of the business and residence clocks have been changed so that they now show seven o'clock for instance, when it is only six in the rest of the world. All the big factories have adopted the local time. The consequence is that when men quit at five o'clock Orillia time, it is really but four o'clock Standard time. Everybody has that much more time of daylight for recreation.

Died in the West.

The many friends of Mr. Thomas Jackson, 316 Boswell avenue, will regret to learn of his death, which took place very suddenly on Monday afternoon at Kindersley, Saskatchewan. The deceased had moved to the West about a year ago, and having secured a farm was preparing to move his family out. He formerly conducted a grocery store on the corner of Charlotte and Aylmer streets. Deceased was a member of [illegible] street Baptist church and had a wide circle of friends in the city. The body will be brought to Port Hope for interment and the funeral [illegible] conducted on Saturday by Rev. W. [illegible] Riddiford.

Attempted Suicide.

The village of [illegible] was thrown into excitement on Thursday evening by the attempt of a young Barnardo Home girl, [illegible], to commit suicide. The young girl had been working for Mr. and Mrs. J. Smythe, who had half jokingly told her that if she ever told them an untruth she would be returned to the home in this city. The young girl was of a highly nervous nature, and after lying to Mrs. Smythe about a post card she had received from a young man, she, although no further mention was made of such a course, remembered that she might be punished by being sent back to the Barnardo Home. Although she had been well treated there she said she preferred death to returning and ran into the river. She was rescued, however and is now being treated for nervous trouble at Rockwood. She is the youngest of a family of ten.

The Late Rev. Father Conway.

The interment of the late Rev. Father Conway took place yesterday morning from his late residence to St. Peter's Cathedral, where a solemn requiem high mass was sung by Rev. Father McColl, assisted by Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, as deacon, and Rev. Father Kelly of Norwood as sub-deacon. Rev. Father Murray of Cobourg and Rev. Father Cline of Oshawa, were deacons of honor to Bishop O'Connor. Rev. Dr. O'Brien fulfilled the duties of Master of Ceremonies. Ven. Archdeacon Casey of Lindsay preached the sermon for the occasion paying a tribute to the deceased. The pallbearers were Rev. Father P. McGuire of Downeyville, Cline of Oshawa, Scanlon of Grafton, McAuley of Peterborough, M. McGuire of Douro, and Fergus O'Brien of Peterborough. Interment took place in St. Peter's cemetery. The chief mourners were Judge Jas. Conway of New York and Mr. John Conway of Toronto, nephews of the deceased.

TO-NIGHT.

Moonlight Excursion to-night under the auspices of the Royal Templars of Temperance, per steamer Stoney Lake. Boat leaves Wolfe street wharf at 7.30. Tickets 25c.

THE NORTH AMERICAN LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY

Is practically a mutual one, with the protection afforded by a guarantee fund upon which interest is paid. While such fund is only $60,000.00, the guarantors are liable for five times this amount: so that the position admirably reflects the best points of stock and mutual companies. The Directorate is composed of both policy holders and guarantors, who are equally interested in its management. Home Office, Toronto.

CANDIDATE AT BALTIMORE WILL BE CHOSEN BEFORE POLICY--A WIN FOR BRYAN

He Refuses to Accept Any Compromise With Conservatives----Victory in Committee

Baltimore, Mdf, June 26.—A flood of oratory buried the delegates to the Democratic National Convention under rhetorical waves to-day. The convention marked time through the entire day session, because the committee on credentials had not prepared its report.

The convention adjourned at 2.17 to meet at 8 o'clock to-night to take up the problem of permanent organization, receive the reports of the credentials committee, and possibly begin the nominating speeches of Presidential candidates.

Baltimore, Md., June 26.—Because he is not in sympathy with the force "seemingly in control of the Baltimore convention" William Jennings Bryan, of Nebraska, to-day declined to accept the chairmanship of the resolutions committee unanimously tendered him. Senator John W. Kern, of Indiana, was elected as Mr. Bryan twice refused the honor.

Bryan Refuses.

After a brief discussion it was suggested that a committee of Mr. Bryan's friends should be sent to his rooms to urge him to assume what the committee declared to be a duty to his party.

Fifth Regiment Armory, Baltimore, Md., June 26.—The resolutions committee of the Democratic National Convention, as soon as the members of that committee got together today, named Senator O'Gorman of New York, Senator Cutherson of Texas, and Senator Raynor of Maryland, a committee to wait on Col. Wm. J. Bryan, and ask him to accept the chairmanship of the committee. They left immediately for the Hotel Belvidere to confer with Bryan.

WILLIAM J. BRYAN

Bryan not only refused to act, but he made it plain in refusing that he feared the committee had been packed against him.

Kern was then elected chairman of resolutions committee. T. J. Walsh California, elected secretary by a viva voce unanimous vote. Mern had said he did not want to take it.

Boys Who Break Electric Light Lamps Will Be Severely Punished

It was reported at the Fire, Water and Light Committee meeting last night that boys are breaking many electric lights lamps and the Chief of Police will be asked to give special attention to this matter.

The water pipes at the Central Park being warn out, the Chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee and the Fire Chief were authorized to arrange for having the park watered by the fire brigade, pending replacing the pipes at a time more opportune than at present.

The contract for firemen's uniforms was not awarded, there being doubt if Anderson's samples of cloth submitted are according to specifications. Mr. Anderson will be asked to distinctly specify if his serge is Forbe's and his Frieze Irish, for the committee's guidance before Tuesday evening. Mr. Ball's tender was very specific in this respect.

MUST BE DEVIDED

Strong Reasons Why the Offices of Immigration Agent and Inspector of Weights and Measures Should be Separated.

The two positions held by Mr. George Howson, of local Government Immigration Agent and Inspector of Weights and Measures, evidently do not run well together. While the work of inspecting is proceeding the duties in connection with immigration is neglected. The officer cannot do both, and it is plainly the duty of the Department to make a change in order to avoid trouble with incoming settlers.

The following letters from Ottawa officials will shed new light on the immigration question as it concerns Peterborough:

Ottawa, June 25th, 1912.

My Dear Sir,—I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 22nd inst., regarding the question of handling immigrants at Peterborough. I am taking the matter up with the Superintendent of Immigration and ascertaining what was done in reference to your letter of some time ago in which you asked for the opening of a waiting room, and also for the installation of a telephone.

Yours sincerely,
G. W. RUSKARD,
Private Secretary.

Ottawa, June 26th, 1912.

Sir,—I have referred to me from the Deputy Minister's OKce, your telegram stating that immigrants just arrived are compelled to stand in the streets, presumably because no accommodation has as yet been provided for them. I may say in this connection, that I sent Mr. Howson a telegram on the 5th inst., authorizing him to secure a waiting room for immigrants for a period of three months if necessary, and instructed him to report action, but have not yet heard what has been done in this connection. I am writing to remind him of the matter and to ask what he is doing about it.

JOURNALISTIC ENTERPRISE.

(Editor Morning Times)

Sir,—I notice a good exhibition of journalistic enterprise on the part of your contemporary, the Examiner, in its issue of Tuesday, under the heading of "Crushed by Moving Lorry." It published what purported to be a special despatch from Belleville, giving details of the accident which happened in Lakefield about a fortnight or three weeks ago, by which a young man named Robinson was killed. This item appeared in the Times the morning after it happened. Since the election on the 21st of September last your contemporary has not been altogether right in the upper storey of its anatomy, of which the above is one of the evidences.

MR. WEBB BRINGS CHARGES AGAINST MR. BURNHAM.

(Editor of the Times)

Sir,— In view of the charges brought against Mr. Burnham by the Examiner, and their nature, I wish to bring the following equally important serious charges against our member. Doubtless the Examiner, as it knows everything that happens, and lots that never did, and never will happen, knows all about these, and is too modest to speak of them. As we all know the Examiner's chief fault is its exceeding modesty. It is really too modest. Well, if the Examiner is too weak to bring these charges I must do so. Some people may think them ridiculous, but, Sir, ridiculous charges are all the rage lately in some quarters. I say that the following are all Mr. Burnham's fault:

(1) The German peril scare. This is easily seen to be Mr. Burnham's fault. Why didn't he uphold the Laurier naval policy, send the Rainbow, and the Niobe to the North Sea? They would scare the German at once and this great peril would be immediately dissolved.

(2) Farmer Giles had a pig die last week from fits. Now, if Mr. Burnham had done his duty he would have brought in a bill prohibiting pigs from taking fits of any kind whatsoever, and this calamity would have been avoided. Examiner pigs excluded from this act, as they can't help having fits. It's natural to them.

(3) Polygamy among the heathen. This is due entirely to Mr. Burnham asking his famous question, "Are we married or not." The heathen, in his blindness, when he read that, made up his mind to have all the wives he could get and make sure he was married.

(4) The jambovee in the States! This is Burnham and Borden's fault, as if they had not defeated Reciprocity Taft, Teddy, Clarke & Co. would now be feasting one another, overjoyed at Canada becoming an adjunct to the States.

I have other equally important and serious charges to make against Mr. Burnham. But let him answer these if he can. I can't. When the Examiner gets hard up for ridiculous charges, it will help them to make some "manufactured in the premises."

WONDERFUL GROWTH OF PRINCE RUPERT

What Was Only a Short Time Ago a Railway Camp Is Now a Growing and Prosperous Young City.

No one can realize, who has not actually seen it, the great strides Prince Rupert has made since the sale of lots three years ago. What was then merely a railroad camp is now a prosperous city will all modern improvements.

Prince Rupert, like other progressive towns, owns its own utilities, such as electric light and telephone, and the service supplied is second to none. Miles of streets have been graded and macadamized in the business portion, while the outlying districts are well served by plank roadways. Side walks have also been built in the business section, and a large portion of the City is provided with permanent sewage.

The City at the present time is engaged in the construction of a permanent water supply and power plant. When finished the cost will be five hundred and fifty thousand dollars, but a copious supply of pure water will flow to the City from mountain lakes eight miles away.

The Grand Trunk Pacific is constructing immense works in order to be prepared for the opening of their line in the early part of 1914. Terminal yards have been graded, permanent buildings erected, and new wharves built. Work will shortly commence on the construction of a million dollar hotel, which will be ready in two years to take care of the tourist traffic which will flok to Prince Rupert.

A twenty thousand ton dry dock and shipbuilding plant is being erected by the Grand Trunk Pacific. It is subsidized by the Dominion Government, and when finished will cost in the neighborhood of two million and a half.

The Dominion Government has spent several hundred thousand dollars on a Marine Depot and Quarantine station. These are fitted with all modern appliances, and no expense has been spared to bring them entirely up-to-date.

The fishing industry in the waters tributary to Prince Rupert is still in its infancy, but already several companies have been formed to develop it. Among these is the Canadian Fish and Cold Storage Co., Ltd. which has spent upwards of three quarters of a million on its plant and equipment. This includes enormous reinforced concrete cold storage building at Prince Rupert with a capacity of 14,000,000 pounds of fish, four steel trawlers each of 30,000 pounds capacity, besides a number of

Wood—Campbell.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Campbell of Keene, was the scene of a lovely June wedding yesterday at noon, when their third daughter Lilian Ethel, was united in marriage to Mr. John Wallace Wood, of Toronto, youngest son of Mrs. John Wood, Belmont avenue, the Rev. D. D. Macdonald officiating. The house was beautifully decorated with white roses and American beauties, and as the bride entered the drawing-room, leaning on the arm of her father, Mr. Gordon Langlois of Toronto played Lohengrin's wedding march. The bride looked charming in a gown of ivory satin, made in surplice style, with a court train, and trimmed with embroidered net and seed pearls; she wore a veil of silk net and mob cap faced with carrickmacross lace and orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and orchids. The bride-maid, Miss Agnes Campbell, was gowned in cream satin with a coat effect in shadow lace and satin ruchings, and carried pink roses. Mr. William Cochrane, of Peterborough, was groomsman. Mrs. Campbell, mother of the bride, was gowned in black satin and real lace, and Mrs. Cameron (nee Jean Campbell) a bride of last week, wore her wedding dress of ivory satin trimmed with lace and pearls. After a dainty dejeuner the bride donned her travelling suit of blue cloth with hat to match and the happy couple motored to Toronto where they take the boat for Montreal, Newport, Boston and New York. On their return they will reside at 58 Farnham avenue, Toronto.

Montgomery—Rennie.

In St. Paul's Church at seven o'clock yesterday morning, Miss Clara Belle Rennie was united in marriage to Mr. Wm. George Montgomery. Rev. R. Pogue performed the ceremony. The bridesmaid was Miss E. W. Allen and Mr. Herbert Stenson supported the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery will reside in the city.

Bassford—Gibbs.

Mr. William Bassford, of this city, and Miss Ida Gibbs, of Leicester, England, were united in marriage by the Rev. R. B. Grobb, at All Saints church on Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Basford will reside in Peterborough.

CHALMERS—STUART

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Stuart, 577 Water street, was the scene of a very interesting event yesterday afternoon when their daughter Miss Margaret, was united in marriage to Mr. Alexander Marshal Chalmers, son of Mr. G. C. Chalmers of Peterborough. The ceremony took place in the presence of immediate relatives of the contracting parties, Rev. Mr. Pogue officiating. A dainty wedding dejeuner was served, following which the happy couple left on the 4.19 train via C.P.R. for Toronto, Hamilton and other points west. Mr. and Mrs. Chalmers will take up residence at Shelldrake, Mich.

THE WEATHER.

Generally fair and a little cooler.

TORONTO STREET R. R. STRIKE

Looks Like Trouble On The Queen City Street Lines

Toronto, June 26.—The series of conferences which were being held between the men and the company have been called off, before, it is said negotiations were completed. "We have not received an offer from the company but as soon as we do, we shall hold a mass meeting to consider the proposal," was the way Mr. Robbins referred to the matter.

The departure of Sir William MacKenzie for the Old Country is considered significant and it may mean several weeks before the company notifies the union as to their attitude.

From other sources it was learned that the employees were preparing to hold an emergency meeting next Saturday night or on Monday, when an important decision will be arrived at.

Great Secrecy Observed.

Placards bearing the information to be posted in the company's barns were being prepared to-day. Great secrecy is being maintained about this gathering but meagre details have leaked out.

The two conductors who were knocked off the side steps of open cars are progressing favorably, although one is still in bed. These accidents, happening only last week, have had a bearing on the situation and more may be heard about the cases.

WHITE CAPS LOSE THE FIRST TO LONDON

In a loose game yesterday in which two of Peterborough's pitchers were hammered out of the box, and a few costly errors counted heavily against the locals. The London speed boys hung the tin can on the White Caps by the score of 10-2. Bowerman caught for the visitors and his work at backstop and with the willow certainly helped his fellow players to victory. Silcox in the box for the Londons—though hit freely at times was given air-tight support. He pitched winning ball in the pinches towards the close of the game. McGarry pitched very good ball and pulled out in many hard places, but the Londoners were all fairly good hitters and a number of balls found their way to the bottom of the lot or over the fence. Osborne held the visitors to one run in the last three innings, striking out two in the seventh. After the first innings, the Petes could not reach the home plate.

On several occasions Umps Pearson handed out some of the Johnson dope which the fans evidently do not care for and they told him so.

CHIEF HOWARD EXPLAINS FISHING EPISODE TO COMMITTEE

Regrets Exceedingly That Any Misunderstanding Should Have Arisen Over The Trip--Governed By Purist Motives

Fire Chief Howard appeared before the City's Fire, Water and Light Committee last evening in explanation of the friction that had arisen over his recent fishing trip to Bobcaygeon, the details of which were published in Tuesday morning's Times.

Chief Howard Explains.

The Chief deeply regretted that any misunderstanding existed over the episode, which he characterized as nothing more or less than a misunderstanding on his part. He had not intended in any particular to override the chairman of Committee, the committee itself or the Council, and his whole conduct on that occasion had been governed by the purest motives. "I thought," he said, "I was doing exactly the right thing. Placed as I was, I could not see anything else to do, and in future under similar conditions my course would be the same unless expressly forbidden by the chairman. What Ald. Johnston stated to the committee Monday night is correct. And on Saturday night (a week ago last Saturday) Ald. Johnston called me up by phone and said that both his worship and himself were not in favor of the proposed fishing trip. Still they wanted to do what was right, fair and considerate. I replied that if you are both opposed to the trip I had much rather not go. Ald. Johnston called me up later on another matter and incidentally said, 'don't misunderstand me in regard to that fishing trip; I would like you to go, but you must do so on your own responsibility (regarding eventualities that might occur in his absence).

"That," continued the Chief, "put me in an embarrassing position. Ald. Johnston has always treated me fairly and with marked consideration, and I figured out that should I not make the trip, he would conclude that I had taken offence. So I went, and took my own rig. On reaching Bobcaygeon, I phoned the assistant chief what hotel I was staying at, with instructions to call me up in case of a disastrous fire, in which event I would have immediately driven back, letting the two men follow in a hired rig.

"Now," went on the Chief, "there has been current talk that the horse was abused, which is incorrect. When I assumed my present position that horse was in such poor shape that he was not recorded on the stock sheet; in fact he was supposed to have been sold for $30, but the intending purchaser backed out of the deal. I patched him up, fed him well, gave him consistent exercise, all of which, together with a vet bill for $6, has improved the animal wonderfully. He is now in fairly good condition, and is not troubled with his old complaint—swelling in the leg—but slightly in the spring. And I firmly believe that trip to Bobcaygeon did the animal good.

"I want to tell you gentlemen," continued the Chief, "that you never had a city official more respectful to those in authority over him than Chief Howard. Whatever friction has occurred, I have always bridled my tongue, I was early trained to such a course. And were I discharged to-night, I should refrain from saying unpleasant things, and take my medicine with a smile. Every city official is subject to criticism. I have always taken my share good naturedly. Whatever I did on the occasion before us was with the best motives. This year's Council started out to make extra effort to get the best of satisfaction out of the brigade, and in a manner that would leave little room for undue criticism. I appreciated that, and have endeavored to meet the wishes of the committee in every way possible. And I hope that in this unfortunate misunderstanding you will apply the old rule of etiquet that where no offence is meant no offence is taken. I have always found the chairman very fair and anxious to consult my welfare so far as the city's interests would permit. And should I, in regard to this trip, have unwittingly given him offence or appear to have ignored his position, I am ready to apologize."

Ald. Johnston here corrected the Chief, and offered that their phone conversation about the trip occurred on one occasion only.

Chief Howard—"The subject was again referred to on Saturday evening when you called me up about the caps."

Ald. Johnston—"Well, perhaps so, but nothing new was added. I repeated that you would go on your own responsibility."

Chief Howard—"As to the charge that the brigade was left short handed, that is not correct. Arrangements were made in this way: One of my men, who has been with me a year and has had less leave of absence than any man on the brigade had previously told me that as he was raised at Bobcaygeon he would like to make the trip with me. I am not authorized to place an extra man on the pay roll, so he traded his time off with another fireman; the other member of the party was on his holidays, and the man who had been appointed to fill in his vacation had quit for Toronto. So the brigade was exactly in the same strength as it would have been had there been no fishing. The man who could have been secured to make up the one man shortage had previously been objected to by the chairman and I thought Ald. Johnston would be just as well pleased at my not putting him on."

Regarding his sleeping away from the hall, Chief Howard frankly admitted that the number of occasions reported was correct. "My habit is to go home Saturday night, and not donning my uniform again until Monday morning. I sleep at home Saturday and Sunday nights. The month I slept at home 13 nights, my wife was sick. But I have served my apprenticeship, and think that now promoted I should have some privileges and not be tied down to every 12th night at home like the rank and file."

The Mayor—"You should ask the committee for any privileges wanted. You agreed to one night at home in compliance with the by-laws."

Chief Howard—"I don't object to sleeping at the hall, but am human and like some time to my family, whom I respect."

The Chief here denied that the firemen took their uniforms with them. One man left the hall with [illegible] on but changed it at the house. They took their rubber coats, but not rubber boots.

Ald. Gordon—"Why take the [illegible]?"

The Chief—"When the chairman told me I must go on my own responsibility I felt the situation keenly; therefore I took my rig in the city's interests, to return home readily in case an alarm was sent to me at Bobcaygeon" (as already explained).

Ald. Johnston—"Am I to understand that you would have driven home at full clip?"

The Chief—"No, give me credit for better judgment than that, Mr. Chairman."

The Chief here said they made the trip, 25 miles in 3 hours and 14 minutes, the buggy weighs 910 lbs., and is the easiest running rig in the town.

Ald. Morgan—"Three men and equipment would bring it up to 1600 lbs."

The Chief here retired after asking that another member be appointed to the brigade, a man having left on Monday night week.

The Explanation Discussed.

Aldermen Morgan and Anderson still adhered to their opinions given at last meeting.

The Mayor and Ald. Gordon were fair and impartial in their criticism and regretted that the Chief should have taken the horse and rig on a fishing trip without permission from the chairman, whose action in this regard they heartily endorsed as perfectly correct.

Ald. Brown did not think the horse was hurt.

Ald. Johnston—"I said the horse, which appeared to me to be in pretty bad shape."

Ald. Buller—"He did wrong to take that horse without the chairman's authority, and should be punished just how, I am not prepared to say. But I don't think he killed the horse; 3 hours and 14 minutes is not an extraordinary short time for a horse and light buggy to make the trip in. I know the road to Bobcaygeon and have made it with a piano in 4 hours."

Ald. Gordon—"How was the piano when you reached there?"

Ald. Buller—"In good shape."

Ald. Johnston—"Well, gentlemen, you know what I said when I took this office and I am not going to be made a fool of. If I had been hounding the man some exception might be taken to my present action, but I have treated him fairly and considerately."

Ald. Anderson remarked that it was not simply a case of having taken the horse without authority, and referred to other discords that had arisen.

Ald. Gordon—"I have refrained from speaking much on this question for the reason that at last meeting Ald. Morgan insinuated that I was biased in favor of the chief, in fact went so far as to intimate that I was his solicitor. Some years ago I did transact a little business for him but nothing since; and I want it distinctly understood that I am not paid by that man, not employed by him, or taking monies from him. Chief Howard cannot justify his taking that horse on a fishing trip which was an affront to the chairman of this committee for which an apology won't be sufficient; he should be reprimanded. To-day I have been rung up by prominent citizens who characterize the Chief as a good fire fighter and disciplinarian, but as to disobedience they had nothing to say. If for reasons of sickness or otherwise he wants to sleep at home, the chairman's permission should be sought; but this clandestine sleeping away from the hall must stop, and the Chief should be warned against repetition of faults charged against him, on pain of being summarily dismissed."

Ald. Morgan here raked up previous frictions, and replied "that not many years ago he could not get in touch with the Chief because he was so busy with Ald. Gordon on business matters."

Ald. Gordon—"Only once, years ago, did I do business for him."

Ald. Buller here reviewed the history of the Chief's appointment and the formation of the permanent brigade, admitted by all to have been a good move.

The committee finally reached a course of action in regard to future control of the fire department that proved satisfactory to all concerned, and adjourned without putting any resolution on record.

GO TO FLORIDA FOR HEALTH AND wealth.—The question is asked me repeatedly: Why, if all that is claimed for the climate and earning capacity of the land in Florida is true, how is it that only a percentage of the State's area is under cultivation? It is a fair question, and the answer is a simple one. After the war between the North and the South Florida found herself in a deplorable condition financially. The State Government leased hundred of thousands of acres of its best prairie and timber lands for periods running as high as 66 years. This latter period tied up the great Kissimmee Prairie until recently. It is now, however, in the hands of a splendid colonization company, whose selling agent is the Hunter Land Company, Kissimmee Prairie is in the Southern portion of Osceola County, and is noted for its fertility and uniformity of soil. It is the healthiest spot in North America, and every day in the year is a growing day. Write for maps, illustrated literature, excursion particulars and any desired information. Address Alf. Lake, Ontario, Manager. 43 Cecil street, Toronto. D 6 in J4

PINE TAR CORDIAL

NUGENT'S SARSAPARILLA—PRICE FOR large bottle, 100 full doses, 50c, and [illegible] worth it, too. It's better to take no medicine at all than to depend upon cheap concoctions that are compounded to sell at a low price and a big profit just because there is a large demand for certain remedies at certain seasons of the year. There are so-called Sarsaparillas offered to us to sell to our customers at 25c a bottle that would bring us a larger profit than Nugent's Sarsaparilla sold at 50c. Nugent's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, arouses the torpid liver, drives out all impurities, cleanses and tones up the system, and helps Nature throw off the dullness that comes from the indoor life of winter. It arouses energy, brightens the eye, clears the brain, gives lightness to the movements. Nugent's Sarsaparilla is not the only thing you will find in this drug store. We make a specialty of Nugent's Remedies. Nugent Drug Co., 386 George St. directly opposite Creeman's store.

SEWAGE DISPOSAL.

One of the greatest problems that confronts not only this City, but all the municipalities of the United States and Canada is that of adequate sewage disposal. In a pamphlet issued by Dr. J. S. McCullough he says:

"Unless some concerted plan is arrived at between the countries, Canada and the United States, in respect to the disposal of sewage, the waterways of these countries will soon be polluted beyond recovery. A school of waterworks engineers in Canada and the United States teach the theory that it is cheaper to purify water than to treat sewage. That may be so from a financial point of view, but if good health and human life are of any great value their theory is as pernicious as it is unreliable."

COLONIZATION PLANS.

The plan of the Ontario Government to colonize New Ontario, as announced the other day is, in a large measure, the official recognition of the placing of the official seal of approval upon a system which already prevails to a limited extent in that country.

A private individual or a corporation under present conditions, buys a tract of timber in New Ontario close to a line of railway, and proposes to manufacture the lumber on the ground. A mill is built and houses are erected for the accommodation of the employees and their families. In this way a number of rude villages have sprung up in the new country, villages without any of the advantages of incorporated towns in the older provinces. Perhaps a building is set apart for a church, and occasionally religious services are held.

THE CHINIQUY DECISION.

The decision of Judge Greenshields, in awarding $3,000 damages to Mrs Joseph Morin, daughter of the late Charles Chiniquy, against Joseph Begin, editor of La Croix, for libel, on the character and memory of her mother, is one that must win approval from every fair-minded citizen, and which further, will have an excellent effect upon those who use a religious pretext to vent a prejudice.

The libel, as all our readers are probably aware, was the assertion that as Father Chiniquy had taken the vows of the Church he could not legally marry thereafter, and as a direct consequence his wife could be considered as nothing better than a concubine, and his daughter was illegitimate. And doubtless in resentment of Chiniquy's change of faith and his vigorous propoganda against his former church, the defamation was expressed.

His Lordship condemned the action in the strongest terms. He defended the right of the individual to change his mind and faith. He declared in unequivocal terms the supremacy of civil law, as greater than any ecclesiastical ruling. And with biting sarcasm seldom heard upon the bench he denounced the man who would take the opportunity to cast disgrace upon the dead in the name of any church.

"The civil law does not give any church the first lien or mortgage on a man's conscience, his beliefs, or his personality," he declared. "In matters purely civil no church possesses any authority to override civil law. Its authority is given by the law of the land, and it is subservient to and never dominates that law."

These are brave words from a Quebec judge, expressive of a great truth. Surely the time has come and especially after the ruling of the supreme court on the Lancaster bill, when Canada realizes her relief from all ecclesiastical bondage whatsoever. All citizens must at last know that the law that rules is the law of the land, and that while men may hold beliefs they must not be held by them.

Editorial Notes

It is said that before the Chiniquy slander trial started, Begin saw the end.

In less than a year, five general elections have taken place in Canada, and the Conservatives have won four of them. It looks from this distance as if Saskatchewan was likely to be the fifth.

We believe it may be said without fear of successful contradiction that the Hon. Ted Roosevelt not only feels like a bull moose, but is acting like one.

As the wise guy once remarked, it is but a short step from the ridiculous to the sublime. A month from now the radiant June bride will appear at the breakfast table with her hair in curl papers.

Ottawa Citizen: Some of the Eastern papers which live pretty close to the great North American heart of the C. P. R. say that the railway will double track its line through the Rocky mountains in order to prepare for the increase in traffic anticipated from the opening of the Panama Canal. Now we are beginning to find out how far-reaching is the influence of the government of Sir Richard McBride. He may even add the Panama Canal to the list of his many achievements.

The Montreal Star rightly urges the continuance of the alliance of Britain with France and Russia, for purposes of war strength and safety, and advises against the "splendid isolation" which some advocate as the ideal of British power. Why not also urge a broadening alliance with all nations in the interests of peace? The best protection against the hazards of war is never to begin it. The keynote of modern power must be arbitration, and not armanent.

Ottawa Citizen: The Duke of Leeds, Viscount Latimer, Baron Osborne, Earl of Danby, Viscount Osborne of Dunblane, the Marquis of Carmarthen, Baron Goldolphin and Prince of the Holy Roman Empire, is in Montreal, on the way to a three weeks' fishing trip below Quebec. No, "is" is correct, for all the above appendages of aristocracy signify the same person, whose first name, by the way, is George. In these days of title hunting, he will probably be fined as well as fished.

WOMEN'S AILMENTS CAUSED BY NEGLECT

Are Quickly Cured and Robust, Sound Health Restored by Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

Women are on the whole more sickly than men. One reason is that their system is more complicated, another and more important reason is that they put off measures of relief too long. At the beginning, constipation is the cause of nine-tenths of womens ailments. The blood becomes weakened and polluted, the nerves suffer and a run-down condition takes root.

Because of their mildness of action as a system regulator, because of their undoubted power to remove constipation, irregularities, no medicine for women can compare with Dr. Hamilton's Pills. The kidneys quickly respond to the remedial action of Dr. Hamilton's Pills and the result is as you would expect — pain in the back and side, shortness of breath and bad color disappear — the functions of the body then operate naturally, congestion and pain are prevented, and perfect health returns.

Thousands of happy women say Dr. Hamilton's Pills are the greatest and best blood purifier, the finest complexion renewer, the most certain regulating medicine known. All dealers in 25c boxes, or the Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Canada.

Montreal Grain and Produce.

MONTREAL, June 24.—Business in all lines of grain over the cable continues very quiet, but there was a fairly good enquiry for oats on spot, for which sellers were asking more money for round lots to arrive, which buyers did not feel disposed to pay, consequently no sales were made. The domestic and export demand for flour continues quiet, but the undertone to the market is strong. Demand for millfeed limited, but a fair trade is passing in rolled oats. Butter is quiet, but the feeling in the market is better. There was an increased demand from English buyers for cheese, but as the prices bid were in many cases below exporters' views, the volume of business done was small. Eggs fairly active. Provisions steady.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Union Stock Yards.

Choice Exports.

The choice exports ruled the market yesterday at figures from $7.80 to $8.40, 300 being sold to Swift & Co. of Chicago for London and Liverpool markets.

Choice Butchers.

Prime to Fair.

Dealers were paying readily from $7.10 to $7.85 for handsome steers and heifers of grass-fed class, and were eager to take them at this range.

Medium to Common.

All in this class went without parleying at prices from $6 to $6.75, and the entire bunch was cleaned up by noon. The market demands a large number of the cheaper grades every day and at ruling figures yesterday no chance on losing an early bargain was passed.

Cows.

Good, heavy cows were sold at from $5.75 to $6.50, and there was no snarling at the old ones. Canners even humped along at the rapid pace of from $3 to $4.25.

Butcher Bulls.

Altho the market was nearly stalled with old and discarded bulls, the price was not prevented from rising steadily, and figures of from $5 25 to $6.50 were paid.

Sheep and Lambs.

The supply was low, not being up to the usual number offered, and prices stiffened. Parcels that weighed, individually, around 120 lbs., went from $4.75 to $5.50. Lambs carried the high figures up to $10 in several instances, with a range of from $9 to $9.60 being recorded.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, June 24.—At the Montreal Stock Yards, West End Market, the receipts of live stock for the week ending June 22 were 1900 cattle, 1600 sheep and lambs, 2200 hogs and 1200 calves. The offerings on the market to-day were 1000 cattle, 250 sheep and lambs, 1200 hogs and 600 calves.

The bulk of the cattle offered were grass-fed, as all the stall-fed stock thruout the country are about exhausted, and as the former have not been feeding long enough to be well finished, the quality was generally poorer than it has been of late. Consequently really choice steers and heifers were scarce and prices ruled firm, but as there was an increased supply of stock the tone of the market was weaker and prices declined 25c to 35c per cwt. A few full car loads of choice grass-fed steers and heifers weighing 1200 pounds each, were bought by local packers at $8.25, and in small lots sales were made as high as $8.50 per cwt. Common cows in full carloads sold at $4.50 to $5 and the top price realized for bulls was $6.50 per cwt.

There was no important change in the condition of the market for hogs, prices being firmly maintained on account of the small offerings, with some drovers asking an advance of 15c per cwt., which packers would not pay. The demand was good and finally the market was cleaned up of all the selected lots at $9 to $9.25 per cwt., weighed off cars.

Supplies of small meats were larger than usual and the tone of the market was easier, common calves being $1.50 to $2 per head cheaper, but choice stock was scarce and in demand at full values. Sheep were lower, the top price paid for ewes being $5 per cwt., and spring lambs were unchanged.

Butchers' cattle, choice, $8.25 to $8.50, medium, $6.50 to $7.50, common, $5 to $6; choice cows, $6 to $6.50; medium, $4.00 to $5.50; bulls, $4.50 to $6.50; milkers, choice, each, $40 to $80, common and medium, $45 to $75, springers, $50 to $80.

Sheep—Ewes, $5, bucks and culls, $4 to $4.50, lambs, $5 to $6.50.

Hogs—F.o.b., $9 to $9.25.

Calves—$1.50 to $8.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, June 24.—Cattle—Receipts, 3500, active, 15c to 25c higher; prime steers, $9.25 to $9.50; shipping, $8.50 to $9, butchers, $6 to $8.50; heifers, $5 to $8.25, cows, $3 to $7, bulls, $4 to $7, stockers and feeders, $4 to $6; stock heifers, $4 to $4.65, fresh cows and springers, active, strong to $2 higher; $30 to $70.

DIRECTORS:

H. F. HAND, Toronto, President; Director Hamilton Brewing Association, Limited; Director Grant's Spring Brewery Company.
W. H. PARSONS, Montreal, Manufacturer; Director Colin McArthur Wall Paper Co.
W. W. CANHAM, Toronto, Importer, of Wilson & Canham, Limited.
K. McWHINNEY, Toronto, Contractor.
S. J. PLANT, Toronto, Ceramic Expert, Managing Director.
TRUSTEES—Imperial Trusts Co. of Canada, Toronto.

This company is organized to engage in the making of building brick, terra cotta, fireproofing, etc. The demand for brick is greater than the supply, and there is need of another factory to make really high-class brick. The demand for building brick is such that contractors are obliged, in many cases, to use inferior brick, probably endangering the safety, and assuredly endangering the durability, of the buildings so constructed.

The Canada Brick and Fireproofing Company's property, consisting of 150 acres, and contains a very valuable and practically inexhaustible deposit of shale, clay and building stone.

The deposits in this property are of such a nature that the best bricks, with a density and hardness not surpassed, and commanding the highest market price, can be made at a very low cost. Bricks can be made the year round, winter as well as summer, as the company will have a thoroughly tested and specially designed dryer, which obviates all difficulties. No such opportunity has come to invest in the brick industry in many years, and, considering the unsupplied market, the attractive prices for the product, the low cost at which the Canada Brick and Fireproofing Co., Limited, are able to produce, the extraordinary good quality of the brick that can be made, and the well-known ability of the managing director of the company, this opportunity to invest is one of the best this company has ever had the pleasure of offering its clients or the general public.

THE LOW CAPITALIZATION.

This company could easily have been incorporated for $1,000,000.00 but to enhance the actual value of the shares, and to make the returns on the shares of practical consequence for all future time, the capitalization was made small in comparison with other flotations, but large enough to give ample capital, pay all charges and put up a three-unit plant, fully equipped with the most up-to-date, fastest and best brick-making machinery, and to supply plenty of working capital. We recommend this stock to all seeking safe, reliable and profitable investment.

The plant will be located in the Township of Esquesing, in the County of Halton, and will have a capacity of 150,000 bricks per day.

The present sale is to provide funds for completing the contract for the installation of the works of the Company and for working capital.

The contracts with the Company may be seen during business hours at the Imperial Trusts Company of Canada, Toronto.

PROFIT-SHARING ARRANGEMENT.

Preferred stock will share all dividends in excess of 6 p.c. in the following proportions:
For every 1 p.c. extra paid on the Preferred, 3 p.c. is to be paid on the Common.
For example:—When the Common stock receives 3 p.c., Preferred stock will receive 7 p.c.
" " " 6 p.c., " " 8 p.c.
" " " 9 p.c., " " 9 p.c.

After this point of dividend-sharing has been reached any additional dividends are to be shared equally by both Preferred and Common. The Preferred is also "Preferred" as to return of capital.

Two shares of Preferred stock carry a bonus of one share of Common.

PROPERTY.

The property consists of 150 acres of land in the Township of Esquesing in the County of Halton, containing valuable deposits for the purpose of the Company. This was selected after careful investigation of many much-praised deposits in different localities. 100 acres contains clay and shale and 50 acres contains a valuable deposit of building stone, known as "Credit Valley" stone, which is in great demand, and in itself alone should realize a good profit for the Company. There is an unfailing stream of water through the property, affording abundant water for the Company's operations.

TRANSPORTATION AND LABOR.

The railway running through the property gives excellent transportation facilities, and as the property is situated in the same shipping zone as the Milton, Terra Cotta, Halton, and Port Credit Companies, the same rates will be secured as are paid by those companies. Cheap and efficient labor is available in the surrounding towns. The Company propose to build workmen's houses within a short distance of the plant.

MARKET.

The rapid growth of the City of Toronto and the extraordinary building activities in the suburbs and the surrounding districts, which will doubtless continue for many years, has caused a demand for brick, fireproofing and clay products in excess of the capacity of the brick plants that are in a location to supply the city and surrounding country. All the present brick companies in Ontario are taxed to their utmost, and much delay has been caused in building operations owing to the inadequate supply of brick, and in some cases it has forced owners to abandon building operations entirely.

ESTIMATED EARNINGS.

The earnings of the Company are estimated on the basis of a profit of $2.50 per thousand bricks. The average cost per thousand, as estimated by the managing director of the Company, is $5.00. In this is included selling, operating, and all incidental costs of production, and as the Canada Brick & Fireproofing Company, Limited, are installing one of the most modern and up-to-date plants, both for handling and manufacturing bricks, this cost should be materially reduced.

In estimating the earnings of the Canada Brick & Fireproofing Company, Limited, the cost per thousand is put at $7.00 f.o.b. Toronto and delivered on the jobs, to cover all possible contingencies, and the gross income is put at $9.50 per thousand or considerably below the average price, which is more than $10.00 per thousand.

On this basis the earnings will be as follows, allowing 250 working days to the year:

Unit No. 1.

CAPACITY	WORKING DAYS	BRICKS PER YEAR
50,000 per day	250	12,500,000

Gross income, at $9.50 per thousand $118,750
Cost of manufacturing, operating, etc., at $7.00 per thousand 87,500

Surplus .... $ 31,250
As the Company will instal three units, each having a capacity of 50,000 per day, the output would be three times the above amount, or a total profit per annum of .... $ 93,750
6 per cent. interest on preferred stock 18,000

Leaving for reserve fund, contingencies, dividends on common and preferred stock, etc. .... $ 75,750

It will be seen that the Company should earn over 7 per cent. on the Preferred shares and 3 per cent. on the Common stock from Unit No. 1, and Units Nos. 1, 2, and 3 should earn 18 per cent. on both the Common and Preferred shares.

MANAGEMENT.

The Company has secured the services of S. J. Plant, Ceramic Engineer and Clay Specialist. He has been associated with the brick business all his life, in the manufacturing of all classes of brick and high-class clay ware, both plain and ornamental, and has a thorough knowledge of the construction and erection of brick plants.

Samples made from shale off the lands of the Company may be seen at the offices of the Standard Bond Co. Wire-cut brick will be manufactured by the Company equal in appearance to pressed brick, and at no greater cost.

Applications may be sent in by telegram at our expense, and where application blanks are not available, a letter stating the number of shares desired, and a deposit of $1 per share for the number of shares applied for will be sufficient. Applications will be considered in order received and remittance for applications in excess of issue, will be returned.

On Application .... $1.00 per share
On Acceptance .... 3.00 per share
On August 1st, 1912 .... 3.00 per share
On November 1st, 1912 .... 3.00 per share

Address all communications for particulars, information, or for shares and for expert reports on the property, to the Standard Bond Company, Standard Bank Building, King and Jordan streets, Toronto, Canada, and make cheques payable to the Trustees, The Imperial Trusts Co. of Canada, Toronto, Canada.

Interim receipts will be issued by the Trust Company pending the issue of the regular stock certificates, which will, together with the bonus stock, be delivered on the completion of payments.

Three per cent. will be allowed on all payments made in full.

The right is reserved to reject applications and to stop receiving applications at any time.

ELEPHANT KNEW MAN

Greeted Him With Loud Trumpeting When He Passed Through Tent.

St. Thomas, June 26.—That elephants have long memories and lasting affections was exemplified by an incident which occured during the sojourn of Ringling Bros. circus in this town.

When Chas. Knight, of Fingal, was passing through the animal tent one of the oldest of the herd of elephants began trumpeting, and the keepers noticed that the animal was trying to flirt with Mr. Knight. The keeper invited Mr. Knight to come in the enclosure, when a mutual recognition took place. The elephant wound his trunk around Mr. Knight's arm and gave other affectionate caresses peculiar to elephants, for it turned out that Mr. Knight, who is 72 years of age, was for many years in his earlier days, attached to P. T. Barnum's circus and had for years this same elephant in his charge.

MORMONS A MENACE

Twenty Thousand of Them in Southern Alberta, Says Minister.

Montreal, June 26.—"Every farm that is put up for sale in Southern Alberta is bought by the Mormons" said Rev. W. D. Reid, in the course of an address yesterday to the committee of Ministers who have been appointed by the Ministerial Association of Montreal to settle the Mormon question.

Mr. Reid said he knew the Mormons at close range, and they were a great menace to civilization of the present time. There are 20,000 Mormons in South Alberta.

NEGRO WOMAN LYNCHED.

Mob Hanged Murderer of Georgia Planter's Wife to Tree.

Atlanta, Ga., June 26.—Ann Boston, the negro woman who stabbed and killed Mrs. R. E. Jordan, wife of a prominent planter at Pinehurst, Ga., yesterday afternoon, and who was later taken from officers at Cordele by a mob, was lynched early this morning according to a long distance telephone message to a local newspaper.

After taking the woman from the officers, members of the mob put her in an automobile and set out for Pinehurst. Reaching there, according to the message, the woman was hanged on a tree.

DIDN'T LIKE TO BORROW.

So He Made a Cheerful Proposition That Was Promptly Vetoed.

Mr Dunham had just finished his morning chores at the barn and was going in to breakfast when Briggs, the man who had bought the neighboring Alden farm, appeared. He was a genial person, with a well padded waistcoat and an engaging smile. Mr. Dunham had met him a day or two before at the postoffice, but had not been favorably impressed.

"Morning!" said the newcomer briskly.

"Morning!" said Mr. Dunham.

"I'm going to be neighborly right away," declared Briggs, with an air of simple frankness. "I want to borrow your wood sled for the day. I've had no time to get settled yet, and there's so much to do I don't know which way to turn, hardly. But I've got to get some wood down, and I want to do it while hauling's good."

"That's all right," said Mr. Dunham. "Take it and welcome. It's out there under the shed."

Briggs was back in half an hour with a yoke of scrawny steers and went off with the sled. Mr. Dunham heard him come into the yard with it that evening after supper and found it in it proper place in the morning.

A day or two later the new neighbor came again. This time he had the oxen with him. He nodded cheerfully as he passed the house and, remarking casually, "I s'pose it's all right to take the sled again?" hitched up. This time he kept it two days.

A week later he came when Mr. Dunham was away and, whistling merrily as he yoked his steers, drove off without question. Dunham waited four days and then had to go after the sled himself.

On the next occasion when the new neighbor called he found Mr Dunham milking. Leaning against the stanchion, with his hands in his pockets, he began:

"Dunham, I like that sled of yours. It's new, ain't it?"

"Why, yes. It was new this season."

"Want to sell it?"

"No, I don't know as I do."

"What did it cost ye?"

"I paid Smith $25 for making it, and I furnished part of the stock."

"Well it's worth it, and you ought to have some profit on it too. Now, I tell ye what. I don't feel right borrowing all the time, and I'd like to buy it. How would $35 look to you?"

Dunham milked silently for a moment. Then he said, "Well, I guess thirty-five would be all right."

"Good enough!" cried Briggs heartily. "It's worth that to me. I ain't got the ready cash just now, but we can fix it up this way: I'll take the sled over to my place, and any time you want to use it you come right over and get it, just the same as if 'twas yours. I'll keep track of it and charge you a reasonable amount each time you take it—say mebbe a dollar and when it comes to $35, why, the sled'll be mine, and we'll be square. That'll save you buying a new one and I'll feel better'n 's if I was borrowing all the time. Is that all right? What say?"

A Love Test.

This tale is told in the orient: A lady one day found a man following her, and she asked him why he did so. His reply was, "You are very beautiful, and I am in love with you." "Oh, you think me beautiful, do you? There is my sister over there. You will find her much more beautiful than I am. Go and make love to her." On hearing this the man went to see the sister, but found she was very ugly, so he came back in an angry mood and asked the lady why she had told him a falsehood. She then answered "Why did you tell me a falsehood?" The man was surprised at this accusation and asked when he had done so. Her answer was: "You said you loved me. If that had been true you would not have gone to make love to another woman."

A Good Rule.

If you wish success in life make perseverance your bosom friend, experience your wise counselor, caution your elder brother and hope your guardian genius.

ATE REIL'S BREAKFAST.

John Todd of Montreal Tells a Story of 1870 In the West.

"The first meal I ate in the west was a portion of Louis Riel's and the Hudson Bay Co. official's breakfast, inside Fort Garry walls, August 24, 1870, for dinner." The speaker was Private John Todd, well known in Montreal, and the time he spoke of was forty-two years ago and the conditions those that then affected that city. Mr. Todd belonged to the 1st battalion, 60th King's Own Royal Rifles, and his regiment was one of the very first to step into the domains of Western Canada proper.

He later made another trip west in 1878, but the first excursion was full of interest. When he found his health would not bear the inclemencies of the outside weather he engaged as cook for the 78th W. M. P. At that time there was no Winnipeg. A few shacks existed along Portage avenue, and old Trinity Church was on its site, but that was all there was outside of the fort itself.

It was during midsummer of 1873 that Mr. Todd went west for the second time. He joined the Northwest Mounted Police in the spring of that year at Montreal, going west with Major Walsh of Brockville, and the three Steele brothers, Samuel, Richard and Dick. The first fall he stayed in the west was very wet and he caught rheumatic fever.

He tells the story of his life in the following words:

"I joined the first detachment of the Northwest Mounted Police the latter part of September, 1875. A little later we left Ottawa, P Q , for Collingwood, Ont., with Major Walsh, of Brockville, in command, en route for the Red River, Manitoba. When we landed in Collingwood we had to wait a few days for a steamer to convey us across the lakes to Port Arthur.

"During our short stay in Collingwood, I met with an accident caused by two little boys wrestling behind me. One threw the other against me, causing me to stumble and the ruff of the sleeve of my right arm caught in the trigger of the weapon I was carrying causing it to explode. The bullet entered between the thumb and finger of my right hand coming out at the wrist and entering in again into the thick of the arm, and lodging in the elbow. Major Walsh took me over to the city doctor and had him examine the arm. He said it was only a flesh wound and that it would not signify; I might continue my journey.

"That evening the steamer mooted up at the wharf and next morning we got aboard of her. Shortly she loosed her moorings and cleared the port. She was heavy loaded between freight and passengers. The first evening on the boat I had to get a sling and place my left hand and arm into it and pack them in ice. We traveled over the big lakes and Dawson road from Port Arthur to old Rat Portage. Between boating and portaging that was our route from there across the six-mile portage to the northwest angle of the continuation of the old Dawson trail.

"We passed Fort du Scheme into, or rather through St. Boniface, then across the Red river in a scow. After landing I was placed in a military hospital under the care of old Dr. Todd until such times as the mounted police got settled and got a place fixed suitable for hospital at the lower Fort Garry, twenty-three miles north of Winnipeg. After I was transferred I had no peace, the doctors were probing for the bullet in my arm. They decided on amputation of the arm at the shoulder. But I objected and later got the bullet out with an application of milk and brown sugar poultices.

I changed them every night and morning and after I took off the fourth poultict I had the bullet at the edge of the skin and I got one of the boys to tie it stationary with a piece of cotton. When the doctor came in next morning, I asked him if he had a lance or a sharp knife. He just cut the skin and Mr. Bullet dropped out on the floor and the little villain rolled away under the bed to hide.—Montreal Standard.

Found Wife In Canada.

William Cobbett, the celebrated English statesman, to his last day never regretted the hour in which he first set eyes on the young woman who made him the "happiest husband alive." He was walking along a street in Halifax, Nova Scotia, when he first saw her, stooping industriously over a wash-tub, her arm frothing with soap-suds and her comely features veiled by a curtain of steam. But a look was sufficient.

"That's the wife for me," he exclaimed, and, though for a time the seas divided them, he knew no peace until he had made a wife of the "servant-of-all-work," who had counted herself passing rich on $25 a year.

Banishing the Bill-Board.

The Alberta Woman's Association is one of the most influential organizations in that western province. Its membership includes almost every woman university graduate in the province, as well as the wives of the members of the university senates and the board of governors. It was organised about six months ago for the promotion of higher education in the province.

The members are interesting themselves in the bill-board campaign of the City Planning Commission, and many club women are expressing their approval of the desire of the commission for more stringent bylaws.

Scot Was First.

The first man to enter for a homestead, when the policy of free grants of land was adopted by the Government, was a Scotsman. His quarter-section was in Manitoba, near Portage la Prairie, where, with his wife, he still lives, a hale old man, full of reminiscences and sound advice.

Cure For Baggy Trousers.

"In pressing trousers," said the tailor, "the first thing you want to do, before ironing in the creases, is to take out the bagginess at the knees. To do this you turn the trousers inside out and spread each leg on the ironing board, not as you lay them to press the creases, but exactly the other way, crosswise from seam to seam, and then you lay on the damp cloth and press in the usual fashion with the hot iron. By this pressing you shrink the wool fibers of the cloth together again, where they had been punched out at the knees; you take out the bagginess, and then you turn the trousers right side out again and press for the creases."

Feast of Kisses.

Halmagen, in Roumania, possesses a public festival which is probably unique in the world. It is a little town of about 1,200 inhabitants, and on the morning of its annual fair day the population from about eighty villages come trooping in in swarms. To them go out all the young women, married or single, of Halmagen, each bearing a small flower garland and vessel of wine and all attended by their godmothers. This last precaution is taken from motives of deference for Mrs. Grundy. As the visitors approach, the young women offer to each a taste of wine and—a kiss.

Letters of Introduction.

Letters of introduction should not be worded in too complimentary or highly flattering terms. As they are left unsealed and delivered in person it is embarrassing for the caller to deliver them. The letter should simply introduce the bearer, state that he is a friend and that any courtesy or entertainment shown him will be greatly appreciated.

Ethel Explains.

Kate—That Bragson girl claims to have made a thousand refusals of marriage.

Ethel—That's true. When Gus asked her to be his wife she replied, "No; a thousand times no!"

Not a Landlubber.

Delle—Nothing queer about that. That's only her modest way of saying he's fond of smacks.

The Only Way.

"I think, dear, I'll make my will."

"Why should you do that? You have nothing to leave."

"I know, but it seems to be the only way in which I can hope to have a will of my own."

A Big Family.

A ewe belonging to Mr. John Thomas, Llandarne, near Cardiff, has given birth to five lambs. Two are the usual number, three are unusual, and five extraordinary.

LATEST FROM APSLEY

Entrance examinations are in order at the Apsley School for Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Six pupils are trying for the entrance. Mr. C. S. Carter, principal of the Lakefield high school, examiner.

John Hull, Esq., of Lakefield, was in the village on business a few days ago.

Mr. Chas. Hawkes has gone up to Lakefield to bring up the launch he purchased last spring. It will be put into commission on Loon Lake, whether as a submarine or not is as yet unknown, but certainly the residents on the shores of Loon Lake are not going to let the Yanks annex it without a struggle.

Mrs. Robt. Weir, of Otonabee, is visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs. Wm Wilson, Apsley.

Robt. Howden and son are up looking for more cattle, and incidentally fowl. Robert is partial to fowl, and W. Mass knows that, so is watching his very carefully.

The Hall of Wisdom was the scene of great activity on Wednesday last. The janitor has been busy all forenoon sweeping and putting it in order, as the Peterborough contingent were expected. They arrived on time (Ernie always does) and a rush was made to the Hall, which was soon filled. The inner doors were closed, when the President took the chair and called the meeting to order. Minutes of former meeting read and adopted. The inner guard locked the doors and collected the dues, which were handed to the President to be counted. The curious collection consisted of 11 coppers, 1 punched nickle, five tin beer bottle stoppers, six Shamrock tobacco stamps, 3 horse nails and 2 carefare tickets, the latter no doubt from Peterborough, curiosities in their way, but of no financial value here. Treasurer was instructed to put all away carefully. Initiation of candidates was then proceeded with. There were three applicants, Benny and Johnny Stoplogg (brothers) who had been guests of B. F. C. for some weeks, and Robin Hood, of Sherwood Forest. Preparations were made for first act. Benny being a pretty heavy proposition it had been considered advisable to purchase from Johnny Fitz the largest goat in his herd, and it not having been properly trained made the ceremony more interesting (for the onlookers) and Benny thought he had seen some rank butter in his time, but this goat was the limit, and it was remarked later in the evening that Benny was very careful how and where he sat down. Johnny being of lighter build and having with extreme forethought inserted car buffers where most required got through the ordeal with better results and less pain.

Robin Hood was the next candidate and Ernie requested the privilege, which was granted, to lead the goat, and he certainly gave Robin Hood the time of his life, and enjoyed the proceedings much better than the candidates. The new members were then instructed in the aims and mysteries of the Society. General business was then in order. Moved and seconded that a vote of thanks be tendered Anvil Jim for his kindness in providing such a handsome and well cushioned chair for special occasions, and as Robin Hood seemed restless and uncomfortable he should be the first to occupy said chair. Motion carried.

A very serious charge was laid against Fatty William, inasmuch that he did on the morning of the 19th of June, 1912, willfully and maliciously enter into the pasture field south of the President's domicile, where a number of cattle and horses were pasturing and with the aid of all the village dogs create such a disturbance that it awoke the President before 7 o'clock, a.m., when he was enjoying his beauty sleep, and brought on a severe attack of nervous prosteration. Sufficient evidence was produced to prove him guilty, and he was thereupon fined $293.87, the odd cents being added to pay the doctor's bill. Fatty settled by giving a cheque on the Farmers' Bank. He was also warned that the next offence would give him a sentence of 2 years in Peterborough as arbitrator on the garbage by-law.

The brethren from Peterborough being limited as to time, Benny was awakened from a sound sleep and must have been dreaming as his first remark was "don't let him buck again." The janitor poured a dipper of water over him and helped him to his feet. With proper care he will soon be o.k. The President then made a few timely remarks about the affairs of state and statute labour in particular. Closing ode was sung and meeting adjourned to meet at the call of the President when several degrees will be given.

Mr. Howden intended being up, but was too late. However, he will be on hand next meeting.

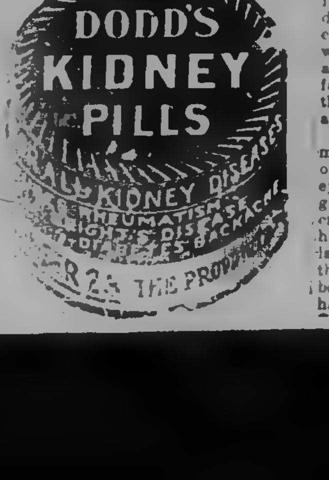
Milking the Cow.

"The sight of one of his good cows standing under a tree down the lane at milking time would throw the modern dairyman into a fever," writes Charles White. "The harmless, necessary cow of these enlightened times stands in her highly hygienic stall, which is floored with concrete and frequently scrubbed. The cow herself is curried and brushed every day. Where is the haymow? Gone; gone with the milkmaid, the dodo and the auk into the obsolete past. One listens in vain around the barn for the old slogan, 'Git over thar, gol ding ye!' with the accompanying bump of the knee against old bossy's ribs. All that has gone out too. Cruelty is costly. Kindness pays. In these days of conservation the man who mistreats animals is picking his boss' pocket."

Woman's Work.

A lady doctor writing to The London Chronicle on "Women Workers" makes the following unanswerable statement: "If you come to estimate a day's work, even in foot pounds, the woman who cleans, bakes, washes and takes to school six children, carries water and tramps up stairs and down for sixteen hours a day need not fear comparison as to kinetic energy even with a miner working eight hours."

"True, but is all this quite necessary?" asks London Punch. "Could not her children sometimes get to school unaccompanied and unbaked? And why must she keep on carrying tramps up and down stairs all that time? Is it even fair on these poor unemployed?"



A WILY RUSSIAN.

He Was a Diplomat and He Outwitted Abdul Hamid.

Diplomatists abroad tell how a distinguished member of the Russian corps diplomatique cleverly outwitted Abdul Hamid, the late Sultan of Turkey. The Russian displayed a curious ingenuity in introducing the business of his country in the guise of personal pleasure.

It appears that the Sultan had absolutely refused to grant an audience to any member of the diplomatic body at Constantinople and that during the period in question Abdul Hamid spent the greater part of his time in cockfighting, an amusement whereof he was passionately fond.

The Russian heard that his imperial majesty stood in need of fresh birds to supply the place of those killed in fight, whereupon the wily Muscovite procured a fine-looking white fowl of the barnyard species, caused it to be trimmed and spurred to resemble a gamecock and sent it in a richly decorated cage to the Sultan.

The ruse was successful, but the Sultan, at first delighted with the gift, soon sent for the diplomatist to explain, if he could, why his bird had shown no inclination to fight. The Russian went, examined the bird in the presence of Abdul Hamid and with great astonishment and regret acknowledged that it was quite unable to cope with the royal gamecocks, which were undoubtedly of a superior breed.

A conference followed on the subject of gamecocks in general, and when this was finished the Muscovite succeeded in drawing the Sultan in a mood for conversation of a different character and in time adroitly introduced the political matter he had so long awaited an opportunity to discuss. After a long interview he returned to his embassy triumphant over his colleagues.

A Vegetarian.

Miss F. Nicholson, B.A., secretary of the London Vegetarian Association, says she has not tasted fish, flesh, or fowl for twenty-one years, and works fourteen hours a day.

Lady Cops.

To have lady police officers patroling some beats in Vancouver is the decision arrived at recently by that city's board of police commissioners, which authorized Chief Chamberlin to appoint two suitable members of the fair sex to work in conjunction with the police force in maintaining law and order in the city.

It was explained by the police commissioners that the duties of the lady officers would be to keep a watchful eye on the movements of recalcitrant girls who were likely to fall into the crutches of the law. Men will not have a chance to be arrested by the lady constables, but it is possible that the male members of the force will be informed of many things that may have escaped their notice.

wooden fishing boats. This is the largest single unit cold storage plant in the world, and will be ready for business early this fall. Arrangement will be made for shipping fish by boat until the completion of the railway in 1914.

Prince Rupert is the distributing point for the neighboring fertile country, such as the Nass, Skeena, Lakelse, Kitsumkalm and Bulkley valleys. Large numbers of settlers are flocking in with their stock and equipment and taking up land. The soil is very rich, and well adapted for the growth of all kinds of garden truck, small fruits, grain, etc.

Trains are now running 170 miles easterly from Prince Rupert and carrying many passengers into the interior country, which is being settled rapidly.

Coal is found in abundance on the Queen Charlotte Islands, and all eyes are now turned on the famous Ground Hog mountain deposits of antricite north of Hazelton. These areas are said to contain more coal than those of Pennsylvania.

With the development of the natural resources tributary to Prince Rupert, its agricultural lands which are being taken up by settlers, its fishing industry which will be the largest in the world, and the immense coal and mineral deposits, the future of Prince Rupert is assurred, and the population must increase rapidly. Add to this the fact that when the railway is completed the vast trade of the prairies through economic reasons will find its way to Prince Rupert, and from there will be distributed to all parts of the world.

TO REGAIN A HEALTHY GIRLISH COMPLEXION.

(From the Feminine World)

If you would have a clear, fresh girlish complexion, one ounce of ordinary mercolized wax will aid you in this direction more than shelves full of cosmetics. It produces a natural beauty. This wax, procurable at any drug store, completely absorbs a bad complexion, revealing the healthy skin underneath. Its work is done so gradually, day by day, that no inconvenience is caused. The wax is applied at night, like cold cream, and removed in the morning with soap and water.

Another valuable rejuvenating treatment if you have wrinkles, or your skin is flabby and saggy is to bathe your face in a solution of powdered saxolite, 1 oz., dissolved in ½ pt. witch hazel. This has a remarkable action in smoothing out the lines and "firming up" the loosened tissue.

"What is it?"

"Sap of Mexican 'Sapodilla' trees boiled until pure."

"Then it's mixed with juice of fresh mint leaves, the leaves we used to chew in garden or country."

"The flavor lasts because that's characteristic of mint. Teeth are brightened by the friction and mint leaf juice."

"The appetite you develop—your helped digestion and purified breath—are from these mint leaves."

"Chew all you want. It's refreshing and good for you."

Some reasons why Oakdale Park offers a gilt-edged investment:

"It has the best car service of any restricted residence district either inside or outside the city.

"Its proximity to Winnipeg's largest and most beautiful city park.

WINNIPEG PROPERTY

Has made FORTUNES for SMALL INVESTORS, and there is More Money being made TODAY than ever before in the History of the CITY.

Why you should buy in Oakdale Park:

Because: "It is the centre of a 500 acre restricted residential area.

Because: "It is farther from the smoke, dust and noise of railways than any Residence District inside or outside of the City, and with better car service."

Western Canada is the World's Attraction

The United States cannot keep people from realizing the GREATEST OPPORTUNITY ever offered, to secure Independent fortunes, by locating Homes in Western Canada. WINNIPEG is growing by leaps and bounds—A SUBSTANTIAL, PERMANENT GROWTH. VACANT HOUSES ARE UNKNOWN and yet Building is more active than ever.

OAKDALE PARK

Is the choice Residential District. All restricted property located in the West End reached by direct Electric Street Car Line in 20 minutes, from the Centre of the City (service every 4½ minutes). Beautifully treed; is directly opposite the largest City Park, where thousands spend the summer days. Can be reached in three minutes from OAKDALE PARK.

The history of Crescentwood will be repeated in Oakdale. Where in the former 5 or 6 years ago lots were sold at $15 to $25 per foot, with the same building restrictions as Oakdale Park has to-day, and now $80 to $150 per foot is being paid in Crescentwood and residences to the value of $10,000 to $100,000 are being erected. History will repeat this in Pakdale, but in less time, as it has better Electric Car Service now.

It is being installed this week and should be finished within a few days.

NOT A FAMILY QUARREL.

It Was Simply a Clever Ruse of a Daring Parisian Thief.

A traveler remarks that the Parisian swindler is the subtlest and the most indomitable one in the world. He was one day strolling through a fashionable French shop.

A woman entered and proceeded to purchase a costly set of silver dishes, and meanwhile a well dressed man lingered at the doorway as though waiting for her.

The woman, her purchase concluded, counted a number of bank notes and advanced to the cashier's desk holding them in her hand. Then of a sudden the man rushed upon her.

"You wretch!" he exclaimed. "Didn't I tell you that you shouldn't have those dishes?" And he slapped her upon the cheek, tore the bank notes from her hand and stalked indignantly out of the shop.

The woman fainted. It was ten minutes before she was brought to, and meanwhile those in the shop, believing that a family quarrel was in progress, did nothing. On her recovery the manager of the place said regretfully:

"We are sorry, madam, for this occurrence. Your husband"—

"My husband! That was not my husband!" the woman cried. "He is a thief!"

She had never seen the man before.—Exchange.

Violet For Mourning.

It was not by accident that violet was chosen by many nations as the exclusive color for mourning and by us also for half mourning. Painters suffering from hysteria and neurasthenia will be inclined to cover their pictures uniformly with the color most in accordance with their condition of lassitude and exhaustion. Thus originate the violet pictures of Manet and his school, which spring from no actually observable aspect of nature, but from a subjective view due to conditions of the nerves. When the entire surface of walls in salons and art exhibitions of the day appears veiled in uniform half mourning this predilection for violet is simply an expression of the nervous debility of the painter.—Nordau's "Degeneration."

TRAINED TURTLES.

Tricks These Clumsy Creatures May Be Taught to Perform.

Of all living creatures, says a writer in the Strand Magazine, the turtle is undoubtedly the slowest in its movement and probably possesses the least brain. Yet a well known American naturalist has succeeded in training three of these creatures to do a number of little tricks. He places them, one above the other, on spools, and if a piece of cabbage or other green stuff is held out in front of them they will make a complete circuit, all moving in unison, keeping their balance and not tumbling off.

The bigger turtle will also ring a bell. This it grasps in one of its forefeet, jerks it off the ground and then gives it a shake. It is quite amusing to watch the slow, deliberate manner in which this is done. The turtles have always lived in their owner's house, spending their time in the kitchen hunting down the vermin.

One of the turtles draws a little cart about the garden, a task which he apparently does not resent in the least. Of course he is never kept harnessed for any length of time. He is quite tame, follows the children about the garden and will even eat from their fingers.

Polls and Barbers' Poles.

The barber is the only professional man whose emblem is a pole. The emblem is a pun. A poll is a head. The verb "poll" means to lop off a head. The earliest barbers were removers of beards. "Barba" is Latin for beard. The French called a man who shears off beards a barbier. But the barbier also removed hair from the apex and adjoining regions of the head. With the modesty characteristic of many professional men he magnified his function and adopted for his emblem a device which taken in its fullest significance would indicate that he removed the entire head. Because "poll" is pronounced the same as "pole" he conceived that a pole would be the appropriate emblem of his profession.—New York Sun.

Dickens' List of Names.

It is not really surprising that the names of Dickens' characters, odd as they are, should be found in real life, for it was from life that many of them were taken. Some, as we know, were copied from the names over shop doors, etc. But this was not the novelist's only source of selection. Among his papers John Forster found carefully drawn up lists of names, with the sources from which he obtained them, and the longest lists were those drawn from the "Privy Council Education Lists." Some of the names thus noted are too extravagant for anything but reality—Jolly Stick, Bill Marigold, George Muzzle, William Why, Robert Gospel, Robin Scrubbam, Sarah Goldsacks, Catherine Two, Sophia Doomsday, Rosetta Dust, Sally Gimblet.—London Chronicle.

A Business Victim.

"Does you 'member dat dawg I used to have?" asked Mr. Erastus Pinkley.

"Yes," replied Uncle Rasberry. "You means dat mixed dog?"

"He was kind o' mixed. He was what I calls a black-an'-tan-dale terrier. Well, suh, dat dawg ain' brought me nuffin' but bad luck. I sold 'im to a man foh two dollahs, an' de two dollahs he slipped me were counterfeit."

"Whut you gineter do?"

"Whut kin I do? If I shows 'im any way to prove de transaction was unlegal he's gineter make me take de dawg back."—Washington Star.

Good Place to Stop.

"Yes, before papa would consent to my marrying George he insisted on looking up his past life."

"Mercy, that was risky!"

"But he didn't go very far. He stopped just as he found that George was the only nephew of three rich uncles."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Easy.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH WEST LAND REGULATIONS.

ANY PERSON who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years old, may homestead a quarter section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. The applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for the district. Entry by proxy may be made at any agency, on certain conditions by father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of intending homesteader.

Duties—Six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within nine miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres solely owned and occupied by him or by his father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister.

In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt a quarter section alongside his homestead. Price $3.00 per acre. Duties—Must reside upon the homestead or pre-emption, six months in each of six years from date of homestead entry (including time required to earn homestead patent) and cultivate 50 acres extra.

A homesteader who has exhausted his homestead right and cannot obtain a pre-emption may enter for a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $3.00 per acre. Duties—Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate fifty acres and erect house worth $300.00.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

Peterborough might profit by Orillia's experience in moving the clocks of the city one hour forward. In a despatch from Orillia we learn that the town's daylight saving by-law which came into operation on Saturday night, is proving a great success and very popular. Most of the business and residence clocks have been changed so that they now show seven o'clock for instance when it is only six in the rest of the world. All the big factories have adopted the local time. The consequence is that when men quit at five o'clock, Orillia time, it is really but four o'clock, Standard time. Everybody has that much more time in daylight for recreation.

3. A splendid new school will be finished in a few weeks on Innes Avenue.
4. It is expected that the St. Clair Avenue car line will be in operation in seven or eight months, which will greatly enhance values in Caledonia Park.
5. Property east, west and south of Caledonia Park is almost entirely built up and thickly populated.

Note the Location:

See the property for yourself. We will gladly motor you out at any time. Plans upon request.

THREE PUPILS AT SCHOOL

The First holds his book too close and mistakes figures on the black-board—he is near-sighted—that is why he sits in the front seat.

The Third Pupil stoops awkwardly over the book because he does not see easily.

The other pupil sits erect to study, sees the figures on the black-board easily accurately and does home-work easily. Properly fitted glasses help all his school work and make his examinations successful.

Contract Completed.

The Bishop Construction Co., has completed the building of the new cement dam at Burleigh, and are discharging their men.

Keep Off the Grass.

It is stated that the public will not be allowed to walk on the grass in Victoria Park hereafter. This is a wise step and we trust the rule will be rigidly enforced in future.

Jolly Fishing Party.

A jolly fishing party consisting of Messrs. Harry and Dick Winch, T. E. Bradburn, Robt. Gibbs and others went up the lakes on Tuesday for a few days fishing.

Grange Gets Appointment.

Mr. Geo. Grange, deputy chief of the Fire Department, has been appointed caretaker of the Armouries. Mr. Grange will enter upon his duties at once. This leaves a vacancy in the Fire Department that may be difficult to fill.

An Enjoyable "Moonlight."

The moonlight excursion last night under the auspices of the Royal Templars of Temperance, per steamer Stoney Lake, was a very enjoyable affair. Choice music greatly enlivened the proceedings and added to the pleasure of all. The party returned about eleven o'clock.

Peterborough's Autos.

It is said that there are in the neighborhood of 100 autos in Peterborough. This is one to every 180 of the inhabitants. In the little town of Aylmer there are 41 automobiles, being one to every 50 of the inhabitants. This probably leads the record.

ST. GEORGE'S CHORAL SOCIETY.

Excursion to Burleigh Falls, (by rail and boat) next Saturday, June 29th. Round trip, 60 cents. See tickets and time table. Get your tickets from Messrs. Coleman Bros., 426 George St., Mr. R. J. Devey, 285 Park St., or any of the members.

Splendid Book Free.

The Times has arranged with the publishers of the new book entitled "The Sinking of the Titanic and Great Sea Disasters," to present each of our subscribers with one of these splendid volumes free of all cost, on payment of $3 for one years' subscription to The Times. This book contains a graphic description of the awful catastrophe and is handsomely illustrated. Call at The Times office and examine the book.

C.P.R. Improvements.

The C.P.R. company has notified Mayor Bradburn that the local station accommodation will be enlarged in the near future. This is the result of the numerous demands of an increasing business the railway enjoys in Peterborough. A Union Station is what is needed in Peterborough.

Greatest Invention of Age For Hoarseness, Weak Throat

Nothing so far Discovered is so Beneficial to Public Speakers, Ministers, Singers and Teachers as Catarrhozone.

Because of its strengthening influence upon the vocal cords, Catarrhozone cannot be too highly recommended as a wonderful voice improver. It almost instantly removes huskiness or hoarseness, thus insuring clearness and brilliancy of tone. Catarrhozone keeps the mucous surfaces in perfect condition, and its regular use absolutely prevents colds and throat irritation, thereby removing the singer's greatest source of anxiety—unfitness of voice. The most eminent speakers and prima donnas are seldom without Catarrhozone, and credit is no small degree their uniform strength and brilliancy of tone to its influence.

Singer Recommends Catarrhozone

"For many years I have been a sufferer from that terrible disease known as CATARRH.

"Being a professional singer you can readily understand that Catarrh would be a serious hindrance to my professional skill.

"One year ago I read in the 'Progress' a convincing testimonial from one who had been cured of this disease through using your God-sent invention, Catarrhozone.

"Believing in the merits of Catarrhozone I tried it.

"Catarrhozone cured me and has been the means of my success.

"You are at liberty to use my name if it will help relieve some sufferer and I will always remain,

"Box Bixley, New Glasgow, N.S."

Mr. Bixley is one of the best known singers and entertainers in the Maritime Provinces. Everyone knows him and his testimonial for Catarrhozone is the best sort of evidence of what great benefit Catarrhozone is to those suffering with throat weakness or catarrh.

Complete outfit, consisting of a beautifully polished hard rubber inhaler, and sufficient liquid for recharging to last two months, costs one dollar. Sold by all druggists, or sent safely to your address by mail if price is forwarded to the Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., or Kingston, Ont.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Successful Lawn Social.

A very successful garden party took place last night on the lawn of the Presbyterian church, Springville, under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society of the church. Tea was served from six to eight o'clock, after which a splendid musical programme was rendered by a section of the 57th band. The boys of the Y.M.C.A. also gave an athletic exhibition. Short addresses were delivered by Judge Huycke and others. Altogether a very enjoyable evening was spent.

DON'T FORGET—The cheapest and best excursion by rail and boat is next Saturday, June 29th. This gives you a chance to be in town for Monday's celebration—Train leaves G.T.R. Station, 8.30 a.m., for Lakefield, then by steamer "Stoney Lake" to Burleigh Falls. Returning through the lakes to Wolfe street wharf via Lift Lock. Get your tickets at Coleman Bros., 426 George. Round trip 60c. Refreshments supplied on boat at reasonable charges. St. George's Choral Society.

Increase in Building.

During the first five months of the present year building permits aggregating $120,763 were issued in the city of Peterborough. Toronto heads the list of Canadian cities in the building business with an aggregate of $9,902,705, or something over two million dollars more than Winnipeg, the next on the list. According to the Financial Post, building operations in Canada for the period referred to show an increase of over fifteen million dollars as compared with the corresponding months of last year.

Delightful Garden Party.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Might were the hosts of their staff at a delightful garden party given on Tuesday evening at their beautiful home, "The Highlands." The guests were received by Mrs. Might, who was assisted by her sister, Miss Ethel Caldwell, of Toronto. A pleasant social hour was spent while the guests were arriving, and the programme of operatic music, played by Howarth's orchestra, was very much enjoyed. The grounds including the summer house and verandahs were handsomely decorated with flowers, and were illuminated, presenting a picturesque and truly beautiful scene. Vocal and instrumental music and games made the time pass quickly. A feature of the occasion was a grand march, following which there was dancing on the balcony. During the evening a buffet luncheon was served on the lawn by T. H. Hooper and was, as usual, decidedly recherche. The function was given by Mr. Might as a mark of appreciation of the splendid service rendered him by his courteous and obliging staff during the eleven years he has been proprietor of the Turnbull store.

DENOUNCED ROLLER RINK.

Rev. Father McColl Thinks That It Is Whooly Evil.

Rev. Father McColl, of St. Peter's Cathedral, thinks that roller rinks are responsible for the moral downfall of many young people, a sentiment which The Times thoroughly endorses. He has forbidden Roman Catholics patronizing the place. He thinks that the worst feature about it is that small children are granted admission.

Father McColl thinks it is time that the Moral and Social Reform woke up and demonstrated their worth.

The Times is of opinion that this is a matter in which the Protestant clergy should at once take action in backing Father McColl up.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. John Drummond.

There passed away in Keene on Sunday evening last, an old and greatly esteemed citizen in the person of Mrs. John Drummond, aged 82 years. The deceased lady was taken ill while sitting at her tea table, and passed away before Dr. Harrison, who was speedily summoned, arrived. Heart trouble was the cause of death.

Mrs. Drummond leaves a family of one son and three daughters, viz:—Mr. Duncan Drummond, Westwood, Mrs. Hastie and Mrs. F. W. English, Ottawa, and Mrs. Campbell, Chatham. Her husband predeceased her two years. She was a consistent member of the Presbyterian church, and was universally esteemed and beloved.

Interment took place on Tuesday in the Keene cemetery, Rev. Mr. Macdonald officiating.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

THE NORTH AMERICAN LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY

Is practically a mutual one, with the protection afforded by a guarantee fund upon which interest is paid. While such fund is only $60,000.00, the guarantors are liable for five times this amount; so that the position admirably reflects the best points of stock and mutual companies. The Directorate is composed of both policy holders and guarantors, who are equally interested in its management. Home Office, Toronto.

JOIN THE BRANDON SYNDICATE.

Approximately $1,000 for each $100 invested and one-half of this profit should be reaped in four months, and the balance by December, this year.

The wise man is he who reads the sign of the time and acts accordingly. You are not buying lots but become a shareholder in an undivided interest of a first class sub-division, and a party to the selling of lots, instead of buying, a review of the history of real estate speculation show the greatest profits have been realized from purchase and sale of sub-division and close in business property. The Syndicate plan appeals to all. The capitalist has an opportunity of securing a high rate of interest on his capital invested, the man of moderate means has the same opportunity with the additional prospect of largely increasing his principal and his chances of becoming independently rich are increased a thousand fold. Shares in this Syndicate are $100, and for those who cannot pay outright all to have a chance at following terms: $33.35 cash, balance equally divided, due in 30 and 60 days. Now then, property the same distance out is being held at $500 per acre. I could sell at even $200 per acre, and clear a handsome profit, account of securing the property before the boom although by sub-dividing can clear as much several times over and in addition make big money for many others.

Do you know that Brandon, Manitoba is on the eve of the first genuine growth activity in the history of that thriving city. The Dominion Fair will be held there in 1913, and $135,000 is being spent in preparation for it. Brandon ranks among the first as a distributing centre; 278 towns that can be served by wholesalers on a competitive freight rate basis, 134 towns within a radius of 60 miles, all inspired with progress, Electric Ry. now going in. Charter has been granted to a Company to build and operate radial lines to all important towns, including Rapid City, Minnedosa, Neepawa, Carberry, Souris, Wawanesa and etc. With rapid transit quick service what will it mean for Brandon, all of this wealth knocking at her door? Brandon's assessment increased in one year, 1910 to 1911, $1,227,492. Elevator capacity, Brandon city trading territory, 19,324,000 bushels, or one third of the total capacity of Alberta, Saskatchewan, and Manitoba. Inland revenue, 1910, $87,113.36. Bank Clearings, April 1st to March 31st, 1911, $27,271,695.00. Brandon is a shipping area. Brandon rates are from three cents to thirty cents less per 100 lbs., according to class and destination, than Winnipeg rates to the same points, and from 6 to 51 cents less than Regina rates.

Building and construction work in Brandon, 1911, $3,259,000, including Provincial asylum $600,000, new dwellings $200,000, new provincial normal school, Technical school, addition to the college, apartment houses, hospital addition, new primary school, warehouses, churches, bank buildings, and many others; C.N.R. hotel and station, $500,000, Canadian Pacific station $250,000, Grand Trunk Pacific building, in this year contracts awarded. Four transcontinental lines and, including branches, 27 lines run in or radiate from Brandon, the present terminus of the Great Northern, having Hudson Bay its objective point. Think what this means to Brandon. Also upon completion of the Government's railroad to Hudson Bay, as well as C.N.R. and C.P.R. surveying lines to that point, which is 100 miles nearer Liverpool than New York City to Liverpool, Brandon will have adequate shipping facilities. 500,000 horse power available; already the immense water powers of the Winnipeg river are being harnessed to make the wheels of industry hum at Brandon.

JOIN THE BRANDON SYNDICATE.

Join the Brandon syndicate and become interested in the best piece of sub-division property in or near Brandon. The property is located directly south of the business centre of Brandon, and in line of its surest and quickest developments. The property is admirably located, and every lot on it will be readily sold. Property sub-divided one-half mile further out, and one-half the lots sold without even advertising. The initial and only payment demanded of this syndicate is $30,000, and the syndicate will reap seventeen times that amount. In other words approximately $1,000 for every share, 200 shares reserved, 300 sold, 500 issued altogether. By reserving the 200 shares is where the syndicate promoter benefits. The difference between cost of land $24,140.00 and the $30,000 will sub-divide and cover cost of advertising, consequently the promoter will not derive any benefit only along with the shareholders, after subdividing and larger returns for shareholders will mean the same for the promoter. The contract you will receive upon receipt of remittance gives you an undivided interest in the land and also those who may make default in payments, their money to be refunded with 6 per cent. interest on completion of the syndicate. References—Manager Bank of Montreal, Brandon, J. W. Flemming, Mayor, W. de Manbey, attorney at law, Brandon.

Here is a big speculation for the man of little means. The man with $100 in this syndicate will participate in the profit just the same as the man with $1,000. The small investor will realize the same profit as the big real estate operators have made in the west, and who always keep to themselves such chances as these. This is a chance for the small investor in a piece of property that is absolutely safe, in a town that is going to surprise the whole west this year.

Think this over, sign the coupon and send in with your remittance, as the adv. may not appear again.

GRAND TRUNK SYSTEM NEWS

Saturday, June 22nd, 1912.

The stable of the Canadian Express Company, which performs the cartage service for the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway in the city of Winnipeg has covered itself with glory, to say nothing of cups, medals, and Blue Ribbons, at the recently terminated Horse Show, which, as in other large Canadian centres, has now become an annual feature there. From the inception of this new service additions of new horses and wagons have steadily been made so as to increase its efficiency until this season it was found that the stable included at least four horses of sufficient breeding and conformation to warrant their entry in what is the biggest test of equine excellence in Western Canada. Of these four only a single one, "Lawrence," entered as an express delivery horse, failed to catch the judge's eyes.

The winning of two fine blacks, "Nero" and "Caesar," as a heavy draught team, entitled them to be entered singly in the championship class, and this honor was referred to "Nero," who thereupon became eligible to enter the Grand Championship class. The fourth horse, "Colonel," was entered as a single dray horse and gained the first prize in his event. This record carried with it three silver cups, three blue ribbons, and a silver medal, and is all the more creditable in view of the fact that this is the first year the Canadian Express Company has exhibited at the show. The above trophies were distributed as follows: Sir William Mackenzie Cup and Association Silver Medal for the championship draught horse, won by "Nero" from a field of four; the Sprague Lumber Co., cup and $12 first prize for heavy draught horses, won by "Nero" and "Caesar" from a field of five two other cartage companies, McDonagh & Shea and the Manitoba Cartage Co., winning second and third prizes respectively; the Carnefac Stock Food Co. Cup and $12 first prize for single dray horse, won by "Colonel" from a field of nine, the Canadian Northern Transfer Co. taking third prize.

TO FLY AS FAR AS ENGLAND IN A GERMAN DIRIGIBLE

The Zeppelin Attempting a Ten-Hour Flight From Hamburg Over the North Sea With Twelve Passengers

Hamburg, Germany, June 27.—The Zeppelin dirigible airship, Victoria Luise, started at a quarter past six this morning on a ten-hour oversea trip with twelve passengers on board. The monster airship flew directly out from this city over the North Sea.

It is stated in some quarters that the purpose of the trip is to demonstrate, if it should prove successful, that an airship raid on England is possible, as the vessel's speed of 45 miles and hour gives a radius as wide as London from Hamburg, and as far as Bristol from Emden.

LONDON SHUT OUT BY PETS WHITE CAPS WON--SCORE 8-0

Yesterday was ladies' day at Riverside Park, and they turned out in large numbers to witness what is said to be the best exhibition of ball that has been played this season. The game opened with a hut out for the visitors, and Nasher, of the locals opened the hitting for Rowan's boys, with a home run, which started the fans and railbirds to root. Throughout the whole game Pitcher Tracey had the greatest of confidence in his team and never at any time during the game did he show signs of weakening. He seemed to put more ginger in the game, the farther he went. The locals played an excellent game and they all had a wallop at the London twirler. Good headwork, faithful coaching and opportune hitting did the trick for the locals.

For the Bowerman boys, all played hard and heady, but neither the pitchers nor the fielders could make connections with the locals swats. Many wild pitches both by Fessenden (who started the game) and Heintzman, who finished it, helped the locals to complete the circuit.

Tracey struck out six of the London batters and was given good support. Nasher was up against two errors, missing a pop fly, but catching a man at third right after, in which he was knocked out of the game for about five minutes, but pluckily came back with his usual good hitting, in which he more than redeemed himself. Rowan, Beard and Swartz, all came in for some fine running catches and in all the game was the best yet.

During the progress of the game, Billy Taylor, who is detailed to get the foul balls which find their way to the river, took his canoe out to get a ball, and at the same time a punt which was handled by some lads, collided with Bill's canoe, upsetting him in the river. The punt was quickly turned round and a line was thrown to Bill and he was towed to shore. For the remainder of the game, William was perched upon the western fence, where the sun's rays were utilized in drying him out. Bill said, it was a case of have a bath whether you want it or not. An unfortunate part of the affair was that his good $3.00 straw hat was completely destroyed.

ANNUAL PICNIC.

St. Paul's Sunday School will hold their Annual Picnic at Jackson Park Friday, June 28th. Special cars will leave Central Park at 1.30 for Jackson Park, where a list of sports will be run off.

At 7.30 in the evening special cars will leave Jackson Park for a round trip through the City.

Ice cream and soft drinks will be obtainable on the grounds.

NOT UNDER ATTACK

At the French Congress at Quebec there has been much fervent assertion that French-Canadians will maintain their political and national rights and unite against assaults upon the French language. The notion is created that English Canadians are organizing against French-Canadians. It is suggested that the French must rally all their forces to defend and maintain their position and in order to continue in the enjoyment of equal citizenship in the Dominion.

But none of the rights and liberties of French-Canadians are in danger. We agree with the News in the assertion that there is no attack upon any constitutional privilege which they enjoy. They are organising an army against forces which do not exist. One is only too clearly reminded of the attitude of the South from the compromise of 1850 until the war of Secession. The Southern politicians were plotting to extend slavery into the new territories while professing that they were standing on their arms against Northern encroachment. The truth was they were seeking fresh privileges and greater authority in the union and were the actual aggressors in the conflict which ensued.

So in Canada the English majority has been absolutely faithful to the terms of Confederation. The active French clerical minority has been less faithful and it constantly demands new concessions and new privileges in the union. These cannot be conceded, loyal as we may be to every feature of the existing compact. We venture to hope that no farther sectarian rights or privileges will be granted to any element of any race or creed in Canada and we do not despair that the day will come when French-Canadians will be grateful to those who proclaimed this doctrine and held to it unflinchingly in the English Provinces.

PROMINENT DEMOCRATS GATHER IN BALTIMORE

SENATOR STONE OF MISSOURI — MEDITATING

MR AND MRS PERRY BELMONT IN BALTIMORE

Prominent democrats from all over the country are gathering in Baltimore for the opening of the National Democratic Convention. Senator Stone, of Missouri, one of the first on the scene, is looking the situation over in his own way and is satisfied the G. O. P. is in for a trouncing this year. Perry Belmont, the famous New York politician, is also on the scene ready to lend his aid for a harmonious Convention. Mrs. Belmont accompanies her husband and will attend the opening session of the Convention.

YOUNG LAD DROWNED WHEN LAUNCH COLLIDES WITH STEAMER

A sad drowning accident occurred last night shortly after 8 o'clock, in which a boy, thought to be sixteen year-old Alex. Thompson met death in the waters of the Otonabee river.

It appears that the young lad had been standing near the boat house at the end of Dalhousie street, and seeing Mr. Harry Manley taking his gasoline launch out, he asked to be taken along. He accompanied Mr. Manley for some distance down the river.

On returning up the river they met the Steamer Stoney Lake which had landed its St. John's Choir excursionists, and was returning to Lakefield. In some manner the launch collided with the steamer, and Thompson seeing that a collision was unavoidable jumped from the launch into the river. Manly however, stuck to his craft. This occurred out in the river just opposite McDonald's mill, and as the current in that part of the river is swift the Stoney Lake could not stop in time to rescue the boy. Several rowboats and canoes were near, however, and they immediately hurried to the scene of the accident. They were unable, however, to find or save the unfortunate lad. Manley escaped uninjured.

The Stoney Lake returned and its crew joined with the others in the hunt for the body. The search up to the time of going to press had not found any trace of the body, but they came upon a book floating in the water, and supposed to have belonged to the young lad. It bore the inscription of the name "Alexander Thompson."

Mr Manly did not know the young fellow who was drowned and no one appears to recognize the name of Alex Thompson. The drowned lad was about 16 years of age.

On account of the swiftness of the current it was not thought likely that the body would be recovered last night.

IMPORTING SERVANT GIRLS.

Editot Morning Times.

Sir,—Would you advise me to import servant maids through regular Government agents? I understand that very poor results have been obtained in this way.

—Housekeeper

Answer—Our opinion is that the Government immigration agents are good people to keep clear of. We intend to publish some experiences along this line in a few days.—Ed Times.

A WATERING CAR.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—Allow me to use a small amount of your valuable space in making a suggestion that might be practical and useful in this city. In other cities a watering car, a street car with an attachment to spread the water on the streets, has been used and as the car service runs on Charlotte, Park and George streets for a long distance, I think it might be used to advantage giving quicker and more efficient work.

Yours truly,

MINISTER OF MILITIA—"Get out and stay out."

THAW CASE WAS REFUSED

Suddenly Remembers That He Was Consulted by Thaw Years Ago

White Plains, N.Y., June 17th.—Judge Keogh failed again to appear on the bench at this afternoon's session, and after another conference with the attorneys for Thaw and the State, it was announced that a recess would be taken until to-morrow morning. It was said in the court room that Judge Keogh, after hearing Thaw's testimony yesterday, suddenly remembered that he had been consulted by one of Thaw's counsel some years ago and that because of this he refused to go on with the case. Neither the judge nor any of the attorneys would say anything at all.

LINGERED TEN DAYS AFTER TAKING POISON

Toronto, June 27.—James Ellis, 74 years old, who attempted to commit suicide by taking a dose of strychnine on June 17th, died at 7 o'clock this morning in the Western Hospital.

The aged man who is a painter, lived at 301 Queen street west, and had been suffering from a serious ailment for some time previous to his attempt on his life. He told his wife of his intention and she pleaded with him not to take the poison, but when she went to prepare supper he swallowed 16 tablets each containing one-fortieth of a grain and rolled over on the floor.

RETURNED FROM CHINA

The Rev. W. H. Oldfield returns to the City After Eight Years of Missionary Work in That Country.

The Rev. W. H. Oldfield, formerly of this city, has returned from China where he has been engaged for the past eight years in Christianizing the Chinese. Mr Oldfield gave an address last night in Bethany, on the Province in South China, where his work has been located. This Province is as large as Manitoba and Prince Edward Island together and has a population of 8,000,000 people. It has been one of the most exclusive provinces of China, and up to a few years ago it was not safe for a missionary to enter it. He will speak in Bethany on Sunday, morning and evening, when he will give a detailed account of his experiences in the revolution, of which he had some adventures sufficiently interesting to others.

When interviewed by a Times' representative, Mr Oldfield explained that before the revolution the missionary outlook had been rather gloomy, but since the success of the revolutionary forces there, the prospects had become unprecedently bright in that Province.

Mr. Oldfield has brought back with him a number of interesting specimens of Chinese clothing and representatives of the Chinese heathen duties, including the gods of wealth and gems and Budda. He has also in his possession full sized "rubbings" of eighteen different stone idols.

In explaining the customs of the Chinese, Mr Oldfield produced a Chinese calling case 9 in. by 13 in. and showed his calling or visiting cards, 4 in. by 10 in. The missionaries were forced to return several months earlier than they could possibly have left their work in the ordinary course of events by the revolution.

The recounting of his experiences in the revolution on Sunday will contain many interesting episodes and The Times will publish an separate account of his address in Monday's issue.

The missionary work is now becoming easier in China though the changed attitude of the official class who now as a whole regard the Christian religion with friendly interest.

BRYAN-WILSON COMBINATION CARRY DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

The Wilson supporters claimed that the vote made the nomination of Woodrow Wilson a practical certainty.

New York's ninety votes which yesterday went to the Clark-Harmon combination, were to-day cast in a block for the Wilson delegates. The announcement of New York's vote was greeted with cheers from the Wilson delegates.

A General Uproar.

Tumult interrupted the convention this afternoon during the debate on the report of the credentials committee involving the seating of contesting Clark and Wilson delegates from South Dakota. The Wilson adherents started the demonstration and the Clarke, Underwood and other factions not to be outdone, at once took it up. The uproar became general, floor and galleries standing on chairs and yelling madly.

Myriads of banners of all sizes and hundreds of lithographs of various candidates were raised. The Missouri and New Jersey standards were torn from the clamps and a disorganized struggling procession filled the aisles of the delegates' section. Several women appeared on the floor during the demonstration. The galleries, crowded with partisans, were quieted with the greatest difficulty. The demonstration lasted twenty minutes.

Clarke Forces Beaten.

At 2.30 the question of the adoption of the majority report was put to a vote.

The vote was taken as a line up of the Wilson and Clark forces the minority report on the South Dakota contest case favoring the Wilson delegates and the majority report favoring the Clark delegates.

Woman Started a Row.

Baltimore, Md., June 27. A young woman mounted the seats of the Missouri delegation, swinging a Clark banner, and stirring the crowd to new frenzy.

The demonstration lasted 22 minutes and gradually died out before urgent demands for order.

Senator James Chairman.

Ollie James of Kentucky, was elected permanent chairman on the report of the committee on permanent organization.

He was escorted to the platform amid applause, and began a speech as permanent chairman.

NESBITT SAYS HE WENT INTO THE BANK BLINDFOLDED

Denies That He Had Any Participation In List By Which The Government Was Fooled

Toronto, June 27. Dr. Beattie Nesbitt, contrary to general expectation, in view of his committal for trial in the Police Court, appeared at the Farmers Bank enquiry this morning, took the witness stand and for nearly two hours answered without reserve every question asked him regarding his relations with the defunct bank. Every question to which his counsel, Mr. Hartley Dewart, took objection, he answered from choice. Dr. Nesbitt's story was a story of how completely he had been a "figurehead" president and nothing more. In the first year of the bank's short existence. The entire responsibility of management had rested on Travers, whom he trusted implicity; he had not even questioned Travers in regard to the details of returns made to the Government or anything else, but had accepted his general statements in good faith. He denied point blank Travers' assertions that he had been informed of the dangerous condition of the bank's finances. If for instance Travers had told him that a big loan had been secured from the Trusts & Guarantee Company through the instrumentality of the Hon. J. R. Stratton his lifelong enemy he would have had nothing to do with the bank.

Travers was present at the enquiry and listened intently to Nesbitt's story, but said nothing and gave no indication of surprise when the statements he had previously made in regard to Nesbitt's relation with the business affairs of the bank were absolutely contradicted by the former president.

BISHOP MATHIEU WOULD KEEP THE FRENCH TOGETHER IN CANADA

Quebec, June 27.—Much work was done this morning at the session of the French language Congress.

The different sections drafted some resolutions to be submitted to the general morning meeting. One of these resolutions is as follows:

"Considering that it is expedient that the actual domain of French in Manitoba be increased, and fortified by the increase of French population, the first Congress of the French Language in Canada expresses the desire that the French-speaking Catholics and especially the French Canadians of the Provinces of Quebec and of the United States, who wish to establish elsewhere be invited to direct their steps towards Western Canada and particularly towards Manitoba where territory has just been increased by three times the area that it had when the province entered into confederation."

Put Them in Colonies.

Mgr. Mathieu, Bishop of Regina, Sask., suggested that not only the French-Canadians of the Province of Quebec and the United States be directed towards Western Canada but also that the latter be grouped in French centres so as to allow of their faith being preserved and to avoid the danger of their proximity to other religions and nationalities. If this had been done about 20 or 30 years ago he said, their status would be far stronger than it was now in Western Canada.

They must keep the Province of Quebec as strong as possible and they must not encourage its French children to go away, but if some of them wanted to go away, let them send them to Western Canada and group them so as to save their religion and nationality.

Become Less Fervent.

Bishop Mathieu added that there was between the French language and the Catholic church a link that did not exist between the latter and any other language. French Canadians who were inclined to become English were generally becoming less ferevent in the Catholic faith.

NEARLY A CATASTROPHE

Excursion Steamer Struck a Dredge and Sank it

Calais, Me., June 27.—Low tide prevented a heavy loss of life early to-day, when the steamer Grand Manan, carrying 600 excursionists, struck a dredge in the St. Croix River. The second engineer of the dredge, James Caer, East Boston, who was asleep in the captain's room was crushed to death. No one else on either the dredge or the steamer was injured.

After sinking the dredge, the Grand Manan began leaking, and the passengers were transferred to another steamer in small boats. There was no danger of sinking as the tide was low.

A misunderstanding of signals is believed to have been the cause of the accident.

FRENCH HEAR SOME UNPLEASANT FACTS

Are Told That Their Education System Allows Them to Be Out-Paced.

Quebec, June 27.—Senator Poitier of Nova Scotia did an unpopular thing last night when he dared to criticize his fellow Catholics for making too much "noise in their devotion to their religion." He said French-Canadians were stupidly allowing themselves to be pushed aside from the positions they have held in the Dominion.

His remarks were received almost in silence.

"The Orangemen," he declared, "toil less than we do, but they do more. In one year they establish 39 lodges in New Brunswick, and I may add that while they are blamed for intolerance they are, I believe, not any more so than some of our own co-religionists."

PINE TAR CORDIAL

NUGENT'S SARSAPARILLA—PRICE FOR large bottle, 100 full doses, 85c, and well worth it, too. It's better to take no medicine at all than to depend upon cheap concoctions that are compounded to sell at a low price and a big profit just because there is a large demand for certain remedies at certain seasons of the year. There are so-called Sarsaparillas offered to us to sell to our customers at 75c a bottle that would bring us a larger profit than Nugent's Sarsaparilla sold at 85c. Nugent's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, arouses the torpid liver, drives out all impurities, cleanses and tones up the system, and helps Nature throw off the dullness that comes from the indoor life of winter. It arouses energy, brightens the eye, clears the brain, gives lightness to the movements. Nugent's Sarsaparilla is not the only thing you will find in this drug store. We make a specialty of Nugent's Remedies. Nugent Drug Co., 380 George St. directly opposite Cressman's store.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

A SILVER SONG.

Silver above the silvered snow,
We watched the cold moons dawn and go.
Into our dreaming hearts were run
The wild sweet wines of earth and sun.

Through hollowed ranks of osiers old
We saw the northland marigold,
And hailed the sudden sapphire flame
When the first bluebird called and came.

A soon, O soon the winds shall bless
Our slim leaf-shaken loveliness.
O soon, O soon we call the hours
Silver above a sward of flowers.

—Marjorie Pickthall in Saturday Night.

Old English Houses.

St. Albans, which claims the oldest inhabited house in England, now an inn, is rich in old hostelries. The Fooben there dates back to the fifteenth century, though the present building is modern, save for some old woodwork in the coffee room. The priory, too, in Holywell hill, was once the Bull Inn and as such was visited by Queen Elizabeth, while off the High street is the George Inn, dating from 1446, which at one time had its private chapel for the use of its guests.—London Chronicle.

Well Done.

"Whatever I try to do I do with all my might."

"That was what Ridgely said. He told me you got his last dollar."—Washington Herald.

A man is hated sometimes for pride when it was an excess of humility gave the occasion.

A FRIEND OF THE FAMILY.

It Was Highly Prized as a Wonderful Money Saver.

When Miss Ann Pickett dropped in on her neighbor, Mrs. Spicer, and found her moping over the fragments of a gilt vase Miss Ann sympathized generously. "It must have been rather a costly vase," she said, looking admiringly at the pieces.

"No, it only cost six bits," Mrs. Spicer acknowledged. "'Tain't that I feel so bad about."

"Maybe it was a gift that you prized because of associations?"

Mrs. Spicer shook her head. "Jim and I bought it over in Tompkinsville a long time ago. I prized it because it was such a saving to the family. The first year we had it I kept it on the front shelf for a general ornament. Then when Jim's birthday came and I hadn't anything else handy to give I gave him the vase for his own. Next Christmas, instead of paying out good money to buy something new, he gave it back to me for a Christmas present. Then I gave it to Jim junior on his birthday, and he gave it to Sue Belle on hers.

"The next spring all the kinfolks got up a birthday party for old Aunt Sallie Spicer, and we took her the vase. After she'd kep' it a good bit she gave it to Jim's sister Jane for a weddin' present, and afterward Jane gave it to me and Jim when we had our china weddin'. I was countin' on givin' it to Jim again on his next birthday, and now here it is smashed to flinders.

"I tell you, Miss Ann, it most makes me cry to think of losing such a useful family article—so near Jim's birthday too!"—Youth's Companion.

DEWEY SAW THE POINT.

He Paid Up After His Dog Had Been Kicked Around.

Admiral Dewey had an English bulldog of which he was very proud. So marked was his affection for the dog that an atmosphere of "love me, love my dog" had sprung up around the admiral and the canine. It is further reported that the animal came near causing trouble between the head of the navy and the late "Fighting Bob" Evans.

Admiral Dewey while on a tour of inspection when he was in command of the Pacific squadron took the dog along with him. He lost sight of his pet on Evans' ship, but in a few minutes saw him hurled skyward from the companionway as if shot from a catapult. With blood in his eye Admiral Dewey rushed over to see the reason for the sudden ascent, surmising correctly that some one had kicked the dog. He saw "Fighting Bob" at the foot of the steps.

"Sir," roared the admiral, "what do you mean by kicking my dog?"

"Sir," roared Evans in return, "I'd have kicked that dog if he had been the property of the president of the United States! He chewed the legs off two pairs of fifteen dollar trousers and destroyed an edition de luxe of the navy regulations."

Dickens' Humanness.

The best part of Charles Dickens, the great novelist, was the humanness of him, coming out in the tender pathos with which he streaked the funny side of life. Primarily a humorist, he was, like many another humorist, a humanist too. Dickens came out of that lower London life, one-third grotesque, one-third pitiful, one-third heroic, which he pictured in his writings. He had lived the struggles of Oliver Twist, of David Copperfield and of Philip in "Great Expectations." That was the reason why he was able to lay hold of people's hearts when he described those deathless persons.—New York Mail.

Tit For Tat.

Mrs. Jenkins was standing before the mirror arranging her thin hair when her baldheaded husband entered the room.

"Say, Emily," he began, "why don't you do your hair the way you used to?"

"Why don't you?" reported Mrs. Jenkins.—Lippincott's.

Tired of Crop Talk.

George Lane, president of the Calgary Horse Show, was entertaining Dr. Rutherford, late Live Stock Commissioner for Canada, in the guests' box at that show a few days ago. Mr. Lane introduced the doctor to a number of friends, and in most instances the doctor received an invitation to do something which would keep him over a day or so longer.

For instance, Duncan Marshall wanted him to inspect some of his demonstration farms, W. J. Stark wanted him to go up to the Edmonton Spring Horse Show.

The doctor invariably replied "Well, I would like to very much but I must get out to British Columbia to get my crop in."

After Mr. Lane had listened to this a few times, he turned to the doctor and said: "If you don't keep still about it, I will go out to your place this summer and stay a week and eat that crop."

A Slighting Term.

In the provinces down by the Atlantic, the people take their politics seriously — at least several of the newspapers are not at all backward in criticizing the editorial remarks of papers on the other side of the political fence. The words used in referring to opposing papers are often terms of belittlement. Probably the limit was reached when the Sackville, N.B., Tribune recently referred to the Conservative paper as an "organette."

Mr. Geo. Grange, deputy chief of the Fire Department, has been appointed caretaker of the Armouries. Mr. Grange will enter upon his duties at once. This leaves a vacancy in the Fire Department that may be difficult to fill.

It is stated that the public will not be allowed to walk on the grass in Victoria Park hereafter. This is a wise step and we trust the rule will be rigidly enforced in future.

ARE WATCHING TICKS.

British Columbia Insect Is Under Careful Expert Scrutiny.

In reference to the reported statement of J. W. Cockle of Kaslo, B.C., to the effect that the woodticks which abound in British Columbia carry germs which cause spinal meningitis and beri-beri, and that the bite of these insects is sometimes fatal, which statement has caused considerable alarm in British Columbia, Dr. C. Gordon Hewitt, Dominion entomologist, states:

"While I do not know what statement Mr. Cockle made, I can most emphatically state that the woodticks have not been shown to have any relation to either spinal meningitis or the tropical disease of beri-beri. The real facts are as follows: For some time the division of entomology has been investigating the distribution and habits of the Rocky Mountain spotted fever tick. Mr. Cockle has kindly sent, at my request, specimens of woodticks which I have identified as this species. Specimens of the same species have also been sent to me from other districts in British Columbia.

"This tick has been shown to be the carrier of the organism or germ which causes the disease known as Rocky Mountain spotted fever, prevalent in certain regions of Montana and Idaho, from 5 to 70 per cent. of the cases proving fatal, according to the locality.

"So far as I have been able to discover, no certain case of this disease has been reported in Canada, but the possibility of its introduction or discovery at any time made it desirable that the distribution and habits of this germ-bearing tick should be investigated, and such an investigation is now being carried on.

"I am anxious to have reports from any medical men of cases of disease which they suspect of being traceable to the bites of ticks, and also specimens of woodticks, under which term several species are included."

A Slam.

Hance Logan, ex-M.P. for Amherst, N.S., was among the guests of the Saskatchewan Legislature on the laying of the corner-stone of the capitol some few years ago. Regina then had fewer paved streets than it has today, and the Parliament Buildings were a little way out of town where pavements were not.

Regina is the centre of a great agricultural district, and while its soil is excellent for growing wheat it has very little vogue with the pedestrian.

When the train pulled into Regina an energetic Saskatchewan rain had been at work over night, and was still busy.

Mr. Logan and his friends were forced to walk through the mire to the ceremonies. A good man had seized on the occasion to spread the gospel among the eastern heathen and had established himself near the site of the Parliament buildings, where he displayed a conspicuous sign which read, "Where will you spend eternity?"

Mr. Logan waved an interrogative hand to the sign, pointed to one of his party, and said, "Anywhere but Regina."—Canadian Courier.

Trouble at Campbellton.

During the election fever of September last there was trouble between two prominent citizens of Campbellton, N.B. Dr. Doherty's umbrella pierced the eye of Daniel Bruce, and the wound proved fatal. The doctor has been acquitted of manslaughter and some of the citizens are indignant over what they claim to be a "miscarriage of justice."

Without expressing any opinion on the case, it may be pointed out that it will now be in order for some freak legislator to introduce a bill forbidding the carrying of umbrellas for a period of thirty days preceding a general election. Mr. Lewis seems to have a fondness for freak bills, and if so, here is his opportunity.—Canadian Courier.

An Ivory Mat.

Many people have never even heard of such a thing, and it is not to be wondered at, for these mats are exceedingly rare, and it is said by those who know that only three of these beautiful curiosities exist in the whole world. The one we now write about is the largest one made. It measures 8 by 4 feet and, though made in a small hill state in the north of India, has an almost Greek design for its border. It was only used on state occasions, when the rajah sat on it to sign important documents. The original cost of the mat is fabulous, for 6,400 pounds of ivory were used in its manufacture. The finest strips of ivory must have been taken off the tusks, as the mat is as flexible as a woven stuff and beautifully fine.—London Graphic.

Coaling the Sun.

Coaling the sun is an expression used by physicists to indicate the necessity of renewing the stock of motive power, exactly analogous to coaling a vessel for an ocean journey. Many maintain that this is done by the incessant showers of meteorites which rain in upon it from celestial space. Thus it is that the sun's energy is continually kept up and its fires are fed. Atom after atom in the continuous collisions of matter is changed into vapor and adds its quota of energy to the great central storehouse—in fact, "coals the sun."—Exchange.

Cause Enough.

"When I was shipwrecked in South America," said Captain Bowsprit, "I came across a tribe of wild women who had no tongues."

"Mercy!" cried one of his listeners of the fair sex. "How could they talk?"

"They couldn't!" snapped the old salt. "That's what made 'em wild."

Borneo Brides.

In Borneo the bride and groom sit on metal logs before the priest, who gives them cigars and betel while he blesses them. He waves above them two fowls bound together. The bridegroom then places the betel in his bride's mouth and a cigar between her lips. They are married.

Gilded Eggs.

In Persia it is the custom to make present of eggs richly gilded and painted. The Persians give presents of eggs on the first day of the new year, "because the egg marks the beginning of things."

VERY WELL INVESTED.

A Loan That Carnegie's Old Kinsman Didn't Want Repaid.

Andrew Carnegie told the following story with great relish. When his father was leaving his native country to settle in America he borrowed £20 from a relative. The family had an uphill battle on the other side of the Atlantic, but when the tide of prosperity turned with the son he remembered his father's indebtedness and determined to clear it off, together with its accumulated interest. He started by remitting the sum of £20 and for several years sent the same amount, a dividend equal to exactly 100 per cent.

Returning to Scotland, the Pittsburgh ironmaster met his old relative. "Well," said Mr. Carnegie, "having paid up a good deal of the interest, I should like now to clear off the principal."

"Ay, ay, Andrew, dinna ye fash yersel' aboot the loan! A'm pairfectly satisfied with the interest."

"Oh, but I'm rich enough now, I think, to clear off the principal!" replied the millionaire.

"Dinna mind the principal, Andrew," said the relative. "It's very weel invested as it is!"—London Family Herald.

Laziness a Disease.

Laziness should be regarded as a disease when no organic cause of ill health exists, and people should be compelled to get through their allotted work as they would have to take their powders of quinine if they were suffering from influenza. There are scores of self pitying loafers on the sick list of every doctor who need, not drugs, not "treatment" of any sort, but simply work. To prescribe rest cures for this type is directly inciting them to a lazy life, when their dissatisfaction, general seediness and lack of vitality are the direct outcome of having too little to do already. It is not more rest that they require, but compulsory, methodical, regulated work six days out of seven. Work is the best medicine in the world, the ideal stimulant, because it leaves no ill effects.—London Express.

COINS AND THE MINT.

Metal Money That Uncle Sam's Officials Buy and Sell.

The mint does not buy old coins or paper money, except certain rare colonial coins in fine condition, desired for the mint's cabinet. Mutilated or uncurrent United States gold and silver coin is purchased as bullion. The mint has no pattern pieces for sale, and the government pays no premium for the return of any of its coins or paper money.

New coins cannot be struck in this country in the absence of authorization by congress. The mint supplies United States coins only and not of any past date. The fifty dollar gold piece and the half dollar and quarter dollar pieces in gold were struck by private parties on the Pacific coast during the '49 period and not by the federal government.

The coinage of the following coins ceased in the years named: The half cent, copper, in 1857; one cent, nickel, 1864; half dime and three cent, silver, and two cent, bronze, in 1873; twenty cent, silver, 1878; trade dollars, 1883; one dollar and three dollar, gold, and three cent nickel, 1889. The Columbian half dollar was coined in 1892 and the Isabella quarter in 1893. The Lafayette dollar was struck in 1899, the date on the coin (1900) being that of the unveiling of the memorial.

Certain markings, indicating the place of coinage, are to be seen on our coins. Those struck at the Philadelphia mint have no mint mark, but those struck at all other mints are distinguished by a small letter on the reverse, near the bottom. These letters are "C" for Charlotte, N. C., discontinued in 1861; "CC" for Carson City, Nev., discontinued in 1893; "D" for Dahlonega, Ga., discontinued in 1861; "O" for New Orleans, and "S" for San Francisco.

The coins of the United States now authorized by law are: In gold, double eagle, eagle, half eagle, quarter eagle; in silver, dollar, half dollar, quarter dollar and dime; minor, five cent, nickel and one cent, bronze.

Proof sets of both gold and silver coins are to be had by purchase from the mint. When business there is slack medals may be struck from dies furnished by individuals, public institutions and incorporated societies at a charge sufficient to cover the cost of the operation and the value of the metal.—Scientific American.

Professional Pride.

A local pugilist was brought before a police magistrate charged with assault. Said the magistrate:

"Prisoner, complainant says that you willfully and maliciously knocked his hat off."

"No, your honor; I didn't knock his hat off. I knocked him from under his hat."—New York Times.

Staining Wood Dark Hues.

The appearance of walnut may be given to white woods by painting or sponging them with a concentrated warm solution of permanganate of potassa. The effect is different on different kinds of timber, some becoming stained very rapidly, others requiring more time for this result. The permanganate is decomposed by the woody fiber. Brown peroxide of manganese is precipitated, which is afterward removed by washing with water. The wood, when dry, may be varnished, and will be found to resemble very closely the naturally dark woods.—Harper's Magazine.

An Aristocratic Bank.

All the clerks at Coutts' bank in London, where the King and members of the royal family have accounts, must be clean shaven and wear frock coats during banking hours. No bank in the world has so many aristocratic customers as Coutts'. Practically every member of the house of lords banks at the famous house in the Strand, and no other English bank has so many foreign aristocrats on its books.

FRENCH RACIAL AMBITION.

It is well that Archbishop Langevin spoke so frankly at the "congress of the French language" which was held in Quebec a few days ago. Mgr. Langevin proposed the organization of a union of the French race on this continent for the protection and preservation of their common lingual rights and their common religion. "The best way to have peace," he said, "is to prepare for war." Moreover he protested against the notion that the use of the French language should be confined to Quebec province, and he said that the motto of the French people in Ontario should be, "What we have we'll hold."

It was an aggressive speech, and the same aggressive spirit characterized the other speeches made. By the time that Messrs. Bourassa and Lavergne came to address the congress the congress will no doubt be in a fit mood to endorse any proposals those gentlemen may make with a view to the Gallicization of this country.

Our bright contemporary, the Hamilton Herald, thinks that if Mgr. Langevin's suggestion is adopted, and measures are taken to prepare for a war of languages and a struggle for racial supremacy, the challenge will be accepted—and whatever evil consequences may ensue must be laid at the door of these French-Canadians who began the trouble.

If the motto, "What we have we hold," is good for French-Canadians, it is good also for Canadians of English speech. And it is as good for Roman Catholics of English sueech as it is for English-speaking Protestants. For the Roman Catholic Church is wider and more comprehensive than the French language, and the French race, and does not need the support of these props. Ontario Roman Catholics whose native tongue is English do not relish the prospect of a Gallicized Ontario any more than their Protestant brethren do.

There is no objection to having our French fellow-citizens in Ontario act in the spirit of the motto "What we have we hold," Let them hold all they have in the matter of lingual liberty; but they must not be permitted to appropriate any more than they have. English is the only language which is officially recognized in this province, and no other language gas legal status as a language of instruction in the public schools." "What we have we hold."

One cannot but wonder what "rights" the French people of Canada expect which they do not now possess. They have a perfect right, for instance, to plant a French colony in Saskatchewan, as they talk of doing; but they have no right to expect or demand that the Saskatchewan government will grant to that colony special privileges granted to no other race — the privilege of educating the children in the French language only and rearing them as a people apart. They would have a perfect right to speak French, as much as they like, themselves; but they would have no right to demand official recognition of it in any Province save Quebec.

LOSING NO TIME.

The Canadian Pacific Railway is losing no time in carrying through the important work of double-tracking through the Rockies and on to the Coast. At different points in the Lower Mainland, there is reported very active work in the preparations for the double-tracking of those portions of the line, as from Vancouver to the head of the Fraser Valley, where the local freight traffic is heavy.

The recent announcement of President Shaughnessy of the C.P.R. that the plans calling for the expenditure of $20,000,000 on this work, have been approved also indicates that the railway company have realized to the full the necessity of preparing for the great increase in business which must follow upon the completion of the Panama Canal. Undoubtedly this will be a year of unprecedented activity in railway expansion and improvement in British Columbia, as Premier McBride has stated, and if there is any reason needed for civic commercial centres and ports on the Pacific Coast of Canada to be alive to the situation, it is surely to be found in the foresight of the chief railway corporation of Western Canada is putting forward to be prepared to cope with the great increase in traffic when Canada finds a new front door opening on the Pacific.

ELECTIONS IN AUSTRALIS.

Australia is getting ready for a general election. The voting will not take place until next year, but already the three parties are preparing. The fight will be, as it was last time, between the Labor Party and a party of fusion composed of Liberals and Conservatives. Mr. Fisher, the present Premier, is the leader of the Laborites, while the Fusionites have as their chieftain the former First Minister, Mr. Deakin. Mr. Fisher's followers are a solid body while Mr. Deakin must look to the support of two groups who differ in many things, but are united in opposition to the advanced programme of the Labor Party.

The Labor Party came back from the last election with 42 seats in the House of Representatives as against 33 held by its opponents combined. On the popular vote, however, the Fusionites had a majority of 2,262 votes. At the same time Labor carried all of the 18 seats open in the Senate, and had a popular majority of 24,000. But since that election the Laborites have by no means had things all their own way. They submitted to the people on a referendum several proposals for constitutional changes to allow them to deal with combines by means of nationalism and other federal legislation and their proposals were rejected by a majority of 250,000 votes. Under these circumstances the victory next time would seem to be anybody's. In fact, one of the Labor members is quoted as predicting that next year Labor will meet a Sedan, but that the Fusionists will be unable to accomplish anything substantial and that in 1916 Labor will come in for a long term of power.

Editorial Notes

The virulent attack upon the late Charles M Hays which appears in the current number of the Industrial Banner is something that would have better been left unwritten and unprinted.

Editorial Notes M —— ———

It may interest those who perforce have resorted to cereals in the vain hope of escaping the exactions of the meat combine to learn that in the opinion of a packing magnate they are only helping to fasten the shackles upon themselves more firmly. Increased consumption of the cereals has boosted corn, and boosted corn, has boosted meat, and there you are.

Though the Russian duma has adopted a naval bill which provides for the expenditure of $615,000,000 in the next five years in constructing a navy which, it is hoped, will make Russia the second naval power, it is exceedingly improbable that the expenditure will have any such result. Too large a proportion of the money appropriated by the duma will be quietly appropriated by the grand dukes and the bureaucrats for their own purposes.

THE MARKETS

Liverpool and Chicago Wheat Futures Close Lower—Live Stock—Latest Quotations.

CHICAGO, June 26.—Cooler weather in the Canadian northwest with rain at several points tended to bring about a heavy feeling to-day in the wheat pit. Closing prices were ¼c to ⅜c under last night. Latest trading left corn at an advance of ⅛c to ⅜c, oats ⅛c to ⅜c, provisions unchanged to 12½c to 15c increase in cost.

The Liverpool market closed to-day on wheat ⅛d to ½d lower than yesterday and on corn unchanged to ⅛d higher. Wheat at Antwerp closed unchanged.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, June 26.—At the Canadian Pacific Live Stock Market the receipts for the week ending June 26 were 975 cattle, 1000 sheep and lambs, 1500 hogs and 1650 calves. The offerings on the market for sale to-day were 800 cattle, 900 sheep and lambs, 1000 hogs and 1300 calves.

Owing to the more liberal supplies of common, half finished grass-fed cattle coming forward, a weaker feeling developed in the market and prices for such scored a further decline of 25c to 50c per cwt. The offerings of good to choice stock were limited, and the demand good, but on account of the depressed feeling in the lower grades prices were reduced 25c per cwt. The gathering of buyers was large and as they all wanted some beef to carry them over for the balance of the week, the demand was fair and a fairly active trade was done. A few top quality steers sold at $8 to $8.25, but the bulk of the trading was done in stock ranging in price from $6.50 to $7.50, while the lower grades sold at from $4 to $5.50 per cwt. The supplies of common and inferior butchers' cows were liberal and much lower prices had to be accepted by drovers. Prices ranged from $2.50 to $3.50, while the better grades sold at $3.75 to $4.50 pr cwt. The top price realized for the best bulls offered was $5.50, and the common sold from that down to $3.50 per cwt.

DIRECTORS:

H. E. HAND, Toronto, President; Director Hamilton Brewing Association, Limited; Director [illegible] Spring Brewery Company.
W. H. PARSONS, Montreal, Manufacturer; Director Colin McArthur Wall Paper Co.
W. W. CANHAM, Toronto, Importer, of Wilson & Canham, Limited.
K. McWHINNEY, Toronto, Contractor.
S. J. PLANT, Toronto, Ceramic Expert, Managing Director.
TRUSTEES—Imperial Trusts Co. of Canada, Toronto.

This company is organised to engage in the making of building brick, terra cotta, fireproofing, etc. The demand for brick is greater than the supply, and there is need of another factory to make really high-class brick. The demand for building brick is such that contractors are obliged, in many cases, to use inferior brick, probably endangering the safety, and assuredly endangering the durability, of the buildings so constructed.

The Canada Brick and Fireproofing Company's property, consisting of 150 acres, and contains a very valuable and practically inexhaustible deposit of shale, clay and building stone.

The deposits in this property are of such a nature that the best bricks, with a density and hardness not surpassed, and commanding the highest market price, can be made at a very low cost. Bricks can be made the year round, winter as well as summer, as the company will have a thoroughly tested and specially designed dryer, which obviates all difficulties. No such opportunity has come to invest in the brick industry in many years, and, considering the unsupplied market, the attractive prices for the product, the low cost at which the Canada Brick and Fireproofing Co., Limited, are able to produce, the extraordinary good quality of the brick that can be made, and the well-known ability of the managing director of the company, this opportunity to invest is one of the best this company has ever had the pleasure of offering its clients or the general public.

THE LOW CAPITALIZATION.

This company could easily have been incorporated for $1,000,000.00 but to enhance the actual value of the shares, and to make the returns on the shares of practical consequence for all future time, the capitalization was made small in comparison with other flotations, but large enough to give ample capital, pay all charges and put up a three-unit plant, fully equipped with the most up-to-date, fastest and best brick-making machinery, and to supply plenty of working capital. We recommend this stock to all seeking safe, reliable and profitable investment.

The plant will be located in the Township of Esquesing, in the County of Halton, and will have a capacity of 150,000 bricks per day.

The present sale is to provide funds for completing the contract for the installation of the works of the Company, and for working capital.

The contracts with the Company may be seen during business hours at the Imperial Trusts Company of Canada, Toronto.

PROFIT-SHARING ARRANGEMENT.

Preferred stock will share all dividends in excess of 6 p.c. in the following proportions:
For every 1 p.c. extra paid on the Preferred, 2 p.c. is to be paid on the Common.
For example:—When the Common stock receives 2 p.c., Preferred stock will receive 7 p.c.
" " " 6 p.c., " " 8 p.c.
" " " 8 p.c., " " 9 p.c.

After this point of dividend-sharing has been reached any additional dividends are to be shared equally by both Preferred and Common. The Preferred is also "Preferred" as to return of capital.

Two shares of Preferred stock carry a bonus of one share of Common.

PROPERTY.

The property consists of 150 acres of land in the Township of Esquesing, in the County of Halton, containing valuable deposits for the purpose of the Company. This was selected after careful investigation of many much-praised deposits in different localities. 100 acres contains clay and shale and 50 acres contains a valuable deposit of building stone, known as "Credit Valley" stone, which is in great demand, and in itself alone should realize a good profit for the Company. There is an unfailing stream of water through the property, affording abundant water for the Company's operations.

TRANSPORTATION AND LABOR.

The railway running through the property gives excellent transportation facilities, and as the property is situated in the same shipping zone as the Milton, Terra Cotta, Halton, and Port Credit Companies, the same rates will be secured as are paid by those companies. Cheap and efficient labor is available in the surrounding towns. The Company propose to build workmen's houses within a short distance of the plant.

MARKET.

The rapid growth of the City of Toronto and the extraordinary building activities in the suburbs and the surrounding districts, which will doubtless continue for many years, has caused a demand for brick, fireproofing and clay products in excess of the capacity of the brick plants that are in a location to supply the city and surrounding country. All the present brick companies in Ontario are taxed to their utmost, and much delay has been caused in building operations owing to the inadequate supply of brick, and in some cases it has forced owners to abandon building operations entirely.

ESTIMATED EARNINGS.

The earnings of the Company are estimated on the basis of a profit of $2.50 per thousand bricks. The average cost per thousand, as estimated by the managing director of the Company, is $5.00. In this is included selling, operating, and all incidental costs of production, and as the Canada Brick & Fireproofing Company, Limited, are installing one of the most modern and up-to-date plants, both for handling and manufacturing bricks, this cost should be materially reduced.

In estimating the earnings of the Canada Brick & Fireproofing Company, Limited, the cost per thousand is put at $7.00 (f.o.b. Toronto and delivered on the jobs) to cover all possible contingencies, and the gross income is put at $9.50 per thousand or considerably below the average price, which is more than $10.00 per thousand.

On this basis the earnings will be as follows, allowing 250 working days to the year:

Unit No. 1.

CAPACITY	WORKING DAYS	BRICKS PER YEAR
50,000 per day.	250	12,500,000

Gross income, at $9.50 per thousand .... $118,750
Cost of manufacturing, operating, etc., at $7.00 per thousand 87,500
Surplus .... $ 31,250
As the Company will instal three units, each having a capacity of 50,000 per day, the output would be three times the above amount, or a total profit per annum of .... $ 93,750
6 per cent. interest on preferred stock 18,000
Leaving for reserve fund, contingencies, dividends on common and preferred stock, etc. .... $ 75,750

It will be seen that the Company should earn over 7 per cent. on the Preferred shares and 3 per cent. on the Common stock from Unit No. 1, and Units Nos. 1, 2, and 3 should earn 18 per cent. on both the Common and Preferred shares.

MANAGEMENT.

The Company has secured the services of S. J. Plant, Ceramic Engineer and Clay Specialist. He has been associated with the brick business all his life, in the manufacturing of all classes of brick and high-class clay ware, both plain and ornamental, and has a thorough knowledge of the construction and erection of brick plants.

Samples made from shale off the lands of the Company may be seen at the offices of the Standard Bond Co. Wire-cut brick will be manufactured by the Company equal in appearance to pressed brick, and at no greater cost.

Applications may be sent in by telegram at our expense, and where application blanks are not available, a letter stating the number of shares desired, and a deposit of $1 per share for the number of shares applied for, will be sufficient. Applications will be considered in order received and remittance for applications in excess of issue, will be returned.

On Application .... $1.00 per share
On Acceptance .... 3.00 per share
On August 1st, 1912 .... 3.00 per share
On November 1st, 1912 .... 3.00 per share

Address all communications for particulars, information, or for shares and for expert reports on the property, to the Standard Bond Company, Standard Bank Building, King and Jordan streets, Toronto, Canada, and make cheques payable to the Trustees, The Imperial Trusts Co. of Canada, Toronto, Canada.

Interim receipts will be issued by the Trust Company pending the issue of the regular stock certificates, which will, together with the bonus stock, be delivered on the completion of payments.

Three per cent. will be allowed on all payments made in full.

The right is reserved to reject applications and to stop receiving applications at any time.

WORK OF EARTHWORMS.

These Humble Burrowers Are Great Aids to the Farmer.

The humble earthworm is one of man's best friends. The farmer and the gardener could not spare him. Dr. J. Newton Friend tells about him in Science Progress. From Dr. Friend's observations it appears that worms aerate the soil in a variety of ways.

In burrowing through the soil the worms render it more porous and permeable to gases, not merely by virtue of the air spaces formed, but by reason of the fact that the soil is thus continually kept in gentle motion. Again, the soil passing through the bodies of worms is excreted in a finer condition, being ground by attrition through the intestines. Darwin estimated that no fewer than fifteen tons of soil annually pass through the bodies of worms for every acre.

Further, worms breathe in oxygen and exhale carbon dioxide, and the latter gas, as is well known, readily dissolves in water, forming an acid solution which will render alkaline earths and metallic oxides—iron—soluble.

Worms materially aid in producing soluble salts of iron in the soil when other agencies—e. g., dilute mineral acids—fail. The iron is eventually given back to the soil in a more soluble condition and presumably in one which can be directly absorbed by plant roots.

Sewing Room Sayings.

Dressmakers' superstitions are as numerous in the sewing room as the pins and needles about which they circulate. Some of them sound as if they might have originated out of the need of placating the powers that be in case of accident. For instance, if a new gown slips out of the operator's hands and falls to the floor "it is a sign" that the gown will be sold quickly. Still another saw that carries placation on the face of it is the one that promises that if you spill a box of pins "it is a sign" that customers are coming.

Unconsciousness.

"She's the most unconscious girl I ever saw."

"Well, why shouldn't she be? She's pretty and knows it. She's clever and knows it, and she's good and knows it. What has she to be conscious of?"—Exchange.

Friendly Suggestion.

POLICE OF RUSSIA

The Trick They Work to Gather in Political Suspects.

CAUGHT IN THE MOUSETRAP.

When, After a Secret Arrest, the Snare Is Set It Holds All Who Enter, Regardless of Nationality, Dress, Social Position or Official Rank.

Although the peculiar form of police ambuscade known as a mousetrap has had its highest development and its widest application in Russia, writes George Kennan in the Century, it did not originate in that country, nor did it receive there its strikingly appropriate appellation.

It was imported from France a century or more ago, and the name that it bears was given to it by Alexandre Dumas in 1829. The distinguished French story teller described it in "The Three Musketeers" as follows:

"The invention of the mousetrap does not date from our days. As soon as societies in process of formation created police the police in their turn invented mousetraps. As our readers may not be familiar with the slang of the Rue de Jerusalem and as it is fifteen years since we applied this term for the first time to the thing, we may be allowed perhaps to explain to them what a mousetrap is.

"When in a house of any kind a person suspected of crime is arrested the arrest is kept secret, four or five men are placed in ambuscade in the first apartment, the door is opened to all who knock, it is then closed after them, and they are arrested so that at the end of two or three days the police have in their power all the persons who are accustomed to visit the place. And that is a mousetrap."

Dumas does not explain that the trap is set and the first arrest made at a late hour of the night, generally between 1 and 3 o'clock a. m., so that the mice will not become aware of it and avoid the dangerous locality. You may call upon a "politically untrustworthy" friend in the evening, drink tea with him, discuss the state of the country and go home at midnight without having seen or heard anything to excite suspicion or suggest peril, but if you return to the same house or apartment early the next morning you are liable to fall into a mousetrap.

The trap, moreover, catches and holds every person who enters it regardless of nationality, dress, social position or official rank. Russian revolutionists are accustomed to assume all sorts of disguises, from the blue frock coat and wrinkled top boots of the gendarmerie to the sword, epaulets and golden cords of the general staff, and if the czar himself in the uniform of the Preobrazhenski guards should visit incognito a house in which a trap had been set he would be arrested promptly and sent to the nearest precinct station house for identification.

No discretionary power of any kind is given to the police officers in charge. The mice caught may not look at all like the mice for which the trap was set, but even if they appear to be ermine or lizards or small, blind kittens they must go to the station house for examination and judgment.

In every large Russian city the police keep an alphabetical list of all persons who are believed to be in sympathy with the revolutionary movement or who for one reason or another are regarded as politically untrustworthy. Such persons are liable to be arrested on suspicion at any time and are almost sure to be taken into custody after the assassination of a high official when there is no clew to the assassin, and the police hope to get a clew by a dragnet system of arrest and investigation.

At such times a hundred arrests or more are often made in a single night, and in the houses or apartments of the persons made prisoners mousetraps are set to catch all comers. The police in charge of the traps are strictly enjoined to send to the nearest precinct station house every person caught, no matter what he may look like and no matter what plausible account he may give of himself. Revolutionists and terrorists often wear uniforms, and a man who declares that he is a colonel of gendarmes or even a general of division may really be a dangerous conspirator in disguise. The instructions given to the trap tenders are always implicitly obeyed, and they sometimes bring about results of an extraordinary and wholly unforeseen character.

FROM OCEAN TO OCEAN.

British Columbians Plan to Build a Great Highway.

Throughout the length and breadth of Canada there is just now an awakening to the needs of better roads. East and west and north and south the cry for improved highways is heard, says P. W. Luce in Canadian Courier.

As with many another public affair the west was the first to take cognizance of this condition on a large scale, and with a view to hurry forward the day when all Canadian roads would be a credit to the nation, the Canadian Highway Association was formed in New Westminster last November, its main object being to construct a highway that will reach from the west coast of Vancouver Island to Halifax, N.S., and that will be traveled by automobiles, horses and vehicles for every mile of road.

It is not the purpose of this association to build this road; such an enterprise is far beyond the power of any private body or association; it is essentially a matter for the Governments, Federal and Provincial. But the work which the Canadian Highway Association plans to do will, and has tended to, advance the construction of the transcontinental highway.

Education is the means whereby the officers of the Canadian Highway Association plan to create and awaken th cry for good roads to such an extent that the public all over Canada will rise and demand this boon. Every year, in an indifferent, halting way, with something of the beggar's plea for alms, the tax-payers of this country have petitioned for better roads and for the improved highways. The intention is that in the future the economic necessity of good roads be so strongly impressed on the powers-that-be that adequate grants will be made without cavil. And this is as it should be, for no country in the world is in greater need of good roads than Canada is to-day.

Perhaps because its headquarters are in the Province of British Columbia, the work of the association has met with a greater success in the west than has been the case in the east. The officers, or rather the majority of them, are western men in close touch with western conditions, and acquainted with western members of Parliament, both provincial and federal. Personal representation is a mighty leverage when concession is sought from a Government, and this has been used repeatedly in British Columbia. The result is that a sum of $1,800,000 in excess of any previous appropriation was secured from the Legislature this year, and that a big portion of this is to be spent on the construction of the British Columbia section of the Canadian highway. Through the Hope Mountain district is perhaps the most difficult road that will ever be built in Canada. The sum of $75,000 has been set aside for the work there this year, this being supplemented by an equal amount given by the Canadian Pacific Railway.

W. J. Kerr, of New Westminster, is president of the association. He has shown his active interest in the cause of better roads for many years, and has made this his one hobby. Independently wealthy and full of virile enthusiasm, Mr. Kerr was mainly responsible for the calling of the convention that resulted in the formation of the Canadian Highway Association.

The Web Equipment.

The new web equipment has been issued to some of the infantry corps in Canada, and will shortly be taken into general use. It's chief feature is the ease with which the component parts are assembled together, and the far great comfort to those who have to wear it, in comparison to the uncomfortable equipments of by-gone days.

The main principle underlying the design of this web equipment is the sub-division of the complete set into what may be called the "marching" and "fighting" portions.

The arrangement of this equipment allows a soldier to have normally with him the whole of his equipment, while, when an action is imminent, the pack and its contents can be discarded, and extra ammunition in "emergency" bandoliers carried in place of the pack.

This equipment is perfectly balanced, is made of flexible and woven webbing.

When marching at ease, the belt can be worn loose without the pack shifting. The whole load is easily thrown on and off when resting on the march and there are no straps crossing the chest to press on the lungs.

The component parts of the web equipment are: Waistbelt, frog, braces, cartridge carriers, pack, 2 supporting straps, haversack, waterbottle carrier, intrenching tool carrier.

He Didn't Know.

Superintendent J. E. Rogers, of the Ontario Provincial Police, who was recently despatched to Chicago to file the extradition papers in the case of Dr. Beattie Nesbitt, relates an amusing incident of his experiences in passing Canadian money in the Illinois metropolis. He sought to pay his hotel bill with Canadian bank currency, but was informed that a five-per-cent. discount would be charged on all bills with the exception of the Dominion one and two dollar notes. Mr. Rogers had tendered the amount of his account in Bank of Commerce bills. Somewhat exasperated he began to thumb over his "roll." The clerk watched him meanwhile.

"We will take those without discount," he observed, pointing to a five-dollar Dominion Bank bill.

Mr. Rogers smiled, paid his account in Dominion Bank bills, secured his receipt, and then had his revenge by pointing out the ridiculous ignorance of the wise accountant of the metropolitan hostelry.—Canadian Courier.

Post in New Zealand.

New Zealand's postal revenue is larger in proportion to population than that of any other country. It exceeded $8,000,000 last year, or $5 for every inhabitant.

RECEIVING NEW CITIZENS.

Every Consideration Is Shown to the Incoming Stranger.

We hear a great deal about Canada's efforts to get immigrants, but everyone seeking admission to the Dominion is not necessarily accepted. The Canadian is glad to welcome the new-comer, but he very properly requires that he shall be "desirable"; he has no intention of making his broad acres a dumping ground for other nations' outcasts.

Consequently, one of the duties of the immigration department is to examine the immigrants as they land, and suffer only those to proceed who satisfy certain requirements, of which the chief are that they be healthy, are going on farms, into domestic service, or into assured employment, and have a little money in their pocket, so that they are not likely through any mischance to become a public charge. The money qualification is waived in the case of farm hands and domestics going to assured situations, and of certain persons going to join a relative.

The examination of the shiploads of immigrants as they disembark at Quebec is one of the most instructive and poignant sights in the Dominion. The breaking of home ties and the departure for a strange land will ever form one of the most touching themes for the artist, whether of the pencil or the pen; and only second to it in interest is the landing on this side, when, after the discomforts of the long voyage, the little family looks with widely-opened eyes on the strange sights that abound, wonders what the new home will be like, and prepares for the tedious overland journey to the final destination. What a blending of hope and fear, of confidence and misgiving, of sick longing for the old friends, and eager curiosity concerning the new.

It is at such a critical juncture in the immigrant's career that a little kindness goes a long way. Hence it is one of the department's instructions to its agents to extend to the new arrivals all courtesy and consideration. Comfortable quarters are provided for their accommodation at the various stopping places en route, and all information is readily given to assist them in reaching the distant town or homestead to which they may be going.

In fact, a stranger in Canada need never fail of information and counsel. His own experience has made the Canadian sympathetic, and even a busy man will go far out of his way to direct a wayfarer to a difficult destination.

Of the various callings followed by the settlers, farming—either as laborers or as homesteaders—that is, farmers of their own free grant of land—claims by far the majority. This, according to the authorities, is as it should be. The Government does not encourage in any way the immigration of skilled laborers, mechanics, or artisans of any sort. Only farmers, farm laborers, and domestic servants are advised to go, and the Government publications strongly insist that all others should have definite engagements in Canada before leaving home, and have enough money to support them for a time in case of mishap.

In Honor of John Cabot.

Halifax is preparing for a very interesting function, to take place in August next, when His Royal Highness, the Duke of Connaught, will dedicate the tower now being erected above Halifax harbor in memory of the landing in Nova Scotia of John Cabot, that brave old navigator, who during the reign of King Henry VII. carried the flag of England to the New World, when it was almost as unknown as it was new. This was four hundred years ago, and the tower in Halifax will remind the people of Nova Scotia at how early a date their fair land came into the light of history.

Cabot sailed from Bristol, then certainly the third, and possibly the second, seaport in England. Long ago Bristol erected a monument to commemorate these exploits of the Cabots, and next August the Lord Mayor of Bristol, accompanied by other representative citizens, will come out to Halifax and take part in the dedication of Halifax's monument to Cabot. In commemorating the achievements of the brave old navigator, St. John's, Newfoundland, has first place so far as this side of the Atlantic is concerned. Several years ago it erected a Cabot tower on one of the hills overlooking the city and harbor, and from which can be had a magnificent view.

Fruit of the Soap Nut Tree.

Natives of India find many uses for the dried fleshy berries of the soap nut tree. These "nuts" are employed as detergents, and by the dyers of India are supposed to possess special merits in the preparation of certain dyes. In Kashmir the soap nut is preferred to the European soaps for washing shawls. In other parts of the country it is specially valued for washing silks and is used by Indian jewelers to restore and brighten silver plates and ornaments tarnished by exposure. The soap is also used medicinally.

A Trade Secret.

"Tell me," said the society woman who had consented to meet the well known actress, "how you manage about your photographs."

"Do you mean how I manage to supply the demand for them?"

"No. How do you manage to have them show the face you had twenty years ago and the hair and costume of the present day?"

A Record Ice Harvest.

Toronto companies harvested this year the biggest ice crop on record in that city, and have 200,000 tons stored, valued at nearly $2,000,000.

About ten per cent. advance in prices is to be made, the first increase in eight years. The reason given for the advance is that prices of plant equipment are much increased. To offset this advance in prices, the ice harvested this year is the purest and clearest of a decade

Some reasons why Oakdale Park offers a gilt-edged investment:

"It has the best car service of any restricted residence district either inside or outside the city.

"Its proximity to Winnipeg's largest and most beautiful city park.

WINNIPEG PROPERTY

Has made FORTUNES for SMALL INVESTORS, and there is More Money being made TODAY than ever before in the History of the CITY.

Why you should buy in Oakdale Park:—

Because: "It is the centre of a 500 acre restricted residential area.

Because: "It is farther from the smoke, dust and noise of railways than any Residence District inside or outside of the City, and with better car service."

Western Canada is the World's Attraction

The United States cannot keep people from realizing the GREATEST OPPORTUNITY ever offered, to secure Independent fortunes, by locating Homes in Western Canada. WINNIPEG is growing by leaps and bounds—A SUBSTANTIAL, PERMANENT GROWTH. VACANT HOUSES ARE UNKNOWN and yet Building is more active than ever.

OAKDALE PARK

Is the choice Residential District, All restricted property located in the West End reached by direct Electric Street Car Line in 20 minutes, from the Centre of the City (service every 4½ minutes). Beautifully treed; is directly opposite the largest City Park, where thousands spend the summer days. Can be reached in three minutes from OAKDALE PARK.

Sewers, Sidewalks and Water Supply arranged for.

Lots are nearly all Fifty feet frontage. (Only one house to be built on each lot).

PRICES, $12 per foot frontage up

The history of Crescentwood will be repeated in Oakdale. Where in the former 5 or 6 years ago lots were sold at $15 to $25 per foot, with the same building restrictions as Oakdale Park has to-day, and now $80 to $150 per foot is being paid in Crescentwood and residences to the value of $10,000 to $100,000 are being erected. History will repeat this in Oakdale, but in less time, as it has better Electric Car Service now.

It is being installed this week and should be finished within a few days.

OUR WORLD AS A MOON.

Fine Display a Full Earth Would Give to the Selenites.

Were we transported to the planet Venus a peculiar set of views could be obtained of our earth, enabling us to see ourselves, to some extent at least, as others see us. Venus is about the same size as the earth, is somewhat closer to the sun and has more atmosphere than the earth. When the earth and Venus are nearest together they are, of course, on the same side of the sun, and in consequence of this the earth does not see more than a very small part of Venus illuminated, but Venus, on the other hand, sees all of one side of the earth illuminated and is therefore able to claim she has something that takes the place of a moon, for the earth to Venus at this time looks very large and bright, almost as much so as our moon does to us.

If we could see all the illuminated surface of Venus on these occasions we should have quite a distinct second moon. When we do see all of her illuminated surface she is on the opposite side of the sun from us and consequently at an enormous distance, yet she is so brilliant as to prevent us from seeing her surface distinctly.

But to our own moon we appear in the best light as a moon. A full earth as seen from the moon, according to Todd and other astronomers, is a very inspiring sight. It can at once be seen why this is necessarily true. The earth is several times larger than the moon and would appear in the heavens as a disk about fourteen times the size of the moon. It would probably shine with a variable light, due to the shifting clouds of the earth, though the light is, of course, reflected from the sun, and the reflection is due in part to the upper surfaces of the clouds.

The outlines of the continents of the earth appear very clearly to the moon as if they were formed in papier mache on a globe. Cities of comparatively large size could be made out with ease in case observers were there to make them out. The intensity of the reflected earth light would be as much as fourteen moons and would enable the Selenites, if such there were, to read or work in comparative daylight.—Harper's Weekly.

A Southern Antidote.

If Americans need an antidote for restlessness they can find it among the mountaineers of the south. It is said that when a native is asked to hurry he replies, "Don't forget there's a whole day tomorrow 'tain't been tetched yet."—Detroit Free Press.

Dutch Etiquette.

In Holland etiquette demands that an unmarried woman walk on the right of her escort, while a married woman takes her husband's left arm.

Lost time is never found again, and what we call time enough always proves little enough.

A Delicate Position.

"That was an annoying coincidence," said Mr. Biggins. "It took great tact to manage it."

"What's the trouble?"

"The pension examiner and the life insurance doctor both called on me at the same time."—Washington Star.

Bee Stings.

If stung by a bee rub off the sting instead of pulling it out with the nails of the thumb and forefinger and thus forcing more venom into the wound. Ammonia applied to the wound made by a bee sting will usually afford immediate relief.

FEMININE AUTOCRATS.

Women of Sahara Rule the Men With Rods of Iron.

The Tuaregs, found in the vilayet of Tripoli, are descended from the Auxoriani of old, who in the fourth century took Leptis from the Romans after eight days' siege.

Among the Tuaregs, writes Hanns Vischer in "Across the Sahara," it is man, the brute, who by all the laws of the country has to obey the women. Descent is traced through the mother. Woman shows her proud face to all the world, while the man goes veiled. In the presence of a woman of noble birth men cover their faces and heads altogether. The women give the children what little instruction they have and train them to respect and obey them.

The stick he carries and the great wooden box into which he puts what his wife suffers him to have are all the man possesses and all he retains if for some reason his wife chooses to divorce him.

In Ghat when a man goes out after sunset he is usually followed by a negro servant, sent by his wife to dog his steps, and woe to him if he forgets himself or comes home too late! He will find the door shut and must count himself lucky if he is not put on to the street altogether.

The young man who in spite of all this wants to marry must pay a heavy sum for the bride, to obtain which he is obliged to look for other means than his usual work for the Arab trader. Thus he is forced into taking part in one of the annual rhazzias.

The women decide when the right moment has come, and the men sally forth against some luckless caravan or to the rich highlands of Tibesti.—Detroit Free Press.

Three Essentials For Success.

He who would succeed must arm himself with three vital and most necessary weapons—first, he must have ceaseless industry; second, he must have limitless ambition of purpose; third, he must possess unquenchable enthusiasm, coupled with a determination to succeed. Given these three and something else besides—the gift of imagination—and it matters not, I believe, whether the life of a man begins in a cobbler's shop or a grocery store or whether it begins in such an illuminating joyfulness in beautiful things as that which brightened my early childhood. With any beginning success will, of a surety, be his who makes himself truly deserving of it.—Howard Pyle in Woman's Home Companion.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH WEST LAND REGULATIONS.

ANY PERSON who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years old, may homestead a quarter section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. The applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for the district. Entry by proxy may be made at any agency, on certain conditions by father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of intending homesteader.

Duties—Six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within nine miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres solely owned and occupied by him or by his father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister.

In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt a quarter section alongside his homestead. Price $3.00 per acre. Duties—Must reside upon the homestead or pre-emption, six months in each of six years from date of homestead entry (including time required to earn homestead patent) and cultivate 50 acres extra.

A homesteader who has exhausted his homestead right and cannot obtain a pre-emption may enter for a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $3.00 per acre. Duties—Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate fifty acres and erect house worth $300.00.

Girls Wanted.

Girls Wanted by the Canadian General Electric Co. D-145

Decorate for Dominion Day.

Mayor Bradburn requests that all citizens decorate their residences or places of business for Sunday and Monday.

Stores Closing.

The local stores which close every Thursday afternoon during July and August last year will do the same this summer, commencing the first Thursday in July. Many local offices will also close.

St. George's Choral Society.

The St. George's Choral Society have finished their rehearsals for the season, and their practices will not be continued till next season in preparation for their annual concert next winter. The society is holding an excursion to Burleigh Falls, which will likely be largely patronized.

A Pleasant Trip.

A goodly number attended the choir excursion of St. John's church to Burleigh Falls yesterday and it proved to be apleasant day for all. The excursionists left in the morning on the steamer Stoney Lake and sailed through the canal, Clear and Stoney Lakes to Burleigh Falls.

Ignited by Locomotive.

Yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, a shed on Townsend street was ignited by the sparks from a passing locomotive. The fire brigade was called and responded with its usual alacrity and extinguished the blaze. The shed is the property of the Bradburn estate, but little damage was done.

Both Shields for Centrals.

By defeating the South Central Senior baseball team on Wednesday, 13—6, the Centrals won the shield and the championship of the senior public school league. The Juniors had previously carried off the Junior trophy so both pieces of silverware will decorate the Central School this year.

Closing Concert.

One of the most pleasing and successful concerts of the season was given in the Conservatory of Music last night under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of St. James' church. The entertainment which was the closing one for the season at the Conservatory was well attended and a musical program of the highest order was presented.

Trip to Stoney Lake

On Tuesday, July 2nd. Steamer Jelinda will leave Wolfe-st. wharf at 8.30 a.m., with passengers and freight for all Stoney Lake points.

When Nostrils Are Plugged Your Catarrh Is Bad

BY ACTING TO-DAY YOU CAN QUICKLY CURE CATARRH AND AVOID BRONCHITIS, PERHAPS CONSUMPTION.

Most Agreeable and Surest Cure is Catarrhozone, Which Cures Every Curable Case.

Catarrhozone proves especially good in those chronic cases where mucous drops down the throat, sickens the stomach, and pollutes the breath. When the nostrils are stuffed only a few breaths through the inhaler are needed to clear the passages, and where there is coughing and sore bronchial tubes the soothing, healing properties of Catarrhozone act almost as magic.

Once you stop taking medicine into the stomach and get the healing oils and pure balsams of Catarrhozone at work you can be sure of quick and lasting cure for nose colds, catarrh, weak lungs, bronchitis, and speakers sore throat.

13 YEARS OF CATARRH CURED

"As Catarrhozone has cured me of a Catarrhal Cough and Asthma that lasted thirteen years I feel I can honestly recommend it. I really used all kinds of medicine, but Catarrhozone was the only one that did any real good. I am entirely cured—have no cough, no bad breathing spells, not a sign of a cold or catarrh about me. But I will always occasionally use Catarrhozone, I prize it so highly."

Mrs. E. L. Osgood,
Johnson P. O., Ontario.

The complete $1.00 Outfit of Catarrhozone is sufficient for 2 months treatment, and is guaranteed. Smaller size 50c, at all dealers or the Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Ont.

An Unfortunate Occurrence.

A painful accident occurred yesterday when Roy Dunbar, an employe of the Canadian General Electric Company was cut in the knee with a revolving emery wheel. He was taken to Nicholls Hospital in Comstock's ambulance, and his injury was dressed by Dr. Hewson. Latest reports last night stated that he was progressing favorably.

ANNUAL PICNIC.

St. Paul's Sunday School will hold their Annual Picnic at Jackson Park Friday, June 28th. Special cars will leave Central Park at 1.30 for Jackson Park, where a list of sports will be run off.

At 7.30 in the evening special cars will leave Jackson Park for a round trip through the City.

Ice cream and soft drinks will be obtainable on the grounds.

A Wood Season.

The reports which are spread abroad by those ardent fishermen who have already been engaged with the hook and line indicate that this season will be a good one for fishing. Already several gentlemen on the Otonabee, Rice Lake the Canal and the upper lakes have made many catches. It is said that the high water, by protecting the spawns, has helped to make the season an excellent one.

Successful Garden Party.

A garden party held under the auspices of St. Luke's Ladies' Aid last night at the residence of Mr. Geo. Curtis was a success in every particular. The busses which left the city hall and post office every half hour carried a large number of people to the party. The attendance was good and the event in a social and monetary sense was certainly gratifying to the ladies. The numerous guests were given a pleasing entertainment.

DON'T FORGET—The cheapest and best excursion by rail and boat is next Saturday, June 29th. This gives you a chance to be in town for Monday's celebration—Train leaves G.T.R. Station. 8.30 a.m., for Lakefield, then by steamer "Stoney Lake" to Burleigh Falls. Returning through the lakes to Wolfe street wharf via Lift Lock. Get your tickets at Coleman Bros., 426 George. Round trip 60c. Refreshments supplied on boat at reasonable charges. St. George's Choral Society.

A Presentation.

The parsonage of the Charlotte street Methodist church witnessed a genuine surprise party on Wednesday evening, when Mrs. (Rev.) Henderson wife of the pastor, who is leaving soon for St. Catharines, was the recipient of a magnificent presentation and an eulogistic address from the Ladies' Aid and the Woman's Missionary Auxiliary of the church.

The presentation was cleverly planned, the entire affair being arranged without any demonstration whatever, and came as a complete surprise to the recipient.

Striking Mark of Esteem.

Mr. W. J. Neale, assistant principal of the Central school, was the recipient on Wednesday of a handsome gold watch and fob, the gift of the teachers and scholars of the school, with which Mr. Neale has been associated for the past two years. Mr. Neale has resigned his position here to accept a similar one in Ottawa. During his sojourn in the city he has been actively identified with the boys' sports and this striking mark of esteem in which he is held by the boys came as a distinct surprise to him.

Band Concert To-night.

The 57th Band will render the following program at the band concert to-night :

Patriotic March—"In Old Quebec."
Overture—"Guy Mannering."
Novelette—"Alexander's Rag Time Band."
Patriotic Fantasy—"Under the British Flag," introducing national songs of every country in His Majesty's possessions.
Selection by request—"Hobomoko"
Waltz—Selections.
Selection from "The Chocolate Soldier."
Canadian Medley March—Introducing "The Maple Leaf."

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mr. T. P. O'Connor is in the city for a few days.

Mr. M. Shaver was in Lindsay yesterday with a local golf team.

Prof. Scholow, of Bethune street, was in Lindsay yesterday on business.

Miss Ethel Regan, Gilmour street, left on an extended trip to the United States.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Richardson and children left yesterday for Cavanville for a few holidays.

Mrs. McGinty and daughter, of Omemee, have moved to this city, and will reside at 161 Hunter street.

Mr. Ross N. Jewell, of Ottawa, was in the city yesterday, the guest of his sister, Mrs. Thos. Cruikshank.

Mrs. (Dr.) Grey, of this city, who has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. McQuade, Omemee, has returned home.

Mr. O. E. Stanton, Division Plant Superintendent of the Bell Telephone Co., Toronto was in the city yesterday.

The Rev. W. H. Oldfield, of Wuchow, South China, and formerly of this city, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Stinson, 241 Water street.

The many friends of Mr. Thomas Sucee will be pleased to learn that he is convalescent to the extent of being able to sit on the verandah.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Johnson, of Janetville, who were married Wednesday in Lindsay, are passing through Peterborough on their honeymoon trip.

The friends of Mrs. (Rev.) Keith will regret to learn that she is suffering from an attack of appendicitis It is hoped that an operation will not be necessary. Rev. Mr. Keith leaves for St. Agathe on Monday.

The engagement is announced of Sarah Mabel, only daughter of the late David Curtis, formerly of Mount Pleasant, to Mr. Beattie Fee, son of Mr. Joseph and Mrs. Fee, of Mount Pleasant. The marriage will take place in July.

LITTLE LOCAL LINES

No less than twenty pretty June weddings were recorded in the Toronto Globe yesterday.

Every boy scout must be on hand for a very important meeting in the armouries to-night at 7.30 o'clock.

It was truly ladies' day at Riverside Park yesterday—Tracey pitched a good game for the special benefit.

An open air school is being tried with success in Toronto. Such an innovation might be of great use in this city.

Some of the fans who forgot that it was ladies' day, wondered why the rooting at Riverside Park had improved so much yesterday.

The daylight bill is proving a great success in Orillia. It is to be hoped that other places including Peterborough will follow their example should the satisfaction prove lasting.

A number of Toronto police may be sent to London and New York, to study traffic management in those cities. With over a hundred autos, and street cars Peterborough will soon have to deal with this problem.

The police are hot after the urchins who are breaking electric lights on the streets of the city.

A young lad's arm was run over on Wednesday by another fellow who came from behind, riding a bicycle on the sidewalk.

THE NORTH AMERICAN LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY

Is practically a mutual one, with the protection afforded by a guarantee fund upon which interest is paid While such fund is only $60,000.00, the guarantors are liable for five times this amount; so that the position admirably reflects the best points of stock and mutual companies. The Directorate is composed of both policy holders and guarantors, who are equally interested in its management. Home Office, Toronto.

THE TIMES

JOIN THE BRANDON SYNDICATE.

Approximately $1,000 for each $100 invested and one-half of this profit should be reaped in four months, and the balance by December, this year.

The wise man is he who reads the sign of the time and acts accordingly. You are not buying lots but become a shareholder in an undivided interest of a first class sub-division, and a party to the selling of lots, instead of buying, a review of the history of real estate speculation show the greatest profits have been realized from purchase and sale of sub-division and close in business property. The Syndicate plan appeals to all. The capitalist has an opportunity of securing a high rate of interest on his capital invested, the man of moderate means has the same opportunity with the additional prospect of largely increasing his principal and his chances of becoming independently rich are increased a thousand fold. Shares in this Syndicate are $100, and for those who cannot pay outright all to have a chance at following terms: $33.35 cash, balance equally divided, due in 30 and 60 days. Now then, property the same distance out is being held at $500 per acre. I could sell at even $200 per acre, and clear a handsome profit, account of securing the property before the boom although by sub-dividing can clear as much several times over and in addition make big money for many others.

Do you know that Brandon, Manitoba is on the eve of the first genuine growth activity in the history of that thriving city. The Dominion Fair will be held there in 1913, and $135,000 is being spent in preparation for it. Brandon ranks among the first as a distributing centre ; 278 towns that can be served by wholesalers on a competitive freight rate basis, 134 towns within a radius of 60 miles, all inspired with progress, Electric Ry. now going in. Charter has been granted to a Company to build and operate radial lines to all important towns, including Rapid City, Minnedosa, Neepawa, Carberry, Souris, Wawanesa and etc. With rapid transit quick service what will it mean for Brandon, all of this wealth knocking at her door ? Brandon's assessment increased in one year, 1910 to 1911, $1,227,492. Elevator capacity, Brandon city trading territory, 19,324,000 bushels, or one third of the total capacity of Alberta, Saskatchewan, and Manitoba. Inland revenue, 1910, $87,113.36. Bank Clearings, April 1st to March 31st, 1911, $27,271,695.00. Brandon is a shipping area. Brandon rates are from three cents to thirty cents less per 100 lbs., according to class and destination, than Winnipeg rates to the same points, and from 6 to 51 cents less than Regina rates.

Building and construction work in Brandon, 1911, $3,259,000, including Provincial asylum $600,000, new dwellings $200,000, new provincial normal school, Technical school, addition to the college, apartment houses, hospital addition, new primary school, warehouses, churches, bank buildings, and many others ; C.N.R. hotel and station, $500,000, Canadian Pacific station $250,000, Grand Trunk Pacific building, in this year contracts awarded. Four transcontinental lines and, including branches, 27 lines run in or radiate from Brandon, the present terminus of the Great Northern, having Hudson Bay its objective point. Think what this means to Brandon. Also upon completion of the Government's railroad to Hudson Bay, as well as C.N.R and C.P.R. surveying lines to that point, which is 100 miles nearer Liverpool than New York City to Liverpool, Brandon will have adequate shipping facilities. 500,000 horse power available ; already the immense water powers of the Winnipeg river are being harnessed to make the wheels of industry hum at Brandon.

JOIN THE BRANDON SYNDICATE.

Join the Brandon syndicate and become interested in the best piece of sub-division property in or near Brandon. The property is located directly south of the business centre of Brandon, and in line of its surest and quickest developments. The property is admirably located, and every lot on it will be readily sold. Property sub-divided one-half mile further out, and one-half the lots sold without even advertising. The initial and only payment demanded of this syndicate is $30,000, and the syndicate will reap seventeen times that amount. In other words approximately $1,000 for every share, 200 shares reserved, 300 sold, 500 issued altogether. By reserving the 200 shares is where the syndicate promoter benefits. The difference between cost of land $24,140.00 and the $30,000 will sub-divide and cover cost of advertising, consequently the promoter will not derive any benefit only along with the shareholders, after subdividing and larger returns for shareholders will mean the same for the promoter. The contract you will receive upon receipt of remittance gives you an undivided interest in the land and also those who may make default in payments, their money to be refunded with 6 per cent. interest on completion of the syndicate. Reference—Manager Bank of Montreal, Brandon, J. W. Flemming, Mayor, W. de Manbey, attorney at law, Brandon.

Here is a big speculation for the man of little means. The man with $100 in this syndicate will participate in the profit just the same as the man with $1,000. The small investor will realize the same profit as the big real estate operators have made in the west, and who always keep to themselves such chances as these. This is a chance for the small investor in a piece of property that is absolutely safe, in a town that is going to surprise the whole west this year.

Think this over, sign the coupon and send in with your remittance, as the adv. may not appear again.

ENGINE TURNED TURTLE

Chicago, June 27.—Engineer John S. Kendricks, of Danville, was killed and a score of passengers severely shaken up last night when the Dixie flyer of the Chicago & Eastern Illinois Railroad was derailed, while running at high speed near Martinton, Ill., 66 miles south of Chicago.

The locomotive turned over and the entire train left the track. A broken rail is believed to have caused the accident. There were several hundred passengers aboard. Traffic was blocked on the line for several hours.

Railroad officials reported that none of the passengers was seriously injured, and that they all remained in the cars while they were being put back on the track.

It is stated that the public will not be allowed to walk on the grass in Victoria Park hereafter. This is a wise step and we trust the rule will be rigidly enforced in future.

WEDDING BELLS

Carwell—Bennett.

A quiet and pretty wedding was solemnized Wednesday afternoon, at 400 Downie street, when Miss Eva J. Bennett was united in marriage to Mr. Richard Carwell of this city

The ceremony took place at 5.30 o'clock in the presence of immediate relatives of the contracting parties. Miss Alice Bennett, the bride's sister acted as bridesmaid, while the groom was supported by Mr. Arnold Morley Bossence. Rev. Mr. Couch officiated.

The happy couple left on the 9.05 G.T.R. train for Port Hope, Detroit and other points, and carried with them the congratulations of their many friends. On their return they will reside on Water street.

Davidson—Ray.

A quiet but pretty wedding took place on Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Ray, 864 George street, when their daughter Ethel, was united in marriage to Mr. William James Davidson, of Toronto. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. W. Carter, and the ceremony was performed by Rev. W. C. Riddiford of the Park street Baptist church.

The numerous wedding gifts testified to the high esteem in which the young couple were held by their friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Davidson left on the 4.19 C.P.R. train for Toronto where they will reside in future.

Everett—Chambers.

The marriage took place Wednesday evening at the parsonage of the Park street Baptist church, 260 Wescott street, of Mr. Edward A. Everett, of Brantford, to Irene M. Chambers, of Peterborough, the pastor of the church officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett will take up their residence at 236 Romaine street.

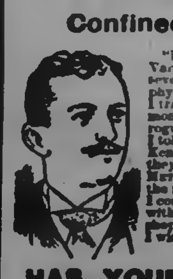
VARICOSE VEINS CURED

NO NAMES USED WITHOUT WRITTEN CONSENT.

Confined to His Home for Weeks.



"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits in youth brought on Varicose Veins. When I worked hard the aching would become severe and I was often laid up for a week at a time. My family physician told me an operation was my only hope—but I dreaded it. I tried several specialists, but soon found out all they wanted was my money. I commenced to look upon all doctors as little better than rogues. One day my boss asked me why I was off work so much and I told him my condition. He advised me to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, as he had taken treatment from them himself and knew they were square and skillful. I wrote them and got THE NEW METHOD TREATMENT. My progress was somewhat slow and during the first month's treatment I was somewhat discouraged. However, I continued treatment for three months longer and was rewarded with a complete cure. I could only earn $12 a week in a machine shop before treatment, now I am earning $[illegible] and never loose a day. I wish all sufferers knew of your valuable treatment.

SUFFRAGETTES ON WARPATH

THE SUFFRAGETTES SMASH WINDOWS OF POST OFFICE

Say They Will Smash Those of Every P.-O. in England---Premier Asquith Again Assaulted--Woman Hurled Downstairs and Sleeve Tore Out Of Dress

London, June 28th.—A general campaign of destruction in the post-offices throughout the country was inaugurated to-day by the Suffragettes. They smashed the windows of the Central Post office at Manchester, and in the same city shattered those of the Reform Club. Some of the London branch offices, and also those at Hitchin and Letchamore, were raided.

A number of women were arrested, and at the police station announced that their action to-day was the beginning of a plan to smash the windows of every post office in England.

Premier Asquith was subject to another assault last evening while he was attending a reception given by Lady Glenconner. A woman, whose identity has not yet been divulged, caught him by the lapels of his coat and shook him vigorously until the Premier was breathless. Then two men among the guests present caught Mr. Asquith's assailant and hurled her down the stairs. The struggle was so violent that a sleeve was torn out of the Suffragette's dress, her combs fell out of her hair, her gold watch was broken and she lost her diamond brooch.

NEW BILLS ON MONDAY

Government to Let Loose First Issue of Dominion Bills on Holiday—Finely Executed.

Ottawa, June 28.—On Dominion Day there will be issued the new five dollar Dominion bill. The new bill is a particularly fine piece of workmanship. On the obverse side it has an extremely well executed Canadian scene—the Wentworth Valley in Nova Scotia, with an intercolonial train coming down the famous grade on the Folleigh Mountain.

DRAYTON SUCCEEDS MABEE, IS PROMISED MORE SALARY

Toronto's Corporation Counsel Is Virtually Made Chief Railway Commissioner---All That's Left Is Formal Ratification--To Get $5,000 More Than Mabee

Ottawa, Ont., June 28.—It can be now definitely stated that Harry L. Draytonl K. C., corporation counsel of Toronto, will be the next chief commissioner of the Railway Board.

While the official appointment has not yet been put through by the Cabinet that is the only formality which is needed, and this will be done as soon as a qorum of the Ministers can be got together.

The choice is an excellent one. Mr. Drayton is young. He is a vigorous worker. He is full of vitality, and he is, moreover, one of the people. There will be no frills around the Railway Commission when he is in the chair. He is as much a sticker for the rights of the common people as was James Pitt Mabee, and in that regard the Government can be congratulated upon its selection.

He will loose financially for the time being, his total salary in Toronto now being $14,000, but it is understood that the Ministry has promised that a bill will be introduced next session to increase the salary of the Chief Commissioner to $15,000 instead of $10,000 paid to Judge Mabee.

NO ONE TO BLAME FOR THIRTY NINE DEATHS IN DOCK TRAGEDY

Buffalo, N.Y., June 28.—After an inquest into one of the thirty-nine deaths which occurred last Sunday night, when an excursion dock at Eagle Park, Grand Island, collapsed and dropped a crowd of nearly two hundred into the Niagara River. Guy B. Moore, first assistant district attorney, said to-day that probably no body could be criminally liable for the catastrophe.

"It was established," said Mr. Moore, "that the dock went down because it had rotted and because there was too many people on it. The law does not impose upon anyone the duty of inspecting or of keeping in repair these docks. Since that is so there could be no charge of manslaughter, because manslaughter is based upon wilful neglect, and there can be no wilful neglect where nobody is charged with aduty." It was developed that National or State legislation is needed for the examination of docks and their maintenance in a safe condition for the use of the public.

Two Killed in a Fire.

Louisville, Ky., June 28.—Two persons were killed and three seriously hurt in a fire that attacked a second floor dormitory in a business building here early to-day. One of the victims was a homeless woman who last night appealed at the dormitory for shelter.

EVELYN THAW AIDS FIGHT TO KEEP HUSBAND IN ASYLUM.

HARRY K. THAW AND JUSTICE KEOGH (IN BACKGROUND)

MRS HARRY K THAW ON THE WITNESS STAND

Evelyn Thaw is aiding the fight being made by the State in New York to keep her husband, Harry Thaw, in Matteawan Insane Asylum. She gave many details on the witness stand of alleged vices and irrationality of Thaw exposed to her observation in the years of her association with him as companion and wife. She told of discovering Thaw's hypodermic syringe and needles and his wrath when she asked what they were and for what purpose. Identifying the carved amethyst head of a riding whip, she said she had begged it from Thaw because of its beauty when she, then his wife, found it upon his dressing table. She had it made into a hat pin.

With quiet scorn she continued her story of how she had asked him if the whiphead he had given to her was from one of the whips he kept in the rooms he maintained in the flat of Susan Merrill. She identified, as Thaw had done just previously, a sketch made by him of nude human figures, a man standing with a whip about to beat a woman

BROKE EVEN IN DOUBLE HEADER TOOK FIRST--LOST SECOND GAME

The White Caps broke even with the Brantford Red Sox in a double-header yesterday afternoon, before a good crowd. In the first game the locals put up good ball, and held the visitors down well, and Jimmy Beard did some fancy twirling for the Petes, until the visiting pitcher struck Jimmy on the wrist with the ball while he was at bat, the wrist becoming very sore and Jimmy after fighting hard to keep the visitors in their place had to give up with the pain in his wrist, and was replaced by Osborne who finished the game in good shape.

The second game was not as good ball as the first, but the locals were always on the job, until the fourth innings, when with the score at 4—1 in the Petes favor, Osborne began to weaken, the two game being just a little too much for him, and he asked to be taken out, he was replaced by Johnny Derr, after the visitors had got the lead on the score board. The game finished with the score of 6—5 in Brantford's favor.

During the progress of the game, the shortstop for the visitors got a nasty crack on the nose by the ball the rest of the game.

In another instance, our little 3rd-sacker, Nemo, struck one of the visitors on the head with the ball and laid him out, the visitor happened to be standing between Nemo and the home plate. He was brought to with a couple of buckets of water, and the game proceeded, without any more mishaps.

The fans were out in good numbers and yelled themselves hoarse in the first game, so that they were not so loud in the second, but were yelling all the time.

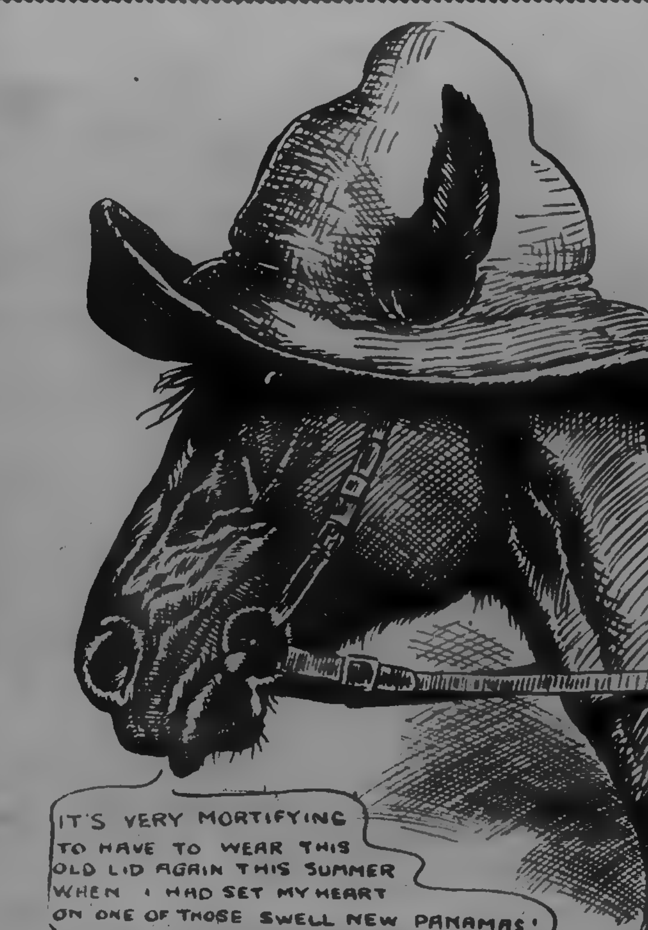
Dave Rowan promises a good game to-day and a large crowd is expected—all rooters are requested to be on hand and help the boys on to victory again in to-day's game.

BILL MINER AGAIN

The Notorious Desperado Again Regains His Freedom.

Millville, Ga., June 28.—"Old Bill" Miner, the aged outlaw, serving a term for train robbery in Georgia, escaped by filing his shackles last night and with a companion left the State convict farm.

This is the second time Miner has escaped from the prison farm in the last few months. In his flight he was hampered by an ill comrade and soon he was recaptured. Previously he escaped from the British Columbia prison.



IT'S VERY MORTIFYING TO HAVE TO WEAR THIS OLD LID AGAIN THIS SUMMER WHEN I HAD SET MY HEART ON ONE OF THOSE SWELL NEW PANAMAS!

THE CATHOLIC REGISTER

Another Broadside of "Hot Stuff" From the Organ of the R. C. Church in Toronto.

The following appeared in the last issue of the Catholic Register, edited by Rev. Father Byrke. It will be observed that the editor does not use argument or reason in his criticism of Protestants. Personal abuse is not likely to carry conviction:

"Proselytize the French!" is again the Protestant slogan.

• • • • •

Premier Gouin is now praying "Save me from my friends!" Parson Kelly at Edmonton and the Orange Sentinel, at Toronto, are crying, "Give thanks to God for the Gouin Government in Quebec!"

• • • • •

In their conference the Methodist brethren set the seal of their approval upon "sex hygiene" in the schools Decent people, however, will see to it that their innocent children are saved from such contamination.

• • • • •

Our Methodist friends in Toronto openly lament a decrease in membership, and are asking "why." The answere is—too many preachers of the Hincks and Johnston type.

• • • • •

The real anti-Catholic animus of the Globe is shown in its cartoon of Wednesday week, when a raging lion chained up on a "Ne Temere" pedestal is exposed to the view of two young people, presumably Catholics off to contract marriage as they like. The whole cartoon is the conception of an ignorant bigot on whom "Ne Temere" instruction would be totally lost.

• • • • •

We have received a copy of Bryan's Commoner, with a marked sermon in it, which the politician preacher recently delivered at New York, in some Methodist church or other. We are not in the habit of publishing such balderdash, and will not bother with this verbose sample. Where did Bryan get his authority to preach the Gospel, anyway? The queer things which go with preaching nowadays would excite the risibilities of an owl.

• • • • •

"Where is the 'Ne Temere' now?" cries the half hysterical press. The "Ne Temere" is just where it was before all this foolish and mischievous agitation, started by ignorant and prejudiced people at the beck of some persons stung to the quick by the inference—plain enough we admit—that they were mere men and not authorized ministers of the Holy Sacraments of God. The "Ne Temere" as a church regulation has not been abated one jot or tittle. Those people are long on cry and short on word.

• • • • •

The silly old Telegram has the impudence to attempt to speak for Catholics who are, according to it, afraid to do so themselves, and to whom it avers, the "Ne Temere" was never popular. We say confidently, that there are no such Catholics. Anybody thus fraternizing with the Telegram would be as creditable a Catholic as the Bay street bigot is a Protestant, no more no less, and we think the statement will suffer by investigation.

• • • • •

A Presbyterian minister in Toronto has been preaching that there is no hell or eternal punishment. These self-constituted guardians of the Bible are guarding it as a pack of wolves would a lonely sheep. The words of Christ and of the Bible, the universal belief of Christians in all ages, and of mankind in general, the convictions of the mind and conscience,—all are brushed aside as a cobweb, and the faith of the people undermined. And there is no authority among the sects to stop such infidel ranting. Protestantism has come to a pretty pass truly! And now Pastor Pedley also abolishes hell!

WILD SCENES ALL NIGHT LONG AT DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

Latest Dispatches Indicate A Deadlock---Clarke Demonstration Lasted an Hour But The Wilson One Was Longer

THE FIRST BALLOT.

Baltimore, June 28.—The official result of the first ballot for the Presidential nomination was:

Champ Clark—441 1-2.
Woodrow Wilson—324.
Judson Harmon—148.
Cong'mn Underwood—117 1-2.
Gov. Marshall—31.
Gov. Baldwin—22.
Sulzer of New York—2.
W. J. Bryan.

Baltimore, June 28.—When the sun replaced electric lights, after the all-night session, the Democratic Convention Hall was a remarkable sight. Most of the men in the building were in their shirt sleeves. Many were nearing sheer exhaustion as they leaned back in their chairs and waited. Smoke from flashlights taken by the newspaper photographers earlier in in the session still floated lazily about the cloth-covered rafters.

In all the midnight hours of oratory and demonstrations the Clark and Wilson forces were the principal contestants in the struggle to see which could keep up the cheering the longest. The Clark demonstration, the first big one of the evening, lasted one hour and five minutes The Wilson people, when their turn came, declined to quiet down until they had passed the Clark record and added about ten minutes to it. During both demonstrations many outsiders invaded the delegates sections of the hall. During the Wilson outburst several marching clubs came into the hall.

A DEADLOCK.

Baltimore, June 28th.—It looks like a deadlock in the convention tonight, the greatest confusion prevailing. No one yet has been able to secure a sufficient number of votes to get the nomination. Unless there is a big bolt the balloting will continue all night and probably to-morrow.

THAW TAUNTS JEROME WITH BEING "STUNG"

Which Caused the Lawyer to Ask How, and Thaw Replied: "The Record Will Show."

White Plains, N.Y., June 28. — As suddenly as it ended yesterday, the Thaw trial was resumed this morning, following a conference between the presiding judge and the opposing counsel Thaw was recalled to the stand for a further examination by Jerome. Justice Keogh still presiding. Mr. Shearn, who had said previously that he would cross-examine his client, said that he would not do so.

Thaw was inclined to be testy in his answers to Jerome's questions, using the expressions, "Hummel tactics," "blackmailing stories," and "your cowardly insinuations."

He seemed to be pleased with his performance on the stand.

"You put me on as your witness and you got stung," he told Jerome.

"How did I get stung?" Jerome asked.

"The record will show," was the answer.

HONORED MR. COCHRANE

He Was Presented With a Cabinet of Two Hundred Pieces.

North Bay, Ont., June 28.—A pleasant event occurred at North Bay Thursday in connection with the visit of Hon. Frank Cochrane, Minister of Railways and Canals, who spent the day here. The outside service of the Ontario Department of Lands, Forests and Mines, formerly administered by Mr. Cochrane, presented the Minister with a rich cabinet of silver containing two hundred pieces.

THE ROLLER RINK NOT AS REPRESENTED

The Times Investigated and Found the Rink to be Well Managed and Free from Any Objectionable Features.

Mr. John Meharry, proprietor of the roller skating rink, called at The Times yesterday in regard to an item which appeared in these columns, endorsing the action of Rev. Father McColl in condemning the rink as a place which young people should not patronize. He stated that the rink was the very opposite. It was run clean and above-board, nothing that could possibly give offense being allowed.

The Times investigated the facts and found that the rink is closed sharp at ten o'clock each night. It is well lighted, with windows and doors wide open, and has no cellar or darkened galleries. No foul language is permitted on the premises, or are bad characters allowed on there.

The Times is therefore persuaded that instead of being harmful in any way, the rink is a credit to Peterborough, and is a place where young and old can spend an hour or so occasionally in the enjoyment of the most evernating and healthful of pastimes—roller skating.

HOME BANK'S GROWTH

Close of Another Very Successful Year—Steady Growth and Rapidly Developing Business.

Once again we are in a position to congratulate the management of the Home Bank on the result of the business for the past fiscal year. The outstanding feature of the annual report was a very plain indication of the steady growth of the Home Bank Taking the two years together, 1911 and 1912, the deposits of the Bank have increased one million seven hundred and thirty thousand dollars, this gain being nearly equally divided between the two business periods. The assets, too, have grown two million six hundred and eighty thousand dollars in the same time. This is a normal growth, for it appears that the Home Bank has not been ambitious in opening new branches. The increase of business is at established points, where the Home Bank has grown in popularity with the business and saving account communities.

The prosperous career of the Home Bank very clearly demonstrates the possibilities for successful banking in Canada along closely conservative lines. Each annual report of the Home Bank has revealed a steady rate of progress, almost uniform in its percentage year after year. Besides the figures of these reports we have the Home Bank itself to observe and those who interest themselves in its developments may study it advance in business activity, and public appreciation, from year to year.

The Home Bank has several branches in this district, where it is very popular. It appears also to be equally popular in Western Canada. Mr. John Kennedy, one of the Directors, said at the annual meeting:—"The Home Bank is becoming a household word in Western Canada." He is also a Director of the Grain Growers' Company, an organization which handled 28,000,000 bushels of grain this year and does all its business through the Home Bank of Canada.

OTONABEE TOWNSHIP COUNCIL

A meeting of the Otonabee Council was held on June 17, 1912.

Mr. Deyell reported re ditch on the road between Lots 17 and 18, Con. 13, that cleaning out and deepening the ditch would not improve the road, and would recommend that no action be taken by the Council. This recommendation was agreed to by the Council.

Two thousand dollars was appropriated for the improvement of the roads, to be divided amongst the five wards, according to their assessment, and a special grant of $100 to Wards 1, 2 and 3, and $150 to Wards 4 and 5, making a total appropriation of $2,600.

An amended Health Act, passed by the Legislature at its last sitting, provided that the local Boards of Health be composed of Reeve, Medical Health Officer and one ratepayer, to be appointed by the Council instead of three ratepayers, as formerly. R. J. H. Shirt was appointed a member of the board by the Council.

N. Doris was appointed to operate the grader, to hire and oversee the road gang, to be paid $2.62½ per day, man and team $3.87½, men $1.62½.

On motion Mrs. George Carey was to be paid, for charity, $5.00 per month, instead of $6.00 on condition that the Foley estate pay her $5.00 per month.

The following accounts were passed: Express, 86c; D. Rice, plank, $1; Isaac Harper, wire, 50c.; John Edwards, cement, $60.

Council adjourned to meet July 15th.

GO TO FLORIDA FOR HEALTH AND wealth.—The question is asked me repeatedly: Why, if all that is claimed for the climate and earning capacity of the land in Florida is true, how is it that only a percentage of the State's area is under cultivation? It is a fair question, and the answer is a simple one. After the war between the North and the South Florida found herself in a deplorable condition financially. The State Government leased hundreds of thousands of acres of its best prairie and timber lands for periods running as high as 99 years. This latter period tied up the great Kissimmee Prairie until recently. It is now, however, in the hands of a splendid colonization company, whose selling agent is the Hunter Land Company, Kissimmee Prairie is in the Southern portion of Osceola County, and is noted for its fertility and uniformity of soil. It is the healthiest spot in North America, and every day in the year is a growing day. Write for maps, illustrated literature, excursion particulars and any desired information. Address Alf. Law, Ontario, Manager, 40 Cecil street, Toronto. D-6 in J4

NUGENT'S SARSAPARILLA—PRICE FOR large bottle, 100 full doses, 50c, and well worth it, too. It's better to take no medicine at all than to depend upon cheap concoctions that are compounded to sell at a low price and a big profit just because there is a large demand for certain remedies at certain seasons of the year. There are so-called Sarsaparillas offered to us to sell to our customers at 75c a bottle that would bring us a larger profit than Nugent's Sarsaparilla sold at 50c. Nugent's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, arouses the torpid liver, drives out all impurities, cleanses and tones up the system, and helps Nature throw off the dullness that comes from the indoor life of winter. It arouses energy, brightens the eye, clears the brain, gives lightness to the movements. Nugent's Sarsaparilla is not the only thing you will find in this drug store. We make a specialty of Nugent's Remedies. Nugent Drug Co., 388 George St. directly opposite Cressman's store.

THE KOLA NUT IN AFRICA.

In the parts of Africa where it grows the kola nut is much esteemed by the natives on account of its stimulating and other properties, and it occupies a large place in African legends, as well as in ceremonies and cults. These tribes have been aware of its power as a stimulant from time immemorial, and it is also used as a remedy for marsh fever and other maladies.

It is used as a pledge of friendship or affection, as an offering to fetich men and also as money or for paying tribute. In the Bambara and other regions a young man sends a basket of white and red kola nuts to the father of a young woman whom he desires to marry. If the father consents he keeps all the nuts, but if not he keeps the white ones and returns the red.

The kola tree is much respected, and the belief is strong among the natives that if one of them plucks a flower it will bring him bad luck. Among the Bagas a tree is planted at each birth or notable occasion. In the Diorugu region when a chief goes through the ceremony of naming his child he plants a kola tree, and this afterward belongs to the child.

In the whole of the Sudan region the kola nut is a symbol of friendship, and as it is an article of luxury the act of offering it as a gift is taken as a mark of the wealth of the giver. Eating the kola nut together is a sign of friendship, and it would be a great offense to refuse to do this. Treaties, vows or compacts are made binding in the same way.—Chicago News.

Utah's Lofty Mountains.

The Uinta range is one of the most impressive in the United States. King's peaks tower above great canyons and capacious amphitheaters, reaching a height of 13,496 and 13,498 feet. Mount Emmons is but slightly less elevated, with an altitude of 13,428 feet, while many other peaks rise above 13,000 feet. Considered in its past and present, the region of the Uinta mountains is a wonderful country, deeply interesting geologically, of great economic importance, picturesque and beautiful. Traveling westward after long miles of commonplace scenery, the Uintas loom up grandly, while features of beauty are the innumerable lakes and meadows made possible by the glacial scouring. From the summit of Bald mountain, for instance, four great basins [illegible] before the eye. Nestling among the pine forests at least seventy lakes may be counted. Scattered throughout the forests there are also numerous meadows. Above the forests rise some of the most majestic peaks of the Uintas.—Guy Elliott Mitchell, United States Geological Survey, in Leslie's.

Resourceful.

On moving day — May 1st — many people in various cities had much difficulty in getting a carter to move their furniture. A city official of St. John, N.B., who was unable to hire a team to move his household effects was, however, equal to the emergency.

He succeeded in getting the loan o an express wagon. After loading this he got into the shafts himself and aided by a companion, who got behin and shoved, he hauled his furnitur through several of the principal street until he arrived at his new home.

THE FARMER'S SON.

He Must Follow His "Natural Bent" Say Educationists.

Authorities tell us that every human being is so constituted that there is a particular line of work at which the individual will reach a maximum of efficiency. The modern tendency is to provide such education for boys and girls of the farm as will result in the majority of them remaining on the farm.

However, it is not in accord with natural laws or the best interests of general education for a Government or the head of any institution to aim at keeping all farm boys on the soil by any separation of the agricultural institution that means a discord among educational forces.

Principal Black and those who argued for separation of Manitoba Agricultural College from Manitoba University on the plea that such relationship would prevent farm boys from giving up the agricultural course in favor of some other line of study, should ponder what Charles Dickens has to say about education in general, and "the natural bent" in particular.

Or, better, they should have heard James L. Hughes, superintendent of schools for Toronto, at the annual convention of the Manitoba Teachers' Association recently, when he spoke on "Dickens as an Educator." Mention was made of Dickens' opinion of the fathers of his day, who decided as their children were born into the world what occupation they should follow; no regard was given to "the natural bent."

Dickens realised that no man should undertake to select a vocation for another. He argued that even fathers were not capable of choosing a line of work for their youthful sons, each of whom had a "natural bent."

Principal Black wisely argues that it is the object of his college to send as many as possible of the sons of the soil back to the farm; but at the same time he makes arrangements to place as many as possible of the graduates in positions away from their farms. This is what creates suspicion as to what is the real object in separating the agricultural college from the university.

If good reason or sound argument had been put forth, there would have been little or no objection to the move. However, since a relationship was established a few short years ago, no change should have been made without good and sufficient reason. At all events, this is the age of union and harmony of educational interests, rather than of separation and discord.

Train your sons to be good farmers if you can, but don't forget that each one has a "natural bent."—Montreal Standard.

The Turkish Bride.

The Turkish bride spends about a week in dancing and wild, happy life before her marriage. Then when she leaves her father's house she kisses his hands and feet. She goes to the groom's home and on his arrival kisses his hand. Then the paint with which her face has been daubed in the week of dancing and frivolity is wiped off and she drinks coffee with her husband—and they are happy ever after.

His First Intimation.

"How did you find out you could draw?" inquired the admirer of the celebrated illustrator.

"By the marks I received in school for the excellence and fidelity of my work," replied the eminent one. "My work was a caricature of my beloved teacher on the blackboard, and the marks came from the teacher's cane."

Wearing the Wedding Ring.

Centuries ago women used to wear their wedding rings on their thumbs, then the custom changed and they wore them on their first fingers, and then again the custom changed and the method of to-day came into vogue. The custom of wearing the ring on the third finger originated through the ritual of the marriage service. The priest first put the ring on the thumb, saying, "In the name of the Father"; on the forefinger, adding, "in the name of the Son"; on the second finger, repeating, "in the name of the Holy Ghost," and on the third finger, ending with "Amen," and there it stayed.

Meteors.

The frequency of meteors is at its highest toward the end of July and the beginning of August. During the first six months of the year the total number of meteors observed on a clear, moonless night is only about six an hour. At the beginning of July the frequency increases and attains its maximum, sixty-nine an hour, on Aug. 10. The mean for the entire year is twenty-four meteors an hour.—London Standard.

SATURDAY, JUNE 29th.

THE DESTRUCTION OF THE TONSILS.

Those of us who have been stubborn enough to go on living without laying a large part of our interior embellishment upon the altar of modern surgery will be cheered by a recent paper written by Dr. John N. Mackenzie, of Hopkins University.

Under the title, "The Massacre of the Tonsil," Dr. Mackenzie makes a contribution to the Maryland Medical Journal that is as interesting to laymen as to professional men. He explains that it is "not his object to decry in the least degree the many excellent measures that modern ingenuity has devised for the surgical treatment of tonsil affections," because there are many conditions that call for a partial destruction or a more or less complete removal of the tonsils. He protests, however, against the ruthless destruction of the tonsils on all sorts of unapproved theories as a surgical abuse that is so enduring in its evil results that it is becoming a great menace to the public good.

It is to be hoped that in his next paper Dr. Mackenzie will have something to say in behalf of the unfortunate appendix, against which a war of extermination is declared by every young "sawbones" who gets a diploma from a medical college. In the meantime, however, people who still have tonsils can go about the streets without being harassed by the sneaking feeling that they are concealing property that belongs to the specialist and the day may come when a man will not be ashamed to admit that he has a tape worm.

THE LAST APPEAL.

The action of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia in sentencing Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison, the three principal labor leaders of the United States, to terms in jail, will arouse much interest in labor circles. This is the second sentence, with but one remaining chance of appeal, which will at once be made. The war upon union labor, which has raged of late on the ground that labor sanctioned the use of violence in securing its aids, reaches a critical point at this juncture.

Editorial Notes

"Canada is a nation," said Sir Wilfrid Laurier at the St. Jean Baptiste Society in Quebec. "When my eyes will close on a country of liberty and shall close, I am confident that they tolerance." The phrases are good, but it is not evident that the emphasis he has too often placed upon racial or religious difference is going to help forward that excellent end.

The limitations of both money and science was evident in the death last week of Dr. L. M. Early, of Columbus, Ohio. Cancer developed some years ago, and in spite of his offer of a million dollars to anyone who could eradicate the disease, it terminated fatally. Money can talk most persuasively, but there are still unconquered tyrants who will not listen. Science can accomplish wonders, but there are still limitations to its widening range.

The prisoners in the Leavenworth state prison are permitted to play baseball Saturday afternoons. The deputy warden officiates as umpires, and players objecting to his decisions are promptly returned to their cells. The gentlemanly manner in which these games are conducted is an object lesson for the big leagues.

NO MORE INDIGESTION

Montreal Man So Ill, Thought He Would Die of Stomach Disorders.

Just read what Mr. Larose says of the curative powers of Dr. Hamiltons Pills:

"I suffered from dyspepsia and indigestion for five years. I suffered so much that I could hardly attend to my work. I was weak and lost all courage, I enjoyed no rest until I decided to follow your treatment. To my great surprise I immediately began to feel better. I am now using the second box of Dr. Hamilton's Pills and I feel so well that I want to tell you that I owe this great change to your famous pills. I recommend Dr. Hamilton's Pills to every person who is suffering from dyspepsia. Your grateful servant, D. R. Larose, 338 Joliette St., Montreal, P. Q."

All who have weak stomachs, and those who suffer from indigestion, or headaches, or biliousness, can be perfectly cured by Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Successfully used for many years, mild and safe, 25c per box, all dealers, or the Catarrhozone Co. Kingston, Ont.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Toronto Live Stock.

TORONTO, June 27.—Receipts of live stock were 78 cars, comprising 946 cattle, 1456 sheep, 280 calves and 1947 hogs.

Butchers.

No choice ones were on the market, the best grade selling from $7.40 to $7.65. The ruling price was from $7 to $7.40 and several lots went at these figures.

Steers and Heifers.

Lightweight cattle in this class, considerably below the first-class butchers, ranged around $4.75 to $6. Good ones were accepted at $5.25 to $6, while the mediums went down as low as $4.75.

Cows for Beef.

Good ones range from $5.25 to $6; mediums, $4 to $5, and commons from $3.50 to $4.25.

Canners were not in demand, and only chance offers were to be had. The range is from $1.50 up.

Calves.

Suffering the least by the decline, calves were quoted firm from $7 to $8 for good ones and from $4 to $6 for the medium grades. The supply was ample.

Sheep.

Prices tumbled from the opening till the close, when light ewes were quoted from $4.50 to $5; heavy ewes, from $3.50 to $4, lambs, from $7 to $8; bucks, from $3 to $3.50.

Milkers and Springers.

Extra large supply was offered with prices about firm. One lot was sold at figures from $46 to $80. The prevailing price is from $40 to $65.

Bulls.

Market opened on figures from $3.50 to $5, with a slight rise to $6 on one offering. Heavy ones were going at $5.50 with the true range around the $5 mark. Scrubby yearlings declined perceptibly.

Hogs.

The quotations for this week have held steadily at the price set Monday, f.o.b. $7.90, fed and watered; $8.25 and $8.50 delivered. Selling was very slow Thursday, and many buyers were not bidding.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

HOME BANK SHOWS A STEADY GROWTH

Assets Have Doubled In Last Five Years

DIVIDEND RATE INCREASED

Annual Meeting Held Yesterday—Old Board of Directors and Officers Re-Elected—Household Word In Western Canada.

The annual meeting of the Home Bank of Canada, for the fiscal year ending May, 1912, was held at the Head Office, 8 King street west, Toronto, yesterday afternoon. Mr. Eugene O'Keefe, President, occupied the chair. The annual report, received by the shareholders, showed that the Home Bank maintained during last year the satisfactory rate of progress of the previous year, there being an increase in deposits of $800,000, with a proportionate gain in assets and circulation. The continued prosperity of the Bank has warranted the advance in the rate of dividend from six to seven per cent., the Annual Report including payment of the last quarterly dividend at this higher rate. After the Shareholders had extended to the Directors and Management their thanks for the satisfactory condition of affairs, and re-elected the Board of Directors, a subsequent meeting of Directors was held, at which the former officers were re-elected.

The Board of Directors and the Officers for the term of 1912-1913, will be:

Eugene O'Keefe, President; Thomas Flynn, Vice-President; Directors: E. G. Gooderham, John Persse, W. Parkyn Murray, Thomas A. Crerar, John Kennedy, Colonel James Mason.

The Directors' Report.

Colonel James Mason, being appointed Secretary of the meeting, submitted the following report of the Directors:—

"The Directors have pleasure in submitting to the Shareholders the Annual Report of the Home Bank, giving the result of business for the year ended 31st May, 1912, together with the balance sheet at that date.

"Four Quarterly Dividends have been paid and provided for; the first three at the rate of six per cent. per annum, and the fourth at the rate of seven per cent. per annum, an increase from six per cent. to seven per cent. in the annual rate; $25,000 written off Bank premises Account; $25,000 added to the Rest—making that account slightly in excess of the sum required to make it equal to one-third the Paid-up Capital, and the balance $86,001.68 carried forward at the credit of Profit and Loss Account.

"The total number of Shareholders is 1,671.

"The usual examination by the Directors of the Treasury and Securities was made, and the Branches inspected."

The President's Address

Mr. Eugene O'Keefe, President, then spoke regarding the Annual Statement:—

"The net profits for the year which are about eleven per cent on the Paid-up Capital, are somewhat in excess of last year's; these profits might be larger, but the Directors believe a conservative policy to be in the best interests of the Institution.

"Immigration to Canada of the most desirable character is steadily increasing, the incoming settlers chiefly from the British Islands and the United States. In the case of the latter, they bring in much wealth with them. Railroad building is on an extensive scale, and the natural resources of the country are in active development. The Northwest crop last year, although not quite up to expectations, was large—this year promises well. There is an increase in the acreage of the various grains of over a million and a half acres, the total being 17,672,000 acres, and if the weather conditions continue favorable, the results should show a yield considerably larger than that of last year.

"This Bank has formed a very advantageous connection in the Northwest Provinces, which are making such strides and promise to be in time the greatest wealth-producing portion of the Dominion, agriculturally speaking.

"At the present time, and for some years to come, the Northwest will, however, require a great deal of capital for its development, but when the tide will turn we shall expect to reap the benefit of the foundation we are now laying there. There is one feature, however, in the situation which is very regrettable, and that is the large and growing speculation in building lots in many of the towns and cities in the three Provinces. The speculation in these lots is not confined to the Northwest but it quite extensive throughout the Province of Ontario, as many of our farmers and citizens are risking their hard-earned savings in this dangerous way. Its effects are felt by a steady withdrawal of deposits from the various Banks in Eastern Canada for the puchase of these lots. This unwarranted speculation can have but one ending, and it is to be feared the money thus invested in all probability will, in many instances, be totally lost.

"Our Deposits have increased about $800,000, and Circulation shows a satisfactory increase — the net profits are about eleven per cent. on the average Paid-up Capital. We have written $25,000 off Bank Premises and added to the Rest $25,000, which is rather more than is required to maintain the proportion of thirty-three and a third per cent. to the Paid-up Capital. The dividend for the last quarter of the year was increased from six per cent to seven per cent. per annum—the business of the bank warranting such increase. The balance remaining, $86,001.60, has been placed at credit of Profit and Loss Account. Not much was done in the way of opening up new Branches. One was opened at Weyburn, a good point in the Provinces of Saskatchewan; one at Delaware in Ontario, with a sub-branch at Komoka.

"The total assets of the bank have doubled in five years and now amount to $12,386,555.42, an increase over last year of $1,330,685.43."

Western Director Speaks.

Mr. John Kennedy, one of the Western Directors of the Bank and also a Director of the Grain Growers' Grain Company, stated that the name "Home Bank" was becoming a household word in Western Canada. He assumed that the President, when he spoke of the valuable connection the Bank had made in the Northwest, referred to the Grain Growers' Grain Company, and he, Mr. Kennedy was in a position to speak clearly on the subject. The business of the Grain Company had steadily grown. It has now a paid-up capital of almost $600,000.00 and a foundation laid for a nice reserve fund. This current year the Company has handled 28,000,000 bushels of grain, which is 10,000,000 bushels in excess of its business for the previous year. It has been of very great benefit in regulating prices and improving grain marketing conditions. The Home Bank gets a good deal of credit from the farmers of the West for those improved conditions. The Grain Company has proved its faith in the Bank's future by investing in its shares over $135,000—represented by over 1,000 shares—and there are as many as 1,000 Western farmers also holding shares of the Home Bank.

The farmers of the West appreciated the value of their connection with the Home Bank. Speaking more particularly of the West, if the policy of the Bank continues to develop to meet Western conditions, there is before it a great future. The Bank is highly regarded in the Districts where its branches are situated, and it is a matter of congratulation that they have been doing well almost from the start. The requests for new branches are numerous. It has been estimated that in five years more Western Canada should be producing 500,000,000 bushels of wheat. This alone would mean a tremendous development in every way. Mr. Kennedy thought it important that the Bank's capital should be increased by the sale of stock. The Western shareholders are anxious to see the Bank fully keep pace with the development of the West. The future of the Bank is bright and its stock should prove attractive to investors. The West is forging rapidly ahead, and with its numerous natural resources rapidly being turned into wealth, there is no better field for the Bank's activities.

Mr. Kennedy in his remarks corroborated the statements made by the President regarding the speculation in city and town lots in the Northwest Provinces.

DIRECTORS:

H. E. HAND, Toronto, President; Director Hamilton Brewing Association, Limited; Director Grant's Spring Brewery Company.
W. H. PARSONS, Montreal, Manufacturer; Director Colin McArthur Wall Paper Co.
W. W. CANHAM, Toronto, Importer, of Wilson & Canham, Limited.
K. McWHINNEY, Toronto, Contractor.
S. J. PLANT, Toronto, Ceramic Expert, Managing Director.
TRUSTEES—Imperial Trusts Co. of Canada, Toronto.

This company is organised to engage in the making of building brick, terra cotta, fireproofing, etc. The demand for brick is greater than the supply, and there is need of another factory to make really high-class brick. The demand for building brick is such that contractors are obliged, in many cases, to use inferior brick, probably endangering the safety, and assuredly endangering the durability, of the buildings so constructed.

The Canada Brick and Fireproofing Company's property, consisting of 150 acres, and contains a very valuable and practically inexhaustible deposit of shale, clay and building stone.

The deposits in this property are of such a nature that the best bricks, with a density and hardness not surpassed, and commanding the highest market price, can be made at a very low cost. Bricks can be made the year round, winter as well as summer, as the company will have a thoroughly tested and specially designed dryer, which obviates all difficulties. No such opportunity has come to invest in the brick industry in many years, and, considering the unsupplied market, the attractive prices for the product, the low cost at which the Canada Brick and Fireproofing Co., Limited, are able to produce, the extraordinary good quality of the brick that can be made, and the well-known ability of the managing director of the company, this opportunity to invest is one of the best this company has ever had the pleasure of offering its clients or the general public.

THE LOW CAPITALIZATION.

This company could easily have been incorporated for $1,000,000.00 but to enhance the actual value of the shares, and to make the returns on the shares of practical consequence for all future time, the capitalization was made small in comparison with other flotations, but large enough to give ample capital, pay all charges and put up a three-unit plant, fully equipped with the most up-to-date, fastest and best brick-making machinery, and to supply plenty of working capital. We recommend this stock to all seeking safe, reliable and profitable investment.

The plant will be located in the Township of Esquesing, in the County of Halton, and will have a capacity of 150,000 bricks per day.

The present sale is to provide funds for completing the contract for the installation of the works of the Company, and for working capital.

The contracts with the Company may be seen during business hours at the Imperial Trusts Company of Canada, Toronto.

PROFIT-SHARING ARRANGEMENT.

Preferred stock will share all dividends in excess of 6 p.c. in the following proportions:
For every 1 p.c. extra paid on the Preferred, 3 p.c. is to be paid on the Common.
For example:—When the Common stock receives 3 p.c., Preferred stock will receive 7 p.c.
" " " 6 p.c., " " 8 p.c.
" " " 9 p.c., " " 9 p.c.

After this point of dividend-sharing has been reached any additional dividends are to be shared equally by both Preferred and Common. The Preferred is also "Preferred" as to return of capital.

Two shares of Preferred stock carry a bonus of one share of Common.

PROPERTY.

The property consists of 150 acres of land in the Township of Esquesing, in the County of Halton, containing valuable deposits for the purpose of the Company. This was selected after careful investigation of many much-praised deposits in different localities. 100 acres contains clay and shale and 50 acres contains a valuable deposit of building stone, known as "Credit Valley" stone, which is in great demand, and in itself alone should realise a good profit for the Company. There is an unfailing stream of water through the property, affording abundant water for the Company's operations.

TRANSPORTATION AND LABOR.

The railway running through the property gives excellent transportation facilities, and as the property is situated in the same shipping zone as the Milton, Terra Cotta, Halton, and Port Credit Companies, the same rates will be secured as are paid by those companies. Cheap and efficient labor is available in the surrounding towns. The Company propose to build workmen's houses within a short distance of the plant.

MARKET.

The rapid growth of the City of Toronto and the extraordinary building activities in the suburbs and the surrounding districts, which will doubtless continue for many years, has caused a demand for brick, fireproofing and clay products in excess of the capacity of the brick plants that are in a location to supply the city and surrounding country. All the present brick companies in Ontario are taxed to their utmost, and much delay has been caused in building operations owing to the inadequate supply of brick, and in some cases it has forced owners to abandon building operations entirely.

ESTIMATED EARNINGS.

The earnings of the Company are estimated on the basis of a profit of $2.50 per thousand bricks. The average cost per thousand, as estimated by the managing director of the Company, is $5.00. In this is included selling, operating, and all incidental costs of production, and as the Canada Brick & Fireproofing Company, Limited, are installing one of the most modern and up-to-date plants, both for handling and manufacturing bricks, this cost should be materially reduced.

In estimating the earnings of the Canada Brick & Fireproofing Company, Limited, the cost per thousand is put at $7.00 (f.o.b. Toronto and delivered on the jobs) to cover all possible contingencies, and the gross income is put at $9.50 per thousand or considerably below the average price, which is more than $10.00 per thousand.

On this basis the earnings will be as follows, allowing 250 working days to the year:

Unit No. 1.
CAPACITY — WORKING DAYS — BRICKS PER YEAR
50,000 per day. — 250 — 12,500,000
Gross income, at $9.50 per thousand $118,750
Cost of manufacturing, operating, etc., at $7.00 per thousand 87,500
Surplus .... $ 31,250
As the Company will instal three units, each having a capacity of 50,000 per day, the output would be three times the above amount, or a total profit per annum of .... $ 93,750
6 per cent. interest on preferred stock 18,000
Leaving for reserve fund, contingencies, dividends on common and preferred stock, etc. .... $ 75,750

It will be seen that the Company should earn over 7 per cent. on the Preferred shares and 3 per cent. on the Common stock from Unit No. 1, and Units Nos. 1, 2, and 3 should earn 18 per cent. on both the Common and Preferred shares.

MANAGEMENT.

The Company has secured the services of S. J. Plant, Ceramic Engineer and Clay Specialist. He has been associated with the brick business all his life, in the manufacturing of all classes of brick and high-class clay ware, both plain and ornamental, and has a thorough knowledge of the construction and erection of brick plants.

Samples made from shale off the lands of the Company may be seen at the offices of the Standard Bond Co. Wire-cut brick will be manufactured by the Company equal in appearance to pressed brick, and at no greater cost.

Applications may be sent in by telegram at our expense, and where application blanks are not available, a letter stating the number of shares desired, and a deposit of $1 per share for the number of shares appplied for, will be sufficient. Applications will be considered in order received and remittance for applications in excess of issue, will be returned.

On Application .... $1.00 per share

Prince Rupert is nearer to the Orient than any other Pacific Coast city by five hundred miles.

It is the commercial hub of Northern and Central British Columbia.

The waters tributary to Prince Rupert have been proven to contain the best and largest fishing grounds in the world.

Prince Rupert real estate has advanced by leaps and bounds since the sale of lots in 1909. Think what these values will be upon the completion of the railway in the spring of 1914.

Prince Rupert has spent over $1,000,000.00 since its incorporation in 1910.

Prince Rupert is now spending over $550,000.00 on a permanent water supply and power plant.

The Grand Trunk Pacific has the easiest grades and lightest curvature of any transcontinental railway

Do you know that trains are now running 170 miles easterly from Prince Rupert and carrying large numbers of settlers with their stock and equipment into the fertile Kitsumkalum, Lakelse, and Bulkley Valleys.

The country adjacent to Prince Rupert is rich in mineral deposits of silver, gold and copper which only await the advent of the railway to develop their riches.

PRINCE RUPERT, B. C., the terminus of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway on the Pacific Coast, will shortly take rank with the other great terminals in size, wealth and importance; in fact, during its short existence it has made a record which no other port can boast of. As in the others, millions will be made out of the increase in value of real estate by those far-seeing enough to get in on the ground floor NOW—and here is your opportunity.

PRINCE RUPERT, B. C., was incorporated as a City in the early part of 1910 and has a population at the present time of more than 6,000 people, which is rapidly increasing. It owns its own public utilities, telephone, water, sewer and light, has fine public schools and churches, of all denominations. Every line of mercantile business is represented, both wholesale and retail. In fact, it has all the facilities required for a well organized and well governed City.

If You Want an Investment and Not a Speculation READ THIS

For the man or woman who has little or much money to invest there is no City in Canada that offers greater opportunities for profit than does Prince Rupert, and it is our absolute opinion that within Prince Rupert there will be no better investment from the standpoint of safety and assurred dividends than stock in a Company whose memorandum of agreement and articles of association are now in the hands of the Continental Trust Company, Limited, of Prince Rupert, for incorporation.

Objects of Company

The objects of the company are to buy and sell and improve Prince Rupert city property. Well situated lots will be acquired. Dwellings, apartment houses and business blocks will be erected. These will be either rented or sold as opportunity offers, so that the company shall receive the most profitable returns on the money invested.

Do not confound this Company with any other building or investment organization. It will be a co-operative organization made up of investors of all classes who, by putting their funds together acquire the investing power and the earning capacity that the individual alone could never possess.

It is not an organization to make money out of you, but to MAKE MONEY FOR YOU.

The Company will be directed by men who stand among the most prominent of our City's successful business men. What better proof of the success and future greatness of any Company could anyone want than this?

The very association of such men with this organization is not only sufficient guarantee of the splendid future of the Company but guarantees an equal and absolute square deal for every investor, large or small.

The Company will be incorporated for $100,000,00, its capital stock will be divided into 100,000 shares of the par value of $1 each, and will be sold at this price.

To place this exceptional proposition within reach of the small investor, the par value of the shares of the company is placed at $1.

A subscription for less than ten shares will not be accepted.

Stock in a similar organization formed in Prince Rupert is now worth three times its initial selling price, and no more stock can be obtained.

Think over this carefully and try to realize what it will mean to you to have your money safely invested in the growing city of Prince Rupert. Think of the millions that have been made in Vancouver, Seattle, San Francisco, and other Western seaports and of the million to be made in Prince Rupert in the immediate future. You are entitled to your share, and an investment in this Company will bring it to you. It is not a speculation, but a safe and sound investment within the reach of everyone. The men who will administer the affairs of this Company know the value of property and the Company will reap the benefit of their knowledge and their experience in handling matters of this kind. This Company will pay big dividends from the start and the stock will increase in value rapidly.

Reservations for this stock are being made now. We want you to become a stockholder.

IF YOU WILL FILL OUT THE ACCOMPANYING COUPON AND SEND IT TO US WE WILL MAIL YOU COMPLETE INFORMATION WITH BOOKLET DESCRIPTIVE OF PRINCE RUPERT.

Prince Rupert now has miles of graded streets, sidewalks and sewers.

Work has commenced in Prince Rupert on a twenty thousand ton drydock and shipbuilding plant, which will be the equal of any in the western world and which when finished will cost $2,500,000.00.

The Canadian Fish and Cold Storage Company has already spent nearly three-quarters of a million on its plant and equipment in Prince Rupert. This plant is the largest single unit cold storage plant in the world.

The late President C. M. Hays of the Grand Trunk System, stated that one hundred million bushels of wheat would be shipped yearly from Prince Rupert on the completion of the Panama Canal.

Northern British Columbia is on the eve of the greatest development in the history of the province. Prince Rupert will reap the greatest benefit owing to its position and resources.

Prince Rupert is the distributing point for the numerous fertile valleys which are now being settled. Millions of acres of the finest agricultural lands are available in the Skeena, Naas, Kitsumkalum, Lakelse and Bulkley Valleys.

The Prince Rupert Hydro-Electric Company, which is controlled by the Western Canada Power Company, is spending an immense sum of money in the development of power in order to supply the demand for cheap power in Prince Rupert and vicinity.

The Grand Trunk Pacific Railway is spending millions in the construction of its terminals in Prince Rupert in order to be ready for the opening of the line in 1914.

Coal deposits in the country tributary to Prince Rupert are among the most extensive in the world.

OUR PLOWING PEERS

THEY WILL FIND PICKERING DIFFERENT FROM LONDON.

Lord Hyde and Lord Somers, Who Have Come to the Dominion to Live Near to Nature, Ar Members of the Most Exclusive Society in Great Britain, But They Are Thoroughly Democratic.

The small agricultural village of Pickering, distant some twenty-five miles from Toronto, can boast of a distinction that is unique in Canada—unique, in fact, in all the British dominions overseas, says The Toronto Star Weekly. There are many people in Canada who have never seen a lord. There are even many who have no desire to see one. But Pickering has lately become the abode not merely of one lord, but of two, so favored is it—two real, live lords, who have come there not to "lord it" over, but to fraternize with, the simple, small community. Two lords who have exchanged the ermine for the overalls, the coronet for the wideawake! One of these—the elder—is a lord by courtesy merely. But he bears an historic name. For the Villiers—Lord Hyde's family name is Villiers—have, ere now, played prominent parts on the British political stage. And he himself occupies the important and dignified position of Deputy Lieutenant of Hertfordshire—of which fair English county his father, the Earl of Clarendon, is his Majesty's Lord Lieutenant—and is a "Justice of Peace in his own county simple as he stands" at Pickering. He is, moreover, a first cousin of the Earl of Derby and also of Lord Ampthill, and is a slightly remoter kinsman of the Earl of Lytton. But the younger of the two Pickering lords—Lord Somers—is a full-fledged hereditary legislator, and a descendant of one of the most famous of Lord Chancellors. He is duly entitled both to speak and to vote in the House of Lords. [illegible] when the Home Rule bill reaches that bourne whence so many Liberal travelers, in the shape of contentious bills, return rejected, his voice or vote is required in connection with it, he will have to be fetched, like Cincinnatus from the plow. But he will probably go less willingly. For Lord Hyde told the writer that both of them meant to put in eighteen months, at all events, on their farm at Pickering before they went home to England for a holiday.

It should, perhaps, be mentioned, for the benefit of those interested in niceties of etiquette, that, although Lord Hyde is merely a courtesy peer, while Lord Somers is a Lord of Parliament, yet the former, as the eldest son of an earl, has the advantage of the latter in the table of social precedency. So that, at social functions at Pickering, it will be Lord Hyde first, and not Lord Somers, who will act as escort to the lady of highest rank present.

How do the aristocrats impress Pickering? Very favorably, "so far as we have seen them," seems the pretty general village verdict, as given, with characteristic rural caution, to The Star Weekly. "They will talk to anybody," the writer was told, "just as if it was you and me talking together." In fact, there seemed a good deal of surprise that they were so affable and unaffected. There seemed to be an idea that a lord would necessarily expect the populace to prostrate themselves before him. And this was couple with not a little kindly feeling for these particular peers, inasmuch head with regard to it new arrivals—an idea, too, which argues well for its common sense, and which is by no means impossible of fruition. In these days, when coronets assert their market value by wedding heiresses to millions—"millionairesses, as we may be permitted to call them—is it too much to expect that the residence in one's midst of two wearers of that could, in law, be worn? One is not thinking, at the moment, of the direct cash benefit which the arrival of the august immigrants may portend, but of the pecuniary consequences which it will very likely bring in its train. We have our own tuft-hunters in Ontario. After all, what sport so splendid as hunting the "tuft"—it has none of the danger of fox hunting, and it holds out higher hopes of being in at the death (probably from boredom!). And may not some of these be suddenly seized with the idea that there are less salubrious spots in the world than Pickering? At present, there is mud in its roads aplenty. But the mud will disappear, and why of the Province of Saskatchewan passed an act forbidding the employment of white girls in such establishments. This law came into force on May 1st, and the first trouble came in Moose Jaw. This city has more Chinese and Japanese residents than any other city in the province. The Chinese would not likely make trouble of their own accord, but led by the Japanese they are assisting in the discussion. The Japanese take the ground that their rights are being curtailed, they being naturalized British subjects. They are prepared to contest the act as a question of international law before, if need be, the Canadian Supreme Court or even the British Privy Council.

THE WINTER TRAIL.

The Trip of the Peace River Homesteader Into Town Is a Rare Treat.

The oxen drive up to the door of the homesteader's sod-roofed shack, bedding and grub-box are thrown by the baled hay on the sleigh rack, and hurrah for civilization! The drive may be two hundred, five, seven hundred or more miles. But what is that? The grub-box is the main thing (with good weather and luck).

In the grub-box you will find plenty of small bannocks—these will not freeze as solid as brad and can be rapidly thawed out. There is a bag of boiled potatoes, frozen, likewise one of chopped meat patties, and the bacon—bacon which is always with the Peace River freighter. A pail of syrup, granite cup, plate, a butcher knife, fork, spoon, fry-pan and copper tea-pail complete the outfit.

At noon, while the oxen or horses eat their hay, the traveler cooks and eats his dinner by a fire in the open. If there is no water available, he melts snow in his tea-pail, it occasionally being necessary to melt snow for the oxen as well when the frost has gone to the bottom of every creek. Western animals will lick considerable snow, but the waterhole in the river is met with delight by man and ox.

And supper—why, that's just another meal prepared in the same way, but this time camp is made, i.e., the team is, if possible, sheltered in a clump of spruce or willow. Dry branches, hay or preferably spruce boughs are thrown near the campfire—the big, heating campfire which follows the cooking fire—to insulate the sleeper from the snow or frozen ground under him.

Very few people are so reckless as to travel after night. It doesn't pay, except on a few stretches of good trail, well known to the driver. Lake and river trails are now and then used in good moonlight.

It is roll up his bed before daylight, feed the oxen, breakfast and away in the same manner as before, until within range of the bunk-houses. Facility is then afforded for eating food and provender under shelter. The old roadhouse had a mud and pole fireplace, and also ground space for bedding when there was no floor. The interior lighting consisted of a small space cut in the log walls and covered with a flour bag. The more pretentious stopping place provides a cook stove, water, table, and in some instances bunks, otherwise a bunk-house and eating house. Hay and oats are usually on sale for horses and oxen, which are housed in a more or less comfortable stable. These stables are often in sad need of chinking and very wet in springtime. And this is the life of the trail for days, weeks and sometimes longer. Thus men, and frequently their wives and children, pass south north, east and west. But women, especially new settlers, prefer the caboose, which, at least, is an independent, if at times a desperately seasick, institution.

When the city is reached all supplies for the coming year must be ordered, collected, packed and well roped on the sleigh for the return trip. Occasionally the homesteader, along with his comrades—he always travels with others when possible — has an "Oh-be-joyful," which is usually curtailed by the shallowness of his purse, but this is gradually growing less frequent. The settler in northern Alberta lives beyond the alcohol belt.

Theatres, picture shows, hotel dining rooms and various places of individual interest are eagerly visited. The effect is deliriously intoxicating by way of sharp contrast to the more or less isolated life of that pioneer.

Then comes the return trip. And many a strange incident occurs wherein the man who does not carry the rudiments of a mechanic's shop in his head or his hand is badly handicapped. Sleighs will break, runners curl under their loads, dogs snap and let loads slide back in steep places, sometimes dragging a team down, and off their feet at that. Roughlocks dip and loads crash down steep hills. Block and tackle are called into requisition. There are also upsets. Every trail has its dead oxen, horses and little dead colts. Yet your westerner pushes on through plain or tall timbers, ever with an eye for lost horse or ox shoes, and, where there is no forge, shoes his own horse, even taking chances on wire nails, which he drives in the hoof with the back of his axe.—Lila E. Clendenan in The Saturday Globe.

Orientals Object.

The question of the employment of white girl labor in Oriental business houses is a live question in the larger Canadian cities, but especially in Western Canada. There a large number of Chinese and Japanese are owners of laundries, eating houses and even general stores, and these have been accustomed to employ white girls Recently the Legislature

A Woman's Reason.

A Possible Explanation.

Junior Partner—Slowpay has made an assignment, but he says the creditors won't lose anything.

Senior Partner—Perhaps he means that they wouldn't have got anything anyhow.

Some reasons why Oakdale Park offers a gilt-edged investment:

"It has the best car service of any restricted residence district either inside or outside the city.

"Its proximity to Winnipeg's largest and most beautiful city park.

WINNIPEG PROPERTY

Has made FORTUNES for SMALL INVESTORS, and there is More Money being made TODAY than ever before in the History of the CITY.

Why you should buy in Oakdale Park:

Because: "It is the centre of a 500 acre restricted residential area.

Because: "It is farther from the smoke, dust and noise of railways than any Residence District inside or outside of the City, and with better car service."

Western Canada is the World's Attraction

The United States cannot keep people from realizing the GREATEST OPPORTUNITY ever offered, to secure Independent fortunes, by locating Homes in Western Canada. WINNIPEG is growing by leaps and bounds—A SUBSTANTIAL, PERMANENT GROWTH. VACANT HOUSES ARE UNKNOWN and yet Building is more active than ever.

The history of Crescentwood will be repeated in Oakdale. Where in the former 5 or 6 years ago lots were sold at $15 to $25 per foot, with the same building restrictions as Oakdale Park has to-day, and now $80 to $150 per foot is being paid in Crescentwood and residences to the value of $10,000 to $100,000 are being erected. History will repeat this in Pakdale, but in less time, as it has better Electric Car Service now.

A REMARKABLE MAN.

Earl of Durham Was an Ardent Builder of Empire.

One of the most interesting and remarkable characters conspicuous in the political history of Canada is the Earl of Durham. He was Governor-General of Canada for about five months, and he never held another post in the colonial service, and yet he solved the problem of colonial government and laid down the lines on which government in Canada has been carried on, almost from his time down to the present day, and have been applied, not only to Canada, but to every self-governing dominion beyond the seas. That they are self-governing is because Lord Durham's doctrine has been accepted and put into practice. Lord Durham's pointed the way, and other have followed it.

Baldwin and Lafontaine are commonly spoken of as the apostles of the principle of responsible government. And so they were. They taught it to the people of Upper and Lower Canada, and won its acceptance at the polls. The Earl of Elgin put it into practice. And here is another link connecting Lord Durham with Canadian public life, for the Earl of Elgin was the son-in-law of the Earl of Durham, and to the son-in-law fell the task of giving effect to the plan the father-in-law had designed.

For other reasons besides that of being the foundation-builder of the true colonial policy, can the Earl of Durham be called a remarkable man. His character and his work are the subject of a sketch by Mr. C. P. Lucas, published in a recent issue of The Royal Colonial Institute Journal. Writing of the man, Mr. Lucas says that the Earl of Durham was "made up of strangely contradictory elements. He was an aristocrat of the aristocrats, and at the same time a Radical of the Radicals. While he was a pronounced Radical he was a no less pronounced Imperialist. . . . The fact of his having been from childhood master of a great inheritance, couple with indifferent health, probably accounted for some of his characteristics. He was arrogant, overbearing and pompous, an uncomfortable bedfellow for his colleagues."

His achievements in the public life of Great Britain were not conspicuous. "He had, it is true, taken a prominent part in shaping the first Reform bill, and he was a recognised leader of the Radical Wing of the Whig Party." The only political office he ever held in England was the nominal one of Lord Privy Seal in the Ministry of his father-in-law, Lord Grey; and for two years he was Ambassador to Russia. And still, writes Mr. Lucas, "he was beyond question a master builder; and yet he did not build himself, but taught others to build. . . His name lives solely as that of the author of a most notable report on Canada. ."

In his youth he had served in the army. For his entrance into the Lower Canadian capital he put on the gorgeous uniform of a full general. Then mounting a white charger, and surrounded by a large and brilliant military staff, he rode through the streets of Quebec to the Castle of St. Louis, then the residence of the Governor-General. When he rode out on subsequent occasions his staff, it is said, was almost as showy as that of an Eastern Prince. "The magnificent appointments of Lady Durham's drawing-room were a marvel; royal feasts were given at Castle St. Louis. And all the time Durham was half an invalid, confined to the house for days, with the shadow of his early death already upon him."

A Safe Bet.

He was showing his friends his new watch, made of the new metal, unbreakable—cost him six hundred dollars.

His seven friends were dubious of its tensile strength.

"Tell you what we do, boys," he said. "You put up five dollars each against my six hundred dollar watch. I'll put it to the test. If it breaks I'll lose the watch. All you'll lose is the thirty-five."

They didn't think it out quite clearly, but the wager was made.

He hurled the watch against a brick wall. It broke into a thousand pieces.

"Well, boys, I lose the six hundred dollar watch," he said with a long face as he gathered up the money; dumbfounded they saw him do it. Knowing that all was not right they examined what was left of the watch; it wasn't even nickel-plated.

T. Ambrose Woods, Toronto, whose horse Kelvin won the King's plate, tells the story; he was one of the contributors.—Canadian Courier.

The Great Ice Age.

It has been known during a long time that in western Europe man existed during the glacial epoch. We now know that the great ice age consisted of different glacial times separated by interglacial times. In glacial times the snow line dropped 3,000 feet or 4,000 feet below its present level in the Alps, whereas in interglacial periods it lay about 1,000 feet higher than at present. Thus the temperature seems to have been higher in the interglacial periods than it is now.

Dr. A. H. U. Colquhoun.

Dr. A. H. U. Colquhoun has been elected president of the Canadian Club of Toronto. It is a position that does not go by promotion nor by election, as a president is selected each year from among the members by a representative committee created for the special purpose of finding the best man available. An excellent choice has been made on this occasion. Mr. Colquhoun is Deputy Minister of Education for Ontario, was a gold medallist of McGill, and received an honorary LL.D. from Queen's. In journalism he occupied a place in the front rank before accepting the post of Deputy Minister. While he is a Conservative he is more a student than a combatant in politics and is a recognized authority on Canadian political history.

Dr. Colquhoun, side from being a collector of Canadian books and pamphlets, seeks diversion from his official duties in long country walks, in an occasional game of golf at the Lambton Club, and in trout and bass fishing.

Paternal Confidence.

The Young Man (with some embarrassment)—There is one question you haven't asked me yet Mr. Kurpop. You haven't wanted to know whether or not I think I can make a living for your daughter.

The Other Man—That isn't necessary, Henry. She'll see that you make the living, all right, if she's at all like her mother, and I think she is.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH WEST LAND REGULATIONS.

ANY PERSON who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years old, may homestead a quarter section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. The applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for the district. Entry by proxy may be made at any agency, on certain conditions by father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of intending homesteader.

Duties—Six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within nine miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres solely owned and occupied by him or by his father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister.

In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt a quarter section alongside his homestead. Price $3.00 per acre. Duties—Must reside upon the homestead or pre-emption, six months in each of six years from date of homestead entry (including time required to earn homestead patent) and cultivate 50 acres extra.

A homesteader who has exhausted his homestead right and cannot obtain a pre-emption may enter for a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $3.00 per acre. Duties—Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate fifty acres and erect house worth $300.00.

CITY AND DISTRICT

DASHES HERE AND THERE BY TIMES REPORTERS.

Girls Wanted.

Girls Wanted by the Canadian General Electric Co. D-145

Issued Monday.

The Times will be issued on Monday (Dominion Day) but not on Tuesday.

T. A. S. Picnic.

The annual T.A.S. picnic will be held on Monday, July 1st, to T.A.S. Park. The grounds are in good shape and a good program of sports are to be held, for which prizes will be given.

Choir Excursion.

The Choir excursion of the Charlotte street Methodist church leaves this morning per the steamer Geneva at 8.30 o'clock for Idyl Wyld, where the day will be spent in games, sports, etc. The excursionists will return home this evening.

Heavier Punishment.

J. J. Kelso, superintendent of the Provincial Department of Neglected Children, in his report to Provincial Secretary Hanna, recommends that more strong legislation be enacted for the protection of wives and children from husbands and fathers who desert them.

Charge of Cruelty.

In the Police Court yesterday evidence was heard in a case where a mother and father were charged with cruelty to their child. The information was laid by Mr. Geo. Cochrane for the Children's Aid Society, and the case was dismissed, the parents being warned as to their future conduct.

Church Parade To-morrow.

The Brockville and Kingston regiments and the 57th regiment will parade at the Armouries Sunday afternoon and march to St. John's church for divine service at four o'clock. Company inspection of the 57th regiment was held on Thursday night, by Col. Benson, D.O.C. Third Military District Area.

THE NORTH AMERICAN LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY

Is practically a mutual one, with the protection afforded by a guarantee fund upon which interest is paid. While such fund is only $60,000.00, the guarantors are liable for five times this amount; so that the position admirably reflects the best points of stock and mutual companies. The Directorate is composed of both policy holders and guarantors, who are equally interested in its management. Home Office, Toronto.

Headaches Over the Eyes Means Frontal Catarrh

APT TO GET INTO EARS, CAUSING DEAFNESS, OR TO REACH THE LUNGS AND END IN CONSUMPTION.

You Can Cure Catarrh in Any Stage by Breathing the Healing, Balsamic Fumes of Catarrhozone, and Here is Proof.

Mr. Uric Berault, a young gentleman who has lived for years in Sweetsburg, Que., inherited catarrh from his mother. The disease spread through his system until he was a physical wreck.

"As a child," said Mr. Berault, "I was prone to an ulceration of the mucous lining of the throat and nasal passages.

"I grew pale and emaciated, lost all desire for food, and got into such dreadful condition that my friends said Catarrh was fairly eating me up.

"Every organ of my body seemed affected, and the doctor said it was the first stage of consumption. He advised Catarrhozone and I inhaled it ten minutes at a time every few hours, and was rewarded in a few days by a wonderful improvement.

"Catarrhozone pleased me and the doctor so well that I used it continually, and took Ferrozone Tablets after each meal to build up my strength. In about three weeks I was quite recovered and the doctors says no remedy but Catarrhozone could work such a miracle.

"Everyone in town knows I was just about dead with catarrh and my cure is an evidence of what Catarrhozone can do. It is a pleasure to recommend Catarrhozone."

Two months' treatment, large size, prize $1, and guaranteed. Small size, 50c, all reliable dealers or the Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Ont. Beware of dangerous substitutes and imitations for "Catarrhozone."

Local Man Prominent.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Turner, sr., who are on a continental trip, were members of a committee of arrangements for deck sports on the Mauretania. Mr. Turner being chairman. Mr. Turner was also honored with the chairmanship for an entertainment in aid of the Seamen's Charities at Liverpool and New York, also held on the Mauretania. Mr. Turner contributed a song, "Sparkling Moselle."

Patriotic Service.

Knox church will hold patriotic services to-morrow. This is in accord with the universal practice of the Presbyterian church in Canada. Suitable music will be used and the church will be decorated for the day. In the afternoon, His Honor Judge Huycke, will give a patriotic address. The boy scouts will attend in uniform. In the evening Rev. Mr. Keith will speak especially to young men, his subject being, "The Friendly Foe."

Presentation to Mr. Kelly.

Mr. J. W. Kelly, B.A., principal of the King Edward School was given an agreeable surprise on Wednesday afternoon, when at recess his pupils presented him with a reproduction of one of Turner's masterpieces in a frame of Caucasian walnut. Mr. Kelly, in an excellent speech, expressed his thanks to the pupils and his regret in leaving them. Mr. Kelly is taking up the duties as teacher in the Faculty of Education, Queen's University.

At Murray Street.

Dominion Day will be observed with a special patriotic service at the Murray street Baptist church tomorrow morning in which the children of the Sunday school will take part. Arrangements have been made to have the little folk march into the church. The church will be appropriately decorated for the occasion, and the choir will sing "O Canada," while Mr. Asa Huycke will sing a patriotic solo. Rev. J. R. Webb, pastor of the church will preach an appropriate sermon.

DON'T FORGET—The cheapest and best excursion by rail and boat is next Saturday, June 29th. This gives you a chance to be in town for Monday's celebration—Train leaves G.T.R. Station, 8.30 a.m., for Lakefield, then by steamer "Stoney Lake" to Burleigh Falls. Returning through the lakes to Wolfe street wharf via Lift Lock. Get your tickets at Coleman Bros., 426 George. Round trip 60c. Refreshments supplied on boat at reasonable charges. St. George's Choral Society.

Lt.-Col. Stevenson Honored.

At a friendly gathering in the mess room at the Armouries on Thursday evening, Lieut.-Col. A. Stevenson, who had been in charge of the 57th regiment from 1907 to year 1911, was honored by a formal presentation. He was the recipient of a valuable gift, a token of appreciation of the good work done by him in the regiment and the good fellowship of the present officers. In a neat speech Col. Stevenson thanked the gathering for its kindness. The gift was accompanied by a beautiful bouquet of flowers for Mrs. Stevenson.

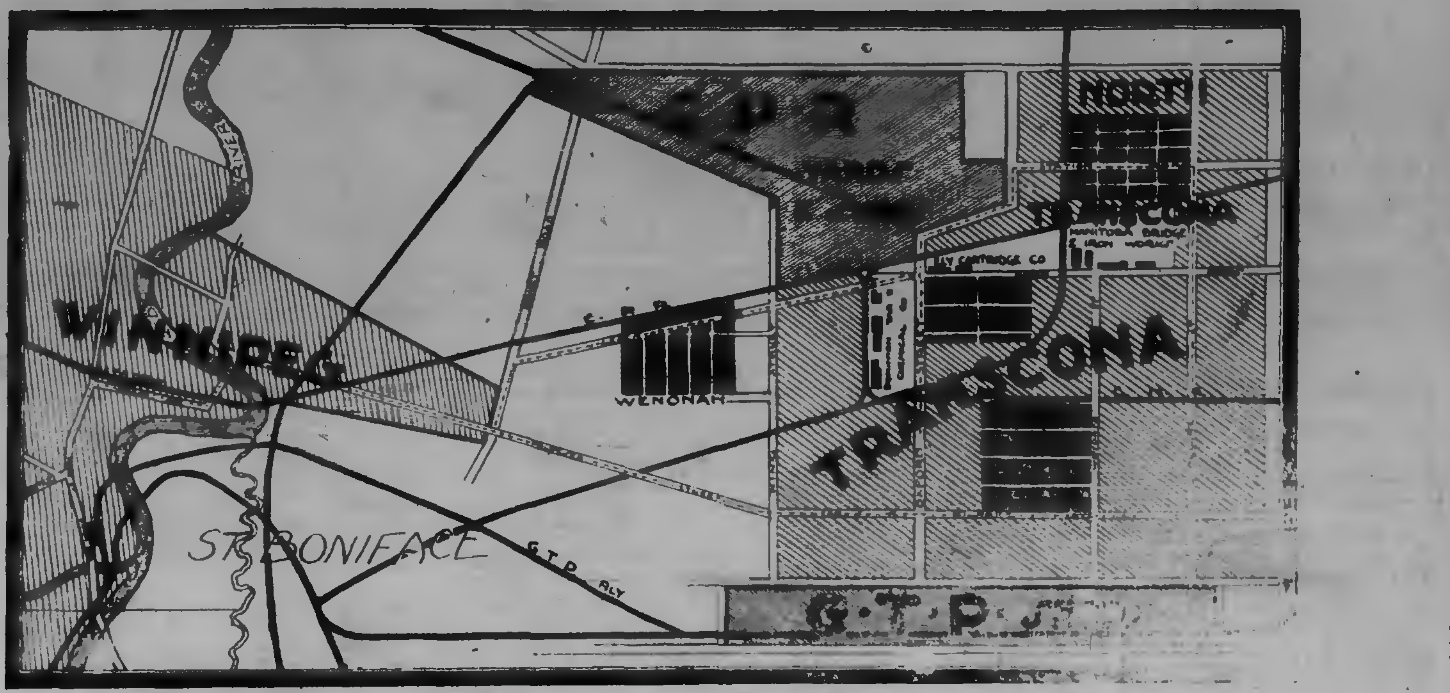
A Twenty-Two Pounder.

Mr. Pickens, manager of the Singer Sewing Machine Co., Ottawa, who was the guest of Mr. J. B. Windsor, 172 Lake street, while out fishing yesterday morning in Little Lake, caught a 22 pound lunge. This is without doubt the largest lunge pulled out of the water in this vicinity for some time, and Mr. Pickens is naturally proud of his catch. It might be mentioned that Mr. Windsor, who is quite a fisherman, caught six lunge on Monday last, the first day of the fishing season, and five on the following day, all taken from Little Lake.

Trip to Stoney Lake

On Tuesday, July 2nd, Steamer Islinda will leave Wolfe-st. wharf at 8.30 a.m., with passengers and freight for all Stoney Lake points.

Take Our Advice and Invest in Transcona To-day



Winnipeg's Railway and Industrial Centre

TRANSCONA is rapidly becoming the recognized manufacturing centre of Winnipeg, and will be to Winnipeg what Toronto Junction is to Toronto.

The Grand Trunk Pacific are rushing to complete their immense shops at Transcona, one unit of theses are already finished, the machinery is now being tested, and in a few weeks' time one thousand men will be employed permanently and other sections will be pleted as rapidly as possible, and will give employment to a small army of mechanics.

The C. P. R. are now building the largest railway yard in the world at Transcona, together with elevators, round houses and other terminal facilities. Several industrial plants are already located in Transcona, and many others will be located there in the near future. The Dominion Tar and Chemical Co., and the Ely Cartridge Company now have their plants in operation. The Manitoba Bridge and Iron Works are building an enormous plant, and expect to have a part of it completed by the first of the year.

The G. T. P. shops will give employment to four or five thousand men, and in the near future the C. P. R. will require fully one thousand mechanics and yard men and the several manufacturing plants will require sufficient men to bring the total number of employees in Transcona up to fifteen thousand, this will mean a city with a population of over fifty thousand people.

Transcona has been incorporated, a progressive Council elected, and contracts have been already let for several mile of sidewalks, streets graded, electric light, and the question of sewage is now under consideration.

Investors who buy in Transcona to-day will make large profits. Real estate values in Transcona are exceptionally low, considering the possibilities of this young City. Lots that we are now offering for $5.00 per ft. and upwards will be worth from $100.00 to $300.00 per ft., in less than five years' time.

Any Investor can make 100 p.c. or more on their money in a very short time by investing in Transcona Lots.

STUDY THE MAP.—Note the Location of our Property—Shown in Black.

We have several of the choicest locations in Transcona. We have made a specialty of Transcona Property from the very first, and control the best buys in all parts of Transcona.

Prices: $5 to $20 per ft., including Kildare and Oxford frontage. Terms: Quarter Cash, Balance in 6, 12, 18, and 24 months.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Received Appointment.

Mr. Jas. Lang, formerly dealer in gents' furnishings on George street, has received the Appointment of Appraiser at the Local Customs House. Mr. Lang was the successful one of a list of applicants sent to the Minister and was subject to a gruelling examination by the Inspector. This examination required a considerable degree of education, as well as experience and Mr. Lang, who for years was in the hardware business and drygoods business, was also a matriculated student at the Collegiate Institute. This gave him a distinct advantage.

An Enjoyable Picnic.

The officers, teachers and scholars of St. Paul's Sunday school held a most enjoyable and successful picnic yesterday afternoon to Jackson Park. A large number attended the picnic, arriving in Jackson Park on special street cars which left Central Park at one-thirty o'clock. At the park a fine program of sports including events for all who attended were run off and a splendid outing was brought to a close by a round trip through the city on the street cars. Booths selling ice cream and soft drinks were arranged in the park so that all could be refreshed during the heat of the afternoon.

Cadets at Barriefield.

It has been announced that the cadets corps of the third divisional area over 1,200 strong will be under canvas for training purposes, from July 17th until the 22nd at Barriefield. These cadet corps are all under the supervision of Col. T. Benson officer commanding the third division and it is understood that it is he who is chiefly responsible for the camp of the boys. The corps of the third division are as follows: Peterborough Collegiate Institute, Morrisburgh High School, Norwood High School, Ottawa Public Schools, Lindsay Collegiate Institute, Napanee Collegiate Institute, Cobourg Cadets Vankleek High School, Juniorat-du-Sacre Coeur, (Ottawa) and others. It is the idea to give the boys an enjoyable as well as a profitable time.

LITTLE LOCAL LINES

Belleville is agitated by the prospects of another railway along their lakefront.

Lindsay is beginning to discover that the garbage of a town presents a problem of some difficulty.

The four troops of local boy scouts held a meeting last night in the armouries.

The Rev. F. J. Sawers, who has just returned from Petawawa, reports all to be well at the military camp there.

The regular meeting of Lansdowne Lodge, S.O.E., will be held Saturday, June 29th at 8 o'clock, instead of Monday, July 1.

Col. Clegg received a telegram yesterday afternoon, which stated that the 41st regiment of Brockville, will leave Saturday night and arrive in Peterborough Sunday morning.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Mary Ann Green.

At the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Wm. Savigny, 180 Aylmer street, the death occurred yesterday morning at two o'clock, of Mary Ann Smith, relict of the late Charles E. Green.

The late Mrs. Green had been ailing for some time. She was born in Kingston 71 years ago, but the last twenty years of her life had been spent in Peterborough, during which time she made numerous friends. Prior to her illness Mrs Green attended George street Methodist church. Three sons and one daughter mourn her loss. They are Messrs. Charles Henry, of Indian Head; Hiram of Greensbury, Ont.; William E. of Peterborough, and Mrs. Wm. Savigny.

The funeral will take place from the residence of Mr. Savigny, Monday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, to the Little Lake cemetery. 6Service at the house at 2 o'clock.

Please omit flowers.

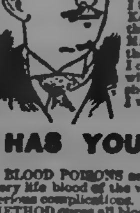
VARICOSE VEINS CURED

NO NAMES USED WITHOUT WRITTEN CONSENT.

Confined to His Home for Weeks.



"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits in youth brought on Varicose Veins. When I worked hard the aching would become severe and I was often laid up for a week at a time. My family physician told me an operation was my only hope—but I dreaded it. I tried several specialists, but soon found out all they wanted was my money. I commenced to look upon all doctors as little better than rogues. One day my boss asked me why I was off work so much and I told him my condition. He advised me to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, as he had taken treatment from them himself and knew they were square and skillful. I wrote them and got THE NEW METHOD TREATMENT. My progress was somewhat slow and during the first month's treatment I was somewhat discouraged. However, I continued treatment for three months longer and was rewarded with a complete cure. I could only earn [illegible] a week in a machine shop before treatment, now I am earning [illegible] and never loose a day. I wish all sufferers knew of your valuable treatment.
HENRY C. LOCUST.

HAS YOUR BLOOD BEEN DISEASED?

BLOOD POISONS are the most prevalent and most serious diseases. They sap the very life blood of the victim and unless entirely eradicated from the system will cause serious complications. Beware of Mercury. It may suppress the symptoms—our NEW METHOD cures all blood diseases.

YOUNG OR MIDDLE AGED MEN.—Imprudent acts or later excesses have broken down your system. You feel the symptoms stealing over you. Mentally, physically and vitally you are not the man you used to be or should be. Will you heed the danger signals?

READER Are you a victim? Have you lost hope? Are you intending to marry? Has your blood been diseased? Have you any weakness? Our NEW METHOD TREATMENT will cure you. RESOLUTION ATTACKING FALLON NOW BEFORE FRENCH CONGRESS

Resolution Says That He Has Abused His Authority In Forbidding Priests To Go To French Congress

Quebec, June 29.—A sensation has been caused at the Congress of the French Language by the publication of an announcement to the effect that Mgr. Fallon, Bishop of London had forbidden his priests to absent themselves from the diocese for more than a day during the Congress.

There is a large section of the delegates who favor expressing a strong protest in the form of a resolution against the action of the Bishop and a resolution was in fact drafted and presented to one of the sections of the congress yesterday. It caused a lively discussion, and after several amendments had been suggested it was decided to leave the matter over for a general discussion.

The first resolution drafted was a particularly strong one. It was presented by Mr. Paul Leduc, a young lawyer of Quebec, and read as follows:

A Strong Resolution.

"Whereas Mgr. Fallon, Bishop of London, has forbidden his priests to absent themselves from the diocese for more than a day during the congress of the French Language, at present being held at Quebec; and whereas Mgr. Fallon in acting thus has abused the authority conferred upon him by his title of Bishop of Holy Church of Rome, to deliberately prevent the French-Canadian priests of his diocese from assisting at the congress;

"Whereas Mgr. Fallon's conduct on this occasion as well as on many others, has given proof of his hostility to the French Language in Canada, and particularly in the diocese of London;

"Whereas the congress is the defence of the French language against its adversaries, whoever they are;

"Whereas, moreover, it is time the French-Canadians openly express their opinion on the attitude of Mgr. Fallon in regard to the French language;

"This congress blames and censures energetically, though respectfully, the conduct of Mgr. Fallon on this occasion, and asks the secretary of the congress to send him a copy of the present resolution."

WHAT IS THE MATTER?

On Saturday the Lakefield Lock Was Unworkable for Lack of Water—The Second Lock to Give Out Within a Few Days.

A few days ago when the steamer Stoney Lake was on her way north, she was held up for a couple of hours in Lock No. 3, for lack of water. It was found out later on that there was really plenty of water, but the stop-logs had not been put in property and the leakage in consequence, together with the quantity run off at the power house situated at this dam, made navigation impossible for a time.

Now it is the Lock at Lakefield which is in trouble. The steamer Islands was stranded in this lock on Saturday, unable to proceed until Mr. Frank Fairen took up a force of men and put things in shape. This means a serious loss to the Stoney Lake Navigation Company, as it practically cancelled the days' trip on each occasion.

The Lockmaster at No. 3, is Mr. Sol. Barrette, and at Lakefield, Mr. J. McWilliams. Both were appointed by the late Government, so that if negligence is shown by these men after investigation it cannot reflect on the present authorities. It seems to be either a feast or a famine—too much water or too little. It is not the actual loss in dollars and cents that is the chief concern, but every block of this kind is a black eye to the canal.

NAMES MR. PETER RYAN FOR THE $3,000 CHEQUE

Travers Named Registrar as Recipient of the Mysterious Payment---Mr. Ryan's Strong Denial

"Have you anything further to give?" This was the significant question put to Travers by Mr. Frank Hodgins, K.C.

Travers replied:

"I have worried over this matter, and what I say will be from feeling for you, Mr. Commissioner, and my admiration of you. Before going to Ottawa, I was told by a party, by whom I cannot say, that I had better take $3,000 with me and give it to Mr. Peter Ryan. I went down without the $3,000, but I put a cheque in an envelope addressed to Mr Ryan. I marked it "C" and on the back put the number of Mr. Ryan's room. I put in my card, saying I would pay it in Toronto.

About six weeks later, the cheque was duly presented to me at my bank counter, and I gathered together the cash and paid it."

Mr. Hodgins asked: "Do you know who got the money?"

"No, I do not," replied Travers.

"Travers said he had met Ryan in the rotunda of the hotel when he had asked Calvert for an introduction. Ryan had said he might put in a good word for him and had suggested Emerson."

Mr. Peter Ryan was called to the witness stand.

"I am as innocent of connection as a babe in its mother's arms. I never seen the cheque. I never took a room in Ottawa, and I never stayed over night," said Mr. Ryan "I know nothing of the cheque, and I never saw it or the envelope. I never heard of it."

Toronto, June 29.

The most startling disclosure which has yet marked the proceedings of the Farmers Bank investigation dropped from the lips of Travers at noon to-day.

The sensation following his sudden confession of the details of the famous $3,000 marked cheque which has baffled the commission for months, sent a thrill of surprise about the court room.

With barely a moment's preliminary explanation Travers declared that acting on instructions he had taken $3,000 to Ottawa to be paid to Mr. Peter Ryan, Registrar of East Toronto. He had marked it "C," addressed it to Ryan and there his part had ended. What became of it he neither knew nor wanted to know

BRITISH LIBERAL PARTY HAS A NEW LAND POLICY

It Takes an Advance Stand, and Is Creating No Little Interest in Political Circles---Recent Bye-Elections Were Won With It the Main Plank

London, June 29.—The Liberal party is contemplating a new departure in politics. An influential section of the younger men, supported by some of the Cabinet, and led by Mr. Lloyd George, is now actively advancing a new land policy for England. It aims at compulsory purchasing of large estates, rebuilding of rural homes, and resettling the country with small holders.

The authorities have for some time been seriously alarmed at the steady growth of emigration of the most desirable elements of the English population. Last year half a million thrifty, healthy and industrious people, mostly young, left England for the overseas Dominions. Scotland's population is now stationary, owing to the migration to Canada, and the authorities are equally alarmed at the overwhelming rush of population towards the towns, and the depletion in the country.

Political Parties Interested.

Recently two bye-elections, at Holmfirth and North-West Norfolk, were won by Liberal candidates, who made the advanced land program the leading plank in their election policy. This lesson has not been lost on the Government. While the Government's program is not yet settled every influence is being used to make it adopt two main points—taxation of land values, and the settlement of small holders as tenants on state-owned land. By taxation of land values, it is hoped to compel owners of large estates to sell. Settlement of small holders may be undertaken under the direction and instruction of official guides. Both Unionists and Liberals are agreed that there must be a general scheme of re-housing country laborers. The Daily Mail (Unionist) has this week opened a campaign demanding this. The Unionists may bring an opposing scheme for settlement of small holders in land, while the Liberals advocate state ownership of land, and settlers being made state tenants. The Unionists prefer that small holders should be enabled to purchase land from the state on a long payment plan.

AN AGRESSIVE CHURCH

The News of Saturday publishes a letter from Canon Piercey, of Sturgeon Falls, in which an important question is raised. He asks if an incorporated company may take any portion of the taxes on its property away from the Public school and turn it over to a Separate school without producing conclusive proof that the alteration corresponds with the proportion of the stock in company held by Roman Catholics? In the specific case under review the Traders Bank building in Sturgeon Falls was assessed for the benefit of the Public school. The local manager of the Bank, no doubt virtually under the compulsion of the large French element in the population whose accounts he desired, notified the authorities that one-third of the assessment should be transferred to the Separate school.

Mr. Piercy appealed to the Court of Revision against such a change being made unless the Traders Bank produced evidence that one-third of its capital stock is owned by Roman Catholics. Such proof is required by the Ontario School law, but the Sturgeon Falls Court of Revision, comprising a majority of French-Canadians, overruled the objection, and the local Public school is deprived of a source of income without apparent legal justification. This is the situation as presented by the chairman of the Public School Board.

This local incident may not amount to much in itself, but a principle is at stake. Quiet pressure to secure its own ends by surreptitious means is constantly employed by the church authorities at North Bay and at many other points throughout Northern and Eastern Ontario. It is plainly clear from the recent Quebec conference that the hierarchy will abate none of its endeavors to extend its authority in Ontario and in Western Canada. Every instrument and creed are to be brought into play. Past efforts to push the French language in this Province will be maintained and the church will plant colonies in the West. No objection can be taken to these activities. The hierarchy is entitled to the rights guaranteed to it by the constitution. Beyond these, however, it must not be allowed to go.

THE SOLDIERS' SUNDAY PARADE

An Anglican Service in a Presbyterian Church—Whither Are We Drifting?

Editor Morning Times.

Dear Sir,—Being a few minutes early yesterday afternoon while attending the soldiers' service in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, I glanced over the "Order of Service" on the first page of which are the words—"This service is intended to be a great united offering of worship. There will be no choir and the clergy will merely lead the worship, &c.," and then follows a service, ANGLICAN throughout, and that too in a Presbyterian Church.

You see the picture of three individuals with hymn-book (Anglican?) in their hands arrayed in their white petticoats, no doubt to represent the first three "officiating clergy," whose names are on the last page, and who are to "lead the worship," for the pastor of St. Paul's is never thus attired. Who arranged that service? As a member I would like to ask—Was the pastor consulted? And is he in any way responsible? In it I found "The General Confession," and "The Absolution." Ah, whither are we drifting? Should the pastor's name been the very last item on the program? And those present know that it is in keeping with the insignificant part in the service he was given. Let any one read the service and he will see how out of place it was in a Presbyterian Church.

St. Paul's.

OLD HINKY DINKY.

Editor Morning Times

Sir,—The writen in the Examiner reminds me of Old Hinky Dinky, who used to edit a paper out West. When he had nothin else to talk about, he called Jim Jones a liar, although Jim had been dead thirty years, and he was continually callin on the people to exterminate the caterpillar, probably thinkin that the caterpillar and the Republican party was the same thing. There is nothin that the Examiner don't bark at, and the poor old man who loes the barkin, will have to carry out his master's instructions or get mauled and he'll get mauled anyway. Whenever he finds a sewer or frog pond to write about, he's in his glory, but he prefers misceprewentin even the frogs. To tellin the truth, he knows nothin about that whatever. He knows more about Conservative party than the Conservatives themselves, but like a bad little boy with a crooked stick, he likes to stir up the pool and make a mess of it if possible Most people call the Examiner the "Daily Sore Head," but "Puddin Head," is better.

Interesting Correspondence With Mr. Burnham Regarding Public Position

The Times publishes the following correspondence, not because Mr. Strickland asks us to publish it, but because it has been published already, and it may serve as a warning to others of his (supposed) class who think that the rank and file should be ignored in their favor.

Mr. Burnham is not that sort of man, as the correspondence shows. We have had more than one illuminating display of bad temper or bad faith, lately in political circles in Peterborough, much to the amusement of the people who know what is behind it, all in the way of mutual help in time of need:

The Examiner,
Peterborough, Ont.

Dear Sirs:—The enclosed letters I would be obliged if you would publish in your daily and weekly paper. You will see by the correspondence that I have the permission to do as I like in that respect by your representative of West Peterborough. Would be also pleased if The Times would do the same. If not kindly return the correspondence to 37 Starr avenue, Toronto.

Yours truly,
R. C. STRICKLAND.

Peterborough.

Dear Sir,—I am staying here for a short time, having some business with the Provincial Government, and on Saturday I met a gentleman who said you were asked to use your influence in getting me a Govt. appointment, and that you had replied "that you would do nothing of the kind on account of my having always been so friendly with J. R. Stratton and that you knew that I had voted for him at several elections."

Would you kindly let me know if there is any truth in this statement by return mail, and oblige.

Yours truly,
R. C. STRICKLAND.

R. C. Strickland, Esq.,

Dear Sir,—In your letter of June 24th, you state that I am reported to have said that I will do nothing in your support on account of you always having been so friendly with J. R. Stratton and voting for him, etc. I did not say that you voted for him because of course there are ballots at election. No, but in common with many others, I believe that you did for the simple reason that I have heard you strenuously defend him, and I know that once when I spoke sharply against him at a meeting in Lakefield, you made remarks by no means complimentary to me. In addition to that, when he was accused in the Gamey business, I was with you when you first heard of it and you flew into a passion and said that you didn't believe a word of it, and that J. R. Stratton was the best representative that West Peterborough ever had. While of course you are at liberty to say what you like, I am at liberty to draw my own conclusions. You are at liberty to make what use you like of this statement.

Yours truly,
(Signed) J. H. BURNHAM.

J. H. Burnham, Esq., M.P.,
Peterborough, Ont.

Dear Sir,—When I wrote you on the 24th inst., I expected an answer in a gentlemanly way. I did not expect a reply in a caddish style, and what is worse, a reply FALSE FROM BEGINNING TO END, and worse and worse, you KNEW IT TO BE SO. You see, Dear Burnham, for the present let me use the term "dear" for I am writing in all brotherly love) you have more than once been my guest and broken bread with me. I expected a courteous reply, as I would have been sure of as much from an Arab who had broken bread with me, and up to the time of receiving this letter thought you a white man.

I think one should always tell a friend of his faults, so bear with me if I seem unkind in using the chastening rod. In the first place there was SOMETHING ABOUT YOU THAT ALWAYS JARRED ON THE FEELINGS OF GENTLEMEN IN WHOSE SOCIETY YOU WERE OCCASIONALLY ADMITTED. I am not prepared to say whether this originated from your birth or bringing up. YOU ARE TO BE PITIED, not blamed for this objectionable feature of your composition. I once asked one of your most prominent citizens why you did not come up to camp with him as promised. HE REPLIED THAT YOU WERE TOO BUSY WALKING THE STREETS BLOWING YOUR OWN HORN. I did not believe this at the time, as it never was my nature to believe evil of my neighbor, until I had personal proof. In this respect, I could not do like you, rise before a large audience and condemn the Hon. J. R. Stratton before he had been found guilty: but as to your statement that I made remarks uncomplimentary to you and flew into a passion when you continue saying so, YOU

INSPECTING THE TRENT CANAL

ENGINEERS AT WORK

They Visited Rice Lake on Saturday and It Was Understood Will Devote Attention to the Buckhorn Dam.

On account of the facts disclosed by The Times, regarding Buckhorn dam, the Department at Ottawa has sent a couple of engineers to look over the waterway, and to report upon things as they find them. The unprecedented high water last spring was a serious matter to farmers and others owning and occupying property on the waterway above Buckhorn. The water was several feet higher than ever before. The reason of this is said to be on account of insufficient sluiceways being provided in the new dam to permit the water to escape. Whoever planned this structure may have some difficulty in putting up an explanation that will satisfy the Department, as it is expected the damages will amount to many thousands of dollars. It is only fair to say, however, that the plans were doubtless approved by the late Minister of Railways, and not by Hon. Mr. Cochrane or those under him.

On Saturday the engineers were taken to Rice Lake by the Bessie Butler, accompanied by Mr. J. H. McClellan, the Superintendent. They found the wharves all in good shape.

GO TO FLORIDA FOR HEALTH AND wealth.—The question is asked me repeatedly: Why, if all that is claimed for the climate and earning capacity of the land in Florida is true, how is it that only a percentage of the State's area is under cultivation? It is a fair question, and the answer is a simple one. After the war between the North and the South Florida found herself in a deplorable condition financially. The State Government leased hundred of thousands of acres of its best prairie and timber lands for periods running as high as 99 years. This latter period tied up the great Kissimmee Prairie until recently. It is now, however, in the hands of a splendid colonization company, whose selling agent is the Hunter Land Company, Kissimmee Prairie is in the Southern portion of Osceola County, and is noted for its fertility and uniformity of soil. It is the healthiest spot in North America, and every day in the year is a growing day. Write for maps, illustrated literature, excursion particulars and any desired information. Address Alf. Law, Ontario, Manager, 49 Cecil street, Toronto. D-6 in J4

PINE TAR CORDIAL

NUGENT'S SARSAPARILLA—PRICE FOR large bottle, 100 full doses, 85c, and well worth it, too. It's better to take no medicine at all than to depend upon cheap concoctions that are compounded to sell at a low price and a big profit just because there is a large demand for certain remedies at certain seasons of the year. There are so-called Sarsaparillas offered to us to sell to our customers at 75c a bottle that would bring us a larger profit than Nugent's Sarsaparilla sold at 85c. Nugent's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, arouses the torpid liver, drives out all impurities, cleanses and tones up the system, and helps Nature throw off the dullness that comes from the indoor life of winter. It arouses energy, brightens the eye, clears the brain, gives lightness to the movements. Nugent's Sarsaparilla is not the only thing you will find in this drug store. We make a specialty of Nugent's Remedies. Nugent Drug Co., 366 George St. directly opposite Creeman's store.

PAINTS.

THE LAW OF QUALITY IS AS SURE AS the law of Gravity. Gravity keeps both your feet on the ground. Quality "informs your judgment when you are on the "Ground Floor" in the matter of value. Martin-Senour's Paint is the Ground Floor of paint value. It makes good every time. It flows freely, has great covering capacity, shows a beautiful finish, and wears like iron. It will more than meet your expectations in quality brilliancy and durability. Campbell & Best, 134 Hunter St. Next to post office.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

A Japanese Decoration.

Speaking of New Year's celebrations in Japan, the Traveler's Gazette says: "Before each house entrance stand two pines, on the right a red stemmed one and on the left a black pine. Beside the pine trees stand slender bamboo canes, and the trees are joined above with a festoon of paper fringe and straw rope, ornamented with yellow, bitter oranges, bits of charcoal, lobsters and large bunches of red berries. The decoration is supposed to bring good luck."

Cooked In a Knapsack.

Charles XII. of Sweden invented the first portable military fireless cooker. He had a knapsack lined with hay to strap to a soldier's back. When starting on a march a big chicken was split open and the inside dressed clean and then filled with butter. In the chicken was placed a small cannon ball of hot iron. The hot cooking chicken was then placed in the hay knapsack. When the camp was pitched at evening the meat was deliciously cooked and all soaking in butter.

Exposed.

Transient—Was the show last night the real thing, as they advertised?

Uncle Eben—Real thing nothing! It was a fake. The boys exposed it. We got hold of the fellow who played the villain, and after riding him around town he finally confessed that he warn't no real villain after all; just pretendin'.

Not Fully Tested.

The Sense That Enables the Amoeba to Locate Its Prey.

Is it possible to see without eyes? Seeing is supposed to be due to the action of light on the retina of the eye, which sets up a disturbance. This is carried to the brain by means of the optic nerves. Let the idea of seeing be changed to becoming aware. An amoeba is at the bottom of the scale of living things. It is a very minute creature—a "bag of water," an expressive if homely description. A very thin membrane incloses a minute quantity of water which holds a dot, called the nucleus. The contents are liquid or semi-liquid, like white of an egg, and is protoplasm.

The animal has no eyes, ears, brain, nerves or any sense organ that can be detected in the new high power ultra violet microscope, yet it becomes aware of the existence of food in the adjacent water at quite a distance.

Suppose a man should be shipwrecked on an island and be the only human there. Let the island be five miles wide. In a year let another man be cast up by the sea on the opposite side. Then let the first man become suddenly aware that the other was on the island. This phenomenon would be comparable to the sensitiveness of an amoeba.

Suppose the food is an animal and seeks to escape the amoeba. It will find the job to be extremely difficult. No sooner does the amoeba become conscious of the presence of the other creature than it at once gives chase. Let the fleeing animal suddenly change its course precisely as does a rabbit pursued by a dog; then the amoeba "cuts across" exactly as does the dog, overtakes its prey and swallows it—i.e., wraps itself, its substance, around the creature, which is soon digested.

The question is, Can this be called seeing in the literal meaning of the word? Whatever is the true explanation, it is now unknown to science.

STORY OF KEEWATIN.

Keewatin, which has been divided up between Manitoba and Ontario, has withstood the progress of organized Canada for a long time and is the oldest part of the original grant to the Hudson Bay Co. The Swampy Crees of the Churchill and Nelson districts were known by the company's men as "the Home Guard." Port Nelson was for long the principal port of the company and the outlet for the great area of the western plains, the territory reached by the Red River on the south, the Assiniboine or the Saskatchewan on the west, with the connecting water routes of the Athabasca region besides. By way of the Nelson River came such European supplies as the Canadian prairies and the wooded foothills of the Rocky Mountains' eastern slope knew for all the years succeeding the English conquest of Quebec up till the advent of American traders following the building of the American railroads. By the Nelson went out the sole products of that great area—buffalo robes, beaverskins, wolf, grizzly bear, and the pelts of all the fur-bearing animals. By canoes and York boats traveled the sole and complete commerce of the country, and the Nelson River was the chief highway by which those cargoes, gathered from the farthermost edges of the watershed, concentrated at Norway House and came down to the sea coast at Port Nelson, for shipment to London, England. There were other harbors—Fort Churchill, for example — where the company built a great stone fortress, and where the French came and seized it without a blow struck in its defence. But the Churchill River was not so navigable for canoes and York boats or not as direct a route to the populous Indian territory of the prairies where was most of the trade done in those days. The harbor at Fort Chuchill afforded better conveniences for ships, however, having deep water close to land.

By Port Nelson came and went the earliest trade of the western country. By Port Nelson, indeed, came the west's first settlers — the Selkirks. Port Nelson, then, would seem of natural right the seaport of Manitoba, for Manitoba "saw it first."

When the French held sway in Canada, the "Pays d'en Haut," that is, the Upper Country, the land beyond the source of their home river the St. Lawrence, on the lower banks of which their settlements clustered—formed ever the loadstone attraction of their adventurers. Fur was the ostensible end and object of their wanderings, but exploration and curiosity as to the unknown fired the imagination of the traders, and the enticing water pathway at their doors leading to the vast Northwest "up above"—that country of great fertile plains, populous with buffalo and with Indians, with whom the trade in fur might yield a fortune to each bold canoe brigade that successfully braved the hardships and the toil of the wilderness journey—led them by successive stages up the Ottawa, across Lake Nipissing, down the French River—where Mr. Cyril T. Young, of North Bay, and his friends, asked the Dominion Government to build a canal the other day—out on Georgian Bay amid the Thirty Thousand Islands, across Lake Huron to Mackinac, and to the Sault Ste. Marie. It enticed them to coast that inland sea they called Superior. And when they came to Fond du Lac and the rim of the basin of the St. Lawrence, with its navigable series, still they wondered and still they wandered—wondered what lay yet farther "up above," wandered by the portages over the height of land which divides Eastern Canada from the West, into that luring country of the height, the "Pays d'en Haut," our modern Canadian Northwest.

The Spider Cheat.

Many species of spiders are interesting on account of their physical construction or their habits, but the most curious specimens are probably to be found in the woods of Sumatra, and these naturalists call, not without reason, "spider cheats." This insect, in order to trap the flies, etc., on which it feeds, hides on a leaf and spins a web of neutral color, making an illusion so perfect that the prey not only does not fly, but seems attracted by the peculiar termination of the web on the edge of the leaf. This is a perfect knot in appearance and gives to the trap the general shape of a minature palm leaf fan with indented handle.

Guides In Japan.

Once a person has visited Japan and engaged the services of a Japanese guide he exists forever in the good book and graces of the guide. Always at Christmas and frequently two or three other times during the year he receives some little gift. Japan is the only country in the world where the Government takes sufficient interest in tourists to take under its supervision the guide fraternity. So strict is the regulation that it is a rare thing for any guide to receive an unfavorable report.

Workman's Fortune.

A fortune of $400,000 was left by a Sheffield workman, John Smith, who died recently at the age of seventy-seven after forty-five years of active work which had never brought him more than $600 a year. The foundation of his fortune was the sum of $1,000, painfully saved in pennies and invested in stock of his employer's concern, which rose to a value of $75,000 in fifteen years.

Very Young.

A new member of the harbor board in a New Zealand town was attending its meetings for the first time, and the board was discussing a proposal to place two buoys at the entrance to the harbor. "I beg to propose an amendment," said the new member, "that one man should be placed there instead of two boys, as the latter are too young for such a responsible position!"

A Dangerous Precedent.

"I know a girl who made a two dollar graduation gown and captured a husband on the strength of it."

"There's a good argument for two dollar gowns."

"The trouble is she caught a two dollar husband. He has expected her to dress on that price [illegible]"

WESTERN FARM HELP.

It is said in circles best informed on the subject that farm help in Manitoba and Saskatchewan, this year, is the greatest of Western problems. Even harvest and the statement by the farmers that experience is unnecessary, have failed to attract anything like the desired number. The newcomers, both English, American and Foreign, have places prearranged upon arrival. The expectation of a good crop has made the farmers this year especially anxious to secure harvest help. The demand at present, with harvest not even in sight, is for several thousand men in Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

WHEN MAJORITIES DO NOT RULE

Mr. Roosevelt worked the expression "popular majority" overtime in his rapid-fire speeches to his supporters in Chicago. Accepting a conditional nomination at the hands of those delegates who heeded his wish that they remain mute spectators in the Republican convention, he again declared that "his cause" commanded the sympathy of a majority of the American people.

There is something convincing and logical in the theory that the official head of a republic should be chosen by a majority of its voters. The principal is sound enough, but there are numerous instances in American history when the theory did not work out in practise. Abraham Lincoln, in both his elections, lacked hundreds of thousands of votes of obtaining a popular majority. In 1876, Samuel J. Tilden, the Democratic canidate, had rather more than a quarter of a million votes over Rutherford B. Hayes, who was seated. James A. Garfield was 300,000 votes short of a popular majority. Grover Cleveland had a minority of the popular vote in his first campaign in 1884 and was elected; he had a plurality over Harrison in 1888 of nearly 100,000 and was defeated. In 1892 Cleveland was re-elected, having a large minority. Buchanan, Polk, Taylor and John Quincy Adams were all "minority" presidents.

This curious defect in the American election system can be remedied and majority candidates elected only through the abolition of the electoral college system and the substitution of the direct vote. There is already considerable agitation for this constitutional change, but it will probably be many years before the present system is done away with, however much of an anomaly it may be.

Editorial Notes

The aeroplane of the future, we are told, will carry 1000 passengers. This information will be received with dignified but nevertheless enthusiastic joy by the undertakers.

It will be a matter of surprise to many Americans who think the train service of that country is superior to that of any other to know that the fastest trains in the world are to be found in England and France. In England there are eight regular daily trains with speed from 55.1 to 59.2 miles per hour, whose stop to stop runs are from 72 to 118½ miles in length. The French roads run four daily trains over a distance of 77½ to 767½ miles at a speed of from 56.2 to 61.9 miles per hour.

DOES YOUR BACK ACHE?

If You Have Bladder or Urinary Troubles and Weakness of the Kidneys—Read Below.

Your back aches and fairly groans with the distress of kidney trouble. You're discouraged, but you mustn't give up. The battle can be quickly won when Dr. Hamilton's Pills get to work. These kidney specialists bring new health and vitality to young and old alike. Even one box proves their marvelous power. Continue this great healer, and your kidneys will become as strong, as vigorous, as able to work as new ones.

Mrs. W. U. Rossiter, wife of a well-known merchant in Kensington writes as follows:

"Ten years ago my kidney trouble started. I suffered dreadful pains in my spine and around my waist, my back feeling as if hot irons were running through. I couldn't sleep, had no appetite, was pale, thin and very nervous. Cruel headaches and despondency added to my burden. Not until I had used Dr. Hamilton's Pills did I get any relief. They proved capital and helped me immediately. Eight boxes made me well, and now I do my own housework, feel and look the picture of health."

Your complete restoration to health is certain with Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut. Refuse substitutes. 25c per box, or five boxes for $1.00, at all dealers or the Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

THE MARKETS

CHICAGO, June 28.—Rain and cooler weather in the western part of the Canadian wheat country to-day took the price of cereal a few pegs down. The close was easy, ⅛ to ¼ to ⅜c. under last night. Latest trading left corn unchanged to ⅛c. lower, oats off ⅛ to ⅜c., and provisions varying from 12½c. decline to a shade advance.

The Liverpool market closed to-day on wheat ¼d to ⅜d higher than yesterday and on corn ⅛d to ¼d higher. Wheat at Buda Pest closed ⅜c higher, at Antwerp ⅛c higher and at Berlin ⅜c higher.

Montreal Grain and Produce.

MONTREAL, June 28.—There was a good demand from foreign buyers for oats and as cables were stronger, at an advance of 1½d to 3d per quarter, sales of several loads were made to Liverpool, Bristol and Manchester. The demand for wheat was better, but as bids were still 1c to 3c per bushel below cost, business was impossible. The local market in coarse grains was quiet. The demand from European sources for spring wheat flour was much better and sales of over 20,000 sacks were made for July-August shipment. The local market was quiet, but strong. Bran is weaker and $1 lower. Butter and cheese fairly active with a firmer undertone. Eggs steady. Demand for provisions increasing.

This is Transcona's Year!!!

The promise of Transcona, when the transcontinental shops and yards were located there, now fulfilled doubly by the C. P. R.'s immense project, Transcona bids fair to become an industrial centre. Manufacturers already established, and more coming.

During the past two years there has been more money made by the conservative investor in Transcona property than any other investment we know of. Have you shared in the big profits realized?

The amount of money you make in TRANSCONA practically depends upon the number of lots you purchase now.

We have specialized in Transcona property from the very first, and control the best buying in all parts of Transcona.

Our property, besides containing the best business locations, is the most natural home-site for a force of thousands of men to live here permanently as soon as the mammoth locomotive shops are opened.

$210 a Lot and upwards.

DIRECTORS:

H. E. HAND, Toronto, President; Director Hamilton Brewing Association, Limited; Director Grant's Spring Brewery Company.
W. H. PARSONS, Montreal, Manufacturer; Director Colin McArthur Wall Paper Co.
W. W. CANHAM, Toronto, Importer, of Wilson & Canham, Limited.
E. McWHINNEY, Toronto, Contractor.
S. J. PLANT, Toronto, Ceramic Expert, Managing Director.
TRUSTEES—Imperial Trusts Co. of Canada, Toronto.

This company is organised to engage in the making of building brick, terra cotta, fireproofing, etc. The demand for brick is greater than the supply, and there is need of another factory to make really high-class brick. The demand for building brick is such that contractors are obliged, in many cases, to use inferior brick, probably endangering the safety, and assuredly endangering the durability, of the buildings so constructed.

The Canada Brick and Fireproofing Company's property, consisting of 150 acres, and contains a very valuable and practically inexhaustible deposit of shale, clay and building stone.

The deposits in this property are of such a nature that the best bricks, with a density and hardness not surpassed, and commanding the highest market price, can be made at a very low cost. Bricks can be made the year round, winter as well as summer, as the company will have a thoroughly tested and specially designed dryer, which obviates all difficulties. No such opportunity has come to invest in the brick industry in many years, and, considering the unsupplied market, the attractive prices for the product, the low cost at which the Canada Brick and Fireproofing Co., Limited, are able to produce, the extraordinary good quality of the brick that can be made, and the well-known ability of the managing director of the company, this opportunity to invest is one of the best this company has ever had the pleasure of offering its clients or the general public.

THE LOW CAPITALIZATION.

This company could easily have been incorporated for $1,000,000.00 but to enhance the actual value of the shares, and to make the returns on the shares of practical consequence for all future time, the capitalization was made small in comparison with other flotations, but large enough to give ample capital, pay all charges and put up a three-unit plant, fully equipped with the most up-to-date, fastest and best brick-making machinery, and to supply plenty of working capital. We recommend this stock to all seeking safe, reliable and profitable investment.

The plant will be located in the Township of Esquesing, in the County of Halton, and will have a capacity of 150,000 bricks per day.

The present sale is to provide funds for completing the contract for the installation of the works of the Company, and for working capital.

The contracts with the Company may be seen during business hours at the Imperial Trusts Company of Canada, Toronto.

PROFIT-SHARING ARRANGEMENT.

Preferred stock will share all dividends in excess of 6 p.c. in the following proportions:
For every 1 p.c. extra paid on the Preferred, 2 p.c. is to be paid on the Common.
For example:—When the Common stock receives 2 p.c., Preferred stock will receive 7 p.c.
" " " 4 p.c., " " 8 p.c.
" " " 6 p.c., " " 9 p.c.

After this point of dividend-sharing has been reached any additional dividends are to be shared equally by both Preferred and Common. The Preferred is also "Preferred" as to return of capital.

Two shares of Preferred stock carry a bonus of one share of Common.

PROPERTY.

The property consists of 150 acres of land in the Township of Esquesing, in the County of Halton, containing valuable deposits for the purpose of the Company. This was selected after careful investigation of many much-praised deposits in different localities. 100 acres contains clay and shale and 50 acres contains a valuable deposit of building stone, known as "Credit Valley" stone, which is in great demand, and in itself alone should realize a good profit for the Company. There is an unfailing stream of water through the property, affording abundant water for the Company's operations.

TRANSPORTATION AND LABOR.

The railway running through the property gives excellent transportation facilities, and as the property is situated in the same shipping zone as the Milton, Terra Cotta, Halton, and Port Credit Companies, the same rates will be secured as are paid by those companies. Cheap and efficient labor is available in the surrounding towns. The Company propose to build workmen's houses within a short distance of the plant.

MARKET.

The rapid growth of the City of Toronto and the extraordinary building activities in the suburbs and the surrounding districts, which will doubtless continue for many years, has caused a demand for brick, fireproofing and clay products in excess of the capacity of the brick plants that are in a location to supply the city and surrounding country. All the present brick companies in Ontario are taxed to their utmost, and much delay has been caused in building operations owing to the inadequate supply of brick, and in some cases it has forced owners to abandon building operations entirely.

ESTIMATED EARNINGS.

The earnings of the Company are estimated on the basis of a profit of $2.50 per thousand bricks. The average cost per thousand, as estimated by the managing director of the Company, is $6.00. In this is included selling, operating, and all incidental costs of production, and as the Canada Brick & Fireproofing Company, Limited, are installing one of the most modern and up-to-date plants, both for handling and manufacturing bricks, this cost should be materially reduced.

In estimating the earnings of the Canada Brick & Fireproofing Company, Limited, the cost per thousand is put at $7.00 (f.o.b. Toronto and delivered on the jobs) to cover all possible contingencies, and the gross income is put at $9.50 per thousand or considerably below the average price, which is more than $10.00 per thousand.

On this basis the earnings will be as follows, allowing 250 working days to the year:

Unit No. 1.

CAPACITY	WORKING DAYS	BRICKS PER YEAR
50,000 per day.	250	12,500,000

Gross income, at $9.50 per thousand $118,750
Cost of manufacturing, operating, etc., at $7.00 per thousand........ 87,500

Surplus ....$ 31,250
As the Company will instal three units, each having a capacity of 50,000 per day, the output would be three times the above amount, or a total profit per annum of ....$ 93,750
6 per cent. interest on preferred stock 18,000

Leaving for reserve fund, contingencies, dividends on common and preferred stock, etc...$ 75,750

It will be seen that the Company should earn over 7 per cent. on the Preferred shares and 2 per cent. on the Common stock from Unit No. 1, and Units Nos. 1, 2, and 3 should earn 18 per cent. on both the Common and Preferred shares.

MANAGEMENT.

The Company has secured the services of S. J. Plant, Ceramic Engineer and Clay Specialist. He has been associated with the brick business all his life, in the manufacturing of all classes of brick and high-class clay ware, both plain and ornamental, and has a thorough knowledge of the construction and erection of brick plants.

Samples made from shale off the lands of the Company may be seen at the offices of the Standard Bond Co. Wire-cut brick will be manufactured by the Company equal in appearance to pressed brick, and at no greater cost.

Applications may be sent in by telegram at our expense, and where application blanks are not available, a letter stating the number of shares desired, and a deposit of $1 per share for the number of shares appplied for, will be sufficient. Applications will be considered in order received and remittance for applications in excess of issue, will be returned.

On Application .... $1.00 per share
On Acceptance .... 3.00 per share
On August 1st, 1912 .... 3.00 per share
On November 1st, 1912 .... 3.00 per share

Address all communications for particulars, information, or for shares and for expert reports on the property, to the Standard Bond Company, Standard Bank Building, King and Jordan streets, Toronto, Canada, and make cheques payable to the Trustees, The Imperial Trusts Co. of Canada, Toronto, Canada.

Interim receipts will be issued by the Trust Company pending the issue of the regular stock certificates, which will, together with the bonus stock, be delivered on the completion of payments.

Three per cent. will be allowed on all payments made in full.

The right is reserved to reject applications and to stop receiving applications at any time.

SIMPLY LIE. Further, I could not have voted for the Hon. J. R. Stratton because I had no vote in the West Riding of Peterborough, although I am now firmly convinced that you have stated to many of my friends that I had.

If it had only been your nature to take advice you might possibly have had a friend who would have advised you to answer my letter as follows:

"Dear Strickland:

"I am awfully sorry I did make "the statement you refer to, and "trust you will forgive me, but "the fact was this, that when your "friend approached me I happened "to have partaken of a heavy din- "ner, which excluded for the time "being room for my natural sus- "tenance, which you know is self- "importance, bombast, egotism and "I-know-allism."

I would have readily forgiven you as WHAT YOU SAY IS OF NO IMPORTANCE TO ANYONE, except to John Hampden Burnham, M.P., for West Peterborough. Let me say that you and a few of the Hon. J. R. Stratton's cast-off rags who succeeded in making you a figure-head for the time being for West Peterborough, by putting protestants against their fellow citizens, are welcome to the short-lived honours.

When you say I stated that Stratton was the best member Peterborough ever had you are again making a false statement. I have no doubt I said he was the best man the Reformers ever elected, and you by your public actions are trying hard to convince West Peterborough Conservatives that the said Stratton is a better man for that Riding than the Great I am, John Hampden Burnham, and are fairly well succeeding.

In conclusion let me say that there are 5000 people in your constituency who will believe me when I most solemnly assert that I never cast other than a Conservative vote and worked honestly for my party at every election for forty years, and have always worked for the interests of my native county, and if I know my fellow citizens, the false statements you are distributing in regard to myself will not be believed.

Yours, etc.,
R. C. STRICKLAND

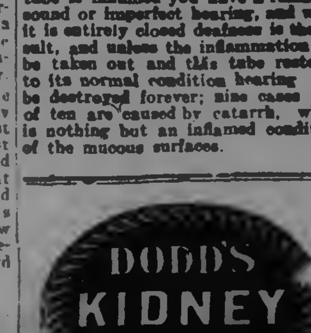
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.



PRINCE RUPERT

Canada's Golden Gate

It is the County Seat of Atlin.

Has five chartered banks.

One chartered trust company.

Three daily newspapers.

One general hospital.

Seventeen Hotels.

Dominion Government Marine Depot.

Dominion Government Quarantine Station.

Prince Rupert is nearer to the Orient than any other Pacific Coast city by five hundred miles.

It is the commercial hub of Northern and Central British Columbia.

The waters tributary to Prince Rupert have been proven to contain the best and largest fishing grounds in the world.

Prince Rupert real estate has advanced by leaps and bounds since the sale of lots in 1909. Think what these values will be upon the completion of the railway in the spring of 1914.

Prince Rupert has spent over $1,000,000.00 since its incorporation in 1910.

Prince Rupert is now spending over $650,000.00 on a permanent water supply and power plant.

The Grand Trunk Pacific has the easiest grades and lightest curvature of any transcontinental railway

Do you know that trains are now running 170 miles easterly from Prince Rupert and carrying large numbers of settlers with their stock and equipment into the fertile Kitsumkalum, Lakelse, and Bulkley Valleys.

The country adjacent to Prince Rupert is rich in mineral deposits of silver, gold and copper which only await the advent of the railway to develop their riches.

PRINCE RUPERT, B. C., the terminus of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway on the Pacific Coast, will shortly take rank with the other great terminals in size, wealth and importance; in fact, during its short existence it has made a record which no other port can boast of. As in the others, millions will be made out of the increase in value of real estate by those far-seeing enough to get in on the ground floor NOW—and here is your opportunity.

PRINCE RUPERT, B. C., was incorporated as a City in the early part of 1910 and has a population at the present time of more than 6,000 people, which is rapidly increasing. It owns its own public utilities, telephone, water, sewer and light, has fine public schools and churches, of all denominations. Every line of mercantile business is represented, both wholesale and retail. In fact, it has all the facilities required for a well organized and well governed City.

If You Want an Investment and Not a Speculation

READ THIS

For the man or woman who has little or much money to invest there is no City in Canada that offers greater opportunities for profit than does Prince Rupert, and it is our absolute opinion that within Prince Rupert there will be no better investment from the standpoint of safety and assurred dividends than stock in a Company whose memorandum of agreement and articles of association are now in the hands of the Continental Trust Company, Limited, of Prince Rupert, for incorporation.

Objects of Company

The objects of the company are to buy and sell and improve Prince Rupert city property. Well situated lots will be acquired. Dwellings, apartment houses and business blocks will be erected. These will be either rented or sold as opportunity offers, so that the company shall receive the most profitable returns on the money invested.

Do not confound this Company with any other building or investment organization. It will be a co-operative organization made up of investors of all classes who, by putting their funds together acquire the investing power and the earning capacity that the individual alone could never possess.

It is not an organization to make money out of you, but to MAKE MONEY FOR YOU.

The Company will be directed by men who stand among the most prominent of our City's successful business men. What better proof of the success and future greatness of any Company could anyone want than this?

The very association of such men with this organization is not only sufficient guarantee of the splendid future of the Company but guarantees an equal and absolute square deal for every investor, large or small.

The Company will be incorporated for $100,000,00, its capital stock will be divided into 100,000 shares of the par value of $1 each, and will be sold at this price.

To place this exceptional proposition within reach of the small investor, the par value of the shares of the company is placed at $1.

A subscription for less than ten shares will not be accepted.

Stock in a similar organization formed in Prince Rupert is now worth three times its initial selling price, and no more stock can be obtained.

Think over this carefully and try to realize what it will mean to you to have your money safely invested in the growing city of Prince Rupert. Think of the millions that have been made in Vancouver, Seattle, San Francisco, and other Western seaports and of the million to be made in Prince Rupert in the immediate future. You are entitled to your share, and an investment in this Company will bring it to you. It is not a speculation, but a safe and sound investment within the reach of everyone. The men who will administer the affairs of this Company know the value of property and the Company will reap the benefit of their knowledge and their experience in handling matters of this kind. This Company will pay big dividends from the start and the stock will increase in value rapidly.

Reservations for this stock are being made now. We want you to become a stockholder.

IF YOU WILL FILL OUT THE ACCOMPANYING COUPON AND SEND IT TO US WE WILL MAIL YOU COMPLETE INFORMATION WITH BOOKLET DESCRIPTIVE OF PRINCE RUPERT.

Prince Rupert now has miles of graded streets, sidewalks and sewers.

Work has commenced in Prince Rupert on a twenty thousand ton drydock and shipbuilding plant, which will be the equal of any in the western world and which when finished will cost $2,500,000.00.

The Canadian Fish and Cold Storage Company has already spent nearly three-quarters of a million on its plant and equipment in Prince Rupert. This plant is the largest single unit cold storage plant in the world.

The late President C. M. Hays of the Grand Trunk System, stated that one hundred million bushels of wheat would be shipped yearly from Prince Rupert on the completion of the Panama Canal.

Northern British Columbia is on the eve of the greatest development in the history of the province. Prince Rupert will reap the greatest benefit owing to its position and resources.

Prince Rupert is the distributing point for the numerous fertile valleys which are now being settled. Millions of acres of the finest agricultural lands are available in the Skeena, Naas, Kitsumkalum, Lakelse and Bulkley Valleys.

The Prince Rupert Hydro-Electric Company, which is controlled by the Western Canada Power Company, is spending an immense sum of money in the development of power in order to supply the demand for cheap power in Prince Rupert and vicinity.

The Grand Trunk Pacific Railway is spending millions in the construction of its terminals in Prince Rupert in order to be ready for the opening of the line in 1914.

Coal deposits in the country tributary to Prince Rupert are among the most extensive in the world.

Confined to His Home for Weeks.

"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits in youth brought on Varicose Veins. When I worked hard the aching would become severe and I was often laid up for a week at a time. My family physician told me an operation was my only hope—but I dreaded it. I tried several specialists, but soon found out all they wanted was my money. I commenced to look upon all doctors as little better than rogues. One day my boss asked me why I was off work so much and I told him my condition. He advised me to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, as he had taken treatment from them himself and knew they were square and skillful. I wrote them and got THE NEW METHOD TREATMENT. My progress was somewhat slow and during the first month's treatment I was somewhat discouraged. However, I continued treatment for three months longer and was rewarded with a complete cure. I could only earn $15 a week in a machine shop before treatment, now I am earning $22 and never loose a day. I wish all sufferers knew of your valuable treatment.

CONFIDENCE UNDER WATER.

To Acquire That Should Be the First Lesson In Swimming.

A person who is timid about the water can overcome the greatest part of the difficulty of learning to swim by the proper use of a wash basin.

The obstacle that nervous persons meet in the water is not the conscious fear of drowning, but an involuntary nervous shock that causes them to gasp for air even before their faces are under water. It is this gasping for breath that drowns people.

They cannot control the gasping, and consequently they often snap for breath when their mouths are under water. As the buoyancy of a human body is easily disturbed, a few pints or quarts of water swallowed in these involuntary gasping acts serve to sink a person who otherwise would float long enough for help to arrive.

Now, if a person afflicted with this involuntary fear of getting under water will thrust the whole face gently into an ordinary basin full of water every day and stay there as long as possible it will be only a short time before the gasping sensation begins to disappear.

Then the bath tub should be used, so that the bather, lying full length, can immerse the entire head. At first this will bring back all the old frightening sensations of suffocation, but the attacks will be of short duration, and within a few days it will be found that the total immersion can be maintained for almost a full minute without discomfort of any kind.

Once a person has learned how perfectly comfortable one can be under water the first great step has been taken toward learning to swim.

Many otherwise good swimmers have never really acquired this calmness under water. The result is that when such a swimmer is caught in an undertow or a swirling current his confidence leaves him as soon as he feels himself dragged under the surface. Instead of diving or remaining motionless and so preserving his breath he gasps involuntarily and naturally swallows water, and the choking sensation at once forces him to exhale what breath he has left and gasp again.

Confidence under water should be the first lesson in swimming.

Tail of the Comet.

It is one of the most wonderful of all the phenomena that confront us in the study of nature that the tail of the comet, visible through such a vast area of space, is one of the most transparent of objects. The tail of the comet is much more transparent than the earth's atmosphere, as this at its best would in bulk act as an opaque curtain. But stars are seen almost as distinctly through the comet's tail as through the adjacent atmosphere. Comets change their form and appearance with the utmost rapidity and finally back steadily away from the sun, like a courtier out of the royal presence.

Variable Rewards of Literature.

The rewards of literature are certainly variable. One of the most successful novels ever written was Fanny Burney's "Evelina." On completing the third volume the author handed the book to Mr. Lowndes, who offered her $100 for the manuscript—"an offer which was accepted with alacrity and boundless surprise at his munificence." Lowndes subsequently paid her another $50 after the book had gone through a third edition.

Fanny Burney's third novel, "Camilla," a book which no one to-day ever dreams of reading, is computed to have brought to its author a sum of at least $15,000.—London Standard.

One of Dumas' Jokes.

Just for a joke Dumas once addressed a letter to "the greatest poet in Paris." The postoffice sent it to Lamartine, the idol of sentimental readers. He hesitated to open it and took it to Victor Hugo, who protested that his brother bard had far too humble an opinion of himself. After some conversation they agreed to decide by lot which of the two should open the envelope. The lot fell to Victor Hugo, who, taking out the letter, read, "My dear Alfred." It was written to Alfred de Musset.

A Man's Own Horn.

"I should think some of these speechmakers would get tired of hearing themselves," said the proprietor of the village store.

"Human nature's the same in politics as 'tis anywheres else," replied old Joe Struthers. "A man don't mind listenin' to the worst noise a cornet kin make, provided he's the feller that's doin' the practicin'."

Confusion of Effects.

"Things didn't seem to work together in your series of dramatic representations."

"They didn't," admitted Mr. Stormington Barnes. "When we played tragedy the box office receipts were a farce, and when we played farce they were a tragedy."

Oh, No, She Wouldn't.

"I can't understand why a woman should lie about her age. I should never try to deceive anybody in that way."

"Still you wouldn't want everybody to know you were forty-one, would you?"

"Forty-one! The idea! I'll not be thirty-two till my next birthday."

Not Very Fast.

"I understand," says the father, "that you have been going with a very fast set."

"Fast nothing!" retorts the son. "Why, not one of them has a six cylinder car!"

Teheran is One of the Dream Cities of the Orient.

According to a Persian proverb, "Ispahan is beautiful, Shiraz is lovely, but Teheran is most beautiful of all." The Persians call Teheran the "Paris of Persia." This city lies on a sandy level. There are gentle hills to the north, and far in the distance one may see a range of mountains crowned by a majestic and snow covered peak.

The features of Teheran that attract the traveler's attention first are its city walls and its hundred towers that stand at intervals in the wide circle of the ramparts. In the center of the town is the great square of the arsenal, where an enormous number of now obsolete arms are stored. The great Boulevard des Ambassadeurs, as the French would call it, which is near the arsenal, is one of the finest to be found outside Paris.

If this part of the town has a modern aspect the southern part of the city has retained its oriental character, and here palaces, bazaars and mosques jostle one another, surrounded by narrow, winding, mysterious streets. Teheran is one of the dream cities of the east.—London Family Herald.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

WORKING WITH TEASPOONS

A steam "navvy" at work had attracted a large number of spectators, including two Irishmen, who, judging by their appearance, were toilers temporarily out of employment. As the big shovel at a single lick scooped up half a ton of earth and dumped it upon a cart, one of the Irishmen remarked:—

"What a shame, to think of them digging up earth in that way!"

"What do ye mane?" asked his companion.

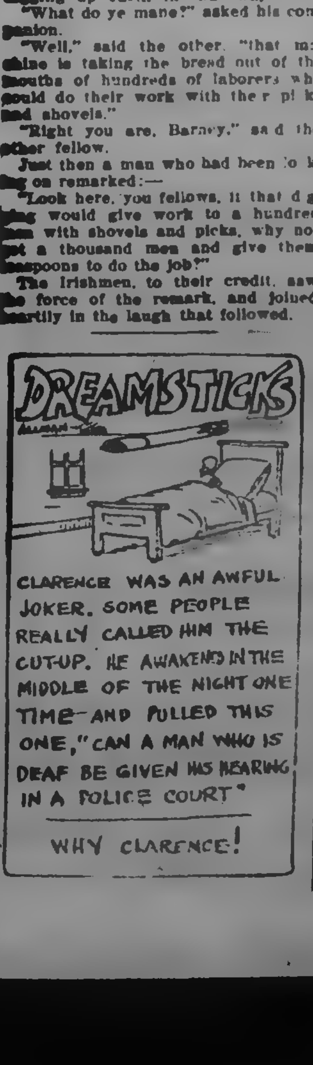
"Well," said the other, "that machine is taking the bread out of the mouths of hundreds of laborers who would do their work with their picks and shovels."

"Right you are, Barney," said the other fellow.

Just then a man who had been looking on remarked:—

"Look here, you fellows, if that digging would give work to a hundred men with shovels and picks, why not get a thousand men and give them teaspoons to do the job?"

The Irishmen, to their credit, saw the force of the remark, and joined heartily in the laugh that followed.



DREAMSTICKS

Ministerial Perquisites.

Not only stationery office officials, but cabinet ministers, used formerly to enjoy sundry little perquisites now no longer legitimate. At one time, for instance, each secretary of state received on his appointment a silver inkstand which he could retain and hand down as a keepsake to his children, but Mr. Gladstone when chancellor of the exchequer abolished this little perquisite, and the only token of office an outgoing minister can take with him is his dispatch box. The wife of a minister who had long occupied an official residence on being evicted said with a pensive sigh, "I hope I am not avaricious, but I must say when one was hanging up pictures it was very pleasant to have the board of works carpenter and a bag of nails for nothing."—London Chronicle.

Not the Same.

It was in the smoking car, and the two fat men were talking.

"Well, I have a good deal of trouble with my kidneys," said the first. "Can't seem to get 'em just right. How about you?"

"Oh, my kidneys are generally all right; it's liver with me," said the second. "Been running wrong all season."

"Excuse me for butting in," said the drummer for a patent medicine house, "but if you gentlemen will take Peterkin's Pepper Pellets For Peevish Patients they will relieve you instantly."

"What's that got to do with us?" asked the fat men simultaneously. "We ain't sick; we're retail butchers."—Harper's Weekly.

Meridians Run Due North and South.

A man "following the absolute line of the tenth meridian east from the north to the south pole" would travel due south and never southeast or southwest so long as he remained on the meridian upon which he started. If on the tenth meridian east, for instance, his angular distance from the meridian of Greenwich does not change. He is always 10 degrees east of that meridian from one pole to the other. He could only travel southeast or southwest by departing from that meridian on one side or the other.—New York American.

Some reasons why Oakdale Park offers a gilt-edged investment:

"It has the best car service of any restricted residence district either inside or outside the city.

"Its proximity to Winnipeg's largest and most beautiful city park.

WINNIPEG PROPERTY

Has made FORTUNES for SMALL INVESTORS, and there is More Money being made TODAY than ever before in the History of the CITY.

Why you should buy in Oakdale Park:

Because: "It is the centre of a 500 acre restricted residential area.

Because: "It is farther from the smoke, dust and noise of railways than any Residence District inside or outside of the City, and with better car service."

Western Canada is the World's Attraction

The United States cannot keep people from realizing the GREATEST OPPORTUNITY ever offered, to secure Independent fortunes, by locating Homes in Western Canada. WINNIPEG is growing by leaps and bounds—A SUBSTANTIAL, PERMANENT GROWTH. VACANT HOUSES ARE UNKNOWN and yet Building is more active than ever.

OAKDALE PARK

The history of Crescentwood will be repeated in Oakdale. Where in the former 5 or 6 years ago lots were sold at $15 to $25 per foot, with the same building restrictions as Oakdale Park has to-day, and now $60 to $150 per foot is being paid in Crescentwood and residences to the value of $10,000 to $100,000 are being erected. History will repeat this in Pakdale, but in less time, as it has better Electric Car Service now.

BLUE LAWS OF OLD

Codes That Terrorized New England in Colonial Days.

ENACTED BY THE PURITANS.

Witchcraft Was an Offense Punishable With Death, and It Was a Crime For Husband and Wife or Mother and Child to Kiss on the Sabbath Day.

Blue laws were no joke, though often an object of irony and derision. They were drawn up by Puritan pioneers—a race of stern and inflexible men who in the excess of their religious zeal and enthusiasm adopted such sanctimonious names as Stand-Fast-on-High Stringer, Kill-Sin Smith, More Fruit Fowler, Fight-the-Good-Fight Fowler.

It may be well to say here that each of these names cited was actually given to and borne by a man, and names of the same sort are to be found in the records of New England, says Himmans in his "Blue Laws of Connecticut."

These men went straight to the old Mosaic law of Holy Writ for their code. In fact, each section of the capital laws has its Bible text appended—a grewsome combination of sermon and death warrant.

The original blue laws were those written of New Haven, Connecticut colony, at the first more or less unwritten, or at least unprinted, but systematized and printed by Governor Eaton in 1656. They were enveloped in blue colored paper, whence the popular and subsequently unpopular name.

The Plymouth and Massachusetts colonies also had their blue laws, calculated to send a chill through every human vein. Even New York, Maryland, Virginia and South Carolina—in fact, all the English colonial settlements in seventeenth century America—had laws, orders and resolutions of more or less pronounced indigo tint. But the true blue laws or code was that which terrorized early Connecticut. These, known as capital laws and purporting to punish, according to the penalties prescribed in the Old Testament, those offenses forbidden therein, were enacted in April, 1642. The texts of Scripture on which they are based were added to each law, as dicta probantia, showing the divine authority by which they were defending, and are singular specimens of jurisprudence.

For instance, witchcraft is one of the first offenses taken up. It is enacted that "if a man or woman be a witch or hath consulted with a familiar spirit they shall be put to death." And "if any man steal a man or mankind or selleth him or he be found in his hand he shall be put to death."

Yet the good colonists made slaves of the Pequot Indians as the regulation punishment for breaking these same blue laws.

The Puritan legislators, having disposed of the ordinary everyday crimes, went on in due course to enact the more minute laws, covering every conceivable misdemeanor, from sneezing in church to crossing a stream otherwise than by the licensed ferry.

It reminds one of De Quincey's ironical observations to the effect that the habit of murder if persisted in may lead insensibly to procrastination and Sabbath breaking.

The following examples, transcribed literally from the best authorities on American colonial history, relate mostly to the heinous crime of Sabbath breaking:

"No one shall run on the Sabbath day or walk in his garden or elsewhere except reverently to and from meeting.

"No one shall travel, cook victuals, make beds, sweep house, cut hair or shave on the Sabbath day.

"No woman shall kiss her child on the Sabbath or fasting day.

"The Sabbath shall begin at sunset on Saturday.

"If any man shall kiss his wife or wife kiss her husband on the Lord's day the party in fault shall be punished at the discretion of the court of magistrates."

(Tradition says a gentleman of New Haven after an absence of some months reached home on the Sabbath and, meeting his wife at his door, kissed her with an appetite and for his temerity in violating this law the next day was arraigned before the court and fined for so palpable a breach of the law on the Lord's day.)

"No one shall read common prayer, keep Christmas or saints' days, make minced pies, dance, play cards or play on any instrument of music except the drum, trumpet and jewsharp."

It is said by Peters in his "History of Connecticut" that these laws were the laws made by the people of New Haven previous to their incorporation with Saybrook and Hartford colonies and, as he says, "were very properly termed blue laws—i. e., bloody laws, "for," says he, "they were all sanctified with excommunication, confiscation, fines, banishment, whipping, cutting off the ears, burning the tongue and death."—New York Sun

Like a Miracle.

"The age of miracles has gone," declared the cynic.

"No, it hasn't," said the woman. "My husband told me this morning that he noticed I was wearing last season's hat and gave me money to buy a new one."—Baltimore American.

Hadn't Heard of Any Other.

Bjones—Don't you think a talkative woman is more popular with the men than any other kind? Henpeckke—What other kind is there?—Philadelphia Record.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH WEST LAND REGULATIONS.

ANY PERSON who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years old, may homestead a quarter section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. The applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for the district. Entry by proxy may be made at any agency, on certain conditions by father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of intending homesteader.

Duties—Six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within nine miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres solely owned and occupied by him or by his father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister.

In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt a quarter section alongside his homestead. Price $3.00 per acre. Duties—Must reside upon the homestead or pre-emption, six months in each of six years from date of homestead entry (including time required to earn homestead patent) and cultivate 50 acres extra.

A homesteader who has exhausted his homestead right and cannot obtain a pre-emption may enter for a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $3.00 per acre. Duties—Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate fifty acres and erect house worth $300.00.

Mr. Jas. Lang, formerly dealer in gents' furnishings on George street, has received the Appointment of Appraiser at the Local Customs House. Mr. Lang was the successful one of a list of applicants sent to the Minister and was subject to a gruelling examination by the Inspector. This examination required a considerable degree of education, as well as experience and Mr. Lang, who for years was in the hardware business and drygoods business, was also a matriculated student at the Collegiate Institute. This gave him a distinct advantage.

Chronic Throat Trouble Permanently Cured

SEVEN DAYS' USE OF CATARRHOZONE PERFORMED REGULAR MIRACLE.

Miss Counter's Case Proves the Wonderful Efficacy of Catarrhozone in all Throat and Nose Diseases.

Windsor, Ont., June 11.—Miss Counter's case will prove of great interest to everyone troubled with sore throat, bronchitis or weak lungs.

When asked for a statement Miss Counter said: "About seven years ago I contracted a heavy cold that settled on my lungs and resisted all treatment. After I had tried several doctors here and specialists in Detroit without benefit, I went to my druggist and asked him for the best remedy he had for cold on the lungs. He recommended Catarrhozone which cured my cold in one week. It brought back my voice, and I have been every since free from my old trouble. For coughs, colds and lung trouble I am sure that Catarrhozone is the best remedy. It goes right to the sore spot, gives quick relief, and makes a lasting cure."

Catarrhozone cures because its healing vapor is inhaled to the very places that are sore and inflamed.

To permanently cure your winter ills, your coughs, sneezing and Catarrh, by all means use a tried and proven remedy like Catarrhozone. But beware of the substitutor and imitator. Look for Catarrhozone only, 50c and $1.00, at all dealers, or by mail from the Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Ont.

Sunday School Picnic.

The Auburn Sunday school are holding an excursion to South Beach to-day. The excursionists will have dinner at the beautiful summer resort and afterwards enjoy a sail to points in Clear and Stoney Lakes. They will return to the city down the canal, this evening.

Bowling at Oshawa.

Two rinks of Peterborough bowlers motored up to Oshawa yesterday evening, where they will play today. The following are the two rinks:

A. Belleghem.
D. H. Moore.
John Renwick.
R. M. Waddell, skip.
J. W. Mayneord.
T. E. Pratt.
Dr. Marshall.
J. E. A. Fitzgerald, skip.

A Delightful Time.

A large number of local people took in the St. George's Choral Society's excursion to Burleigh Falls on Saturday, and all spent a very enjoyable day. The excursionists boarded the train here for Lakefield, where the steamer was waiting for them, and they were given a pleasant sail through Clear and Stoney Lakes to Burleigh Falls. The excursion returned to this city late Saturday evening.

Flower Sunday.

Yesterday the George street Methodist Church held their annual flower Sunday. The Sunday school met in the morning, each member carrying a bouquet of flowers. The pupils marched up into the church where the flowers were used in a beautiful patriotic design. The Rev. Mr. Couch, taking the letters of the word "Canada" showed that a Canadian citizen should have character, ambition, nobility, activity, duty and adaptability.

The Price of Coal.

Ottawa Citizen: "Coal bids are tender topics with dealers these days. They have been tough enough with the consuming public. Toronto, hearing of Ottawa's $6.00 offer, has thrown out all tenders for this year's supply, and called for new bids. In the meantime the bidder here, who has played the role of Federal philanthropist, is busy explaining." The Times is getting prices from other places, which will be made public later on. The rate of $7.50 per ton charged in Peterborough, may be open to criticism.

Patriotic Services.

Knox and Murray street churches held services of a patriotic character yesterday, and in the two churches, both morning and evening, a large congregation was present. In the morning at Murray street church Mr. Asa Huycke gave a splendid rendition of "O Canada" and "The Maple Leaf" was sung by the choir and congregation. The Rev. Mr. Webb, in his sermon, dealt with the divine munificence and how freely the Dominion had been blessed by it. In Knox Church His Honor Judge Huycke gave a patriotic address and a large number of the Boy Scouts turned out in uniform. In the evening the Rev. Mr. Keith spoke to young men especially, his subject being, "The Friendly Foe."

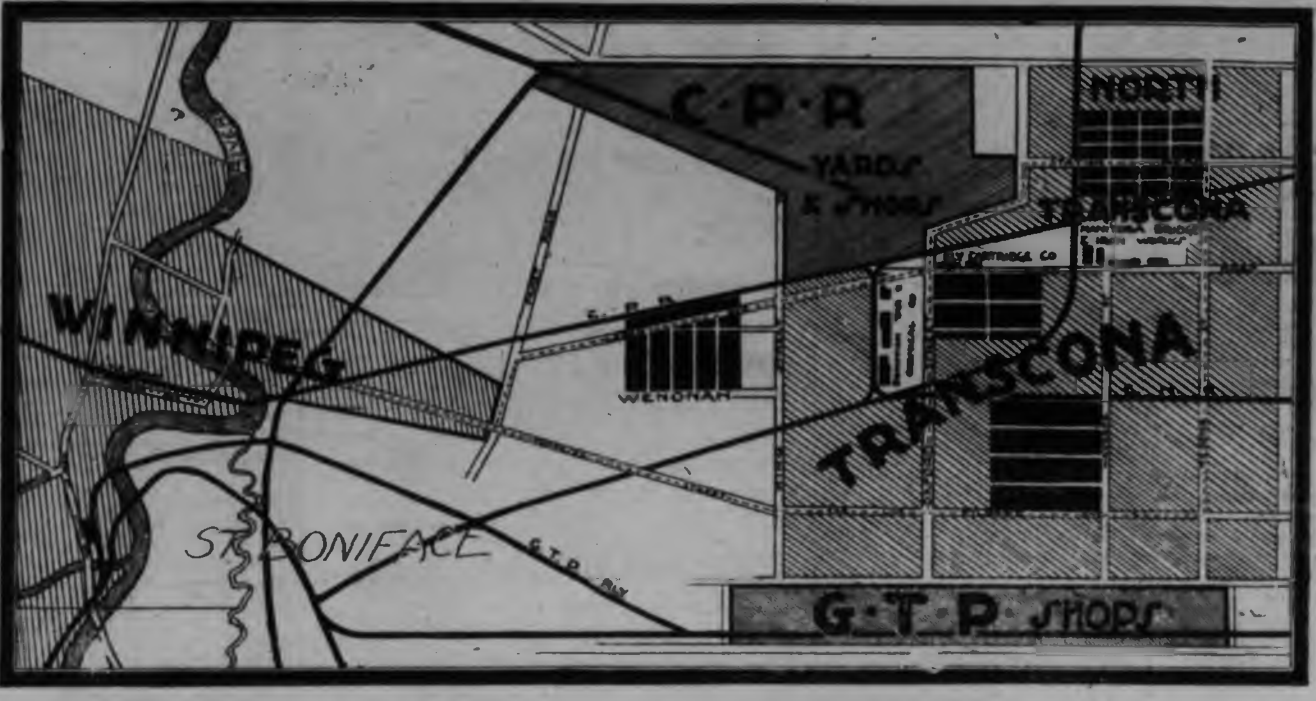
Take Our Advice and Invest in Transcona To-day



Winnipeg's Railway and Industrial Centre

TRANSCONA is rapidly becoming the recognized manufacturing centre of Winnipeg, and will be to Winnipeg what Toronto Junction is to Toronto.

The Grand Trunk Pacific are rushing to complete their immense shops at Transcona, one unit of theses are already finished, the machinery is now being tested, and in a few weeks' time one thousand men will be employed permanently and other sections will be pleted as rapidly as possible, and will give employment to a small army of mechanics.

The C. P. R. are now building the largest railway yard in the world at Transcona, together with elevators, round houses and other terminal facilities. Several industrial plants are already located in Transcona, and many others will be located there in the near future. The Dominion Tar and Chemical Co., and the Ely Cartridge Company now have their plants in operation. The Manitoba Bridge and Iron Works are building an enormous plant, and expect to have a part of it completed by the first of the year.

The G. T. P. shops will give employment to four or five thousand men, and in the near future the C. P. R. will require fully one thousand mechanics and yard men and the several manufacturing plants will require sufficient men to bring the total number of employees in Transcona up to fifteen thousand, this will mean a city with a population of over fifty thousand people.

Transcona has been incorporated, a progressive Council elected, and contracts have been already let for several mile of sidewalks, streets graded, electric light, and the question of sewage is now under consideration.

Investors who buy in Transcona to-day will make large profits. Real estate values in Transcona are exceptionally low, considering the possibilities of this young City. Lots that we are now offering for $5.00 per ft. and upwards will be worth from $100.00 to $300.00 per ft., in less than five years' time.

Any Investor can make 100 p.c. or more on their money in a very short time by investing in Transcona Lots.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. Sir.—The Times has certainly been the means of doing good work in connection with the picture shows, by having the crowding of the aisles and entrances lessened. Now, if you would serve the people still further, you would insists on having the licenses for these places increased to not less than $1,000 each. This probably would have the effect of lessening their number, which is very desirable.

The Times seems to be the only paper not afraid of taking up matters of this kind and carrying them through. I hope you will begin a campaign along the above lines and let me assure you in advance that it will be very popular.

RESOLUTION ATTACKING FALLON NOW BEFORE FRENCH CONGRESS

Resolution Says That He Has Abused His Authority In Forbidding Priests To Go To French Congress

Quebec, June 29.—A sensation has been caused at the Congress of the French Language by the publication of an announcement to the effect that Mgr. Fallon, Bishop of London had forbidden his priests to absent themselves from the diocese for more than a day during the Congress.

There is a large section of the delegates who favor expressing a strong protest in the form of a resolution against the action of the Bishop and a resolution was in fact drafted and presented to one of the sections of the congress yesterday. It caused a lively discussion, and after several amendments had been suggested it was decided to leave the matter over for a general discussion.

The first resolution drafted was a particularly strong one. It was presented by Mr. Paul Leduc, a young lawyer of Quebec, and read as follows:

A Strong Resolution.

"Whereas Mgr. Fallon, Bishop of London, has forbidden his priests to absent themselves from the diocese for more than a day during the congress of the French Language, at present being held at Quebec; and whereas Mgr. Fallon in acting thus has abused the authority conferred upon him by his title of Bishop of Holy Church of Rome, to deliberately prevent the French-Canadian priests of his diocese from assisting at the congress;

"Whereas Mgr. Fallon's conduct on this occasion as well as on many others, has given proof of his hostility to the French Language in Canada, and particularly in the diocese of London;

"Whereas the congress is the defence of the French language against its adversaries, whoever they are;

"Whereas, moreover, it is time the French-Canadians openly express their opinion on the attitude of Mgr. Fallon in regard to the French language;

"This congress blames and censures energetically, though respectfully, the conduct of Mgr. Fallon on this occasion, and asks the secretary of the congress to send him a copy of the present resolution."

WHAT IS THE MATTER?

On Saturday the Lakefield Lock Was Unworkable for Lack of Water—The Second Lock to Give Out Within a Few Days.

A few days ago when the steamer Stoney Lake was on her way north, she was held up for a couple of hours in Lock No. 3, for lack of water. It was found out later on that there was really plenty of water, but the stop-logs had not been put in property and the leakage in consequence, together with the quantity run off at the power house situated at this dam, made navigation impossible for a time.

Now it is the Lock at Lakefield which is in trouble. The steamer Islands was stranded in this lock on Saturday, unable to proceed until Mr. Frank Fairen took up a force of men and put things in shape. This means a serious loss to the Stoney Lake Navigation Company, as it practically cancelled the days' trip on each occasion.

The Lockmaster at No. 3, is Mr. Sol. Barrette, and at Lakefield, Mr. J. McWilliams. Both were appointed by the late Government, so that if negligence is shown by these men after investigation it cannot reflect on the present authorities. It seems to be either a feast or a famine—too much water or too little. It is not the actual loss in dollars and cents that is the chief concern, but every block of this kind is a black eye to the canal.

NAMES MR. PETER RYAN FOR THE $3,000 CHEQUE

Travers Named Registrar as Recipient of the Mysterious Payment---Mr. Ryan's Strong Denial

"Have you anything further to give?" This was the significant question put to Travers by Mr. Frank Hodgins, K.C.

Travers replied:

"I have worried over this matter, and what I say will be from feeling for you, Mr. Commissioner, and my admiration of you. Before going to Ottawa, I was told by a party, by whom I cannot say, that I had better take $3,000 with me and give it to Mr. Peter Ryan. I went down without the $3,000, but I put a cheque in an envelope addressed to Mr. Ryan. I marked it "C" and on the back put the number of Mr. Ryan's room. I put in my card, saying I would pay it in Toronto.

About six weeks later, the cheque was duly presented to me at my bank counter, and I gathered together the cash and paid it."

Mr. Hodgins asked: "Do you know who got the money?"

"No, I do not." replied Travers.

"Travers said he had met Ryan in the rotunda of the hotel when he had asked Calvert for an introduction. Ryan had said he might put in a good word for him and had suggested Emerson."

Mr. Peter Ryan was called to the witness stand.

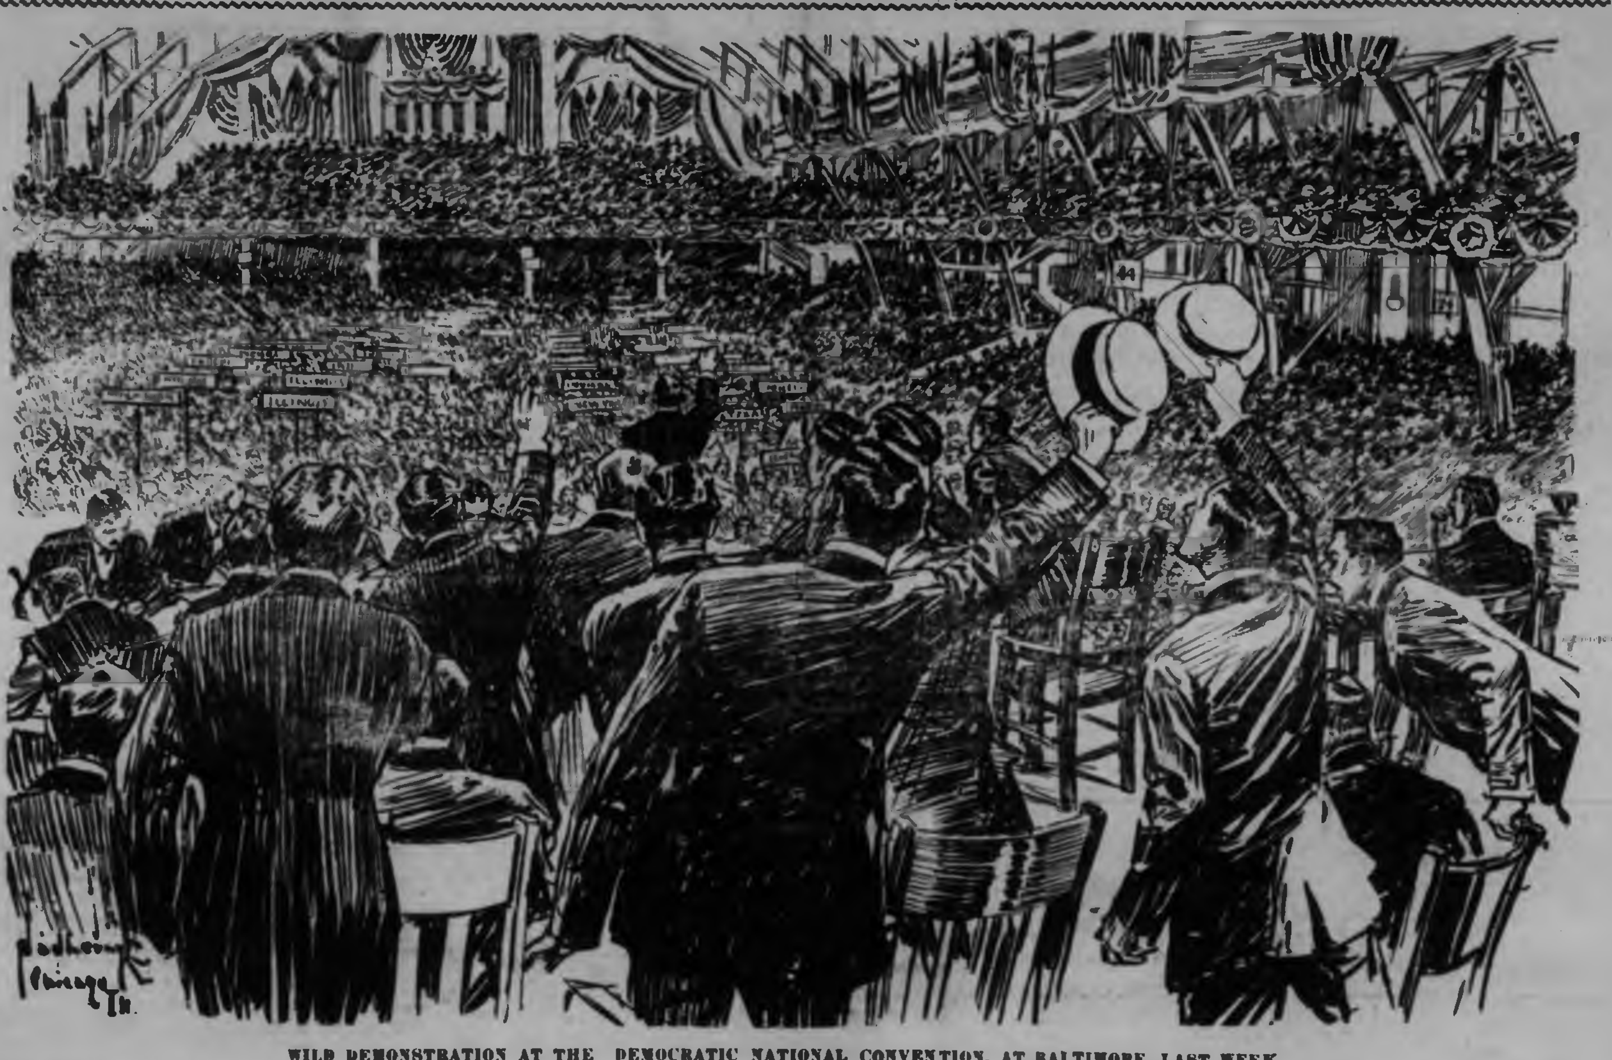
"I am as innocent of connection as a babe in its mother's arms. I never seen the cheque. I never took a room in Ottawa, and I never stayed over night," said Mr. Ryan "I know nothing of the cheque, and I never saw it or the envelope. I never heard of it."

Toronto, June 29.

The most startling disclosure which has yet marked the proceedings of the Farmers Bank investigation dropped from the lips of Travers at noon to-day.

The sensation following his sudden confession of the details of the famous $3,000 marked cheque which has baffled the commission for months, sent a thrill of surprise about the court room.

With barely a moment's preliminary explanation Travers declared that acting on instructions he had taken $3,000 to Ottawa to be paid to Mr. Peter Ryan, Registrar of East Toronto. He had marked it "C," addressed it to Ryan and there his part had ended. What became of it he neither knew nor wanted to know



WILD DEMONSTRATION AT THE DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL CONVENTION, AT BALTIMORE, LAST WEEK.

BRITISH LIBERAL PARTY HAS A NEW LAND POLICY

It Takes an Advance Stand, and Is Creating No Little Interest in Political Circles---Recent Bye-Elections Were Won With It the Main Plank

London, June 29.—The Liberal party is contemplating a new departure in politics. An influential section of the younger men, supported by some of the Cabinet, and led by Mr. Lloyd George, is now actively advancing a new land policy for England. It aims at compulsory purchasing of large estates, rebuilding of rural homes, and resettling the country with small holders.

The authorities have for some time been seriously alarmed at the steady growth of emigration of the most desirable elements of the English population. Last year half a million thrifty, healthy and industrious people, mostly young, left England for the overseas Dominions. Scotland's population is now stationary, owing to the migration to Canada, and the authorities are equally alarmed at the overwhelming rush of population towards the towns, and the depletion in the country.

Political Parties Interested.

Recently two bye-elections, at Holmfirth and North-West Norfolk, were won by Liberal candidates, who made the advanced land program the leading plank in their election policy. This lesson has not been lost on the Government. While the Government's program is not yet settled every influence is being used to make it adopt two main points—taxation of land values, and the settlement of small holders as tenants on state-owned land. By taxation of land values, it is hoped to compel owners of large estates to sell. Settlement of small holders may be undertaken under the direction and instruction of official guides. Both Unionists and Liberals are agreed that there must be a general scheme of re-housing country laborers. The Daily Mail (Unionist) has this week opened a campaign demanding this. The Unionists may bring an opposing scheme for settlement of small holders in land, while the Liberals advocate state ownership of land, and settlers being made state tenants. The Unionists prefer that small holders should be enabled to purchase land from the state on a long payment plan.

AN AGRESSIVE CHURCH

The News of Saturday publishes a letter from Canon Piercy, of Sturgeon Falls, in which an important question is raised. He asks if an incorporated company may take any portion of the taxes on its property away from the Public school and turn it over to a Separate school without producing conclusive proof that the alteration corresponds with the proportion of the stock in company held by Roman Catholics? In the specific case under review the Traders Bank building in Sturgeon Falls was assessed for the benefit of the Public school. The local manager of the Bank, no doubt virtually under the compulsion of the large French element in the population whose accounts he desired, notified the authorities that one-third of the assessment should be transferred to the Separate school.

Mr. Piercy appealed to the Court of Revision against such a change being made unless the Traders Bank produced evidence that one-third of its capital stock is owned by Roman Catholics. Such proof is required by the Ontario School law, but the Sturgeon Falls Court of Revision, comprising a majority of French-Canadians, overruled the objection, and the local Public school is deprived of a source of income without apparent legal justification. This is the situation as presented by the chairman of the Public School Board.

This local incident may not amount to much in itself, but a principle is at stake. Quiet pressure to secure its own ends by surreptitious means is constantly employed by the church authorities at North Bay and at many other points throughout Northern and Eastern Ontario. It is plainly clear from the recent Quebec conference that the hierarchy will abate none of its endeavors to extend its authority in Ontario and in Western Canada. Every instrument and creed are to be brought into play. Past efforts to push the French language in this Province will be maintained and the church will plant colonies in the West. No objection can be taken to these activities. The hierarchy is entitled to the rights guaranteed to it by the constitution. Beyond these, however, it must not be allowed to go.

THE SOLDIERS' SUNDAY PARADE

An Anglican Service in a Presbyterian Church—Whither Are We Drifting?

Editor Morning Times.

Dear Sir,—Being a few minutes early yesterday afternoon while attending the soldiers' service in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, I glanced over the "Order of Service" on the first page of which are the words—"This service is intended to be a great united offering of worship. There will be no choir and the clergy will merely lead the worship, &c.," and then follows a service, ANGLICAN throughout, and that too in a Presbyterian Church.

You see the picture of three individuals with hymn-book (Anglican?) in their hands arrayed in their white petticoats, no doubt to represent the first three "officiating clergy," whose names are on the first page, and who are to "lead the worship," for the pastor of St. Paul's is never thus attired. Who arranged that service? As a member I would like to ask—Was the pastor consulted? And is he in any way responsible? In it I found "The General Confession," and "The Absolution." Ah, whither are we drifting? Should the pastor's name been the very last item on the program) And those present know that it is in keeping with the insignificant part in the service he was given. Let any one read the service and he will see how out of place it was in a Presbyterian Church.

St. Paul's.

OLD HINKY DINKY.

Editor Morning Times

Sir,—The writen in the Examiner reminds me of Old Hinky Dinky, who used to edit a paper out West. When he had nothin else to talk about, he called Jim Jones a liar, although Jim had been dead thirty years, and he was continually callin on the people to exterminate the caterpillar, probably thinkin that the caterpillar and the Republican party was the same thing. There is nothin that the Examiner don't bark at, and the poor old man who does the barkin, will have to carry out his master's instructions or get mauled and he'll get mauled anyway. Whenever he finds a sewer or frog pond to write about, he's in his glory, but he prefers misrepresentin even the frogs. To tellin the truth, he knows nothin about that whatever. He knows more about Conservative party than the Conservatives themselves, but like a bad little boy with a crooked stick, he likes to stir up the pool and make a mess of it if possible. Most people call the Examiner the "Daily Sore Head," but "Puddin Head," is better.

Interesting Correspondence With Mr. Burnham Regarding Public Position

The Times publishes the following correspondence, not because Mr. Strickland asks us to publish it, but because it has been published already, and it may serve as a warning to others of his (supposed) class who think that the rank and file should be ignored in their favor.

Mr. Burnham is not that sort of man, as the correspondence shows. We have had more than one illuminating display of bad temper or bad faith, lately in political circles in Peterborough, much to the amusement of the people who know what is behind it, all in the way of mutual help in time of need:

Dear Sirs:—The enclosed letters I would be obliged if you would publish in your daily and weekly paper. You will see by the correspondence that I have the permission to do as I like in that respect by your representative of West Peterborough. Would be also pleased if The Times would do the same. If not kindly return the correspondence to 37 Starr avenue, Toronto.

Dear Sir,—I am staying here for a short time, having some business with the Provincial Government, and on Saturday I met a gentleman who said you were asked to use your influence in getting me a Govt. appointment, and that you had replied "that you would do nothing of the kind on account of my having always been so friendly with J. R. Stratton and that you knew that I had voted for him at several elections."

Would you kindly let me know if there is any truth in this statement by return mail, and oblige.

R. C. Strickland, Esq.,

Dear Sir,—In your letter of June 24th, you state that I am reported to have said that I will do nothing in your support on account of you always having been so friendly with J. R. Stratton and voting for him, etc. I did not say that you voted for him because of course there are ballots at election. No, but in common with many others, I believe that you did for the simple reason that I have heard you strenuously defend him, and I know that once when I spoke sharply against him at a meeting in Lakefield, you made remarks by no means complimentary to me. In addition to that, when he was accused in the Gamey business, I was with you when you first heard of it and you flew into a passion and said that you didn't believe a word of it, and that J. R. Stratton was the best representative that West Peterborough ever had. While of course you are at liberty to say what you like, I am at liberty to draw my own conclusions. You are at liberty to make what use you like of this statement.

Yours truly,
(Signed) J. H. BURNHAM.

Peterborough, June 25, 1912.

J. H. Burnham, Esq., M.P.,
Peterborough, Ont.

Dear Sir,—When I wrote you on the 24th inst., I expected an answer in a gentlemanly way. I did not expect a reply in a caddish style, and what is worse, a reply FALSE FROM BEGINNING TO END, and worse and worse, you KNEW IT TO BE SO. You see, Dear Burnham, for the present let me use the term "dear" for I am writing in all brotherly love) you have more than once been my guest and broken bread with me. I expected a courteous reply, as I would have been sure of as much from an Arab who had broken bread with me, and up to the time of receiving this letter thought you a white man.

I think one should always tell a friend of his faults, so bear with me if I seem unkind in using the chastening rod. In the first place there was SOMETHING ABOUT YOU THAT ALWAYS JARRED ON THE FEELINGS OF GENTLEMEN IN WHOSE SOCIETY YOU WERE OCCASIONALLY ADMITTED. I am not prepared to say whether this originated from your birth or bringing up. YOU ARE TO BE PITIED, not blamed for this objectionable feature of your composition. I once asked one of your most prominent citizens why you did not come up to camp with him as promised. HE REPLIED THAT YOU WERE TOO BUSY WALKING THE STREETS BLOWING YOUR OWN HORN. I did not believe this at the time, as it never was my nature to believe evil of my neighbor, until I had personal proof. In this respect, I could not do like you, rise before a large audience and condemn the Hon. J. R. Stratton before he had been found guilty; but as to your statement that I made remarks uncomplimentary to you and flew into a passion when you continue saying so, YOU

ENGINEERS AT WORK

They Visited Rice Lake on Saturday and It Was Understood Will Devote Attention to the Buckhorn Dam.

On account of the facts disclosed by The Times, regarding Buckhorn dam, the Department at Ottawa has sent a couple of engineers to look over the waterway, and to report upon things as they find them. The unprecedented high water last spring was a serious matter to farmers and others owning and occupying property on the waterway above Buckhorn. The water was several feet higher than ever before. The reason of this is said to be on account of insufficient sluiceways being provided in the new dam to permit the water to escape. Whoever planned this structure may have some difficulty in putting up an explanation that will satisfy the Department, as it is expected the damages will amount to many thousands of dollars. It is only fair to say, however, that the plans were doubtless approved by the late Minister of Railways, and not by Hon. Mr. Cochrane or those under him.

On Saturday the engineers were taken to Rice Lake by the Bessie Butler, accompanied by Mr. J. H. McClellan, the Superintendent. They found the wharves all in good shape.

GO TO FLORIDA FOR HEALTH AND wealth.—The question is asked me repeatedly: Why, if all that is claimed for the climate and earning capacity of the land in Florida is true, how is it that only a percentage of the State's area is under cultivation? It is a fair question, and the answer is a simple one. After the war between the North and the South Florida found herself in a deplorable condition financially. The State Government leased hundred of thousands of acres of its best prairie and timber lands for periods running as high as 66 years. This latter period tied up the great Kissimmee Prairie until recently. It is now, however, in the hands of a splendid colonization company, whose selling agent is the Hunter Land Company, Kissimmee Prairie is in the Southern portion of Osceola County, and is noted for its fertility and uniformity of soil. It is the healthiest spot in North America, and every day in the year is a growing day. Write for maps, illustrated literature, excursion particulars and any desired information. Address Alf. PINE TAR CORDIAL

NUGENT'S SARSAPARILLA—PRICE FOR large bottle, 100 full doses, 85c, and well worth it, too. It's better to take no medicine at all than to depend upon cheap concoctions that are compounded to sell at a low price and a big profit just because there is a large demand for certain remedies at certain seasons of the year. There are so-called Sarsaparillas offered to us to sell to our customers at 7c a bottle that would bring us a larger profit than Nugent's Sarsaparilla sold at 85c. Nugent's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, arouses the torpid liver, drives out all impurities, cleanses and tones up the system, and helps Nature throw off the dullness that comes from the indoor life of winter. It arouses energy, brightens the eye, clears the brain, gives lightness to the movements. Nugent's Sarsaparilla is not the only thing you will find in this drug store. We make a specialty of Nugent's Remedies. Nugent Drug Co., 366 George St. directly opposite Creeman's store.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

A Japanese Decoration.

Speaking of New Year's celebrations in Japan, the Traveler's Gazette says: "Before each house entrance stand two pines, on the right a red stemmed one and on the left a black pine. Beside the pine trees stand slender bamboo canes, and the trees are joined above with a festoon of paper fringe and straw rope, ornamented with yellow, bitter oranges, bits of charcoal, lobsters and large bunches of red berries. The decoration is supposed to bring good luck."

Cooked In a Knapsack.

Charles XII. of Sweden invented the first portable military fireless cooker. He had a knapsack lined with hay to strap to a soldier's back. When starting on a march a big chicken was split open and the inside dressed clean and then filled with butter. In the chicken was placed a small cannon ball of hot iron. The hot cooking chicken was then placed in the hay knapsack. When the camp was pitched at evening the meat was deliciously cooked and all soaking in butter.

Exposed.

Transient—Was the show last night the real thing, as they advertised?

Uncle Eben—Real thing nothing! It was a fake. The boys exposed it. We got hold of the fellow who played the villain, and after riding him around town he finally confessed that he warn't no real villain after all; just pretendin'.

Not Fully Tested.

"What an absurd little watch!"

"It keeps very good time."

"Ah, it may do now, but wait till the longer days come." — London Punch.

The Sense That Enables the Amoeba to Locate Its Prey.

Is it possible to see without eyes? Seeing is supposed to be due to the action of light on the retina of the eye, which sets up a disturbance. This is carried to the brain by means of the optic nerves. Let the idea of seeing be changed to becoming aware. An amoeba is at the bottom of the scale of living things. It is a very minute creature—a "bag of water," an expressive if homely description. A very thin membrane incloses a minute quantity of water which holds a dot, called the nucleus. The contents are liquid or semi-liquid, like white of an egg, and is protoplasm.

The animal has no eyes, ears, brain, nerves or any sense organ that can be detected in the new high power ultra violet microscope, yet it becomes aware of the existence of food in the adjacent water at quite a distance.

Suppose a man should be shipwrecked on an island and be the only human there. Let the island be five miles wide. In a year let another man be cast up by the sea on the opposite side. Then let the first man become suddenly aware that the other was on the island. This phenomenon would be comparable to the sensitiveness of an amoeba.

Suppose the food is an animal and seeks to escape the amoeba. It will find the job to be extremely difficult. No sooner does the amoeba become conscious of the presence of the other creature than it at once gives chase. Let the fleeing animal suddenly change its course precisely as does a rabbit pursued by a dog; then the amoeba "cuts across" exactly as does the dog, overtakes its prey and swallows it—i.e., wraps itself, its substance, around the creature, which is soon digested.

The question is, Can this be called seeing in the literal meaning of the word? Whatever is the true explanation, it is now unknown to science.

STORY OF KEEWATIN.

Keewatin, which has been divided up between Manitoba and Ontario, has withstood the progress of organized Canada for a long time and is the oldest part of the original grant to the Hudson Bay Co. The Swampy Crees of the Churchill and Nelson districts were known by the company's men as "the Home Guard." Port Nelson was for long the principal port of the company and the outlet for the great area of the western plains, the territory reached by the Red River on the south, the Assiniboine or the Saskatchewan on the west, with the connecting water routes of the Athabasca region besides. By way of the Nelson River came such European supplies as the Canadian prairies and the wooded foothills of the Rocky Mountains' eastern slope knew for all the years succeeding the English conquest of Quebec up till the advent of American traders following the building of the American railroads. By the Nelson went out the sole products of that great area—buffalo robes, beaverskins, wolf, grizzly bear, and the pelts of all the fur-bearing animals. By canoes and York boats traveled the sole and complete commerce of the country, and the Nelson River was the chief highway by which those cargoes, gathered from the farthermost edges of the watershed, concentrated at Norway House and came down to the sea coast at Port Nelson, for shipment to London, England. There were other harbors—Fort Churchill, for example — where the company built a great stone fortress, and where the French came and seized it without a blow struck in its defence. But the Churchill River was not so navigable for canoes and York boats or not as direct a route to the populous Indian territory of the prairies where was most of the trade done in those days. The harbor at Fort Chuchill afforded better conveniences for ships, however, having deep water close to land.

By Port Nelson came and went the earliest trade of the western country. By Port Nelson, indeed, came the west's first settlers — the Selkirks. Port Nelson, then, would seem of natural right the seaport of Manitoba, for Manitoba "saw it first."

When the French held sway in Canada, the "Pays d'en Haut," that is, the Upper Country, the land beyond the source of their home river the St. Lawrence, on the lower banks of which their settlements clustered—formed ever the loadstone attraction of their adventurers. Fur was the ostensible end and object of their wanderings, but exploration and curiosity as to the unknown fired the imagination of the traders, and the enticing water pathway at their doors leading to the vast Northwest "up above"—that country of great fertile plains, populous with buffalo and with Indians, with whom the trade in fur might yield a fortune to each bold canoe brigade that successfully braved the hardships and the toil of the wilderness journey—led them by successive stages up the Ottawa, across Lake Nipissing, down the French River—where Mr. Cyril T. Young, of North Bay, and his friends, asked the Dominion Government to build a canal the other day—out on Georgian Bay amid the Thirty Thousand Islands, across Lake Huron to Mackinac, and to the Sault Ste. Marie. It enticed them to coast that inland sea they called Superior. And when they came to Fond du Lac and the rim of the basin of the St. Lawrence, with its navigable series, still they wondered and still they wandered—wondered what lay yet farther "up above," wandered by the portages over the height of land which divides Eastern Canada from the West, into that luring country of the height, the "Pays d'en Haut," our modern Canadian Northwest.

The Spider Cheat.

Many species of spiders are interesting on account of their physical construction or their habits, but the most curious specimens are probably to be found in the woods of Sumatra, and these naturalists call, not without reason, "spider cheats." This insect, in order to trap the flies, etc., on which it feeds, hides on a leaf and spins a web of neutral color, making an illusion so perfect that the prey not only does not fly, but seems attracted by the peculiar termination of the web on the edge of the leaf. This is a perfect knot in appearance and gives to the trap the general shape of a miniature palm leaf fan with indented handle.

Guides In Japan.

Once a person has visited Japan and engaged the services of a Japanese guide he exists forever in the good book and graces of the guide. Always at Christmas and frequently two or three other times during the year he receives some little gift. Japan is the only country in the world where the Government takes sufficient interest in tourists to take under its supervision the guide fraternity. So strict is the regulation that it is a rare thing for any guide to receive an unfavorable report.

Workman's Fortune.

A fortune of $400,000 was left by a Sheffield workman, John Smith, who died recently at the age of seventy-seven after forty-five years of active work which had never brought him more than $600 a year. The foundation of his fortune was the sum of $1,000, painfully saved in pennies and invested in stock of his employer's concern, which rose to a value of $75,000 in fifteen years.

Very Young.

A new member of the harbor board in a New Zealand town was attending its meetings for the first time, and the board was discussing a proposal to place two buoys at the entrance to the harbor. "I beg to propose an amendment," said the new member, "that one man should be placed there, instead of two boys, as the latter are too young for such a responsible position."

A Dangerous Precedent.

"I know a girl who made a two dollar graduation gown and captured a husband on the strength of it."

"There's a good argument for two-dollar gowns."

"The trouble is she caught a two-dollar husband. He has expected her to dress on that precedent ever since."

WESTERN FARM HELP.

It is said in circles best informed on the subject that farm help in Manitoba and Saskatchewan, this year, is the greatest of Western problems. Even harvest and the statement by the farmers that experience is unnecessary, have failed to attract anything like the desired number. The newcomers, both English, American and Foreign, have places prearranged upon arrival. The expectation of a good crop has made the farmers this year especially anxious to secure harvest help. The demand at present, with harvest not even in sight, is for several thousand men in Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

WHEN MAJORITIES DO NOT RULE

Mr. Roosevelt worked the expression "popular majority" overtime in his rapid-fire speeches to his supporters in Chicago. Accepting a conditional nomination at the hands of those delegates who heeded his wish that they remain mute spectators in the Republican convention, he again declared that "his cause" commanded the sympathy of a majority of the American people.

There is something convincing and logical in the theory that the official head of a republic should be chosen by a majority of its voters. The principal is sound enough, but there are numerous instances in American history when the theory did not work out in practise. Abraham Lincoln, in both his elections, lacked hundreds of thousands of votes of obtaining a popular majority. In 1876, Samuel J. Tilden, the Democratic canidate, had rather more than a quarter of a million votes over Rutherford B. Hayes, who was seated. James A. Garfield was 300,000 votes short of a popular majority. Grover Cleveland had a minority of the popular vote in his first campaign in 1884 and was elected; he had a plurality over Harrison in 1888 of nearly 100,000 and was defeated. In 1892 Cleveland was re-elected, having a large minority. Buchanan, Polk, Taylor and John Quincy Adams were all "minority" presidents.

This curious defect in the American election system can be remedied and majority candidates elected only through the abolition of the electoral college system and the substitution of the direct vote. There is already considerable agitation for this constitutional change, but it will probably be many years before the present system is done away with, however much of an anomaly it may be.

Editorial Notes

The aeroplane of the future, we are told, will carry 1000 passengers. This information will be received with dignified but nevertheless enthusiastic joy by the undertakers.

It will be a matter of surprise to many Americans who think the train service of that country is superior to that of any other to know that the fastest trains in the world are to be found in England and France. In England there are eight regular daily trains with speed from 56.1 to 59.2 miles per hour, whose stop to stop runs are from 72 to 118½ miles in length. The French roads run four daily trains over a distance of 77½ to 107½ miles at a speed of from 56.2 to 61.9 miles per hour.

DOES YOUR BACK ACHE?

If You Have Bladder or Urinary Troubles and Weakness of the Kidneys—Read Below.

Your back aches and fairly groans with the distress of kidney trouble. You're discouraged, but you mustn't give up. The battle can be quickly won when Dr. Hamilton's Pills get to work. These kidney specialists bring new health and vitality to young and old alike. Even one box proves their marvelous power. Continue this great healer, and your kidneys will become as strong, as vigorous, as able to work as new ones.

Mrs. W. U. Rossiter, wife of a well-known merchant in Kensington writes as follows:

"Ten years ago my kidney trouble started. I suffered dreadful pains in my spine and around my waist, my back feeling as if hot irons were running through. I couldn't sleep, had no appetite, was pale, thin and very nervous. Cruel headaches and despondency added to my burden. Not until I had used Dr. Hamilton's Pills did I get any relief. They proved capital and helped me immediately. Eight boxes made me well, and now I do my own housework, feel and look the picture of health."

Your complete restoration to health is certain with Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut. Refuse substitutes. 25c per box, or five boxes for $1.00, at all dealers or the Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

THE MARKETS

CHICAGO, June 28.—Rain and cooler weather in the western part of the Canadian wheat country to-day took the price of cereal a few pegs down. The close was easy, ⅛ to ¼ to ⅜c. under last night. Latest trading left corn unchanged to ⅛c. lower, oats off ⅛ to ⅜c., and provisions varying from 12½c. decline to a shade advance.

The Liverpool market closed to-day on wheat ¼d to ⅜d higher than yesterday and on corn ⅛d to ¼d higher. Wheat at Buda Pest closed ⅜c higher, at Antwerp ⅜c higher and at Berlin ⅜c higher.

Montreal Grain and Produce.

MONTREAL, June 28.—There was a good demand from foreign buyers for oats and as cables were stronger, at an advance of 1½d to 3d per quarter, sales of several loads were made to Liverpool, Bristol and Manchester. The demand for wheat was better, but as bids were still 1c to 2c per bushel below cost, business was impossible. The local market in coarse grains was quiet. The demand from European sources for spring wheat flour was much better and sales of over 20,000 sacks were made for July-August shipment. The local market was quiet, but strong. Bran is weaker and $1 lower. Butter and cheese fairly active with a firmer undertone. Eggs steady. Demand for provisions increasing.

DIRECTORS:

H. H. HAND, Toronto, President; Director Hamilton Brewing Association, Limited; Director [illegible] Spring Brewery Company.
W. H. PARSONS, Montreal, Manufacturer; Director Colin McArthur Wall Paper Co.
W. W. CANHAM, Toronto, Importer, of Wilson & Canham, Limited.
K. McWHINNEY, Toronto, Contractor.
S. J. PLANT, Toronto, Ceramic Expert, Managing Director.
TRUSTEES—Imperial Trusts Co. of Canada, Toronto.

This company is organised to engage in the making of building brick, terra cotta, fireproofing, etc. The demand for brick is greater than the supply, and there is need of another factory to make really high-class brick. The demand for building brick is such that contractors are obliged, in many cases, to use inferior brick, probably endangering the safety, and assuredly endangering the durability, of the buildings so constructed.

The Canada Brick and Fireproofing Company's property, consisting of 100 acres, and contains a very valuable and practically inexhaustible deposit of shale, clay and building stone.

The deposits in this property are of such a nature that the best bricks, with a density and hardness not surpassed, and commanding the highest market price, can be made at a very low cost. Bricks can be made the year round, winter as well as summer, as the company will have a thoroughly tested and specially designed dryer, which obviates all difficulties. No such opportunity has come to invest in the brick industry in many years, and, considering the unsupplied market, the attractive prices for the product, the low cost at which the Canada Brick and Fireproofing Co., Limited, are able to produce, the extraordinary good quality of the brick that can be made, and the well-known ability of the managing director of the company, this opportunity to invest is one of the best this company has ever had the pleasure of offering its clients or the general public.

THE LOW CAPITALIZATION.

This company could easily have been incorporated for $1,000,000.00 but to enhance the actual value of the shares, and to make the returns on the shares of practical consequence for all future time, the capitalization was made small in comparison with other flotations, but large enough to give ample capital, pay all charges and put up a three-unit plant, fully equipped with the most up-to-date, fastest and best brick-making machinery, and to supply plenty of working capital. We recommend this stock to all seeking safe, reliable and profitable investment.

The plant will be located in the Township of Esquesing, in the County of Halton, and will have a capacity of 150,000 bricks per day.

The present sale is to provide funds for completing the contract for the installation of the works of the Company, and for working capital.

The contracts with the Company may be seen during business hours at the Imperial Trusts Company of Canada, Toronto.

PROFIT-SHARING ARRANGEMENT.

Preferred stock will share all dividends in excess of 6 p.c. in the following proportions:
For every 1 p.c. extra paid on the Preferred, 2 p.c. is to be paid on the Common.
For example:—When the Common stock receives 2 p.c., Preferred stock will receive 7 p.c.
" " " " 4 p.c., " " 8 p.c.
" " " " 6 p.c., " " 9 p.c.

After this point of dividend-sharing has been reached any additional dividends are to be shared equally by both Preferred and Common. The Preferred is also "Preferred" as to return of capital.

Two shares of Preferred stock carry a bonus of one share of Common.

PROPERTY.

The property consists of 150 acres of land in the Township of Esquesing, in the County of Halton, containing valuable deposits for the purpose of the Company. This was selected after careful investigation of many much-praised deposits in different localities. 100 acres contains clay and shale and 50 acres contains a valuable deposit of building stone, known as "Credit Valley" stone, which is in great demand, and in itself alone should realize a good profit for the Company. There is an unfailing stream of water through the property, affording abundant water for the Company's operations.

TRANSPORTATION AND LABOR.

The railway running through the property gives excellent transportation facilities, and as the property is situated in the same shipping zone as the Milton, Terra Cotta, Halton, and Port Credit Companies, the same rates will be secured as are paid by those companies. Cheap and efficient labor is available in the surrounding towns. The Company propose to build workmen's houses within a short distance of the plant.

MARKET.

The rapid growth of the City of Toronto and the extraordinary building activities in the suburbs and the surrounding districts, which will doubtless continue for many years, has caused a demand for brick, fireproofing and clay products in excess of the capacity of the brick plants that are in a location to supply the city and surrounding country. All the present brick companies in Ontario are taxed to their utmost, and much delay has been caused in building operations owing to the inadequate supply of brick, and in some cases it has forced owners to abandon building operations entirely.

ESTIMATED EARNINGS.

The earnings of the Company are estimated on the basis of a profit of $2.50 per thousand bricks. The average cost per thousand, as estimated by the managing director of the Company, is $6.00. In this is included selling, operating, and all incidental costs of production, and as the Canada Brick & Fireproofing Company, Limited, are installing one of the most modern and up-to-date plants, both for handling and manufacturing bricks, this cost should be materially reduced.

In estimating the earnings of the Canada Brick & Fireproofing Company, Limited, the cost per thousand is put at $7.00 (f.o.b. Toronto and delivered on the jobs) to cover all possible contingencies, and the gross income is put at $9.50 per thousand or considerably below the average price, which is more than $10.00 per thousand.

On this basis the earnings will be as follows, allowing 250 working days to the year:

Unit No. 1.

CAPACITY	WORKING DAYS	BRICKS PER YEAR
50,000 per day.	250	12,500,000

Gross income, at $9.50 per thousand $118,750
Cost of manufacturing, operating, etc., at $7.00 per thousand 87,500
Surplus .... $ 31,250
As the Company will instal three units, each having a capacity of 50,000 per day, the output would be three times the above amount, or a total profit per annum of .... $ 93,750
6 per cent. interest on preferred stock 18,000
Leaving for reserve fund, contingencies, dividends on common and preferred stock, etc. .... $ 75,750

It will be seen that the Company should earn over 7 per cent. on the Preferred shares and 8 per cent. on the Common stock from Unit No. 1, and Units Nos. 1, 2, and 3 should earn 18 per cent. on both the Common and Preferred shares.

MANAGEMENT.

The Company has secured the services of S. J. Plant, Ceramic Engineer and Clay Specialist. He has been associated with the brick business all his life, in the manufacturing of all classes of brick and high-class clay ware, both plain and ornamental, and has a thorough knowledge of the construction and erection of brick plants.

Samples made from shale off the lands of the Company may be seen at the offices of the Standard Bond Co. Wire-cut brick will be manufactured by the Company equal in appearance to pressed brick, and at no greater cost.

Applications may be sent in by telegram at our expense, and where application blanks are not available, a letter stating the number of shares desired, and a deposit of $1 per share for the number of shares applied for, will be sufficient. Applications will be considered in order received and remittance for applications in excess of issue, will be returned.

On Application .... $1.00 per share
On Acceptance .... 3.00 per share
On August 1st, 1912 .... 3.00 per share
On November 1st, 1912 .... 3.00 per share

SIMPLY LIE. Further, I could not have voted for the Hon. J. R. Stratton because I had no vote in the West Riding of Peterborough, although I am now firmly convinced that you have stated to many of my friends that I had.

If it had only been your nature to take advice you might possibly have had a friend who would have advised you to answer my letter as follows:

"Dear Strickland:

"I am awfully sorry I did make "the statement you refer to, and "trust you will forgive me, but "the fact was this, that when your "friend approached me I happened "to have partaken of a heavy dinner, which excluded for the time "being room for my natural sustenance, which you know is self-"importance, bombast, egotism and "I-know-allism."

I would have readily forgiven you as WHAT YOU SAY IS OF NO IMPORTANCE TO ANYONE, except to John Hampden Burnham, M.P., for West Peterborough. Let me say that you and a few of the Hon. J. R. Stratton's cast-off rags who succeeded in making you a figure-head for the time being for West Peterborough, by putting protestants against their fellow citizens, are welcome to the short-lived honours.

When you say I stated that Stratton was the best member Peterborough ever had you are again making a false statement. I have no doubt I said he was the best man the Reformers ever elected, and you by your public actions are trying hard to convince West Peterborough Conservatives that the said Stratton is a better man for that Riding than the Great I am, John Hampden Burnham, and are fairly well succeeding.

In conclusion let me say that there are 5000 people in your constituency who will believe me when I most solemnly assert that I never cast other than a Conservative vote and worked honestly for my party at every election for forty years, and have always worked for the interests of my native county, and if I know my fellow citizens, the false statements you are distributing in regard to myself will not be believed.

Yours, etc.,
R. C. STRICKLAND

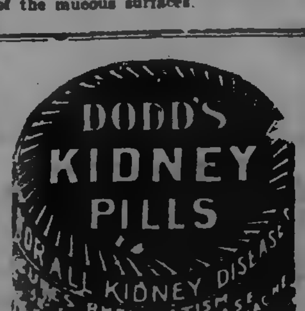
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.



PRINCE RUPERT

Canada's Golden Gate

It is the County Seat of Atlin.

Has five chartered banks.

One chartered trust company.

Three daily newspapers.

One general hospital.

Seventeen Hotels.

Dominion Government Marine Depot.

Dominion Government Quarantine Station.

Prince Rupert is nearer to the Orient than any other Pacific Coast city by five hundred miles.

It is the commercial hub of Northern and Central British Columbia.

The waters tributary to Prince Rupert have been proven to contain the best and largest fishing grounds in the world.

Prince Rupert real estate has advanced by leaps and bounds since the sale of lots in 1909. Think what these values will be upon the completion of the railway in the spring of 1914.

Prince Rupert has spent over $1,000,000.00 since its incorporation in 1910.

Prince Rupert is now spending over $550,000.00 on a permanent water supply and power plant.

The Grand Trunk Pacific has the easiest grades and lightest curvature of any transcontinental railway

Do you know that trains are now running 170 miles easterly from Prince Rupert and carrying large numbers of settlers with their stock and equipment into the fertile Kitsumkalum, Lakelse, and Bulkley Valleys.

The country adjacent to Prince Rupert is rich in mineral deposits of silver, gold and copper which only await the advent of the railway to develop their riches.

PRINCE RUPERT, B. C., the terminus of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway on the Pacific Coast, will shortly take rank with the other great terminals in size, wealth and importance; in fact, during its short existence it has made a record which no other port can boast of. As in the others, millions will be made out of the increase in value of real estate by those far-seeing enough to get in on the ground floor NOW—and here is your opportunity.

PRINCE RUPERT, B. C., was incorporated as a City in the early part of 1910 and has a population at the present time of more than 6,000 people, which is rapidly increasing. It owns its own public utilities, telephone, water, sewer and light, has fine public schools and churches, of all denominations. Every line of mercantile business is represented, both wholesale and retail. In fact, it has all the facilities required for a well organized and well governed City.

If You Want an Investment and Not a Speculation READ THIS

For the man or woman who has little or much money to invest there is no City in Canada that offers greater opportunities for profit than does Prince Rupert, and it is our absolute opinion that within Prince Rupert there will be no better investment from the standpoint of safety and assurred dividends than stock in a Company whose memorandum of agreement and articles of association are now in the hands of the Continental Trust Company, Limited, of Prince Rupert, for incorporation.

Objects of Company

The objects of the company are to buy and sell and improve Prince Rupert city property. Well situated lots will be acquired. Dwellings, apartment houses and business blocks will be erected. These will be either rented or sold as opportunity offers, so that the company shall receive the most profitable returns on the money invested.

Do not confound this Company with any other building or investment organization. It will be a co-operative organization made up of investors of all classes who, by putting their funds together acquire the investing power and the earning capacity that the individual alone could never possess.

It is not an organization to make money out of you, but to MAKE MONEY FOR YOU.

The Company will be directed by men who stand among the most prominent of our City's successful business men. What better proof of the success and future greatness of any Company could anyone want than this?

The very association of such men with this organization is not only sufficient guarantee of the splendid future of the Company but guarantees an equal and absolute square deal for every investor, large or small.

The Company will be incorporated for $100,000,00, its capital stock will be divided into 100,000 shares of the par value of $1 each, and will be sold at this price.

To place this exceptional proposition within reach of the small investor, the par value of the shares of the company is placed at $1.

A subscription for less than ten shares will not be accepted.

Stock in a similar organization formed in Prince Rupert is now worth three times its initial selling price, and no more stock can be obtained.

Think over this carefully and try to realize what it will mean to you to have your money safely invested in the growing city of Prince Rupert. Think of the millions that have been made in Vancouver, Seattle, San Francisco, and other Western seaports and of the million to be made in Prince Rupert in the immediate future. You are entitled to your share, and an investment in this Company will bring it to you. It is not a speculation, but a safe and sound investment within the reach of everyone. The men who will administer the affairs of this Company know the value of property and the Company will reap the benefit of their knowledge and their experience in handling matters of this kind. This Company will pay big dividends from the start and the stock will increase in value rapidly.

Reservations for this stock are being made now. We want you to become a stockholder.

IF YOU WILL FILL OUT THE ACCOMPANYING COUPON AND SEND IT TO US WE WILL MAIL YOU COMPLETE INFORMATION WITH BOOKLET DESCRIPTIVE OF PRINCE RUPERT.

Prince Rupert now has miles of graded streets, sidewalks and sewers.

Work has commenced in Prince Rupert on a twenty thousand ton drydock and shipbuilding plant, which will be the equal of any in the western world and which when finished will cost $2,500,000.00.

The Canadian Fish and Cold Storage Company has already spent nearly three-quarters of a million on its plant and equipment in Prince Rupert. This plant is the largest single unit cold storage plant in the world.

The late President C. M. Hays of the Grand Trunk System, stated that one hundred million bushels of wheat would be shipped yearly from Prince Rupert on the completion of the Panama Canal.

Northern British Columbia is on the eve of the greatest development in the history of the province. Prince Rupert will reap the greatest benefit owing to its position and resources.

Prince Rupert is the distributing point for the numerous fertile valleys which are now being settled. Millions of acres of the finest agricultural lands are available in the Skeena, Naas, Kitsumkalum, Lakelse and Bulkley Valleys.

The Prince Rupert Hydro-Electric Company, which is controlled by the Western Canada Power Company, is spending an immense sum of money in the development of power in order to supply the demand for cheap power in Prince Rupert and vicinity.

The Grand Trunk Pacific Railway is spending millions in the construction of its terminals in Prince Rupert in order to be ready for the opening of the line in 1914.

Coal deposits in the country tributary to Prince Rupert are among the most extensive in the world.

It has been announced that the cadets corps of the third divisional area over 1,200 strong will be under canvas for training purposes, from July 17th until the 22nd at Barriefield. These cadet corps are all under the supervision of Col. T. Benson officer commanding the third division and it is understood that it is he who is chiefly responsible for the camp of the boys. The corps of the third division are as follows: Peterborough Collegiate Institute, Morrisburgh High School, Norwood High School, Ottawa Public Schools, Lindsay Collegiate Institute, Napanee Collegiate Institute, Cobourg Cadets Vankleek High School, Juniorat-du-Sacre Coeur, (Ottawa) and others. It is the idea to give the boys as enjoyable as well as a profitable time.

VARICOSE VEINS CURED

Confined to His Home for Weeks.

"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits in youth brought on Varicose Veins. When I worked hard the aching would become severe and I was often laid up for a week at a time. My family physician told me an operation was my only hope—but I dreaded it. I tried several specialists, but soon found out all they wanted was my money. I commenced to look upon all doctors as little better than rogues. One day my boss asked me why I was off work so much and I told him my condition. He advised me to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, as he had taken treatment from them himself and knew they were square and skillful. I wrote them and got The New Method Treatment. My progress was somewhat slow and during the first month's treatment I was somewhat discouraged. However, I continued treatment for three months longer and was rewarded with a complete cure. I could only earn $18 a week in a machine shop before treatment, now I am earning $21 and never loose a day. I wish all sufferers knew of your valuable treatment.

CONFIDENCE UNDER WATER.

To Acquire That Should Be the First Lesson in Swimming.

A person who is timid about the water can overcome the greatest part of the difficulty of learning to swim by the proper use of a wash basin.

The obstacle that nervous persons meet in the water is not the conscious fear of drowning, but an involuntary nervous shock that causes them to gasp for air even before their faces are under water. It is this gasping for breath that drowns people.

They cannot control the gasping, and consequently they often snap for breath when their mouths are under water. As the buoyancy of a human body is easily disturbed, a few pints or quarts of water swallowed in these involuntary gasping acts serve to sink a person who otherwise would float long enough for help to arrive.

Now, if a person afflicted with this involuntary fear of getting under water will thrust the whole face gently into an ordinary basin full of water every day and stay there as long as possible it will be only a short time before the gasping sensation begins to disappear.

Then the both tub should be used, so that the bather, lying full length, can immerse the entire head. At first this will bring back all the old frightening sensations of suffocation, but the attacks will be of short duration, and within a few days it will be found that the total immersion can be maintained for almost a full minute without discomfort of any kind.

Once a person has learned how perfectly comfortable one can be under water the first great step has been taken toward learning to swim.

Many otherwise good swimmers have never really acquired this calmness under water. The result is that when such a swimmer is caught in an undertow or a swirling current his confidence leaves him as soon as he feels himself dragged under the surface. Instead of diving or remaining motionless and so preserving his breath he gasps involuntarily and naturally swallows water, and the choking sensation at once forces him to exhale what breath he has left and gasp again.

Confidence under water should be the first lesson in swimming.

Tail of the Comet.

It is one of the most wonderful of all the phenomena that confront us in the study of nature that the tail of the comet, visible through such a vast area of space, is one of the most transparent of objects. The tail of the comet is much more transparent than the earth's atmosphere, as this at its best would in bulk act as an opaque curtain. But stars are seen almost as distinctly through the comet's tail as through the adjacent atmosphere. Comets change their form and appearance with the utmost rapidity and finally back steadily away from the sun, like a courtier out of the royal presence.

Variable Rewards of Literature.

The rewards of literature are certainly variable. One of the most successful novels ever written was Fanny Burney's "Evelina." On completing the third volume the author handed the book to Mr. Lowndes, who offered her $100 for the manuscript—"an offer which was accepted with alacrity and boundless surprise at his munificence." Lowndes subsequently paid her another $50 after the book had gone through a third edition.

Fanny Burney's third novel, "Camilla," a book which no one to-day ever dreams of reading, is computed to have brought to its author a sum of at least $15,000.—London Standard.

One of Dumas' Jokes.

Just for a joke Dumas once addressed a letter to "the greatest poet in Paris." The postoffice sent it to Lamartine, the idol of sentimental readers. He hesitated to open it and took it to Victor Hugo, who protested that his brother bard had far too humble an opinion of himself. After some conversation they agreed to decide by lot which of the two should open the envelope. The lot fell to Victor Hugo, who, taking out the letter, read, "My dear Alfred." It was written to Alfred de Musset.

A Man's Own Horn.

"I should think some of these speechmakers would get tired of hearing themselves," said the proprietor of the village store.

"Human nature's the same in politics as 'tis anywheres else," replied old Joe Struthers. "A man don't mind listenin' to the worst noise a cornet kin make, provided he's the feller that's doin' the practicin'."

Confusion of Effects.

"Things didn't seem to work together in your series of dramatic representations."

"They didn't," admitted Mr. Stormington Barnes. "When we played tragedy the box office receipts were a farce, and when we played farce they were a tragedy."

Oh, No, She Wouldn't.

"I can't understand why a woman should lie about her age. I should never try to deceive anybody in that way."

"Still you wouldn't want everybody to know you were forty-one, would you?"

"Forty-one! The idea! I'll not be thirty-two till my next birthday."

Not Very Fast.

"I understand," says the father, "that you have been going with a very fast set."

"Fast nothing!" retorts the son. "Why, not one of them has a six cylinder car!"

Teheran Is One of the Dream Cities of the Orient.

According to a Persian proverb, "Ispahan is beautiful, Shiraz is lovely, but Teheran is most beautiful of all." The Persians call Teheran the "Paris of Persia." This city lies on a sandy level. There are gentle hills to the north, and far in the distance one may see a range of mountains crowned by a majestic and snow covered peak.

The features of Teheran that attract the traveler's attention first are its city walls and its hundred towers that stand at intervals in the wide circle of the ramparts. In the center of the town is the great square of the arsenal, where an enormous number of now obsolete arms are stored. The great Boulevard des Ambassadeurs, as the French would call it, which is near the arsenal, is one of the finest to be found outside Paris.

If this part of the town has a modern aspect the southern part of the city has retained its oriental character, and here palaces, bazaars and mosques jostle one another, surrounded by narrow, winding, mysterious streets. Teheran is one of the dream cities of the east.—London Family Herald.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

WORKING WITH TEASPOONS

A steam "navvy" at work had attracted a large number of spectators, including two Irishmen, who, judging by their appearance, were toilers temporarily out of employment. As the big shovel at a single lick scooped up half a ton of earth and dumped it upon a cart, one of the Irishmen remarked:—

"What a shame, to think of them digging up earth in that way!"

"What do ye mane?" asked his companion.

"Well," said the other, "that machine is taking the bread out of the mouths of hundreds of laborers who could do their work with their picks and shovels."

"Right you are, Barney," said the other fellow.

Just then a man who had been looking on remarked:—

"Look here, you fellows, if that digging would give work to a hundred men with shovels and picks, why not get a thousand men and give them teaspoons to do the job?"

The Irishmen, to their credit, saw the force of the remark, and joined heartily in the laugh that followed.

Ministerial Perquisites.

Not only stationery office officials, but cabinet ministers, used formerly to enjoy sundry little perquisites now no longer legitimate. At one time, for instance, each secretary of state received on his appointment a silver inkstand which he could retain and hand down as a keepsake to his children, but Mr. Gladstone when chancellor of the exchequer abolished this little perquisite, and the only token of office an outgoing minister can take with him is his dispatch box. The wife of a minister who had long occupied an official residence on being evicted said with a pensive sigh, "I hope I am not avaricious, but I must say when one was hanging up pictures it was very pleasant to have the board of works carpenter and a bag of nails for nothing."—London Chronicle.

Not the Same.

It was in the smoking car, and the two fat men were talking.

"Well, I have a good deal of trouble with my kidneys," said the first. "Can't seem to get 'em just right. How about you?"

"Oh, my kidneys are generally all right; it's liver with me," said the second. "Been running wrong all season."

"Excuse me for butting in," said the drummer for a patent medicine house, "but if you gentlemen will take Peterkin's Pepper Pellets For Peevish Patients they will relieve you instantly."

"What's that got to do with us?" asked the fat men simultaneously. "We ain't sick; we're retail butchers."—Harper's Weekly.

Meridians Run Due North and South.

A man "following the absolute line of the tenth meridian east from the north to the south pole" would travel due south and never southeast or southwest so long as he remained on the meridian upon which he started. If on the tenth meridian east, for instance, his angular distance from the meridian of Greenwich does not change. He is always 10 degrees east of that meridian from one pole to the other. He could only travel southeast or southwest by departing from that meridian on one side or the other.—New York American.

Mr. Jas. Lang, formerly dealer in gents' furnishings on George street, has received the Appointment of Appraiser at the Local Customs House. Mr. Lang was the successful one of a list of applicants sent to the Minister and was subject to a gruelling examination by the Inspector. This examination required a considerable degree of education, as well as experience and Mr. Lang, who for years was in the hardware business and drygoods business, was also a matriculated student at the Collegiate Institute. This gave him a distinct advantage.

BLUE LAWS OF OLD

ENACTED BY THE PURITANS.

Witchcraft Was an Offense Punishable With Death, and It Was a Crime For Husband and Wife or Mother and Child to Kiss on the Sabbath Day.

Blue laws were no joke, though often an object of irony and derision. They were drawn up by Puritan pioneers—a race of stern and inflexible men who in the excess of their religious zeal and enthusiasm adopted such sanctimonious names as Stand-Fast-on-High Stringer, Kill-Sin Smith, More Fruit Fowler, Fight-the-Good-Fight Fowler.

It may be well to say here that each of these names cited was actually given to and borne by a man, and names of the same sort are to be found in the records of New England, says Himmans in his "Blue Laws of Connecticut."

These men went straight to the old Mosaic law of Holy Writ for their code. In fact, each section of the capital laws has its Bible text appended—a gruesome combination of sermon and death warrant.

The original blue laws were those written of New Haven, Connecticut colony, at the first more or less unwritten, or at least unprinted, but systematized and printed by Governor Eaton in 1656. They were enveloped in blue colored paper, whence the popular and subsequently unpopular name.

The Plymouth and Massachusetts colonies also had their blue laws, calculated to send a chill through every human vein. Even New York, Maryland, Virginia and South Carolina—in fact, all the English colonial settlements in seventeenth century America—had laws, orders and resolutions of more or less pronounced indigo tint. But the true blue laws or code was that which terrorized early Connecticut. These, known as capital laws and purporting to punish, according to the penalties prescribed in the Old Testament, those offenses forbidden therein, were enacted in April, 1642. The texts of Scripture on which they are based were added to each law, as dicta probantia, showing the divine authority by which they were defending, and are singular specimens of jurisprudence.

For instance, witchcraft is one of the first offenses taken up. It is enacted that "if a man or woman be a witch or hath consulted with a familiar spirit they shall be put to death." And "if any man steal a man or mankind or selleth him or be be found in his hand he shall be put to death."

Yet the good colonists made slaves of the Pequot Indians as the regulation punishment for breaking these same blue laws.

The Puritan legislators, having disposed of the ordinary everyday crimes, went on in due course to enact the more minute laws, covering every conceivable misdemeanor, from sneezing in church to crossing a stream otherwise than by the licensed ferry.

It reminds one of De Quincey's ironical observations to the effect that the habit of murder if persisted in may lead insensibly to procrastination and Sabbath breaking.

The following examples, transcribed literally from the best authorities on American colonial history, relate mostly to the heinous crime of Sabbath breaking:

"No one shall run on the Sabbath day or walk in his garden or elsewhere except reverently to and from meeting.

"No one shall travel, cook victuals, make beds, sweep house, cut hair or shave on the Sabbath day.

"No woman shall kiss her child on the Sabbath or fasting day.

"The Sabbath shall begin at sunset on Saturday.

"If any man shall kiss his wife or wife kiss her husband on the Lord's day the party in fault shall be punished at the discretion of the court of magistrates."

(Tradition says a gentleman of New Haven after an absence of some months reached home on the Sabbath and, meeting his wife at his door, kissed her with an appetite and for his temerity in violating this law the next day was arraigned before the court and fined for so palpable a breach of the law on the Lord's day.)

"No one shall read common prayer, keep Christmas or saints' days, make minced pies, dance, play cards or play on any instrument of music except the drum, trumpet and jewsharp."

It is said by Peters in his "History of Connecticut" that these laws were the laws made by the people of New Haven previous to their incorporation with Saybrook and Hartford colonies and, as he says, "were very properly termed blue laws—i. e., bloody laws, "for," says he, "they were all sanctified with excommunication, confiscation, fines, banishment, whipping, cutting off the ears, burning the tongue and death."—New York Sun.

Like a Miracle.

"The age of miracles has gone," declared the cynic.

"No, it hasn't," said the woman. "My husband told me this morning that he noticed I was wearing last season's hat and gave me money to buy a new one."—Baltimore American.

Chronic Throat Trouble Permanently Cured

SEVEN DAYS' USE OF CATARRHOZONE PERFORMED REGULAR MIRACLE.

Miss Counter's Case Proves the Wonderful Efficacy of Catarrhozone in all Throat and Nose Diseases.

Windsor, Ont., June 11.—Miss Counter's case will prove of great interest to everyone troubled with sore throat, bronchitis or weak lungs.

When asked for a statement Miss Counter said: "About seven years ago I contracted a heavy cold that settled on my lungs and resisted all treatment. After I had tried several doctors here and specialists in Detroit without benefit, I went to my druggist and asked him for the best remedy he had for cold on the lungs. He recommended Catarrhozone which cured my cold in one week. It brought back my voice, and I have been every since free from my old trouble. For coughs, colds and lung trouble I am sure that Catarrhozone is the best remedy. It goes right to the sore spot, gives quick relief, and makes a lasting cure."

Catarrhozone cures because its healing vapor is inhaled to the very places that are sore and inflamed.

To permanently cure your winter ills, your coughs, sneezing and Catarrh, by all means use a tried and proven remedy like Catarrhozone. But beware of the substitutor and imitator. Look for Catarrhozone only, 50c and $1.00, at all dealers, or by mail from the Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Ont.

Sunday School Picnic.

The Auburn Sunday school are holding an excursion to South Beach to-day. The excursionists will have dinner at the beautiful summer resort and afterwards enjoy a sail to points in Clear and Stoney Lakes. They will return to the city down the canal, this evening.

Bowling at Oshawa.

Two rinks of Peterborough bowlers motored up to Oshawa yesterday evening, where they will play today. The following are the two rinks:

A Delightful Time.

A large number of local people took in the St. George's Choral Society's excursion to Burleigh Falls on Saturday, and all spent a very enjoyable day. The excursionists boarded the train here for Lakefield, where the steamer was waiting for them, and they were given a pleasant sail through Clear and Stoney Lakes to Burleigh Falls. The excursion returned to this city late Saturday evening.

Flower Sunday.

Yesterday the George street Methodist Church held their annual flower Sunday. The Sunday school met in the morning, each member carrying a bouquet of flowers. The pupils marched up into the church where the flowers were used in a beautiful patriotic design. The Rev. Mr. Couch, taking the letters of the word "Canada" showed that a Canadian citizen should have character, ambition, nobility, activity, duty and adaptability.

The Price of Coal.

Ottawa Citizen: "Coal bids are tender topics with dealers these days. They have been tough enough with the consuming public. Toronto, hearing of Ottawa's $6.09 offer, has thrown out all tenders for this year's supply, and called for new bids. In the meantime the bidder here, who has played the role of Federal philanthropist, is busy explaining." The Times is getting prices from other places, which will be made public later on. The rate of $7.50 per ton charged in Peterborough, may be open to criticism.

Patriotic Services.

Knox and Murray street churches held services of a patriotic character yesterday, and in the two churches, both morning and evening, a large congregation was present. In the morning at Murray street church Mr. Asa Huycke gave a splendid rendition of "O Canada" and "The Maple Leaf" was sung by the choir and congregation. The Rev. Mr. Webb, in his sermon, dealt with the divine munificence and how freely the Dominion had been blessed by it. In Knox Church His Honor Judge Huycke gave a patriotic address and a large number of the Boy Scouts turned out in uniform. In the evening the Rev. Mr. Keith spoke to young men especially, his subject being, "The Friendly Foe."

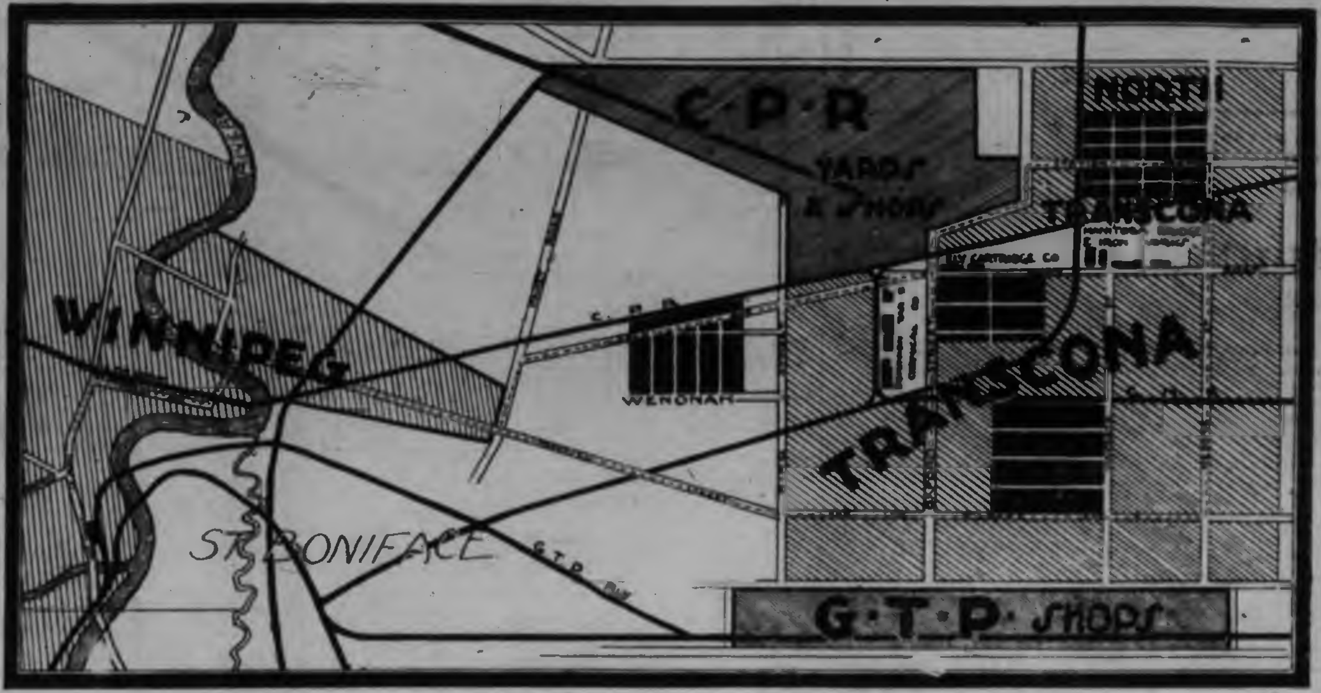
Take Our Advice and Invest in Transcona To-day



Winnipeg's Railway and Industrial Centre

TRANSCONA is rapidly becoming the recognized manufacturing centre of Winnipeg, and will be to Winnipeg what Toronto Junction is to Toronto.

The Grand Trunk Pacific are rushing to complete their immense shops at Transcona, one unit of theses are already finished, the machinery is now being tested, and in a few weeks' time one thousand men will be employed permanently and other sections will be pleted as rapidly as possible, and will give employment to a small army of mechanics.

The C. P. R. are now building the largest railway yard in the world at Transcona, together with elevators, round houses and other terminal facilities. Several industrial plants are already located in Transcona, and many others will be located there in the near future. The Dominion Tar and Chemical Co., and the Ely Cartridge Company now have their plants in operation. The Manitoba Bridge and Iron Works are building an enormous plant, and expect to have a part of it completed by the first of the year.

The G. T. P. shops will give employment to four or five thousand men, and in the near future the C. P. R. will require fully one thousand mechanics and yard men and the several manufacturing plants will require sufficient men to bring the total number of employees in Transcona up to fifteen thousand, this will mean a city with a population of over fifty thousand people.

Transcona has been incorporated, a progressive Council elected, and contracts have been already let for several mile of sidewalks, streets graded, electric light, and the question of sewage is now under consideration.

Investors who buy in Transcona to-day will make large profits. Real estate values in Transcona are exceptionally low, considering the possibilities of this young City. Lots that we are now offering for $5.00 per ft. and upwards will be worth from $100.00 to $300.00 per ft., in less than five years' time.

Any Investor can make 100 p.c. or more on their money in a very short time by investing in Transcona Lots.

LITTLE LOCAL LINES

Commencing to-day the passenger service on the Georgian Bay & Seaboard Railway (Lindsay to Port McNicoll section) will be inaugurated.

Mr. C. J. Stephens, evangelist, of Toronto, will conduct a series of open air Gospel meetings in this city, all next week in connection with the Christians at Gospel Hall.

The Sixth Annual Excursion of Holloway Street Sunday School, Belleville, from Napanee, and intermediate points is coming to Peterborough on Wednesday, August 14.

A visitor from Orillia, who appears to be more of a knocker than a citizen, says neither the local option nor the daylight bill are working well in that place.
proved to be a decided financial success.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

trade mails stamps for stamping letters, which are installed in the respective post offices. Would not this be a good idea for the local Fair's board? By it all letters leaving, coming into or passing through the City would be stamped with the date of the local exhibition. This is an opportunity for advertising the local fair that should not be missed.

SHOULD RAISE THE FEE.

(Editor Morning Times)

Sir.—The Times has certainly been the means of doing good work in connection with the picture shows, by having the crowding of the aisles and entrances lessened. Now, if you would serve the people still further, you would insist on having the licenses for these places increased to not less than $1,000 each. This probably would have the effect of lessening their number, which is very desirable.

The Times seems to be the only paper not afraid of taking up matters of this kind and carrying them through. I hope you will begin a campaign along the above lines and let me assure you in advance that it will be very popular.

SUNDAY SAVED REGINA

Had Cyclone Come on Working Day Hundreds Would Have Been Killed

GOVERNOR WILSON LANDS DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION

TORONTO MAN SAYS IT WAS JUST LIKE HELL LET LOOSE

Black Clouds Practically Shut Off Daylight--Bricks and Debris Hurled Through Air--Boy in Canoe Carried Out of Lake Into Park Long Way Off

Saskatoon, Sask., July 2.—First reports of the cyclone disaster in Regina have only minimized the awfulness of the damage that was done. Reports from eye-witnesses who arrived in this city to-day make it plain that it will be years before Regina will have recovered completely from the terrible cyclone which completely devasted the business area of the city.

"The only thing it could be likened to was hell let loose," said John F. Hartman, of Toronto, to your correspondent last evening. "It would be hard to describe the conditions, as any person who has not been through a hurricane could hardly understand what it means. I was in my room on the fourth floor of the King's Hotel, lying on the bed, when I noticed that darkening clouds had practically shut off the daylight. In less than five minutes the rain was pouring into the room. Without it was impossible to see across the street. Bricks and pieces of wood were flying thick through the air. and frequently hurled through the windows, which were broken with the first part of the cyclone.

Everybody Was Bleeding.

"A few minutes after the heavy wind had ceased, along with practically everybody in the hotel, I proceeded to the streets and the sight was terrible. Practically everybody you met was cut about the face, limping and blood was to be seen on the faces of nearly everyone.

"I saw a canoe in which a child had been playing at the beach of Lake Wascana, which was landed in the centre of Victori a Park, several blocks away. The child was carried off his feet and rendered helpless in the face of the storm, but came through it practically uninjured.

"I also saw in another section where a box car, trucks and all, had been picked up and blown against the side of a house, which it knocked over."

CITY GRANTS $600 TO THE HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY

Council in Regular Monthly Session Last Night---Stability of Sacred Heart Church Threatened by Condition of Romaine Street Sewer

The City Fathers met in regular monthly session last night, His Worship Mayor W. H. Bradburn presiding. There were also present Aldermen Anderson, Morgan, Graham, Johnston, Brown, Duffus, Gordon, Gillespie, Duncan and Buller.

Communications.

W. H. Lytle of this city, put in a tender for concrete road pavements at $1.15 per square yard. This was sent along to the Board of Works.

Mr. D. O'Connell wrote that the sinking of the manhole at the corner of Romaine and Aylmer streets show conditions resulting from the action of quicksand, affected by the pumping station, that menace the stability of Sacred Heart church. Mr. O'Connell further intimated that a continued subsidance of the soil at this man hole would undermine the foundations of this sacred edifice and the city would be held responsible for any damages accruing therefrom.—Received.

$600 For Horticultural Society.

Ald. Anderson, in presenting the finance report, recommended that the request of the Peterborough Horticultural society for a grant of $600.00 on the usual terms, be granted.

Also that in connection with the payment of the ex-officio Manhood Suffrage Registrars, and the suit of D. W. Dumble, vs. the City, where it has been decided that the ex-officia registrars who do not perform any of the duties of registration, but can collect the fees, the matter be drawn to the attention of the Attorney-General by the City Solicitor and that he be requested to secure an amendment to the Act to make it clear that these officials, when they do not perform the work, should not be able to collect pay from the City.

The monthly accumulation of accounts were recommended to be paid.

The report was adopted.

The Standing Committees reported their months' business, as previously published in these columns.

Anderson Gets Contract.

T. G. Anderson, city, was awarded the contract for supplying firemens' uniforms and overcoats. Anderson's tender was $586 and Geo. Ball's $590 —$4 difference between the two. No other firms tendered.

By-laws.

A by-law to authorize the Peterborough City Trust to convey a small strip of land to the Protestant Home passed its several readings.

A by-law to authorize the construction of cement sidewalks passed its several readings.

Garbage By-law Amended.

The Garbage By-law was amended to provide that all citizens within the area affected by the by-law shall provide galvanized iron receptacles with cover therefore, in which to deposit their garbage (ashes being kept separate) and that such receptacles shall be placed at the side of the public street, except in cases approved by the Sanitary Inspector and chairman of the Property Committee, where other convenient places in which to leave the receptacles are available.

A by-law to authorize the grant of $600 to the Horticultural Society passed its several readings.

For Inspection of Dairies.

Ald. Gordon moved that $150 be voted to aid in a proper inspection of milk dairies, said money to be used at the discretion of the Medical Health Officer.

Ald. Buller opposed this resolution on the ground that to fight the present microbe fad would entail the employment of whole regiments of inspectors. He could not see why, if it is necessary to search dairies from whence the city's milk comes for disease microbes, it is not equally necessary to inspect farmers' premises from whence butter is brought into the market.

Ald. Gillespie replied that farmers are subject to Government inspection.

Ald. Morgan asked Ald. Gordon if the Sanitary Inspector is qualified to inspect cattle.

Ald. Gordon—"He's as much qualified as your candidate (Meharry) is."

Ald. Morgan—"No, he is not. The Medical Health Officer was satisfied that Meharry was qualified to inspect cattle.

The Mayor—"The Sanitary Inspector may not be qualified to inspect cattle, he can, however, inspect the premises in which cattle are kept."

Ald. Anderson—"We haven't $150 to devote to that purpose. I would not object, however, to us paying the livery bills accruing from such inspection being paid on certificate of the Medical Health Officer."

Ald. Gordon here amended his resolution, seconded by Ald. Gillespie, on the lines suggested by Ald. Anderson, when the motion carried.

This means that the Sanitary Inspector will make periodical inspections of those dairies from which the city's milk is drawn, his livery bills to be paid on certificate of the M.H.O.

NO CYCLONE INSURANCE AT REGINA ABSOLUTE LOSS WILL BE $6,000,000 KILLED NEARLY 40; INJURED FULLY 200

Devastated Area Turned Over To Militia and Police--Five Died On Artificial Lake

Regina, Sask., July 2.—With the coming of day is heard the tramp, tramp, tramp, of soldiers going out to relieve their comrades on guard out to a stricken city. Rain beats pitilessly down on the horrible scene of the wrecked homes, both of the poor and the rich, and falls unheeded into cellars of what had once been large cellars and warehouses and business blocks. Although martial law has not been declared, the devasted area was turned over to the militia of the city, and the Northwest Mounted Police last night and a Dominion Day came and went unheeded in what had been one of the finest and most beautiful cities in the great western country.

Owing to the fact that the cyclone hit here on Sunday, half an hour after Sunday School had been dismissed and one hour and a half before evening service, the death list is comparatively small. If the storm had come an hour earlier or two later or on a working day the loss of life would have been terrible.

On the Artificial Lake.

The number of killed at present is 27, injured from 150 to 200, but it is expected that a number of bodies will yet be found in the ruins, and it is believed four or five at least perishedon the artificial lake.

GOVERNOR WILSON GETS DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION

Gained Rapidly on the 44th and 45th Ballots, When It Looked Like a Landslide--Virginia, W. Virginia and Illinois Went Over

ELECTED ON 46TH BALLOT, WHEN UNDERWOOD AND CLARK RELEASED THEIR DELEGATES

Convention Hall, Baltimore, July 2.—The final break to Governor Woodrow Wilson as the nominee for President of the United States came in the Democratic National Convention this afternoon at the beginning of the 46th ballot.

Wilson had received 633 votes on the 45th, with only 725 1-3 necessary to nominate. Senator Blankhead of Alabama quickly withdrew Underwood. Senator Stone, of Missouri, in behalf of Champ Clark, released all Clark delegates at the same time saying Missouei would vote for him to the end. Mayor Fitzgerald of Boston withdrew Governor Foss from consideration.

By this time it was apparent Wilson would win on the 46th ballot and the convention was in an uproar, delaying the call for a long while Patted Bryan on the Back.

Over in the Nebraska delegation, Bryan sat with a broad smile on his face Delegates surrounded him, grasped his hand, and patted him on the back. Charles F. Murphy was on his feet in the aisle in front of his delegation. Several men spoke to him, but he contented himself with giving a characteristic nod and grunt.

Senator Reed of Missouri interposed an objection to New York's request for unanimous consent to make Wilson's nomination by acclamation The roll call went on.

As Chas. F. Murphy arose to vote the New York delegates a calm spread over the entire convention so that the result might have been heard in the furthermost corner, had Murphy whispered. When the New Yorker snapped out the fact that "New York votes ninety for Woodrow Wilson," there was a yell that fairly rattled the rafters.

The Convention adjourned till 9 p.m.

New York, July 2.—"I have nothing to say now," snapped Col Roosevelt, when told of Wilson's nomination.

MISS ALICE HATHERLEY.

GO TO FLORIDA FOR HEALTH AND wealth.—The question is asked me repeatedly: Why, if all that is claimed for the climate and earning capacity of the land in Florida is true, how is it that only a percentage of the State's area is under cultivation? It is a fair question, and the answer is a simple one. After the war between the North and the South Florida found herself in a deplorable condition financially. The State Government leased hundreds of thousands of acres of its best prairie and timber lands for periods running as high as 99 years. This latter period tied up the great Kissimmee Prairie until recently. It is now, however, in the hands of a splendid colonization company, whose selling agent is the Hunter Land Company, Kissimmee Prairie is in the Southern portion of Osceola County, and is noted for its fertility and uniformity of soil. It is the healthiest spot in North America, and every day in the year is a growing day. Write for maps, illustrated literature, excursion particulars and any desired information. Address Alf. Law, Ontario, Manager, 69 Cecil street, Toronto. D-6 in J4

PINE TAR CORDIAL

NUGENT'S SARSAPARILLA—PRICE FOR large bottle, 100 full doses, 50c, and well worth it, too. It's better to take no medicine at all than to depend upon cheap concoctions that are compounded to sell at a low price and a big profit just because there is a large demand for certain remedies at certain seasons of the year. There are so-called Sarsaparillas offered to us to sell to our customers at 75c a bottle that would bring us a larger profit than Nugent's Sarsaparilla sold at 50c. Nugent's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, arouses the torpid liver, drives out all impurities, cleanses and tones up the system, and helps Nature throw off the dullness that comes from the indoor life of winter. It arouses energy, brightens the eye, clears the brain, gives lightness to the movements. Nugent's Sarsaparilla is not the only thing you will find in this drug store. We make a specialty of Nugent's Remedies. Nugent Drug Co., 380 George St. directly opposite Cressman's store.

Talleyrand's Brevity.

A single word was often sufficient for Talleyrand to make his keenest retort, says the Kansas City Star. When a hypochondriac, who had notoriously led a profligate life, complained to the diplomatist that he was enduring the tortures of hell Talleyrand simply answered, "Already?"

To a woman who had lost her husband Talleyrand once addressed a letter of condolence in two words, "Oh, madame!"

In less than a year the woman had married again, and then his letter of congratulation was:

"Ah, madame!"

LITTLE INVENTIONS.

Simple Devices Which Have Earned Millions.

Keep your eyes open and do not regard the simplest contrivance as too insignificant for serious attention. That undoubtedly is the lesson which is to be learned from the history of inventions, many of which, although seeming but trifles in themselves, have earned fortunes for those who have been clever enough to evolve them.

Take, for instance, the crinkly hairpin. The man who made a fortune out of the idea—for millions of women bought them when they were once placed on the market—stood behind his wife one day while she put up her hair. The hairpins of those days were straight, smooth pieces of wire, which had an irritating way of coming out. The woman, in this case, was resourceful and bent her hairpins before putting them in. Her husband saw her do this, and it gave him an idea. The result was the invention of the crinkly hairpin.

And then there was the man who invented the patent dress-hook with a hump. Women had been fastening their dresses up with hooks and eyes for a generation, but hooks had a way of coming unfastened, much to the chagrin of the neat. Then came the wideawake man who bent one of these hooks so as to make a hump in it. He tried hooking it up, and found that it remained hooked, patented the idea, and the "See That Hump" book advertisements, which are to be seen in every town, earned him a fortune.

The bath-towel was invented by accident. A towel manufacturer found that his machinery was not working right, and that his towels were suffering a vast tangling of ends. While adjusting the machine he used one of the towels to dry his hands. He found it pleasantly absorbent, and from the idea to which that gave rise was born the bath-towel and a fortune.

A man named Heaton noticed that much trouble was occasioned, especially to mothers, because the buttons would come off the children's boots. He thought out and patented the little metal staple that holds on the shoe buttons of to-day, and realized a fortune for his pains. Another man pasted little rings round the holes of tie-on labels and thus made an eye that would not tear. Thousands of travelers have been saved the inconvenience of luggage going astray through torn-off labels, and there are fewer unclaimed parcels lying at the [illegible] since his little invention came into general use. This invention also made a fortune.

The man who invented "tinned" goods has made it necessary for somebody to invent a tin-opener. A tin-opener is not a very difficult thing to use, yet the public will always pay for an invention that is still easier. So just recently an inventive genius brought out a patent "tin" with a seam just below the top. A smart blow breaks the seam, and the lid is off. A single packer ordered 10,000,000 of these tins as an experiment, and others followed suit.

MOVING THE PIANO.

Changing Its Position In a Room Will Affect Its Tone.

It is said that the very act of moving a piano around in a room is sufficient to disturb its tonal qualities. When a piano has been moved into the position for which it is intended, is accustomed to the temperature and the drafts prevalent, it should be tuned, experts say. Any change of temperature or movement may cause the strings to contract or expand slightly with the resultant loss or gain of half a semitone. Changing the position of a piano is said to have almost the same effect as constant playing, only in the latter case the constant action of the hammers against the strings tends to loosen their adjustment and the instrument runs out of tune.

Sea air has also a detrimental effect on pianos. Here again contraction and expansion of the wires are the chief causes of disturbance. Pianos constructed for the tropics are much more strongly built than those used in temperate climates. Wood that is not liable to warp and crack is used in the sounding boards; otherwise they have to be brass bound and stayed to prevent splitting.—New York Sun.

Horrible Examples.

Slang not only becomes English, but sound English becomes slang. When Landor was reading "Aurora Leigh" he wrote to John Forster that it was a great poem, "but there are a few flies on its surface." From that it is some distance to the contemporary lyric:

There are no flies on me.
There may be on you
A bushel or two.
There are no flies on me.

So when the poet Henley complained "there is a wheel within my head" he little knew what a horrific future his metaphor was to see.—Collier's.

PHYSIOGNOMY.

How Your Character Is Written In Your Face.

In your forehead and eyes the accomplished character reader scans the pages of an open book. It is you yourself who are telling him of your character, be it stable or unsteady, heroic or cowardly. He knows that if your head is justly proportioned to the rest of your body it reveals steadiness and force of character; if too large, that it usually indicates grossness and stupidity.

If it is too small it tells of feebleness and ineptitude of mind, if not of constitution. The physiognomy of your forehead is seen in the form of the frontal bone, its height and proportion, regularity or irregularity. This indicates the disposition and measure of your facilities, your method of thinking and feeling. Pathognomy is to be studied in the skin, its color, tension, and relaxation. It gives evidence of the passions, the actual state of the spirit within, and the use it has made of its natural gifts.

Foreheads seen in profile may be divided into three broad classes—those that are projecting above, flat on the eyebrows, those retreating from behind well-developed brows, and those perpendicular. Generally speaking, people with prominent eyebones act promptly, on the judgment, perhaps the passion of the moment. But they err very seldom, for their gifts of intuition and extremely rapid deduction guide them rightly.

High foreheads, lacking in this quick spirit, pause and consider the matter before taking action, and, being less imaginative, less passionate, less resourceful and tactful, they cannot afford to make mistake.

The man of action has a short forehead and prominent brows; the man of intellect high, well-developed temples. A forehead square on the temples and retreating into the hair on either side is indicative of lasting memory and well-balanced judgment.

The typical forehead of a leader of men is that of Viscount Kitchener—short, compressed, with prominent eye-bones and thick, straight brows, square and receding on the temples. People with this manner of forehead cannot fail to judge character of circumstances with quickness and accuracy; they store away observations in a retentive memory and act on conclusions with promptness and decision.

It is singular to note that Bismarck and Li Hung Chang both showed the distinctive signs of immense cuteness and genius for intrigue—namely, the eye-bones that project so sharply as to cause the hair of the brows to bristle outwards—and the careers of these two statesmen stand in corroboration.

But it is the eyes of the individual which afford most reward to the character-reader.

Eyes are the mirror of the soul. Dividing them into two general classes—light and dark—it may be safely put forward that the dark indicate power, the light delicacy.

Black eyes, it may be stated, are not really black, but of so deep an orange that they seem black contrasted with the white surrounding them. Sometimes they appear dull and sluggish, but the passions they denote are only slumbering. With sparkling black eyes the mental faculties of the individual are brisk and his temperament is vivacious. Clear blue eyes mark the possessor of temperate desires, and, other intellectual indications being equal, what they may lack in power and passion stands for versatility and subtlety. Green eyes, though often fascinating, are dangerous, for they are the token of deceit and coquetry; while the hazel eye shows steadiness and the capacity for constant affection.

Arsenic Eaters.

The average Englishman has a horror of arsenic, but the peasantry in Austria-Hungary and other parts of eastern Europe eat it habitually, believing that it gives plumpness and beauty to the figure and longness of breath. Peddlers sell white arsenic about the countryside quite without restriction. The quantities taken are small, and so long as the doses are regular no illness results. Once they are stopped, however, symptoms of arsenical poisoning at once become manifest. Mountaineers in eastern Europe often take a dose of arsenic before commencing a climb, and it is also customary to give it to horses and dogs to give brightness and gloss to their skins.—London Chronicle.

His Hand Bath.

Arguing forcibly, if not convincingly, against the custom of taking a bath, still happily prevalent in certain quarters, an English writer relates the savory story of a Kentish farm worker whose horny hand he grasped. "Good Kent dirt," said the man, catching a critical glance. "Haven't had time to wash your hands before tea?" was the question. "Wash my 'ands!" exclaimed the man, then explanatorily: "I never washes my 'ands. When they gets 'ard I lies 'em."

The Trouble.

Lawyer—Don't you think I acquitted myself well in that trial? Friend—Very well. It is a pity you didn't do as much for your client.—Baltimore American.

Wise and Otherwise.

A wise man acknowledges his mistakes; a foolish one tries to convince himself that he was right.—Pittsburgh Post.

The Best Way.

Choose always the way that seems the best, however rough it may be. Custom will soon render it easy and agreeable.—Pythagoras.

The Mental Railroad.

Patient—I cannot concentrate, doctor. My train of thought keeps jumping the track. Doctor—Ah, a nervous wreck!—Puck.

The absent are like children—helpless to defend themselves.—Steele.

THE AMERICAN INVASION

According to immigration reports for the month of June there were already 21,194 arrivals from across the border to the West, increasing the steady influx of American farmers who are settling up the land in the prairie provinces. Of this number over 1,300 took up homesteads and many hundreds purchased outright. Each arrival brought an average of more than $1,200 in cash, and the aggregate addition to Canada's wealth will exceed $25,000,000. These figures simply bear out the announcement that the invasion of the Canadian West by American settlers will exceed during this year all records of previous years.

As has been repeatedly pointed out, the class of settlers is the most desirable that could be induced to come to Canada. Not only are these men intending to become citizens of the Dominion, but they are in circumstances sufficiently independent to become, from the start, contributors to the production and wealth of the country. They will need no coddling nor material assistance, all being acquainted with farm methods and with the commercial system of the country.

The emissaries of the departments of immigration and trade and commerce have made good in the work of their agencies in the United States, the very best available timber out of which to build up Canadian citizenship being secured. Undoubtedly a great impetus was given to their work by the reciprocity campaign of last year. The arguments used in the anti-reciprocity crusade are still fresh in the memory of Americans most deeply interested in Agricultural industries. They were induced to give close steady to the conditions alleged to exist in Canada — and actually existing—by which it was shown them that Canada offers great advantages in agricultural production. As a result they have become convinced that Canada affords them a desirable field of opportunity.

The self-expatriation of these Americans has created alarm in the Eastern States. More liberal homesteading regulations and systematic land settlement plans are being devised to keep the farmers at home. These will perhaps measurably check the trek into Canada, but not to such an extent that the development of the Northwest by desirable immigrants will be seriously retarded. One of the best effects of the revision of the regulations will be the inducements offered to many in the overcrowded cities to go back to the land. But the live American is already too well informed as a result of the international brainstorm of last year to be dissuaded from plucking up his stakes and putting his children in the way of making a fresh start in life. What is temporarily the loss of the United States will become the permanent gain of Canada.

Editorial Notes

If Dr. Reaume, having imbibed the spirit of that Quebec congress, ventures to talk to Sir James Whitney like a French seigneur, Sir James will doubtless talk back to him like a Dutch uncle.

If Harry K. Thaw succeeds in getting out of Matteawan asylum and then proceeds to kill his wife, as she fears he will, the Hamilton Herald thinks that the joke will certainly be on the judge who adjudged him sane and let him out.

Already the Hon. Bill Taft is beginning to realize that the nomination given gim at Chicago is a pie with no stuffing in it.

The Hon. Ted Roosevelt is not feeling so much like a bull moose as he did a few weeks ago, but he is comforted by the thought that be is feeling a good deal better than the Hon. Bill Taft will feel after the voters have manhandled him in the November election.

A Novel Catarrh Remedy Cures Without Drugs

THE HEALING VAPOR OF CATARRHOZONE LOOSENS THE COUGH, STOPS ALL DISCHARGES, PREVENTS SNEEZING.

The real danger of Catarrh lies in putting off treatment. You may have Catarrh yourself, but you may not know it. Before the disease spreads from your nose to the stomach, lungs or bronchial tubes, root it out—cure it with "Catarrhozone." Look over the following symptoms — then examine yourself:

Bad Breath — Stuffy Nostrils
Frequent Sneezing — Ears Buzzing
Watery Eyes — Hacking Cough
Bad Taste — Droppings
Raising Phlegm — Difficult Breathing

Don't continue to burden your system for another day when the germs of such a filthy, loathsome disease as Catarrh. Get Catarrhozone to-day—inhale its soothing vapor, fill your breathing organs with its balsamic essences, and all trace of Catarrh will forever depart. Read what Elwood S. Lee, of Sydenham, Ont., says of his cure with Catarrhozone:

"I was a chronic sufferer from continuous colds in the throat and nose, and for many years have constantly had Catarrh. I was recommended to try Catarrhozone, and find that by using the inhaler on the first touch of a cold or la grippe I am able to stay it in a few hours. I have been ableto breathe through my nose freely since using Catarrhozone; in fact, I am completely cured." (Signed Elwood S. Lee.)

Once you try Catarrhozone you'll realize how indispensable it is—the large dollar size contains an indestructible hard rubber inhaler and sufficient medicine to last for two months. Beware of the substitutor, and imitators of Catarrhozone —use the genuine and you'll get cured. By mail from the Catarrhozone Company, Buffalo, N. Y., and Kingston, Ont

Liverpool Wheat Futures Close Irregular, Chicago Lower — Live Stock—Latest Quotations.

CHICAGO, July 1.—Cooler weather over the entire spring crop country, with rains reaching a large part of the belt, made weakness the rule to-day in wheat. The close, which was heavy at nearly the bottom point of the session, showed a net decline of 1 1-4c to 1 7-8c. All other leading staples, too, finished at a loss—corn 7-8c to 1 5-8c, oats 3-4c to 1 1-2c and provisions 5c to 17 1-2c.

The Liverpool market closed to-day ½c higher to ¼c lower than yesterday on wheat, and ½c to ⅝c lower on corn. At Berlin, wheat closed unchanged from Friday last; at Budapest 3c lower.

Are Now Demanding Share of Protestant Taxes at Sturgeon Falls—A Great Principle at Stake—Interesting Letter from Rev. Charles Piercy, Rector.

(Editor Morning Times.)

Sir,—Your readers will perhaps remember that Sturgeon Falls is a centre of disputes concerning the rights of Public and Roman Catholic Separate School supporters as well as the right to use and teach the French language in Ontario on the same plane as that of English.

It may also be said that Roman Catholic Separate School supporters bit by bit, as years go by, have achieved results in the way of privilege by devious, not to say subtle means, in the Legislature and in the Administration of the Education Acts.

Here is an instance: The assessor of the town of Sturgeon Falls, as in years past this year assessed the Traders Bank building here as a Public School supporter. In due course the Court of Revision meets. But in the interim the local manager of the Traders' Bank served a notice on the Town Clerk, asking that "one-third" of the Bank assessment be assessed to the Roman Catholic Separate School.

Portion of Bank Taxes.

By chance I learned of this act and as an interested citizen and Chairman of the Public School board, I addressed to the Court of Revision an objection to and challenge of said action. The Traders' Bank relies upon an amendment to the Separate Schools Act, Section 54 (see 4 Edward VII. Chap. 24) which provides that "a company may by notice. . . require . . . assessment to be entered for the Separate Schools. Provided always, that the share or portion of the real property and business or other assessment of any company entered, rated or assessedi in any municipality for Separate School purposes under the provisions of this section shall bear the same ratio and proportion to the whole of the assessment of real property, business or other assessments of any company within the municipality as the amount or proportion of the shares or stock of the company, as far as the same are paid or partly paid-up and are held and possessed by persons who are Roman Catholic, bears to the whole amount of such paid or partly paid-up shares or stock of the company."

Bank Won on Appeal.

My letter challenging the change demanded that the appelants, (the Traders' Bank) should produce unquestionable evidence that one-third of the stock of the said Corporation was held by Roman Catholic Separate School supporters, as provided in the above quotation, before the appeal was granted, adding that the appeal could only apply to assessments on property occupied by the Bank or at the moment vacant.

At length the Court of Revision has reached this matter and granted the appeal of the Bank in the absence of evidence of proportion. This is no surprise when the Court consists of five members, of whom three are French-speaking Canadians. There is, of course, an appeal to the District Judge.

However, I believe there is more at stake than a local distribution of taxes. The Traders Bank was not the only institution here approached and asked to make an appeal to divert "one-third of its assessment to Separate School purposes. Further, on trustworthy authority informed that in that town the request to have "one-third" of the assessment of "companies" made to the Separate School interests had in several instances been made and granted, and this without any question being raised as to whether "one-third" or any portion was the proper division to make. Indeed, I am led to believe that business men having stock in some local concerns were told if they wished to do business with all sorts of people it would be well to see that some "company" taxes went to the Separate schools. In one case a proposal was made that the whole taxes for school purposes should year about go to the Public and Separate Schools.

Why "One-Third" So Often?

Why "one-third" in so many instances? If the stock is as to one-third in the hands of Separate school supporters, well and good. It is their legal right. But is it? It is not known that any disposition to conform to the proviso above quoted has been shown I assume that the evidence cannot be produced.

One fears that some day, when by subtle management a number of municipalities in this northern portion of the province shall have granted the "one-third" quota the Roman Catholic Separate School people will claim "custom" or "vested rights" as a reason why they may demand the Provincial Legislature to legalize such a division of school assessments, by which Public School supporters' money would go to maintain the Separate School system, existing in antagonism to our Public Schools, and concerning which contributions the ratepayers would be without any voice as to the disposal of the money or management of the schools.

Tri-Color on Government School.

It is a curious thing that by the division made by the Court of Revision the assessment on the third storey of the Traders' Bank building, used by the Free Masons, stands subject to taxation—as to "one-third"—for Separate School purposes.

A word might be added in reference to the use of the word "antagonism" above. Over the building in which the so-called bi-lingual school for the training of teachers has been held, while a Roman Catholic bazaar was in progress last week in the hall adjoining the school-room, the floats to the breeze, high, alone —not the Union Jack, but the tricolor.

Rev. Charles Piercy.

Sturgeon Falls, June 28, 1912.

TO DETECT ICEBERGS.

Prof. Barnes of McGill Has Invented a Device.

In the realms of experimental physics Canada has produced some great men. On it, too, lustre has been shed by other brilliant men who have come and gone like birds of passage—men who, coming to Canada practically unknown, have found here the inspiration and the means which have laid firm and solid the foundations of great careers.

Just now the attention of the world of experimental physics is focused upon one who is essentially Canadian in upbringing, in tradition, in education, and also in the particular direction in which his genius is manifesting itself.

This man is Prof. Howard T. Barnes, D.Sc., F.R.S.C., the Director of the Physical Laboratories and the Macdonald Professor of Physics at McGill University.

Canada knows something about ice, and it seems peculiarly fitting that it should have produced a man who is now the greatest authority on ice that the world possesses. That, I think I can say, is the title that is generally conceded by the greatest scientific authorities to Prof. Barnes.

During the past few years Prof. Barnes has been devoting the best energies of his mind to experiments the express object of which has been to make impossible such a disaster at sea as that which occurred to the Titanic. He now has in his laboratory, as the concrete result of those experiments, an instrument, which he declares, and which his brother-scientists believe, should for all time prevent a repetition of such an accident.

This instrument he calls a microthermometer. It is, in fact, a thermometer of superlative sensitiveness, which, he declares, will infallibly detect an iceberg at a distance of not less than two miles on the windward side of it and seven miles on the leeward side.

Prof. Barnes' device is an adaptation of the electrical resistance thermometer—so sensitive that it will record a variation of one-thousandth of a degree. This thermometer is designed to be permanently attached to the ship under the water, and by means of wires leading from it to the chart room to make a continuous record in the chart room of the water temperature. So striking is this record that, whereas on an ordinary thermometer a single degree is usually represented by only one-eighth of an inch, the new thermometer represents a single degree by an interval of two feet.

He is still a young man, under 40 years of age, and thus not so very far removed from his student days. A glance at his face is sufficient to reveal him to the observant as a thinker. His dark eyes have in them that "inwardness," that steady, confident look which comes, not of arrogant self-assertion, but of the quiet strength of the intellectual power.

The instrument has already been tried with absolute success on the Government steamers in the Gulf of St. Lawrence. Prof. Barnes is now going to try it on a transatlantic trip. The steamship Royal George, outward bound from Montreal on May 1, was equipped with two of these thermometers, and Prof. Barnes directed its use, as he sailed on the ship to England to lecture, by invitation, on this very subject before that famous body of scientists, the Royal Institution.—Toronto Globe.

Preference Shares are preferential both as to assets and cumulative dividends at the rate of 7 p.c. per annum, also participate in dividends after 7 p.c. has been paid on common stock.

The average net profits of the Cafeterias, Limited, on King street, for the month of May, as shown by the report of the auditor, John I. Sutcliffe, C.A., amounted to over 30 p.c. on the entire issue of stock. A complete auditor's statement of the finances of Cafeterias, Limited, up to the end of May, may be seen at the offices of Messrs. Fleming & Marvin, Lumsden Building. This statement shows the monthly profits.

About $50,000.00 will be required to put the new Yonge street Cafeteria on a running basis. Of this amount about fifteen or twenty thousand dollars will be required to complete the interior finish, and make this restaurant one of the finest cafeterias in America. The balance will be required for outfitting the restaurant and providing a certain amount of working capital. The new restaurant will have a dining room of the large dimensions of 7,000 square feet on the ground floor, and also and will also have spacious additions for other purposes of the business.

Cafeterias, Limited, has found in the running of its business on King street that it has eclipsed the old style of waitress-serving restaurants, which is a great saving of labor and expense, and that the new restaurant is the best system of meeting the demands of the public for quick service, consistent with quality and efficiency of service.

We have opened subscription books for sale at par ($10.00) $50,000.00 fully paid shares of the abovementioned 7 p.c. cumulative preference participating stock, carrying a bonus of 25 p.c. of the amount of the preference shares in common stock.

Duties of the Claquers.

The claque has never flourished in English theatres, but is a powerful institution in France, where a "chief de claque" enjoys a recognized status and makes a comfortable income. It is a mistake to suppose that the only duty of claquers is to applaud. A well organized claque includes some members who have cultivated the art of infectious laughter. These "chatouilleurs" attend the lighter forms of drama and laugh so heartily and naturally that their neighbors join in and leave the house convinced that the play must be a funny one. Then there are the "pleureuses," who are paid to shake with sobs at the right moment during melodramas.—London Chronicle.

THE SAILOR CRAB.

Goes to Sea on Long Voyages on the Backs of Giant Turtles.

Among the many curious crabs there is perhaps none more interesting than the sailor crab, a name applied to it because it goes to sea on long voyages, which it makes on the backs of big green turtles and giant loggerheads.

The sailor crab is a little fellow with a body three-quarters of an inch or an inch in length. With its claws extended it might measure an inch and a half. It is a very pretty crab indeed, with color markings that are various; it may be found with a shell all yellow, or with a shell of dark colors with lighter shadings like those of finished tortoise shell; or it may have a mottled shell, or a shell whose coloring resembles that of veined marble. It seems all the prettier seen amid its rough surroundings on the big loggerhead's dingy brown shell.

The big loggerhead, with a top shell five, six or seven feet in length, may afford a floating home for various other living things. Barnacles attach to it and marine vegetation that lodges on its back sticks there and thrives. Some day when the big turtle, with all this life on its back, swims into shallower waters to feed, or works its way through some floating mass of seaweed, one or two sailor crabs may come aboard, shipping thus for a long voyage.

The sailor crab finds food among the meadows or forests of vegetation on its island, or in the scraps that come to it from the turtle's table. It might seem that the big loggerhead couldn't catch fish, but it is a great swimmer, and it will smash into a school of fish and snap up what it wants, and scraps from this float back to lodge on the turtle's back and there furnish food for the sailor. So the sailor crab at sea on the turtle's back is likely to get enough to eat, but it has to be always on the lookout not to be swept off the ship's deck in heavy weather, and so be lost in the ocean, or devoured by some predatory monster of the deep.

Keeping Out Whiskey.

It was to protect the Indians from whiskey dealers from the American side of the border that the Northwest Mounted Police came into being in 1874. So well did they succeed that within a year Col. Macleod, who was stationed in a district which now forms the southwest corner of Alberta, reported that the whiskey trade had been completely stopped in that part of the country, and that drunken riots were at an end.

His first blow at the liquor traffic was the capture of a colored man named Bond, and some other Americans, who had a trading post about fifty miles from the colonel's headquarters. An Indian named "Three Bulls" informed the police that he had bartered two of his horses for a couple of gallons of whiskey. An officer, with ten men, accordingly set out, and rode down Bond and his associates after a forty mile chase, arresting the party, five in number, and seizing two wagons containing cases of whiskey and buffalo skins, which had been received from the Indians. Heavy fines were inflicted, and the first step in protecting the Indians from their worst enemies was a great success.

Influx of Americans.

"The present outlook is that there will be forty thousand more Americans enter western Canada this year than last," said Mr. W. J. White, superintendent of American immigration agencies, who was in Ottawa recently.

Unimportant Man.

Many a man goes away from home for a week and imagines that he is missed by the whole community, and when he comes home he finds that there isn't a person in town that knew he had been away.

Some reasons why Oakdale Park offers a gilt-edged investment :

"It has the best car service of any restricted residence district either inside or outside the city.

"Its proximity to Winnipeg's largest and most beautiful city park.

WINNIPEG PROPERTY

Has made FORTUNES for SMALL INVESTORS, and there is More Money being made TODAY than ever before in the History of the CITY.

Why you should buy in Oakdale Park :

Because : "It is the centre of a 500 acre restricted residential area.

Because : "It is farther from the smoke, dust and noise of railways than any Residence District inside or outside of the City, and with better car service."

Western Canada is the World's Attraction

The United States cannot keep people from realizing the GREATEST OPPORTUNITY ever offered, to secure Independent fortunes, by locating Homes in Western Canada. WINNIPEG is growing by leaps and bounds—A SUBSTANTIAL, PERMANENT GROWTH. VACANT HOUSES ARE UNKNOWN and yet Building is more active than ever.

The history of Crescentwood will be repeated in Oakdale. Where in the former 5 or 6 years ago lots were sold at $15 to $25 per foot, with the same building restrictions as Oakdale Park has to-day, and now $90 to $150 per foot is being paid in Crescentwood and residences to the value of $10,000 to $100,000 are being erected. History will repeat this in Pakdale, but in less time, as it has better Electric Car Service now.

T. HURLEY,

CORNER STEWART AND HUNTER STREETS.

A large number of local people took in the St. George's Choral Society's excursion to Burleigh Falls on Saturday, and all spent a very enjoyable day. The excursionists boarded the train here for Lakefield, where the steamer was waiting for them, and they were given a pleasant sail through Clear and Stoney Lakes to Burleigh Falls. The excursion returned to this city late Saturday evening.

A TOMB IN TOKYO.

Luck in Chips From the Headstone Over a Famous Thief.

Behind the temple sacred to the nameless dead and close to the wrestling amphitheater in Tokyo there is to be found the grave of the celebrated robber Nesumi Koso, who stole from the daimios long ago in the old Yeddo days that he might relieve the sufferings of the poor.

There is a superstition connected with this grave which has made it a much frequented spot. If a portion of the headstone is carried away it acts as a lucky talisman, particularly to those who speculate or are otherwise engaged in games of chance. It is usual for a person breaking a piece from the stone to make a vow that in case he is successful he will buy a new headstone to replace the one he has mutilated. Many prayers must have been answered, for the stones are piled high on either side of the grave, and an enterprising individual near by has the stones already for sale and only waiting the name of the donor to be engraved and then set up.

A shelter has been placed over the spot, and from the roof hang gray lanterns and pilgrims' banners. A large money box catches all the stray sen which go for the upkeeping of the grave. Gamblers and geisha are often visitors. Students before their examinations feel more assured of success if they have a chip of Nesumi Koso's headstone in the sleeve of their kimono.—Argonaut.

Good Advice.

Sir Edward Clouston, like many other Canadians, has learned that nothing ties up a railway like a driving snowstorm. A few years ago in February, the Ontario railways were almost completely tied up with one of the worst blizzards experienced in years. At that time Sir Edward had an important engagement in Ottawa, and although the weather prophets forecasted bad snowstorms, he decided to make the trip by the C.P.R., says The Toronto Star Weekly.

The train crew had a desperate fight to make headway from the time they left Montreal, and finally, when three miles from one of the smallest stations on the line, the engine went dead.

Sir Edward and Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, the president of the C.P.R., were warm friends, so when Sir Edward was informed that there was to be a serious delay he resolved to telegraph Sir Thomas.

A brakeman started out to make his way three miles to the telegraph office, and Sir Edward gave him a personal message to the C.P.R. president. He also insisted that the brakeman wait for a reply. His message was as follows:

"Sir Thomas Shaughnessy,
"President C.P.R.:
"Am tied up in a snowstorm in one of your trains. Three miles from nowhere. What would you advise?
"Clouston."

On account of the snowstorm, there were delays in transmitting the message and the reply, which reached the snow-bound knight three hours afterwards. It was clear, and to the point:

"Sir Edward Clouston:
"C.P.R. train, three miles from nowhere:
"Advise patience and prayer.
"Shaughnessy."

Damp Salt Before Rain.

Very few persons know that when the salt gets damp it is either because it is too near the sea or because it is going to rain. It is very hard to keep the salt cellar dry at the seashore, as there is so much moisture in the air all the time, but in other places it is usually a sign of rain when the salt gets damp. Things that help themselves to the water in the air are called "deliquescent," and salt is one of them. When water is in the air in the form of gas it sometimes becomes too plentiful for the air to hold, and then we get what is called "precipitation," or rain. But long before the water vapor in the air is heavy enough to fall in rain there is enough of it to spare to make salt damp.

Would Look Queer.

A couple of years ago, when Gus A. Forbes was paying a visit to his people in Calgary, Alta., he played a short season at the request of his friend, Ernest Willis, then manager of the Lyric Theatre, with the Empress Stock Company, of Vancouver, who were filling a summer engagement at that house.

Among other plays produced was The Charity Ball. One matinee, just before ringing up, it was discovered that the lady who played the Mother was not at the theatre, and Gus went to Billy Bernard, the director of the company, to ask him what he was going to do.

"I don't know," said Billy. "Oh, we'll get Mrs. —— to go and read the part. What are you laughing at?" "Nothing," said Gus, "only won't it look rather funny to have some one reading the part of a blind woman?"

A Kingdom For a Horse.

The king of England owes his crown to a horse's shoe. The act of settlement by which in 1701 parliament elected the house of Hanover to the British throne, passed the commons by only one majority. This deciding vote was given by Sir Arthur Owen, M. P. for Pembrokeshire, third of his title, who rode post haste from Wales for the purpose. He had relays of fresh horses all along the route, but arrived, dusty and travel worn, at Westminster barely in time to the very minute. Had one of his horses gone lame or cast a shoe he would have been too late.

Holland's Flowers.

The Dutch are a nation of flower lovers, skilled gardeners and inventive farmers. On canal boats, on floating river houses, around farmhouses, in humble village and great city one finds flowers, flowers, flowers. Some one has said that Holland's illustrious conquerors have been her engineers and her florists. Through this flower culture has come her wealth, for this has been one of her chief industries.—Magazine Flowers.

An Aylmer Cat's Bright Idea.

A cat has developed a liking for frogs. Daily Miss Pussy can be seen laying in wait for a Canadian Bandsman. She must have had French ancestors, or possibly a real Parisian transplanted, to have a fondness for frogs' legs. She don't seem to be particular whether they are front or hind legs—they all go the same route.—East Elgin Reformer.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH WEST LAND REGULATIONS.

ANY PERSON who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years old, may homestead a quarter section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. The applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for the district. Entry by proxy may be made at any agency, on certain conditions by father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of intending homesteader.

Duties—Six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within nine miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres solely owned and occupied by him or by his father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister.

In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt a quarter section alongside his homestead. Price $3.00 per acre. Duties—Must reside upon the homestead or pre-emption, six months in each of six years from date of homestead entry (including time required to earn homestead patent) and cultivate 50 acres extra.

A homesteader who has exhausted his homestead right and cannot obtain a pre-emption may enter for a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $3.00 per acre. Duties—Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate fifty acres and erect house worth $300.00.

And it is Selling Absolutely on its Merits.

$14 to $25

Per Foot

1. The entire property is restricted to brick houses.
2. Improvements are well under way; the work of laying sidewalks, grading, and installing sewers, to be completed very soon.
3. A splendid new school will be finished in a few weeks on Innes Avenue.
4. It is expected that the St. Clair Avenue car line will be in operation in seven or eight months, which will greatly enhance values in Caledonia Park.
5. Property east, west and south of Caledonia Park is almost entirely built up and thickly populated.

CITY AND DISTRICT

DASHES HERE AND THERE BY TIMES REPORTERS.

Girls Wanted.

Girls Wanted by the Canadian General Electric Co. D-146

Golf Competitions.

The July competition of the ladies golf club will be held on the links tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. A picnic tea will be given at 5.30 and a large attendance is requested.

The Garbage Trouble.

The garbage situation as felt by those outside the collection district, where collectors have deserted them, is as yet unremedied. The matter should received prompt attention.

Sunday School Excursion.

The Norwood Presbyterian Sunday school are holding a union picnic and excursion to Jubilee Point on Friday next. They will come to this city via C.P.R., and will proceed by steamer to the Point.

Fine Fireworks.

The display of fireworks at Riverside park on Monday night was the finest ever witnessed in this city, and was watched by the largest crowd of people that ever assembled for any purpose at Riverside Park.

ANOTHER BEAUTY SPOT.

The grounds of Knox church have been put into shape by the man of the congregation and a horse and plough, and when the grass has come up it will be another beauty spot added to the numerous ones of this city.

Over the Lift-Lock.

Many of the excursionists in the city for the holiday were given a pleasant sail in the Bessie Butler, over the Lift Lock. This handsome steamer was kindly placed at their disposal by Mr. J. H. McClellan, the Superintendent of the Trent Valley Canal.

Played in Fairview.

The orchestra of the George street Methodist Sunday school journed to Fairview last night and played at a garden party there. The garden party was a success and the orchestra was not only applauded, but many words of praise were heard concerning their rendition of many beautiful airs. They returned to the city last night.

THE NORTH AMERICAN LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY

Is practically a mutual one, with the protection afforded by a guarantee fund upon which interest is paid While such fund is only $60,000.00, the guarantors are liable for five times this amount; so that the position admirably reflects the best points of stock and mutual companies. The Directorate is composed of both policy holders and guarantors, who are equally interested in its management. Home Office, Toronto.

Had Stomach Rumblings Distress Before Meals

Was Seldom Free From That Weary, Droopy, Half-Dead Feeling.

Now Cured and Gives Good Advice to Others With Dyspeptic Tendencies.

If you have any stomach distress at all you will certainly be interested in the following experience, which is told by Mr. Edward Dawkins:

"When I was working around the farm last winter I had an attack of inflammation," writes Mr. E. P. Dawkins, of Port Richmond. "I was weak for a long time but well enough to work until spring. But something went wrong with my bowels for I had to use salts or physic all the time. My stomach kept sour, and always after eating there was pain and fulness, and all the symptoms of intestinal indigestion. Nothing helped me until I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills, Instead of hurting, like other pills, they acted very mildly, and seem to heal the bowels. I did not require large doses to get results with Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and feel so glad that I have found a mild yet certain remedy. To-day I am well — no pain, no sour stomach, a good appetite, able to digest anything. This is a whole lot of good for one medicine to do, and I can say Dr. Hamilton's Pills are the best pills, and my letter, I am sure, proves it."

Refuse a substitute for Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut. 25c per box, or five boxes for $1.00, at all druggists and storekeepers, or post paid from the Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Ont.

Inquest Finished.

The following verdict has been rendered by the jury in the inquest being held in Lindsay into the death of Mrs. Babcock, a former Peterborough lady, who was killed in a collision at Grass Hill on June 18th. "That deceased met her death on the evening of June 8th, while a passenger on the G.T.R. train, known as the Coboconk train, in a rear-end collision, in our opinion, was caused by negligence of the crews in charge of double-header train with engines No. 2167 and 2057. And it is the opinion of your jurors that all railway passenger trains should be operated on the block system formerly in use."

Printers' Picnic August 3rd.

The date of the Printers' Picnic, which has been previously held on Civic Holiday, has been changed to Saturday, August 3rd, owing to the fact that no steamer could be chartered for the holiday. Jubilee Point has been picked as the place for this popular picnic this year, and the steamer Stoney Lake has been chartered to carry the large crowd. The committee in charge of the sports, etc., promise even a better time than ever to those taking in this excursion, and everything will be done for the comfort of the picnickers. A long list of sports is being arranged for both young and old, and a gala day is promised. Keep this date open—Saturday afternoon, August 3rd.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mr. Wesley Clark, of Keene spent the holiday in the city.

Mr. M. Scrimager, of Galt, spent the week end with his aunt, Miss Morey.

Miss Daisy Conroy who has been attending college, is home for the holidays.

Mr. Clarence Henry, of Bethune street, has returned home from camp at Barriefield.

Miss Mary Matthews, of Campbellford, is the guest of Miss Mabelle McGrath, Harvey street.

Mr. and Mrs. Dr. Wesley Clark, of Pontypool, are in the city for a few days, the guests of friends.

Miss Margaret Eastwood, who has been attending college in Toronto, is spending the holidays at her home on George street.

Mrs. McNevin, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Nugent, Brook street, returns to her home in Reaboro this morning.

Miss Emeline Miller, who has been spending the past few days in town, the guest of Mrs. Hazlitt, returned to Toronto last night.

Miss Jewett, of Toronto, who was the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. J. Hopwood, Simcoe street, returned home yesterday, she was accompanied by Mrs. Hopwood's neice, Miss Ada Mims.

LITTLE LOCAL LINES

Some thieves stole into the summer cottage of Mr. Chris. Wood and stole a quantity of fishing tackle.

The sixth annual excursion of the Holloway street Sunday school, of Belleville, is being held to this city to-morrow.

The George street Methodist Sunday School are holding their annual picnic and excursion to-morrow, to Sandy Point.

The Summer Fair in Belleville, undertaken by the ladies of that city, in aid of the Y.M.C.A. there, has proved to be a decided financial success.

The bill for to-day at Riverside is likely to be a double-header with the Senators, but final announcement will appear on the bulletin boards of the local papers.

The Dominion Day celebration in Lindsay was a decided success, yet it is certain that a large number from that town on the Scugog were in the city for the holiday.

MONDAY'S CELERRATION

One of the most successful celebrations in the history of the city was held on Monday, the 1st of July, Dominion Day. Two regiments from Kingston and Brockville were in the city, and the 57th was on hand during the day so that scenes on the principal streets of our city were greatly enlivened by the soldiers and their uniforms. The military review was the feature of the morning and a large crowd witnessed this inspiring sight. The decorated auto parade of twenty-two cars attracted considerable attention, the motors being decked in spectacular and patriotic manner. Mr. Dickson Hall's car carried off the prize in this event In the afternoon, Riverside Park was again the scene of a lively time when an excellent program of sports was run off. The pie-eating contest was side-splitting both to some of the spectators and the contestants. In the evening, a beautiful and generous display of fireworks was given to the large numbers in the park.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

CONSERVE THE HOLIDAYS FOR BENEFIT OF CITY

The splendid success which attended the action of those in charge of the celebration of Dominion Day in Peterborough, has inspired patriotic citizens, who desire to advance the interests of the city, to make provision for a field day of sports on Civic holiday. Action should be taken without delay, so that the necessary advertising may be done in time to ensure a big influx of visitors. It is to be hoped that the Board of Trade will therefore take up the matter quickly.

Indeed The Times would suggest that a permanent organization be formed for the purpose of providing entertainment for all public holidays. Such an organization might secure a suitable charter, not for the purpose of paying dividends, but to furnish good, clean, entertainment for the people, so as to keep them at home and at the same time attract visitors to our beautiful city. We have every thing necessary for the purpose: splendid athletic grounds, beautiful parks, well conducted hotels, boarding houses, lunch rooms, &c. A good programme could be arranged for Civic Holiday, with the aviation meet as the leading feature. Baseball, athletic sports, races, industrial and physical processions might be worked in so as to make a complete and attractive programme. We hope Mayor Bradburn, as Chief Magistrate will lead off in this worthy and patriotic movement.

Since writing the above, we are pleased to be able to announce that Mr. J. M. Brooks, on behalf of the Peterborough Turf Club, has contracted with the Curtis Exhibition Co., of New York, for three aeroplane flights, of 30 minutes each to take place on the exhibition grounds on Civic Holiday, Monday, August 12. In addition to this immense attraction, a splendid programme of races and sports will be put on. Further particulars later.

TORONTO CAFETERIAS

The Yonge street Cafeterias, as advertised in another page of this issue, presented a fine opportunity for the Canadian investor. It is said that the Child's firm made over $900,000 net profit in one year, and there are even larger profits to be expected in a Cafeteria as waiters or waitresses are not needed owing to the new serving devices which have been used with the greatest success in Toronto. The Yonge street Cafeteria has one of the finest sites in Toronto, directly opposite Eatons, and has an actual dining-room space of 7000 square feet. When completed it will be one of the largest and finest restaurants on the continent. The King street one, feeding 900 people a day has in one month shown 33 per cent profit on the entire issue of stock. It is apparent then, that the Yonge street establishment, with a larger capacity and no greater running expense from waiters, will give a greater profit. This is undoubtedly an opportunity for large returns on money invested. The Cafeterias are operated by Canadians.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Met in Regular Session Last Night When Accounts were Passed and Reports submitted.

The Board of Education met in regular session last night. There were present Trustees John Crane, V. Eastwood, R. Fair, Col. Miller, M. A. Morrison, T. H. Adams and Dr. Burnham.

The report of the finance committee recommending certain accounts to be paid was adopted and a number of other accounts were referred to the committee.

The monies received, including $9,000 from the city, totalled $10,455.30.

The report of the property committee recommended that the soft coal required for the ensuing year be purchased from R. W. Chisholm & Co., of Buffalo, and the hard coal from the Peterborough Fuel & Cartage Co., at $7.50 per ton. It was also suggested in the report that three lathes and a band saw with motors complete be installed as equipment in manuel training department. The reported was passed as submitted.

The supervision committee's report recommended that the Collegiate Institute supplies for the coming year be purchased from Messrs. Trebilcock Bros.—Adopted.

The report of the committee on appointments was submitted, recommending that Mr. H. H. Clarke, of Meaford be appointed principal of the King Edward School, to succeed Mr. Kelly, and that Mr. D. A. MacKay, of Lindsay be appointed to the position on the P.C.I. staff, left vacant by Mr. Hutchinson. Miss Flossa Jackson, of Bancroft was appointed on the Public school staff in place of Miss Walker, who has resigned.

The building committee reported that the contracts for the erection of the two new schools have been signed.

THE MILITARY CHURCH SERVICE.

Editor Morning Times.

Dear Sir,—I should like to explain why the military service held in St. Paul's church Sabbath afternoon was conducted according to the Anglican form. The use of St. Paul's was granted to the Chaplain, the Rev. Canon Davidson, for the occasion, in view of the fact that a large auditorium was needed to accommodate allw ho were expected to be present. He thought that at least seven hundred soldiers would be present to attend the service, and as St. John's church could not, conveniently seat this number, I presume this was the reason why the request was made for the use of St. Paul's church. As the service, therefore, was in charge of the chaplain from another city, and as both men were Anglican, they were at liberty to use whatever service they preferred. Had the soldiers come to me and said they wished to worship in St. Paul's church, and would like me to preach to them, then, of course, it would have been a different matter, and the Presbyterian form of worship would have been used. I could not help but feel, however, that the service would have been entered into much more heartily, had a simpler form been employed. By far the larger proportion of volunteers belong to other than Anglican churches, and when they are asked to follow a service to which they are unaccustomed the attempt ofttimes becomes grotesque, and a service which, rendered in the proper environment, is simple and dignified, becomes a travestry of worship. The above explanation of why the Anglican form of service on this occasion was used, I feel to be necessary in justice to Canon Davidson and myself in view of the letter which appeared in your issue of Monday morning, and in view of many inquiries made since.

—Robert Pogue.

BAD LOOK-OUT AND SPEED THE CAUSE OF TITANIC DISASTER

British Enquiry Concludes To-Day---Report Will Be Presented Soon—Captain Lord of the Steamer Californian Condemned.

London, July 3.—The Board of Trade inquiry into the Titanic disaster concluded to-day, when Lord Mersey, the presiding judge, without setting a definite date, announced that its report was be produced within a "reasonable time."

Sir Rufus Isaacs, the Attorney-General, in his closing speech, said he had been anxious to find if possible an excuse for the inaction of Captain Lord of the Californian, but he had regretfully come to the conclusion that there was no excuse for him. The court, he said, must find Captain Lord's evidence unsatisfactory.

Lord Mersey suggested that if Captain Lord saw the signals of distress and did not go to the relief, he was possibly guilty of a misdemeanor.

Sir Rufus Isaacs: "That is so under the Merchants' Shipping Act."

Sir Rufus Isaacs added that the conclusion was irresistible that the Californian might have got to the Titanic in time to save her passengers, and concluded by asserting that utterly unnecessary risks had been taken by the Titanic, and that the causes of the disaster were a bad lookout and excessive speed.

During the thirty-six sessions of the court of inquiry ninety-eight witnesses have been examined, and 25,631 questions put to them.

WILL LOOSE MONEY ON BIG FIGHT NOW A CERTAINTY

May Not Even Be Enough Money to Satisfy Johnsons Purse Demands. Flyan, In Good Humor, Says Someone Will Get Knocked Out

East Las Vegas, N.M., July 3.—With decreasing possibility or probability of a crowd sufficient to meet Jack Johnson's purse demands and to cover the expense of promotion, things are looking dubious to-day for Thursday's fight. Train after train has come in without the expected crowd, and the hopes of Jack Curley have fallen accordingly.

That there will not be enough people in the house to meet general expenses, aside from the purse guaranteed Johnson, is a foregone conclusion, and because of this a meeting will be held late this afternoon, when Johnson and Curley will talk over the situation. Johnson is in a conciliatory mood, and not inclined to force harsh terms, but if there is not enough money in sight Curley will be put to his utmost to make terms satisfactory to consumate the fight.

Promotion Costs Heavy.

This morning there was less than $30,000 in the treasurer's box, and as the promotion cost is almost that much, and as Las Vegas merchants failed to "come through" with their promise to buy tickets they agreed to buy before the match was signed up, it looks very much like as if some one is going to be stung.

Jack Curley last night was decidedly worried over the failure of the expected special trains. Unless they arrive to-day or Thursday morning, it will mean the loss of thousands of dollars to him.

GOVERNMENT AIDS REGINA WITH A SUBSTANTIAL GRANT

Cabinet Yesterday Gave Aid to the Suffers to the Amount of $50,000

Ottawa, July 3.—Cabinet met today and took up the matter of granting aid to the Regina sufferers and it is understood that the sum of $50,000 is to be given.

Hon. G. H. Perley, the Acting-Premier, has sent telegram after telegram to the Saskatchewan Government, and to the Mayor of Regina, asking for a detailed statement as to the losses and as to the amount which will be required to evidence the practical co-operation of Canada as a whole in the relief work, but although repeated messages have been sent asking for replies, no replies have come, and Hon. Mr. Perley is absolutely unable to do anything until he gets information upon which to act. He was in conference on the subject this morning with Hon. W. T. White, Minister of Finance, who is equally desirous of giving all the help that is necessary. But it is pointed out that it is impossible to make any vote without some idea of the needs of the situation.

The Glorious Twelfth.

Extensive preparations are being made for the Orange celebration in Peterborough on July 12th. It is expected that Col. the Hon. Sam. Hughes will be one of the speakers. On the occasion the local Orangemen will hold a Tag Day in aid of the Orange Hall for which they hope to erect.

THE CATHOLIC REGISTER

Waxes Wrathy Over the Ne Temere Decree and Other Matters—No Love for Orangemen.

The Catholic Register, the official organ of the Roman Catholic Church in Ontario, has the following:

The loyalty of the Ulster Orangemen is the loyalty of the dog in the manger. In the British House of Commons the other day, Sir Rufus Isaacs, the Attorney-General, twitted the Ulsterites with their "conditional loyalty." He continued "They will be loyal so long as they can coerce the majority in Ireland." Sir Rufus has got them down fine, and the Protestant People of Great Britain can be no longer hoodwinked by the loud outcries of the brethren. A few Tipperary men with blackthorns, anyway, would trim the whole vaunting pack of them.

"We hear much nowadays," says the Milwaukee Citizen, "of broad-minded Catholics which but too often means that those so-called are Catholics only in name. When a man boasts of his broadmindedness he is usually trying to show his shallow-headedness. We may get so broad that the gates of heaven may be too narrow to admit us." Here in Canada we have a few of this type but, thank goodness, they are very few. Their profession of religion is generally for revenue or political preferment, and anti-Catholic sheets can always call upon them whenever there is dirty work to be done. "A broad-minded Catholic," "a liberal Catholic" or an anonymous "prominent Catholic" is generally a cowardly poltroon who is ready to trade his religion or anything else in the furtherance of his own selfish ends.

The Canadian Churchman of late has gone back to the use of the offensive expressions "Romish" and "Romanist." Under the new management there is a palpable lack of courtesy and good breeding for which the Churchman was noted during the lifetime of the former editor. The calling of names and the applying of offensive epithets does not help any cause. Our Anglican brethren are the last people in the world who should go into the name-calling business, particularly at a time when the public searchlight is being turned upon the early history of the Establishment of the Mother Country. They will be kept pretty busy from now on explaining away the fearful indictment of the present Chancellor of the Exchequer. If they set themselves seriously to that task they will have little time to call names.

In the admirable letter which Mgr. Bruchesi addressed to the faithful condemning the out-and-out false doctrine and evil principles of La-Lumiere and warning Le Pays, we find this fatherly paragraph: "There is here no question of politics or of things on which discussion is legitimate. In these matters the greatest latitude is permitted, provided the rules of charity be not forgotten.

No it is not complaints of the political order that we have against Le Pays. Our complaints are of higher order, this sheet by its character, by its scoffings and criticisms, by its impudent sensations, has become a peril to the integrity of the faith which the Saviour has confided to our care, and we are quite justified in using expressive measures toward it, but we, remembering the words of the Saviour not to extinguish the wick that smouldered, content ourselves to-day in giving this frank and charitable admonition." His Grace hopes that the paper will take good advice, but its editor is of the class that regards episcopal authority in such matters as tyranny and usurpation, and he will go on, he says, as before hanging his insults and indignities on political hooks. Charity is lost on such a source as this.

OUR PUBLIC HOLIDAY

The action of the Board of Trade in providing a lively, clean and appropriate entertainment on Dominion Day is worthy of much praise, and after the holiday has passed it is evident that the money invested by the Board in keeping the local people in the city and bringing outsiders to Peterborough has more than been returned by the money spent on the 1st of July.

All those who kept their stores open on that day did far more business than on any ordinary day, and it is gratifying to know that all the money spent in this city on Dominion Day helped the business of all the merchants and banks of the city, whether or not they remained open. One day of that nature enlivens the business of a city and loosens a large amount of money which in the ordinary course of events tends to become cramped. Besides that it brings a lot of money from outside places that would otherwise not be spent here, as well as keeping a large amount of cash in the city that would otherwise be spent in outside places.

All that, as well as creating an esprit de corps in Peterborough, was the result of the fine and commendable entertainment provided by the Board of Trade on Monday. The Times endorses their work and their attitude fully, but in this matter would suggest that the merchants of this city go even farther and arrange for suitable attractions in the city on every public holiday. This would result in a liveliness in business affairs that would be hard to create by any other means and would give Peterborough a reputation for being wide awake that would be a great help in inducing factories to locate here.

There are those who think that i. the policy were followed the public holidays and their attractions would become common and lose their power to retain the local people and bring others in the city on the holidays. This, however, would not be the result The attractions could be varied so as to be new in almost every particular for the different days, and if these programs were continued in the city, the people in the surrounding towns and cities would soon get into the habit of looking to Peterborough as a place where an enjoyable day was assured, and those citizens who live here are looking for a lively time will become accustomed to staying in the city and having a good time. At any rate, this plan is certainly worth a trial, and taking last Monday's success as an example, few will doubt that this would be a big step in the right direction.

WEDDING BELLS.

Burns—Buller.

A very pretty wedding took place at All Saints' church on Monday, July 1st, when Miss Blythe L. Buller, eldest daughter of Ald. and Mrs. W. H. Buller, of King street, this city, was united in marriage to Mr. Harold E. Burns, of Parry Sound. The bride was charmingly attired in an ivory satin gown, veiled with ninon and pearls; she also wore a silk embroidered veil caught with pearl bandeau, and carried a beautiful bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid, Miss Hazel Buller, sister of the bride, was becomingly dressed in pink satin veiled with pink ninon and trimmed with baby Irish lace; she carried a bouquet of pink sweet peas with pink streamers. Dr. M. T. Armstrong, of Parry Sound, officiated as groomsman. Mr. R. J. Devey played the wedding march, and during the signing of the register Mrs. J. E. Firth sang, "O, Fair, O, Sweet, O, Holy!" Messrs. Stewart Lang, of Peterborough and Firth Buller, of Brantford, served as ushers. The church was very prettily and appropriately decorated by the young lady friends of the bride. After a dainty wedding repast had been served, the happy couple, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Burns, left on the 4.19 C.P.R. train for a trip to the Eastern States. On their return from which they will reside in Parry Sound. The bride's travelling attire consisted of a handsome tan radha silk suit with hat to match. The presents were numerous and costly, testifying to the high esteem in which the young couple are held by a large circle of connections and friends

BOATS MADE OF CEMENT

New Method of Building Steamboats and Barges

FOR THE TRENT CANAL

It is said that They Will be Safer and Better in Every Way Than Those Made of Wood.

LAKE and river navigation is hard on boats, as the constant bumps they receive in passing through the locks loosens the joints and causes them to leak. This applies also to scows and barges. It is now proposed to construct vessels of reinforced cement, so that there will be no seams to let water through. This subject has been in the minds of a few of the boat men, who have had to do with steamboats on the inland waters. Yesterday, a prominent local navigator told The Times that he intended to build a scow of cement, as an experiment, and hoped to do so this fall or next spring. He would have the scow strengthened by cross walls so that if the vessel received a puncture it would still float and could be easily repaired. Such a ship would be almost unbreakable, and would be free from the danger of fire, as the hull at least would be fire proof.

Cement steamers and scows for inland waters, where strength and light draft is necessary, are no experiment. In Mobile the building of cement barges, not craft for the carrying of cement brick, but practical towing boats constructed of cement and capable of performing good service on the bay and in the rivers. The first boat launched was named Gabellini, in honor of the Italian who demonstrated the value of cement in the building of marine craft. The boat is 85 feet long with a beam of 26 feet and a draft of 22 inches, which will enable her to carry a goodload of coal in shallow water.

"While the use of cement for such purposes is not entirely new," says The Hartford Times, "and while it may not be found to ensure a pronounced decrease in the cost of boat construction, anything which calls attention to the practicability of the light-draft barge as a transportation agent is valuable at the present time. The German, who uses steele in preference to cement, makes his shallow streams great highways of commerce by the employment of double-hulled tugs and shoal lighters in connection with modern terminal facilities."

It is well to say that the success with which the European nations have used their little rivers has been noted in this country and engineers and boatbuilders have been convinced the application of the same idea to the Canadian situation would result in a satisfactory regulation of railroad rates and a less clamorous demand for river and harbor appropriations. So we wish alarge measure of success for cement boats

DUBIOUS

About What Her Husband Would Say

A Mich. woman tried Postum because coffee disagreed with her and her husband. Tea is just as harmful as coffee because it contains caffeine—the same drug found in coffee. She writes:—

"My husband was sick for three years with Catarrh of the bladder, and palpitation of the heart, caused by coffee. Was unable to work at all and in bed part of the time

"I had stomach trouble, was weak and fretful so I could not attend to my housework—both of us using coffee all the time and not realizing it was harmful.

"One morning the grocer's wife said she believed coffee was the cause of our trouble and advised Postum. I took it home rather dubious of what my husband would say — he was fond of coffee.

"But I took coffee right off the table, and we haven't use a cup of it since. You should have seen the change in us, and now my husband never complains of heart palpitation any more. My stomach trouble went away in two weeks after I began Postum. My children love it, and it does them good, which can't be said of coffee.

"A lady visited us who was usually half-sick. I told her I'd make her a cup of Postum. She said it was tasteless stuff, but she watched me making it, boiling it thoroughly for 15 minutes and when done she said it was splendid. Long boiling brings out the favour and food quality." Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont.

GO TO FLORIDA FOR HEALTH AND wealth.—The question is asked me repeatedly; Why, if all that is claimed for the climate and earning capacity of the land in Florida is true, how is it that only a percentage of the State's area is under cultivation? It is a fair question, and the answer is a simple one. After the war between the North and the South Florida found herself in a deplorable condition financially. The State Government leased hundred of thousands of acres of its best prairie and timber lands for periods running as high as 99 years. This latter period tied up the great Kissimmee Prairie until recently. It is now, however, in the hands of a splendid colonization company, whose selling agent is the Hunter Land Company, Kissimmee Prairie is in the Southern portion of Osceola County, and is noted for its fertility and uniformity of soil. It is the healthiest spot in North America, and every day in the year is a growing day. Write for maps, illustrated literature, excursion particulars and any desired information. Address Alf. Law, Ontario, Manager. 65 Cecil street, Toronto. D-6 in J4

PINE TAR CORDIAL

NUGENT'S SARSAPARILLA—PRICE FOR large bottle, 100 full doses, 85c, and well worth it, too. It's better to take no medicine at all than to depend upon cheap concoctions that are compounded to sell at a low price and a big profit just because there is a large demand for certain remedies at certain seasons of the year. There are socalled Sarsaparillas offered to us to sell to our customers at 75c a bottle that would bring us a larger profit than Nugent's Sarsaparilla sold at 85c. Nugent's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, arouses the torpid liver, drives out all impurities, cleanses and tones up the system, and helps Nature throw off the dullness that comes from the indoor life of winter. It arouses energy, brightens the eye, clears the brain, gives lightness to the movements. Nugent's Sarsaparilla is not the only thing you will find in this drug store. We make a specialty of Nugent's Remedies. Nugent Drug Co., 360 George St. directly opposite Creasman's store.

THERE WAS NO ANSWER.

The Welsh Member's Question Was a Puzzle to Parliament.

Some years ago a question was under discussion in parliament as to the need of having county court judges in Wales who could speak the Welsh language. Some of the English members contended that there was not the slightest necessity for it. An English speaking judge would in all cases do exactly as well as a native, they said. Mr. Abraham, a Welsh member, hearing this, at once sprang to his feet.

"Very well," said he; "let us consider the matter. Here we are in the county courthouse at Yaysymaengwyn. I'm the plaintiff. The attorney general is the county court judge. He, in the course of the case, asks me if I am prepared to swear that the boots delivered to the defendant, for the price of which I sue, were rights and lefts, or both lefts, as the defendant alleges.

"That is a delicate question which I, with my partial knowledge of English, do not trust myself to answer except in my native tongue. Therefore I say:

"'Cymmer dau bwcch, ar gwasted clawdd Suhet twich; pen-dre pistyll bwlch dwy hafodtal lech wedd Yspyty?'

"Now," he thundered, while the house held its breath and a cloud of embarrassment stole over the face of the disturbed but very attentive attorney general, "what does the honorable and learned gentleman say to that?"

The honorable and learned gentleman had no further objection to make.—London Globe.

HARDY SERI INDIANS.

They Can Outrun a Horse and Go For Days Without Food.

From an ethnological standpoint one of the strangest peoples in the western hemisphere is that tribe known as the Seri Indians, living in the western part of the state of Sonora, Mexico, along the shore of the gulf of California and on the island of Tiburon in that gulf.

From time immemorial Seriland has remained practically unexplored, partly because it lies behind a desert barrier and partly on account of the warlike reputation of its fierce and bloodthirsty inhabitants.

These Indians are of superb physique, able to run down fleet game and to capture half wild Mexican horses without rope or projectiles; able to run across the desert, waterless and foodless, so rapidly as to escape pursuing horsemen; able to abstain from food and water for days; able habitually to pass barefoot through cactus thickets and over jagged rock slopes without thought of discomfort.

They speak a distinct language and strictly practice monogamous marriage. Their hatred for alien peoples is hereditary. The remains of ancient ruins in Seriland indicate that the inhabitants have always kept their country free from foreign invasion and that for centuries their customs and arts, which are crude and simple, have remained unchanged.—Detroit Free Press.

Rats and Eggs.

No single point better illustrates the sagacity of the rat, according to an article in McClure's, than the way in which it eats an egg. It bites through the shell and chips off small fragments as neatly as a squirrel opens a nut, consumes the entire contents without spilling a drop and then sits up and licks itself clean like a cat. Rats will steal the eggs from under a sitting hen. In one case they carried off seventy-five dozen eggs which a commission merchant had incautiously stored in a wooden tub.

Enthusiasm.

Nothing is so contagious as enthusiasm. It is the real allegory of the tale of Orpheus; it moves stones; it charms brutes. Enthusiasm is the genius of sincerity, and truth accomplishes no victories without it.—Bulwer.

HOW TO WASH LINEN SUITS.

An Expert Laundress Describes the Best Method.

"For washing linen suits," said an expert laundress, "use only the best white soap and never rub the soap on the cloth unless there is a lot of hard dirt to be taken out. In the majority of cases the suits soak for an hour or so in soapy water, putting them in when the water is quite hot. By the time it is cool enough to permit washing freely the soiled parts are sufficiently soft to admit of cleaning without very much scrubbing. Rinse in several waters, always until the last water is perfectly clear, then pass the garment through the stiffening water, after which it is pressed as dry as possible in the cotton sheet.

"Some stiffening is necessary to give the linen the appearance of freshness which it has when it comes to you from the tailor. On the other hand, the greatest care should be taken not to have too much stiffening. That ruins the appearance of what would otherwise be a perfectly washed suit. You want just enough to give the linen body and yet not take away from its suppleness.

"In washing colored linens, excepting tans and browns, color all the waters and try always to avoid putting soap on colored linen, and also do not use water hotter than blood heat, allowing the linen to soak only a few minutes before washing it out and putting it in a second water of the same temperature and colored. Three waters are generally enough for a colored linen suit. Where the suit is not much soiled two will be enough. The stiffening water must be colored just as was that in which the washing and rinsing was done.

"After wringing in the cotton sheet care must be taken in hanging both coats and skirts for the drying process. Fresh air for colored linen and sun for the white—that is the ideal drying process. House drying never gives the satisfaction that a good laundress wants for her work. Steam drying should be a last resort. It injures the texture of the goods and leaves the colors less brilliant.

"The figures on which suits get their final shaping are the kind used by good dressmakers and tailors. I have all sizes and covered so that the suits get as nearly as possible the shape of their owners. I keep the figures arrayed in fresh petticoats and shirt waists, and when the freshly washed suits are on them I'm not ashamed for any one to walk into my shaping rooms. Each suit is taken from the figure and placed in its box for shipment. Great care is taken to see that every part of it is perfectly dry."

ARABIAN NIGHTS CITY

BAGDAD IS A REALLY ANCIENT ORIENTAL TOWN.

Home of the Caliphs Has Not Yet Succumbed to the Innovations of the West — Robbers and Fleas Abound and the Foreign Section Is After All the Most Inviting Part of the Community.

To the readers of the Arabian Nights—and who has not read them?—Bagdad, the city of Haroun-al-Raschid, conjures up an incomparable and delightful vision of stately palaces, lovely women, shady courts and cool fountains, such as exist in no other city of the world. Many a lover of the beautiful has laid down his book with a sense of weariness of Occidental luxury, oblivious of the fact that the East seen through the magic spectacles of fairy romance is not the East of reality.

Bagdad has a charm all of its own. For it is not only the largest and best-known city of Mesopotamia—the cradle of the world—but it is one of the few remaining cities still unspoilt by Western innovations.

Moreover, the advent of the Bagdad Railway and Sir William Wilcock's irrigation scheme have given the city of the Caliphs so much prominence of late, and England has so large a stake in that portion of the Turkish Empire, that a brief description of what is to be seen and done in the city of a Thousand-and-One Nights may not prove uninteresting to that large circle of readers who can spare neither the time nor the money to undertake a journey necessitating several weeks of travel.

One can reach Bagdad either via the Persian Gulf or via Beyrout-Aleppo, the latter being the most picturesque route. From Aleppo southwards one must either proceed all the way by native carriage or go to Meskeneh and travel down the Euphrates to Feluja on a "shaktoor"—a vessel somewhat like a child's Noah's Ark borne downstream by the river current.

The traveler who hankers after Pullman cars or upholstered seats had better return home once he reaches Aleppo, for nothing more uncomfortable can be imagined than a journey through the desert in a native carriage. Forced to lie full length for twelve or fourteen hours at a stretch daily, jolted from one side to the other whilst the burning rays of the sun beat down upon one's head, one gives a sigh of relief upon reaching a "khan" just before sundown in order to snatch a few hours' sleep—fleas permitting. Moreover, the roads are infested with robbers, so that it is necessary to travel with an escort of soldiers.

After some twenty days of travel one at last approaches Bagdad, glad at heart to know that in a space of a few hours the sound of English, French and German will again greet one's ears. Hence when the driver shouts "Inshallah (please God), Bagdad in three hours!" one cranes one's neck in order to get an early view of the mosques and minarets of story and legend.

Within half an hour of Bagdad the holy city of Kazimain, famous for its mosque with domes of solid gold, and the fanaticism of its inhabitants, stands out against the clear blue sky. Annually thousands of Shia pilgrims make their way from Persia to pray at this shrine, and the Ottoman Government reaps quite a rich harvest from the duty it levies on corpses imported for burial amongst the saints of Shia Mohammedanism.

No unbeliever is allowed within the precincts of this place of worship, and only a glance can be obtained on one's way through the bazaar, of the splendid mosaics which cover the facade of this mosque.

The natives look askance at every stranger entering the city, and so fanatic are they that the writer of this article was unable to purchase a drink of water lest his lips should defile the bowl. From Kazimain to Bagdad there is a very old-fashioned system of tramways, which passes near the tomb of Zobedich, Haroun-al-Raschid's devoted wife.

Bagdad at last! and a finer sight eye never looked upon—from a distance. The stately palm-trees swaying to and fro in the gentle breeze, the strange goofas plying upon the river, the minarets, the bridge of boats with its crowd of passengers, made me wonder whether my senses were enchanted. Ichabod—when I reached the city I discovered that it was distance that lent enchantment to the view, and that the glories of Bagdad had indeed departed!

If little can be said in favor of the sights to be seen, the social life in Bagdad amongst Europeans has much to recommend itself. Everyone seems good-tempered, notwithstanding that the mean temperature in summer is 118 degrees Fahr. There is plenty of sport — tennis, badminton, polo — whilst an occasional dance or garden-party does a great deal to dispel that feeling of homesickness that overcomes the best and worst of us.

Bagdad boasts three clubs — the British, German and French. Hospitality is written with a capital H over each, and anyone pitching his tent in this city will find a warm welcome extended him by his compatriots.

Each of these clubs sets a day apart every week or month for the reception of guests. One then hears such a babel of tongues that one might imagine one's self in a Berlitz school. Modesty precludes my saying anything about the British Club. I cannot conclude this article, however, without paying a tribute to the German colony in Bagdad. Not to have been to the German club on Wednesday afternoons is to have missed a social treat. Many a non-German will carry away with him pleasant memories of our charming hosts and hostesses, so indefatigable in their efforts to make their guests as happy as possible "im deutschen Kreis."—E. Schaap.

5 Years' Throat Trouble And Influenza Cured

EMINENT DOCTORS FAILED TO CURE—HAD GIVEN UP HOPE.

This case Does Prove That When Catarrhozone is Breathed Every Trace of Catarrh Disappears

Milford, Haven, Da., June 12.—Everyone in this neighborhood knows of the long suffering from influenza and catarrh endured by Mrs. D. Gurney. To-day she is well. Her recovery is due entirely to Catarrhozone. This is her own statement: "I was a great sufferer from Catarrh in the head, throat and nose, and endured the manifold tortures of influenza for five years. My life was despaired of. Catarrh was undermining my strength very fast. I used treatments from eminent doctors but all failed to cure me. I had given up hope of ever being well. Then I read of a wonderful cure made by Catarrhozone. Immediately I sent for Catarrhozone and before I had used one bottle I was greatly relieved. To-day I am cured. We would not be without Catarrhozone in our home—it's so sure in colds, coughs, bronchial and throat trouble. I feel it is my duty to publicly recommend Catarrhozone."

Get the large dollar size of Catarrhozone; it contains a beautiful hard rubber inhaler, and medicine that last two months. Smaller sizes 25c and 50c each. Beware of imitations—accept only Catarrhozone sold by all reliable dealers or by mail from The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont., and Buffalo, N.Y.

DRINKING CUPS FOR HORSES

Most of the large cities have sanitary drinking fountains on the street and the laws require individual drinking cups in the public schools and on railroad trains. But the latest thing is the sanitary drinking cup for horses the invention of a Massachusetts man, who is about to put it on the market.

In its construction it is much like the ordinary drinking trough except that around the edge are a number of individual drinking buckets from which horses will drink. These buckets overflow into the main trough, and the theory is that if any horse contaminates an individual bucket with glanders or other disease germs, these will be forced from the big drinking cup into the trough itself and washed away into the sewer.

The horse now has patent shoes to prevent his slipping on the pavement; he has his hat for use in hot weather, and he is to have his individual drinking cup. This shows that the world is forging ahead, and the more considerate treatment of useful animals is an evidence of that right-heartedness which will eventually result in the more humane treatment of men.

THE ELECTRIC AGE

One of the gravest problems of the day is presented by the steady depopulation of the rural districts of Ontario, as revealed in the last census, says our bright contemporary, the Hamilton Herald. In very many of the townships, especially those in the east, the returns show an alarming falling off in the population. This is to be accounted for partly by the attraction of western Canada, but also in some degree by the development of industrialism and the flow of population into the towns and cities. This is a dangerous sign of the times. Ontario's manufacturing industries are important; but after all, the prosperity of this province as well as of the whole Dominion depends chiefly on agriculture. That will always be Canada's most important industry, the one most worthy of encouragement. To keep the boys and girls on the farm, to make country life more attractive, to make agriculture less laborious and more pleasant and remunerative—anything which will accomplish these things will meet one of the most urgent needs of the time.

Electricity promises to do all this. The demonstration of electric current applied to agriculture at Beachville the other day under the auspices of Hydro-Electric commission, proved much and suggested much more. They were prophetic of a time when all the hard work—and much of the light work too—of the farm and farmhouse will be done by electricity. The farmer will push the button and then just watch the harnessed genie "do all the rest." Low voltage currents from buried wires will stimulate the growth of yeld and garden crops. Cows will be milked, churns and separators operated, housecleaning and cooking, heating and lighting done by electricity. Then the telephone in every farm house will connect up the rural and urban districts and add enormously to social intercourse; electric railways and motor cars will shorten distances and make communication easy.

Among the great things to be wrought by electricity, one of the very greatest will be the rehabilitation of agriculture, the popularizing of country life, the more even distribution of the population. There will be no difficulty in inducing the young folks to stay on the farm. On the contrary, the lure of the country will prove a powerful magnet to draw city people away from the streets and the crowds back to the sweeter, purer life nearer to Nature's heart.

The change will come in our time.

Editorial Notes

Again does our sympathy go out to the thousands of school teachers who for two months must join the ranks of the unemployed.

The man who can smile and smile when his neighbor's chickens scratch up his grass seed deserves to dwell where lawns grow green forever.

Consumers of daily bread have a direct interest in that merger of sixty flour mills in western and northern Ontario, although they may have no money in it.

It is timely to state that a mother may be a very good mother and yet fail to sympathize fully with her offspring in their joy over the arrival of the long vacation.

The member for West Peterborough is a gentle and fair-minded man, but it looks as though the time has about come for him to put some iron in his glove. The situation in the public service calls for a few pollhogs, in the shape of dismissals delivered straight from the shoulder and do much to break up some little "rings" and clear the atmosphere.

TORANTO CAFETERIAS

The Yonge street Cafeterias, as advertised in another page of this issue, presented a fine opportunity for the Canadian investor. It is said that the Child's firm made over 900,000 net profit in one year, and there are even larger profits to be expected in a Cafeteria as waiters or waitresses are not needed owing to the new serving devices which have been used with the greatest success in Toronto. The Yonge street Cafeteria has one of the finest sites in Toronto, directly opposite Eatons, and has an actual dining-room space of 7000 square feet. When completed it will be one of the largest and finest restaurants on the continent. The King street one, feeding 900 people a day has in one month shown 33 per cent profit on the entire issue of stock. It is apparent then, that the Yonge street establishment, with a larger capacity and no greater running expense from waiters, will give a greater profit. This is undoubtedly an opportunity for large returns on money invested. The Cafeterias are operated by Canadians.

HONORS DESERVED.

Sir Henry Pellatt Has Worked Ardently In Behalf of Education.

There are possibilities of a pun in "Dr. Pellatt," as the head of the stock exchange house of Pellatt & Pellatt may rightfully be called, when he is not given either of his other titles, which are respectively the badge of knighthood and of military rank. But far be it from us to depart from our high browed and intellectual discussion of economic subjects to write in such a manner as to excite levity. We leave that to the strictly financial weekly journals. What we began to say was that the bestowal of the degree of Doctor of Laws upon Col. Sir Henry Pellatt, C.V.O., by King's College recently was received with the same approval in the financial world as it aroused in other sections of the community.

Col. Pellatt's services in the cause of education have been of no mean order. He has done much for Trinity University particularly, and it was a graceful act of King's to recognise the duties performed in behalf of a sister institution. Honors are crowding on Col. Sir Henry Pellatt. Not long ago he was elected a member of the Toronto Stock Exchange. Most people, except the members, thought he had always belonged, and the members were glad when he joined. They think it is good for business to have the heads of the stock exchange houses more closely connected with the "floor." The greatest honor that has come to Sir Henry Pellatt within the last year is, of course, that of Honorary Aide-de-Camp to His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught. Taking an entire regiment of our citizen-soldiery to the seat of the Empire, as did Col. Sir Henry Pellatt, was a service to the city and to the country which those of us on this side of the water are apt to underestimate. Prominent men in the Old Country who have since visited Canada have called the visit of the Queen's Own Rifles to England the most effective advertisement that this country could have arranged. A long military career, marked by many achievements almost equally important, testifies to Sir Henry's devotion to the cause of militia training in this country. As a public man his attitude has always been that of a sane and wise counsellor of the nation, and his private life has been marked by a philanthropic disposition which has found expression in the devotion of much time and wealth to the uplift of humanity. Therefore, it may be said with truth that the best wish of his city for Sir Henry is that he may long live to wear with dignity and distinction—the gold aiguillette of an equerry to royalty, the silken robes of an honorary doctor of laws and the self-satisfied expression which is an unchanging label of a member of the Toronto Stock Exchange.—Canadian Courier.

Alberta's Cereal Map.

The second edition of the Cereal Map of Alberta, covering the crop areas for each township, is now being issued from the Railway Lands Branch of the Department of the Interior. The efforts of the Department have been for many years directed toward placing settlers on Dominion lands in the west. The lands available for free homesteading from existing lines of transportation are now, however, approaching exhaustion, and a question of great present interest, and the interest in which will increase from year to year, is "What is being done with the land?" The Cereal Map is an effort to answer this question.

The aim is to show graphically, and separately as to each, the areas under the four leading grains in correct proportion to the whole area and to each other. Circles in each township, drawn to scale, give at a glance the area under each grain and the colors show the variety of grain as follows: Red, spring wheat; dark red, winter wheat; green, oats; yellow, barley; blue, flax. An interesting feature of the map is the information with respect to the acreage throughout the province, which has been devoted to the production of fall wheat. The information incorporated in the publication has been furnished by the Provincial Government, having been compiled from the thrashers' returns for the province.

An Absent-Minded Inventor.

Several new stories have just been told about the famous Canadian inventor, Dr. Alexander Graham Bell. It appears that Dr. Bell hates the sight of his greatest invention, the telephone, so much that he does not make use of it unless he cannot possibly help it. In fact he has never appreciated its usefulness. Dr. Bell tells a story of how he was in a house where a child began to cough in the middle of the night, and the family feared the cough sounded croupy. He went to the telephone and asked a medical man to come over at once. It was an inconvenient hour, and the medical man desired some reason. When he heard what it was he asked why the child could not be brought to the phone. The inventor was immediately struck by the idea that it was quite possible, so that doctor decided over the telephone that the child did not have croup.

Oars for the Navy.

All the wood used in making oars for the British navy comes from British Columbia. An Admiralty order was recently placed with a Canadian lumber company for 200,000 feet of white spruce to be used entirely for this purpose. The fact that the British Columbian white spruce is the wood best adapted for oar-making has been known to the navy for a good many years. Its supreme excellence in this direction was first discovered by the men on the North Pacific Station, who happened to use it for that purpose, and since then the oars for the whole navy have come from Canada. The timber growing on the Queen Charlotte Islands, lying just off the coast of British Columbia, is of especially good quality, and it is from this part of the province that the supply of wood for the navy's oars is drawn.

Preference Shares are preferential both as to assets and cumulative dividends at the rate of 7 p.c. per annum, also participate in dividends after 7 p.c. has been paid on common stock.

The average net profits of the Cafeterias, Limited, on King street, for the month of May, as shown by the report of the auditor, John I. Sutcliffe, C.A., amounted to over 30 p.c. on the entire issue of stock. A complete auditor's statement of the finances of Cafeterias, Limited, up to the end of May, may be seen at the offices of Messrs. Fleming & Marvin, Lumsden Building. This statement shows the monthly profits.

About $50,000.00 will be required to put the new Yonge street Cafeteria on a running basis. Of this amount about fifteen or twenty thousand dollars will be required to complete the interior finish, and make this restaurant one of the finest cafeterias in America. The balance will be required for outfitting the restaurant and providing a certain amount of working capital. The new restaurant will have a dining room of the large dimensions of 7,000 square feet on the ground floor, and will also have spacious additions for other purposes of the business.

Cafeterias, Limited, has found in the running of its business on King street that it has eclipsed the old style of waitress-serving restaurants, which is a great saving of labor and expense, and that the new restaurant is the best system of meeting the demands of the public for quick service, consistent with quality and efficiency of service.

We have opened subscription books for sale at par ($10.00) $50,000.00 fully paid shares of the above-mentioned 7 p.c. cumulative preference participating stock, carrying a bonus of 25 p.c. of the amount of the preference shares in common stock.

Payments as follows:
25% per share with subscription;
and 75% per share on allotment.

Subscription books are now open at our offices, and the right is reserved to allot only such subscriptions and for such amounts as may be approved, and to close the subscription without notice

Superstition.

"For downright idiotic, superstitious, weak-minded, gullible credulity," growled Judkins, "recommend me to a woman! Gave away a pair of my trousers to a peddler to charm warts off the children's hands! Madam, are you aware that this is the twentieth century and not the middle ages?"

"It does seem a little silly," said Mrs. Judkins mildly, "but I've heard of such things being done. You know those trousers, John, were the pair you tore on the lawn mower the other day and threw aside."

"It's not the trousers, madam; it's the childish, imbecile, fatuous puerility of the thing. Besides, I left a hare's foot in one of those pockets, madam, that I've carried for rheumatism the past three years."—London Tit-Bits.

In a Quandary.

The young lady sighed deeply and was almost affected to tears.

"Harold," she said, "declares that if I don't marry him he will end his life. And I am afraid he will."

She stifled a sob, then continued:

"And Randolph declares that if I don't marry him he will go into politics and become great and famous, and then he says I shall see what I have missed. And I am afraid he will keep his word too."

Overcome by emotion, she buried her face in her hands, not knowing whether to save a life or to spare the country another politician.—Exchange.

An Amendment.

"Are you ready to live on my income?" he asked softly.

She looked up into his face trustingly.

"Certainly, dearest," she answered, "if—if"—

"If what?"

"If you get another one for yourself."—New York Journal.

The Dreaded Doctor.

"How did you like your dinner?" inquired the epicure.

"Well," answered the dyspeptic, "it was admirable in every respect. But my doctor has put me into such an apprehensive frame of mind that whenever I really enjoy eating anything I become utterly miserable."

The Analysis.

"Did you have the soil of your back yard analysed by the agricultural department?"

"Yes. They said it consisted largely of glass, tin and putty, with traces of builder's lime, and suggested that it might do to raise a mortgage on."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Great Achievement.

"And what do you regard as the greatest triumph of modern surgery?"

"Collecting the bills," promptly responded the great practitioner.—London Spare Moments.

Especially in the Subways.

"There ain't but one trouble with this here city air," said Uncle Rufe, sniffing the atmosphere speculatively; "it do need ventilatin.'"—Holland's Magazine.

His Reason.

"Why do you always leave the house, James, when I begin to sing the old songs?" pouted Mrs. Howitt.

"Fresh air," said Howitt.—Harper's Weekly.

He who has the truth in his heart need never fear the want of persuasion on his tongue.—Ruskin.

PRINCE RUPERT

Canada's Golden Gate

It is the County Seat of Atlin.

Has five chartered banks.

One chartered trust company.

Three daily newspapers.

One general hospital.

Seventeen Hotels.

Dominion Government Marine Depot.

Dominion Government Quarantine Station.

Prince Rupert is nearer to the Orient than any other Pacific Coast city by five hundred miles.

It is the commercial hub of Northern and Central British Columbia.

The waters tributary to Prince Rupert have been proven to contain the best and largest fishing grounds in the world.

It is the Pacific Coast terminus of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway.

Prince Rupert real estate has advanced by leaps and bounds since the sale of lots in 1909. Think what these values will be upon the completion of the railway in the spring of 1914.

Prince Rupert has spent over $1,000,000.00 since its incorporation in 1910.

Prince Rupert is now spending over $550,000.00 on a permanent water supply and power plant.

The Grand Trunk Pacific has the easiest grades and lightest curvature of any transcontinental railway

Do you know that trains are now running 170 miles easterly from Prince Rupert and carrying large numbers of settlers with their stock and equipment into the fertile Kitsumkalum, Lakelse, and Bulkley Valleys.

The country adjacent to Prince Rupert is rich in mineral deposits of silver, gold and copper which only await the advent of the railway to develop their riches.

PRINCE RUPERT, B. C., the terminus of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway on the Pacific Coast, will shortly take rank with the other great terminals in size, wealth and importance; in fact, during its short existence it has made a record which no other port can boast of. As in the others, millions will be made out of the increase in value of real estate by those far-seeing enough to get in on the ground floor NOW—and here is your opportunity.

PRINCE RUPERT, B. C., was incorporated as a City in the early part of 1910 and has a population at the present time of more than 6,000 people, which is rapidly increasing. It owns its own public utilities, telephone, water, sewer and light, has fine public schools and churches, of all denominations. Every line of mercantile business is represented, both wholesale and retail. In fact, it has all the facilities required for a well organized and well governed City.

If You Want an Investment and Not a Speculation

READ THIS

For the man or woman who has little or much money to invest there is no City in Canada that offers greater opportunities for profit than does Prince Rupert, and it is our absolute opinion that within Prince Rupert there will be no better investment from the standpoint of safety and assurred dividends than stock in a Company whose memorandum of agreement and articles of association are now in the hands of the Continental Trust Company, Limited, of Prince Rupert, for incorporation.

Objects of Company

The objects of the company are to buy and sell and improve Prince Rupert city property. Well situated lots will be acquired. Dwellings, apartment houses and business blocks will be erected. These will be either rented or sold as opportunity offers, so that the company shall receive the most profitable returns on the money invested.

Do not confound this Company with any other building or investment organization. It will be a co-operative organization made up of investors of all classes who, by putting their funds together acquire the investing power and the earning capacity that the individual alone could never possess.

It is not an organization to make money out of you, but to MAKE MONEY FOR YOU.

The Company will be directed by men who stand among the most prominent of our City's successful business men. What better proof of the success and future greatness of any Company could anyone want than this?

The very association of such men with this organization is not only sufficient guarantee of the splendid future of the Company but guarantees an equal and absolute square deal for every investor, large or small.

The Company will be incorporated for $100,000,00, its capital stock will be divided into 100,000 shares of the par value of $1 each, and will be sold at this price.

To place this exceptional proposition within reach of the small investor, the par value of the shares of the company is placed at $1.

A subscription for less than ten shares will not be accepted.

Stock in a similar organization formed in Prince Rupert is now worth three times its initial selling price, and no more stock can be obtained.

Think over this carefully and try to realize what it will mean to you to have your money safely invested in the growing city of Prince Rupert. Think of the millions that have been made in Vancouver, Seattle, San Francisco, and other Western seaports and of the million to be made in Prince Rupert in the immediate future. You are entitled to your share, and an investment in this Company will bring it to you. It is not a speculation, but a safe and sound investment within the reach of everyone. The men who will administer the affairs of this Company know the value of property and the Company will reap the benefit of their knowledge and their experience in handling matters of this kind. This Company will pay big dividends from the start and the stock will increase in value rapidly.

Reservations for this stock are being made now. We want you to become a stockholder.

IF YOU WILL FILL OUT THE ACCOMPANYING COUPON AND SEND IT TO US WE WILL MAIL YOU COMPLETE INFORMATION WITH BOOKLET DESCRIPTIVE OF PRINCE RUPERT.

Prince Rupert now has miles of graded streets, sidewalks and sewers.

Work has commenced in Prince Rupert on a twenty thousand ton drydock and shipbuilding plant, which will be the equal of any in the western world and which when finished will cost $2,500,000.00.

The Canadian Fish and Cold Storage Company has already spent nearly three-quarters of a million on its plant and equipment in Prince Rupert. This plant is the largest single unit cold storage plant in the world.

The late President C. M. Hays of the Grand Trunk System, stated that one hundred million bushels of wheat would be shipped yearly from Prince Rupert on the completion of the Panama Canal.

Northern British Columbia is on the eve of the greatest development in the history of the province. Prince Rupert will reap the greatest benefit owing to its position and resources.

Prince Rupert is the distributing point for the numerous fertile valleys which are now being settled. Millions of acres of the finest agricultural lands are available in the Skeena, Naas, Kitsumkalum, Lakelse and Bulkley Valleys.

The Prince Rupert Hydro-Electric Company, which is controlled by the Western Canada Power Company, is spending an immense sum of money in the development of power in order to supply the demand for cheap power in Prince Rupert and vicinity.

The Grand Trunk Pacific Railway is spending millions in the construction of its terminals in Prince Rupert in order to be ready for the opening of the line in 1914.

Coal deposits in the country tributary to Prince Rupert are among the most extensive in the world.

"BURNING WINTER."

The Swiss Have a Picturesque Celebration When Spring Arrives.

The coming of spring is eagerly looked forward to in all countries, but it is in those parts of the globe where the winter is long, and where the snow lies on the ground for many months at a stretch that spring is, perhaps, fully appreciated. In several of these countries a day is set apart as a national holiday when the winter snows begin to melt, and in many towns the entire population assembles in the principal square, where they perhaps burn the effigy of winter, or, indulge in some form of national rejoicing.

Throughout the whole of the world, however, there is perhaps no more curious or picturesque custom than that indulged in by the Swiss of Zurich, and in other parts of that beautiful country, on the approach of spring. By far the greater portion of Switzerland is covered with snow from late in November till about the middle of April, and thus it is not altogether unnatural that the Swiss should indulge in some form of rejoicing when the valleys and the low-lying hills become green once more.

Next to the Swiss Independence Day, which is celebrated every year early in August, the "burning" of winter or Sechselauten Festival, as it is called, is the greatest of all Swiss holidays. The most animated scenes of rejoicing are to be witnessed at Zurich, though Basle and other places also take part in the festival, and here from early morning till late at night a scene of ceaseless gaiety prevails. The streets are brightly decorated for the occasion, and at night the sight which the beautiful Lake Zurich presents is one of great beauty.

The principal event of the day, of course, is the burning of the effigy of winter — a well-built snow man of gigantic proportions, known by the Swiss as the "Bogg." This always takes place at the stadthauplatz, a large open space some little distance from the city and overlooking the lake. Here, on the top of a huge pile of pine logs, well saturated with tar and other highly inflammable substances, the "Bogg" will presently be placed and burned amid the cheers from a thousand throats.

But apart from the burning of the "Bogg" itself, there are other interesting incidents in the day which are well worthy of mention. Chief amongst these, perhaps, are the two processions which take place during the day, one in the morning and the other in the afternoon. The first of these takes place immediately after breakfast, and is composed of gaily dressed boys and girls, whose duty it is, amongst other things, to drag the "Bogg," seated on a specially-constructed vehicle, amidst a display of evergreens, through the principal streets to his place of destruction. Another interesting feature of this procession, too, is a beautiful figure of spring, which is placed amidst an abundance of the finest flowers which the Riviera is capable of producing, and is drawn by a troupe of boys and girls some distance behind the "Bogg." The whole city turns out to see this procession, and though the "Bogg" is perhaps the great attraction, yet "Spring" finds many admirers.

Two Recipes.

For a Wedding—To one summer's night add two young persons, a beach and a little propinquity. Mix in one lock of wavy hair, an atom of delicate perfume and stir with a slight breeze. Sprinkle the whole with moonlight and let alone for the evening.

For Happy Wedded Life.—To one woman add numerous kisses, each supplemented with "Yes, dear; I love you more than ever." Mix thoroughly with long pleased expressions at sight of new gowns and hats, and season with many remarks about "youthful appearance." Sprinkle liberally with checks and bonbons (courtship brand). Do not stir up.

The Luck of a Goat.

A man once owned a fine and resourceful goat of which he was very proud. One day this goat lost caste with his master by swallowing a red flannel shirt which was the property of his owner. Angered beyond reason, the man led the goat to the railroad track and, tying the animal to the ties, left him to what he believed was certain death. The goat was opposed to capital punishment and made violent efforts to release himself from his bonds. In this he was unsuccessful, but in straining himself he produced a violent fit of coughing, and he coughed up the shirt and flagged the train.

A Tip to Tired Wives.

"Mrs. Brown never sits up to wait for her husband."

"No?"

"No. When she expects him to be out late she retires early, sets the alarm clock at 3 o'clock, and when it goes off she gets up and dresses and is ready, refreshed and reproachful."

Sorrow and Happiness.

Sorrow, with his pick, mines the heart. But he is a cunning workman. He deepens the channels whereby happiness may enter and hollows out new chambers for joy to abide in when he is gone.—Mary Cholmondeley

A Great Territory.

The 1,000 mile survey across the great Australian desert for the proposed railway between western and southern Australia gives a hint of the amount of unexplored territory in this island empire.

Grown on a Mat.

One of the most remarkable exhibits at the Royal Agricultural Show was a fine crop of mustard, which had been grown on an old door-mat on the roof of a house in Queen Victoria street, London E.C.

Suffragette Losses.

The damage done to store property during the recent window smashing campaign of London suffragettes is officially estimated at $30,000.

BORNEO CROCODILES.

The Natives Seem to Pay Little Attention to the Giant Saurians.

It is a common sight in Borneo to see a large crocodile sunning himself on the muddy bank of a river. He takes no notice of the natives, even though they pass quite near him. So common, indeed, is the sight that the Dyaks themselves pay no heed to these dangerous reptiles; and yet it is no unusual thing in Borneo to hear of some human life being taken by a crocodile.

For months, perhaps, the crocodiles in a river live at peace with mankind, and then suddenly one of these creatures will carry off some lad bathing in the river, or even attack someone paddling along in his boat. I know of a Dyak girl who, when sitting and paddling at the stern of a canoe, was knocked over into the water and carried away by a crocodile, and her companions could do nothing to save her.

There seems to be no reason why the crocodile should suddenly show a man-eating propensity in this way. the Dyaks account for it by curious superstitions. They say that if food is offered to a person, and he refuses it, and goes away without at least touching it, some misfortune is sure to befall him, and he will most probably be attacked by a crocodile. Also, it is said that one of the ways the gods punish crime is by sending a crocodile to attack the culprit; and I have often heard it said by Dyaks of someone who has been killed by a crocodile that he has probably displeased the gods, either by paying no heed to the warnings sent him in dreams or by means of omen birds, or by committing some hidden crime.

The Dyaks of Borneo will not kill a crocodile except in revenge. If the animal will live at peace with him, the Dyak has no wish to start a quarrel; if, however, the crocodile breaks the truce and kills someone, then he feels justified in retaliating. Under these circumstances, the Dyaks set to work to find the culprit, and go on catching and killing crocodiles till they succeed in doing so. The Dyaks generally wear brass ornaments and by cutting open a dead crocodile they can easily find out if he is the creature they wish to punish.

Stupefying a Waiter.

Here's the way to get ahead of the cafe waiters that know it all. The recipe was handed us by a restaurant haunter. He does it as follows:

He seats himself and says, "Waiter, have you any nice Gorgonzola cheese?"

"Yes, sir," says the waiter. "Our Gorgonzola is very fine."

"Is it fresh?"

"Just made, sir."

"Is it nice and white?"

"Believe me, it is as white as snow, sir."

"Good. And is it hard in the middle?"

"Like a rock, sir."

"Thanks, George! Is your name George? Well, thanks, anyhow. Let me tell you something. Gorgonzola cheese should never be fresh. It should never be hard in the middle, but mushy. If you are not a liar you have no good Gorgonzola. If you have any good Gorgonzola you are a liar, George. In either case—well, bring us two Swiss sandwiches with mustard."

The waiter then loses a whole night's sleep in studying.

How Authors Slept.

Are authors early risers? Bjornson, Tolstoy and Goethe were all advocates of the "early to bed, early to rise" principle. Byron, on the other hand, turned night into day, and Alfred de Musset, in a letter to Aimee d'Alton, writes, "I generally sleep till 2. and sometimes till 5 in the afternoon, when I have boxed the ears of the night." Probably the laziest genius on record was Rossini, who practically did all his work in bed and would rather recompose a whole page of music than trouble to get out of bed and pick up a sheet of manuscript that had fallen onto the floor. —London Chronicle.

Naturally Surprised.

An old German furniture dealer had a woman customer who was a great talker. Nobody could get away from her when she started in. One day he sent a clerk to the lady's house to try to collect a bill. When the clerk returned empty handed the old German said:

"Vell, vat did se lady say?"

"She did not say anything, sir. She was mute," replied the clerk.

"Vat!" exclaimed the surprised German. "Vas she dead?"

Let Father Do It.

Effie—Shall I put on my mackintosh and run out and post this letter, mother?

Mother—No, dear, it's not fit for a dog to be out on a night like this. Let your father post it.—London Opinion.

Her Fortune Teller.

Mrs. A.—Did you ever go to a fortune teller?

Mrs. B.—Yes, once. Before I was married I went to the probate court to see how much my fiance's father had left him in his will.

Correct Diagnosis.

Tess—Really, it was a love match.

Jess—Nonsense! He's old enough to be her grandfather. She simply married his money.

Tess—Of course, but you don't doubt that she loves money, do you?

Cutlery.

"I call 'em the cutlery family."

"Why so?"

"Well, the daughter spoons, the father forks out the money and the mother knifes the other guests."

His Profession.

"There goes a man whose life is nothing but one long regret."

"Mercy! How sad! What is he?"

"An editor."

WARM SALT WATER BATH.

First Aid For a Child That Has Been Badly Burned.

All children will play with fire unless they have been taught, either by precept or experience, not to do so, and accidents will happen even when every precaution has been taken. It is therefore most desirable in the case of burns that parents should know what—and above all what not—to do while waiting for the doctor to come.

The first thing is to fight shock with all the resources at command, because shock is usually the immediate cause of death. Too often shock is aggravated rather than helped by the treatment it receives.

Valuable time is wasted and unnecessary agony caused in trying to remove the clothing; then various applications of oil or of whatever else the distracted bystanders may have heard was good for burns are made until by the time the doctor arrives irremediable mischief is done.

Do not waste time in any such way, but immediately prepare a warm salt water bath and gently place the child in it, clothes and all. If the clothes are much burned the warm water will make them easier to remove, and the child can be kept in the bath until the pulse and the temperature show that a reaction from the shock has taken place. It will often be necessary for some strong and careful person to kneel and hold the patient in the best position.

Even after the child has been placed in bed with the proper dressings the bath should be given again if there are indications that sho [illegible] u Always remember that speed is essential. Even the slightest delay is dangerous.

Almost every one believes that in the case of burns water is always harmful and oil always helpful. You will be wise to reverse the rule and learn it by heart. In case of burns fill the bath with warm water, adding salt in the proportion of a teaspoonful to a pint of water, and hold the child in it, clothes and all, until the doctor arrives.—Youth's Companion.

PRICE OF A PICTURE.

Terms Corot is Said to Have Exacted From His Friend Perier.

A French paper gives the following anecdote of Corot: M. Perier, brother of the former French president, M. Casimir Perier, was a close friend of the great Barbizon painter. One day—it was a Sunday—when he was visiting the artist's studio he grew enthusiastic over a figure painting that Corot was at work on, for on Sundays Corot devoted himself to figure subjects.

"That is my distraction," he used to say.

M. Perier determined to acquire this picture and Corot was equally determined not to let him, as his modesty would only allow him to rank as a landscape painter.

"All right," said Corot at last, "you may have the canvas, but on one condition—you must pay in exchange for it the butcher's and baker's bills of my friend Millet." M. Perier agreed to this unusual price and with the painter went to find the two shopkeepers. The baker's bill came to $4,400 and the other to $4,800, for the bills had been running for twelve years. So M. Perier's Corot cost him $9,200.

"What a stroke of business," commented the artist. "My picture was hardly worth $200!"

Good stories should not be dissected, but analysis of this one seems to show that the Millet household spent at least $1 a day at the baker's and over $1 a day at the butcher's, which seems excessive at the French prices of those days.—New York Sun.

Some reasons why Oakdale Park offers a gilt-edged investment:

"It has the best car service of any restricted residence district either inside or outside the city.

"Its proximity to Winnipeg's largest and most beautiful city park.

WINNIPEG PROPERTY

Has made FORTUNES for SMALL INVESTORS, and there is More Money being made TODAY than ever before in the History of the CITY.

Why you should buy in Oakdale Park:

Because: "It is the centre of a 500 acre restricted residential area.

Because: "It is farther from the smoke, dust and noise of railways than any Residence District inside or outside of the City, and with better car service."

Western Canada is the World's Attraction

The United States cannot keep people from realizing the GREATEST OPPORTUNITY ever offered, to secure Independent fortunes, by locating Homes in Western Canada. The history of Crescentwood will be repeated in Oakdale. Where in the former 5 or 6 years ago lots were sold at $15 to $25 per foot, with the same building restrictions as Oakdale Park has to-day, and now $90 to $150 per foot is being paid in Crescentwood and residences to the value of $10,000 to $100,000 are being erected. History will repeat this in Oakdale, but in less time, as it has better Electric Car Service now.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH WEST LAND REGULATIONS.

ANY PERSON who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years old, may homestead a quarter section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. The applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for the district. Entry by proxy may be made at any agency, on certain conditions by father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of intending homesteader.

Duties—Six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within nine miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres solely owned and occupied by him or by his father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister.

In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt a quarter section alongside his homestead. Price $3.00 per acre. Duties—Must reside upon the homestead or pre-emption, six months in each of six years from date of homestead entry (including time required to earn homestead patent) and cultivate 50 acres extra.

A homesteader who has exhausted his homestead right and cannot obtain a pre-emption may enter for a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $3.00 per acre. Duties—Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate fifty acres and erect house worth $300.00.

The date of the Printers' Picnic, which has been previously held on Civic Holiday, has been changed to Saturday, August 3rd, owing to the fact that no steamer could be chartered for the holiday. Jubilee Point has been picked as the place for this popular picnic this year, and the steamer Stoney Lake has been chartered to carry the large crowd. The committee in charge of the sports, etc., promise even a better time than ever to those taking in this excursion, and everything will be done for the comfort of the picnickers. A long list of sports is being arranged for both young and old, and a gala day is promised. Keep this date open—Saturday afternoon, August 3rd

THE GROTESQUE MANTIDS.

Desperate Fighters Are Among These "Praying" Insects.

The grotesque mantis is a saintly-looking insect, yet his object is to prey rather than to pray. For hours together it will assume an attitude of innocence and quietness, its fore-legs raised as if in supplication, and not until some unwary fly or other insect approaches would a watcher realise the object of its quaint posture. Then with a dart the mantis seizes its victim which is soon devoured. It is easily explained, for the mantis is carnivorous, requiring food such as grasshoppers, flies and caterpillars, but being slow of foot has to depend upon craft in capturing its quarry. Its saintly attitude while awaiting the coming of some victim has given rise to the common names of "praying insects," and "soothsayers."

Even the Greeks endowed the mantis with supernatural powers, and in Nubia the Hottentots regard these insects with the greatest reverence. Should one alight on a Hottentot the man is at once considered as selected of heaven and becomes a saint; but woe unto the native who kills a mantis; he becomes no longer a skilled hunter and is ill-fated until the end of his days. Turks and Arabs contend that these insects are in constant prayer, with their faces ever turned toward Mecca. France, Portugal, America and many other countries provide similar superstitions, all of which have doubtless arisen from the quiet demeanor and devout attitude serving to disguise the highly predaceous character of these insects.

It is interesting to note that the Chinese have better realised their true character. In that ancient country the mantids are kept in bamboo cages and matched like fighting cocks. Such a thing is quite possible, for should two female mantis meet a fight is tolerably certain. By means of their powerful fore-legs they are able to strike tremendous blows, and with these weapons they engage in fierce combat, the result often being that the weaker of the two has one or more of its limbs severed by one successful stroke of the enemy, or even its body may be cut through.

The male mantis has a difficult task on hand when wooing his mate. She is both larger and stronger than he, and should his advances not prove favorable he rarely has the opportunity of retreating; for while she will not accept him as her lover, she takes care that he does not become the husband of another of her species by killing him as a final act of refusal and then dining off his remains. Cannibalism is a common feature with these insects, but this is practicing it in its worst form.

Beating of Dead Hearts

Hearts of cold-blooded animals will beat for a comparatively long time after death or removal from the body (if kept cold and moist) because of powerful internal collections of nerves known as ganglia, whose automatic impulses cause the regular contractions of the muscles. Similar ganglia exist in man and other warm-blooded animals, but their action is less prolonged. Scientists have ascertained that a turtle's heart will beat after removal if put on a piece of glass, kept cool and moist and covered with a bell jar. I believe it has been known to beat thirty-six or even forty-eight hours. Twelve or fourteen hours is a common record.

Boulevard and Esplanade.

Both "esplanade" and "boulevard" are military terms by origin. The original "boulevard" was a bulwark or horizontal part of the rampart, and an "esplanade" was originally the glacis or slope of the counterscarp of a fortified place. A writer 200 years ago noted that the word boulevard was "now chiefly taken for the void space between the glacis of a citadel and the first houses of a town"; hence its extension to other "void spaces" suitable for promenading. The old French "esplanade" was defined by Cotgrave as "a planing, leveling, evening of ways," from Latin "explanare," to smooth or flatten out, whence the English words "explain" and "explanation."

Epigrams In Japan.

The Japanese are great admirers of epigrams and apt phrases. Their love of such things is carried so far that when a guest says something unusually brilliant the host or hostess will beg him to write down his remark in large ornamental script. The sentence is then mounted and hung on the wall as a permanent addition to its ornaments, much as in England we should hang up a text or motto. Naturally the author of a bonmot treated in this way feels himself highly honored to be thus placed on record. But the sentences are selected more for their wisdom than their humor, so that the funny man is not much in evidence.

He Had Tact.

Merchant—Our salesmen must show tact. Now, for instance, if a lady came in the store and asked to see some false hair what would you say to her?

Bright Boy—I'd ask her what shade her—her friend preferred, an'—

"Enough," said the merchant; "name your own salary."

Defiance.

"There is a place awaiting you in the abode of future punishment," said the man who, even though angry, strives to be discreet of speech.

"It don't scare me none," replied the janitor. "I'll be kind o' glad to get some place where the tenants never complain because the radiators are cold."

Why She Was Slighted.

Mrs. Bilton—I got an invitation to Janaway's reception—did you?

Mrs. Caton—No. She borrowed all my china and silver, and I don't suppose she wants me to see how it's treated.

Stopping the Leak.

Mother—Bobby, why have you stuffed cotton in your ear? Does it ache?

Bobby—No. Papa said that everything he tells me goes in one ear and comes out the other. I want to prevent this.

An Enviable Job.

"Why do you say he has a good job? He's only a stationary fireman."

"I know. But he's a fireman in an ice plant. He can keep warm in the winter and cool off in the summer."

Needed Them.

"You have three pairs of glasses, professor?"

"Yes; I use one for reading, one for distance and the third to find the others!"

Dying to Order.

Dying to order is one of the most sacred customs of the American Indian. Many years ago Standing Elk went to Major James McLaughlin, the author of "My Friend the Indian," and said, "Father, my wife will die today, and she wants a coffin from you."

The major asked him what the ailment was, and he replied:

"Just nothing but that she heard the ghosts calling and must go."

Somebody had told her, it turned out, that she was sick, so she had "painted for death," and all her relatives had gathered about to bemoan her—and incidentally divide her property as soon as she was dead. There was no use in the major's arguing about it, so he had the coffin made.

In many cases these "painted for death" are actually bullied into dying, but Mrs. Standing Elk was still too vigorous. Finally in despair she carried the coffin into the house on her own shoulders, and several years later the major saw it still standing on end in her house. Shelves had been fitted into it, and it was doing duty as a cupboard.—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

Improving Americans.

"Nothing is fixed but the certainty of change," said Goethe, and we know that the future American will represent a change. He may be taller or shorter or thinner or fatter than the American of today, but there is nothing in the existing state of society—and we use society in its broad sense—to indicate that he will not be better in many ways. Confidence in this is based largely on the evident determination of the Americans of today to have our institutions and our ideals better than he found them. Every American, native or foreign born, wants his children to have a better education than it was possible for him to secure. He wants to have his children live in a community of higher standards and ideals than he has; he wants betterment in local, state and national conditions, and the result of the want will be improvement and a demand by his children for still greater improvement.—St. Paul Pioneer-Press.

An Economical Man.

A commercial traveler told of a man who was riding on a train and pretended to become ill after eating a sandwich. The man opened his grip and took out a hot water bag. "He got a sympathetic porter," the commercial man continues, "to fill the water bag with boiling water, and then he opened up his lunch basket, took out a piece of fried steak and warmed it up on the water bag. You talk about your light housekeeping! Then after he had warmed the steak he cut it all up with a pair of scissors and fed it to himself with a pair of sugar tongs, because he would not take a chance with a fork going around a curve. But his finish was a limit. After he had eaten the steak he unscrewed the stopper of the water bag and poured himself out a cup of hot coffee. He had the grounds in the bag all the time."

Riddle of the Sphinx.

The sphinx—some sort of fabled monster—proposed a riddle to the people of Thebes, it is said, and murdered all who could not answer it. Oedipus finally solved it, and in chagrin the sphinx put herself to death. The riddle was as follows: "What goes on four feet in the morning, two feet in the afternoon and three at night?" The answer given by Oedipus was this: "Man, because he crawls as a child, walks upright in his full strength and walks with a staff when an old man."

Girls Wanted.

Girls Wanted by the Canadian General Electric Co. D-146

Had Good Luck.

Mr. Danny Simons, Peterborough's brilliant comedian went down the river yesterday on a fishing bout and returned with two fine lunge, and it wasn't a good day for fishing either.

Killed in Regina.

The latest despatch from the scene of the disastrous cyclone, say that Miss Etta Guthrie, formerly of this city, was killed while asleep, the Guthrie home being obliterated by the storm.

Local Rinks Won.

Skip Fitzgerald's rink carried off the McLaughlin silver cup on Monday, when it was competed for in Oshawa, by two Peterborough rinks and a Keene quartette. The cup was donated by the McLaughlin Motor Car Co., and is valued at $150.

A Serious Charge.

A Young Italian fruit dealer appeared before Magistrate Dumble yesterday morning, charged with having committed indecent assault on a young Italian girl, twelve years of age. The hearing of the evidence was adjourned until July 8th.

A Sad State.

In police court yesterday a sad state of affairs was revealed when Mrs. Welsh, mother of five children, and whose husband is in the hospital, pleaded guilty to keeping a disorderly house. She was remanded for a week.

The Fastest Launch.

What is as yet, and is likely to remain the fastest launch on the Kawartha Lakes this season, is a 35 ft. craft, that can travel 30 miles an hour. It is the property of Mr. Otto Hegel, and it being put in the water at Lindsay. It is equipped with a 60 h.p. Van Blerk motor.

THE NORTH AMERICAN LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY

Is practically a mutual one, with the protection afforded by a guarantee fund upon which interest is paid While such fund is only $60,000.00, the guarantors are liable for five times this amount; so that the position admirably reflects the best points of stock and mutual companies. The Directorate is composed of both policy holders and guarantors, who are equally interested in its management. Home Office, Toronto.

Gained in Weight, Digestion Restored, Health Renewed

"For a period last summer the thought of food excited feelings of nausea," writes Mrs. C. A. Dodge, of Bloomsbury. "The heat had made me listless and the distaste for food reduced me to a condition of semi-starvation and brought me to the verge of nervous collapse. Tonics were useless to restore an active desire for food. The doctors told me my liver and kidneys were both at fault, but the medicines they gave me were too severe and reduced my strength so that I had to abandon them. At the suggestion of a friend who had been cured of blood and skin trouble, I began the use of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. The difference I first noticed was, that while they cleansed the system, instead of feeling weaker I felt better after taking them. Indeed their activity was so mild it was easy to forget I had taken them at all; they seemed to go right to the liver, and in a very brief time not only did all source of nausea disappear, but I began to crave for food and I digested it reasonably well. Then I began to put on weight until within three months I was brought to a condition of good health. I urge Dr. Hamilton's Pills for all who are in poor health."

Get this best of all medicines today and refuse a substitute for Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut. Sold by all druggists and storekeepers. 25c per box, or five boxes for $1.00. Sent postpaid by the Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y. and Kingston, Canada.

Returned From Camp.

The Y.M.C.A. members who have been camping at Cedar Grove, a beautiful nook only a few miles down the river, returned from their camp yesterday morning. All the young men declare that they have had a splendid time, and agree that things were exceedingly well handled by those in authority.

Being Well Advertised.

The committee of the Orange Association is leaving no stone unturned to ensure a big crowd on the 12th of July. Large posters have been issued from the Times Job Rooms the these were followed by hangers, which were circulated in Peterborough, Victoria, Haliburton, Northumberland, Durham and Hastings counties.

Were Also Successful.

Three students of the public schools whose names did not appear with the others in yesterday's issue of The Times were successful in passing their June examinations. They are as follows:

King Edward—Jr. III. to Sr. III.—Victoria Allan.

East City School—Sr. II. to Jr. III.—Hazel Anderson; Jr. Bk. I. to Sr. Bk. I.—Myrtle Sluke.

Chinamen Dismissed.

The three Chinamen, Lee Hang, Lee Yew, and Lee Sing, who appeared in the police court some time ago on a charge of keeping agambling house, were tried in the County Court yesterday by Judge Huycke, and dismissed. The dismissal was the result of aparrallel case in Toronto in which the court of Appeal decided that the case should be tried in the police court.

Prominent Speakers for the 12th.

The Orange celebration in Peterborough on the 12th, promises to be one of the finest of its kind in this part of the country. Among the speakers expected for the day are: Col. Hon. Sam. Hughes, Rev. C. H. Coon, Rev. Ben Oliel, Rev. R. Pogue, Rev. W. C. Riddiford and the Rev. Patrick Morgan. The occasion will certainly be a memorable one.

Local Young Lady Honored.

The many friends of Miss Lavina Hallihan, who is pursuing a musical course in London, Eng., will be interested to learn from a London publication that Miss Hallihan was one of the eight young ladies in the Canadian stall in connection with the Country Fair held in the Royal Botanical Gardens, in aid of Our Dumb Friends' League (a society for the encouragement of kindness to animals). The Fair had as patrons Queen Alexandra, and the Lord Mayor, and the leading men and women of London

It Never Ceases.

It appears that we are never to stop hearing tales of woe from Lindsay. All the pickpockets and swindlers in Canada seem to take a crack at Lindsay some time in their career—and they are never discovered. A Buffalo gentleman has just flooded the town with worthless cheques and disappeared like his predecessors, without leaving a clue. Then, too, a visitor in that town had his pockets rifled on Monday, losing a purse of money, and no one knows where the crook is. It must be hard for the police of that town to defend such susceptible citizens.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mr. Chas. Gladman of this city, has gone to Stoney Lake for the summer.

Miss Ida Jarvis, of Brantford, is the guest of Miss V. Fraser, Bethune street.

OBITUARY.

The death occurred on July 2nd, 1912, in Toronto, of Maude L. Spilsbury, wife of E. H. Hillier, of paralysis.

Mrs. Hillier was the youngest daughter of the late William Spilsbury and a granddaughter of the late Captain Spilsbury, R.N., of Colbourne, Ont., and was in her thirty-second year.

The deceased leaves to mourn her loss a widowed mother, Mrs. W. Spilsbury, 249 Simcoe street, and three sisters and two brothers, Mrs. F. H. Falkner, Havelock; Mrs. Peter Stewart, Piapot, Sask.; Mrs. Wm. Jackson, 316 Charlotte street, city; Mr. G. B. Spilsbury, Downie street; city and Mr. F. W. Spilsbury, Rochester, N.Y.

Also two children, Edna and Herbie who will mourn the loss of a kind and loving mother. The remains will be brought here for burial. The funeral will take place from the chapel Little Lake cemetery, at three o'clock this afternoon. Friends will leave the residence of her brother-in-law, Mr. W. Jackson, 316 Charlotte street, at 2.30 Thursday afternoon, July 4th, 1912.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the disease put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

--- HEALTH AND BEAUTY HINTS ---

BY MRS. MAE MARTYN.

Mrs. J. L.: Frequent shampoos with canthrox during the summer months insure a fine growth of brilliant, fluffy hair, rich in its natural color and so responsive to the finger's touch that doing it up is genuine pleasure. A teaspoonful of canthrox dissolved in a cup hot water is enough mixture, and when this is rubbed up it creates an abundance of white, thick lather that quickly dissolves all dust, dandruff and excess oil. Rinsing leaves hair and scalp immaculately clean, and the hair will dry quickly and evenly. The regular use of canthrox gives to the hair that exquisite fluffy and massy softness and will insure a lovely growth.

E. A. F.: A delatone paste will remove the hairy growth. Mix enough powdered delatone with water to cover the hairy surface, apply and after 2 or 3 minutes remove, wash the skin and the hairs are gone. This treatment is harmless and does not discolor the skin.

Mrs. O. H.: Turkish baths are a severe tax on the system. Try the parnotis treatment for fat-reduction and I am sure your weight will soon be just where you want it. To prepare, dissolve 4 ounces parnotis in 1½ pint hot water, then take a tablespoonful before each meal. This gradually and surely dissolves the fat and restores the figure's symmetrical lines without possible injury or inconvenience and when your weight is where you want it you can stop without fear of its returning.

Lydia P.: Large pores and skin roughness can be overcome with the aid of an almozoin cream-jelly. This is made by stirring 2 teaspoonfuls glycerine into ½ pint cold water, to which is then added 1 ounce almozoin. Apply generously to the skin each day and it will clear it of all local impurities. This cream-jelly is fine for beautifying the arms, neck and face, as well as for banishing sallowness and that greasy condition, and it can also be used with good effect for rounding out hollows and dispelling fine lines or crow's feet as well as for discouraging hairy growths.

Mrs. Harry: Impure blood is the cause of much sickness and I would advise you to begin at once a kardene treatment. This is an old-fashioned blood cleanser and body-builder and is made by putting one ounce of kardene in ½ pint alcohol, then adding ½ cupful sugar and hot water to make a quart. Take 1 tablespoonful before each meal and it will gently expel poisons from the blood and tone up the entire system. This will give you renewed strength and energy and make you feel good. It is especially good as a summer tonic, and its use frequently prevents serious sickness.

Mrs. Tim: Unhealthy scalp causes profuse dandruff, excess oiliness and other upsets, and these in turn cause the hair to grow lifeless, brittle and fall out. Try the quinzoin tonic I frequently mention and you can correct all this. Just add 1 ounce quinzoin to ½ pint alcohol, then pour in ½ pint water and your tonic is ready. Frequent applications of this hair-tonic will banish all scalp affliction keep it healthy and induce an abundance of soft, brilliant hair, rich in its natural color.

Alma M.: You need have no fear of tan or freckles if you apply daily a plain spurmax lotion made by stirring 4 ounces spurmax into ½ pint of witch hazel (or hot water) to which has been added 2 tablespoonfuls glycerine. This lotion is superior to powder, because it does not clog the pores, and it imparts an exquisite tint and velvety smoothness to rough, oily, blotchy or "muddy" skins. The regular use of the spurmax lotion insures a youthful complexion not possible by any other method. The spurmax lotion also is invisible when on and is not affected by wind or perspiration.

Mona: Your dull, expressionless eyes, when treated with a simple crystos tonic, will soon regain their former brilliancy and expressiveness. To make the tonic, dissolve 1 ounce crystos in a pint cold water, then put 2 or 3 drops in each eye daily. Nothing equals the crystos eye-tonic for removing foreign particles, reducing inflammation and for granulated lids. Its use often does away with glasses.

FUR SKIN EXPERTS

A Subtle Sense of Color Guides Them in Judging Pelts.

HOW THE SKINS ARE DRESSED

An Alkali Bath Begins the Various Processes That Finally Produce the Soft and Pliable Finished Fur—Sealskins the Hardest to Handle.

The chief requirement for success in grading fur skins is an accurate eye for color or, more valuable yet, an intuitive sense of color. The difference in value of the rarer varieties of fur skins, especially sables, natural black, silver and blue fox, sea otters, chinchillas, mink and some others, is so subtle that more than a practiced eye is necessary to judge accurately of the merits of individual skins. It is necessary that the color sense be highly developed.

The expert furrier must have, in addition to this, a thorough knowledge of the condition in which a skin should be to gain admittance into the highest class. A furrier must know by the appearance of the pelt whether it will turn out soft and strong after it has been dressed and whether the fur is in the best condition as regards strength and beauty.

A fur skin must, of course, be treated more carefully and by a different process from that followed by the tanner of hides. Tannic acid would ruin the pliability of a fur skin, weaken and discolor the hair. The furrier's process is designed to retain the natural oil of the pelt, which in turn preserves the color of the fur and keeps it soft and pliable. The first step in this process is accomplished by placing the skin in an alkali bath. After it has been softened in the bath the moisture is worked out of the skin with a blunt wooden instrument. Then the flesh side is drawn carefully back and forth over a straight edged knife, which removes any flesh that may be clinging to the pelt and also evens it off.

Specially prepared grease is rubbed into the skin for softening purposes, and the process is carried still further by placing the skin in a machine which is arranged to beat it softly until the grease has been entirely absorbed. A slowly revolving drum fitted with wooden paddles and containing fine hard sawdust, the kind of sawdust differing with the variety of fur, next takes charge of the pelt. A moderate degree of heat is supplied during this stage of the dressing. The skin is thoroughly cleaned of grease by this machine, and the dressing is completed by tapping the skin with smooth canes of a flexibility adapted to the strength of the fur on a leather cushion stuffed with horsehair. Often a skin will be changed in shape and made smaller by the dressing process.

Seal and beaver skins require much more careful handling than other furs. In the case of these skins the water hairs, which are the hard top hairs of the pelt, have to be removed by hand. This process is more difficult with seal than with beaver. A number of men, each a specialist in his part of the work, are kept employed in the work. After this part of the dressing process has been completed the fine under wool, which is wavy and pale drab in color, is dyed dark brown. Several coats of this dark brown dye are applied, and the final result is a fur which is lustrous black on top. The skin is then submitted to the cleaning process again, made of an even thickness by emery wheels and finally finished off in pale buff color.

The English dye for sealskin, which is considered the best, is a trade secret. Its principal ingredients are gall-nuts, copper dust, camphor and antimony. It is supposed that the water used for the dye in London has a great deal to do with the fine results obtained by the use of this dye. The natives of different countries, using their own processes, obtain better results with some skins than with others, but the American furriers are rapidly coming to the front in handling the various kinds of pelts.—New York Sun.

Trapped.

"John, did you post that letter I gave you this morning?"

"Yes, dear," said John without looking up from his paper.

"Well, what is your answer?"

"Wh-what?"

"What is your answer? That letter was directed to you."

"Wh-what do you say? Directed to me? I didn't notice it."

And as John in amazement took it out of his pocket to verify his wife's assertion he saw that he had been caught again. It was not addressed to him.—Buffalo Express.

Blind Workers First.

It was the recruit's first fire. A piano factory was burning. Said the battalion chief to the recruit:

"Find out where the tuning room is and make for that."

The recruit obeyed. Afterward he asked why.

"Because during working hours you are likely to find several blind men there," said the chief. "Many piano tuners are blind, and in case of fire they need first help in getting out. When fighting fire in a piano factory always bear that in mind."—New York Press.

Giving Man Credit.

"I don't believe any man is really good," she said. "When you find one who doesn't go wrong it is because he is afraid."

"Oh, it isn't always because they are afraid," replied her friend, who was married. "Very often it is because they haven't the price."—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Difficult Task.

Letters of Thanks.

A fine example of how successful is the practice of arranging for celebrations on public holidays is afforded in two very complimentary letters from Lt.-Col. W. T. Cunningham, of the Kingston Regiment and from Major W. S. Buell, of the Brockville Militia. Both letters praised in the highest terms the hospitality of this city, and said that the writers had never experienced a more delightful holiday.

JULY 4TH HOLIDAY CROWD CARRIED TO DEATH AND RUIN IN HORRIBLE REAR-END COLLISION

40 KILLED AND 50 INJURED WHEN NEW YORK EXPRESS DASHED INTO ANOTHER

Disaster on the Lackawanna Railway at Corning—Passenger Train From New York Shattered by an Express on Perfectly-Straight Piece of Track

PLOWED HALF WAY THROUGH A PULLMAN, IN WHICH SEVERAL PASSENGERS WERE KILLED

Corning, N.Y., July 4.—Lackawanna passenger train No. 9, which left New York city at 8.45 last night, bound for Buffalo, was crushed from behind by a train of express cars near here early to-day, and at least 34 persons were killed and 50 injured. The deaths will probably reach 40. Thirty-four bodies had been taken from the debris at nine o'clock. The crash occurred before daylight. Many of the injured were mortally hurt.

Most of the dead and injured were in two day coaches on the rear of the train when it toppled into the ditch. Passengers in the five Pullman cars were more fortunate, in being further away from the point of impact.

Among the killed are several babies or young children. One man, stooping to pick up what he thought was only a bit of white clothing lying on the ground, uncovered the body of a baby.

On account of the confusion and lack of wire communication, news of the disaster was slow in reaching this city, but by 6.30 o'clock, a score of physicians were on the scene and the injured were brought to the Corning Hospital.

The bodies of the dead were laid on top of the embankment along the track and at the roadside, and covered with blankets from the Pullman.

At the time of wiring a number of the injured are still pinned under the wreckage and their groans and shrieks can be clearly heard.

Cause is Mysterious.

As yet the cause of the wreck has not been determined. The place where it occurred was a straight stretch of track. So far as can be ascertained the engineer of the express train had no warning that the passenger train was in his way. It is believed that when he first saw it the train was standing on the parallel track.

Was Half an Hour Late.

The passenger train was heavily loaded and was drawn by two engines. It was running about half an hour late, and hence it is probable that the engineer of the express train thought that the track was clear ahead of him, as the passenger train had passed.

Two Blocks Were Set.

The passenger train had been brought to a standstill by a freight train which had become stalled in front of it by the pulling out of a drawhead, and was unable to take a siding to let the passenger train pass. One of the two engines of the passenger train was uncoupled and attached to the freight train to put it on the siding. The conductor of the passenger train, Mr. Staples, of Elmira, says he caused the two blocks to be set against any westbound trains.

PETERBORO LOSES TWO GAMES TO OTTAWA

Two games were played at Riverside Park yesterday, both of which were won by Ottawa. There was a fair attendance of fans and although the day was threatening a good attendance of ladies were present. The first game was hampered a little by the rain, and had to be called off for a short while, and the boys played good ball, Davie Rowan doing the twirling for the locals. The home boys seem to be running in a streak of hard luck and in many instances had the bases full, and it looked as though they would score, when the Ottawa players would get some almost impossible looking hits and in most cases double up on the boys, holding them down to two runs.

The second game was short and sweet, only five innings. Board went into the box for the locals and did some good pitching, but the game was not quite up to the mark, the boys seemingly weakening. Some long drives found their way to the brewery, but they were on the wrong side of the line and didn't count for anything. Umpire Cancella got into some very hot arguments during the game, but always managed to come off all right with his scalp. The scores:

1st Game—

Ottawa	6	10	5
Peterborough	2	6	1

Batteries—Kubat and Hopper; Rowan and Trout.
Umpire—Cancella.

2nd Game—

Ottawa	4	6	0
Peterborough	0	6	1

Batteries—McManus and Hopper; Board and Trout.
Umpires—Cancella.

CHEESE BOARD MEETING

Brisk Bidding Marked the Regular Cheese Board Sale—Fair Prices Ruled.

At the Cheese Board meeting on Wednesday there was a good attendance of buyers.

There were 2996 cheese boarded, an increase of 71 over the boarding at the last sale. Mr. Smith, representing Olive, Dorion and Stroud, of Montreal, was introduced to the Board, as well as Mr. Law, representing Flavelle's, Limited. All the other regular buyers were present. The factories boarded as follows:

Keene	86
Warminster	105
Shearer	120
Central Smith	100
Selwyn	150
Villiers	135
Warsaw	170
Westwood	205
Oakdale	135
Daisy D.	85
Maple Leaf	106
Myrtle	160
Ormonde	180
Young's Point	100
Lang	140
Indian River	120
North Dummer	60
East Emily	130
Trewern	140
Bensfort	40
Norwood	160
Fleetwood	140
Killarney	150
Total	2996

The Bidding.

Mr. Watkins opened at 12½c; Mr. Morton raised it 12 9-16 and Mr. Law advanced the price to 12 5-8c.

At this figure Mr. Law called Warminster, Keene, Shearer, Central Smith, Selwyn, Villiers, Westwood, Warsaw, Maple Leaf, Myrtle, Young's Point, East Emily, Trewern.

Several buyers called 12 9-16 for next call, but the price was raised to 12 11-16 by Mr. W. S. Cook for the balance of the board.

Mr. Kerr took Ormonde at 12 5-8c.

Mr. Cook took Oakdale, Daisy D., Lang, Indian River, North Dummer, Bensfort, Norwood, Fleetwood and Killarney.

An adjournment was called for two weeks.

Mr. Gillespie moved that the Board contribute the usual $15 to the Industrial Exhibition. Last year it went to the Norwood Fair. Mr. McGregor seconded the motion. The money is given for cheese prizes.—Carried.

One of the members moved that it be given the Lakefield Fair, but he received no supporter.

TORONTO CARPET CO., MAY COME TO CITY

Will Not Leave Queen City for Some Time—Are Not Satisfied With Treatment by Toronto City Council.

It is now an established fact that the Toronto Carpet Company, employing 700 hands, and who had prepared to duplicate their $150,000 six-storey building in Toronto will eventually leave that city and locate in either Peterborough or St. Catharines. This is owing to the action of the City Council of Toronto, who after accepting the offer of the company of $80,000 to erect a new building, advertised for tenders for land. The company at once withdrew their offer and have decided to leave Toronto. They communicated with several Ontario municipalities in view of finding a suitable place, and they have finally narrowed the choice down to one between St. Catharines and Peterborough.

The factory will need 45 acres of land, and will not move to the chosen city all at once, but a department at a time. The yarn-spinning plant, employing 150 men and girls would be the first one to move.

800,000 MEN QUIT WORK

This is the Outlook for Uncle Sam's Employment

GREAT CRISIS AT HAND

Failure of Congress to Vote Funds For Pay May Tie up Public Service—War Department's Order—Civilian Employees to Be Told to Take an Indefinite Leave on Monday—House Democrats Serene—They Hold Republican Senators

Washington, July 3.—It now seems absolutely certain that a large number of government employees will be without employment next Monday. The President sent a message to the House of Representatives to-day, urging action to meet the emergency that is approaching, but it did not reach that body in time to accomplish anything. The House was in session only a short time, and adjourned before the message got there.

The Senate having adjourned until next Monday, according to its pre-arranged order of business, it would accomplish nothing if the House were to adopt a resolution to-morrow to give authority to the executive department to continue the appropriations.

Today the secretary of war authorised a general order to be sent out by General Wood to the engineer officers commanding all the engineer districts in the United States, directing that all the civilian employees in their offices and engaged on government work be notified to take an indefinite leave of absence, beginning Monday morning.

The idea of getting the resolution passed was clearly far from the thoughts of the Democratic House leaders. They hold that the impending cessation of government activities is due to the negligence and dilatoriness of the Republican majority in the Senate. They do not either intend to take the initiative in adopting a resolution to bridge over the trouble temporarily. They expect the Senate to do that, and thereby acknowledge the remissness of the Republican majority in that body. That is the attitude of the House leaders and probably it will continue so as the deadlock goes on.

The Senate has no out-and-out administration leaders and there seem to be none who are much concerned over the possible discomfiture of the President and his administration. For it is as clear as anything can be that if public business is stopped Monday for want of authority of law responsibility during the coming campaign will be put on the administration and the Republican majority in the Senate. The Democrats in the House urge they have done all that could have been expected of them and that even with the delay in sundry civil bill, which went to the Senate last week, the Senate, if it had disposed of the other bills, some of which have been before that body for three to four months, could have taken up the sundry civil bill and passed it easily this week, and so had all the money bills approved before the end of the fiscal year.

There is little outspoken manifestation of hostility to the President among Republican senators, yet it is very well known that the hostility exists, and that the disposition is there to make trouble if possible. The magnitude of the stoppage of public business may be imagined from the statement that the failure of the large appropriation bills applies to probably all the civilian employees of the Government except those who are commissioned by the President and the number of those who are affected is over 800,000.

LAST NIGHT'S STORM

The electric storm last night was very fierce, and considerable damage was done throughout the country. A barn belonging to Mr. Sandy Matchett, Otonabee, was struck by the lightning and was destroyed, also a barn in Ennismore. Loss unknown.

SCENE COULD BE NO WILDER HAD IT BEEN JUDGMENT DAY

TORONTO CLERGYMAN RELATES EXPERIENCE IN CYCLONE RAVAGE.

Indescribable Turmoil—Heartrendering Spectacle Witnessed on the Streets When the Storm Had Subsided.

Toronto, July 4.—Rev. F. A. Robinson, Associate Secretary of the Presbyterian Board of Social Service and Evangelism, who has just returned from Regina, related this morning the story of his thrilling experiences during and following the disastrous cyclone visitation of Sunday.

"There had been the most intense and oppressive heat all day," he said "I had attended an afternoon meeting and was on my way over to the station to secure a reservation for my return trip to the East, when I noticed a rapidly rotating cumulus cloud. I knew what it meant, for years before I remembered having seen a similar cloud and I had saved myself from being swept away only by lying flat on the ground and grasping a tree stump.

"I rushed for the hotel and was within 30 feet of the door when the wind and rain struck me. In going that short distance I was completely drenched. A few seconds later not a vistige of the big board fence around a new fence where I had been standing—like the heavy fencing around the new C.P.R. building here—was to be seen. Not a timber was left behind by the cyclone in its mad sweep. Buildings tumbled all around us. The air was filled with flying timbers and the strange heterogeneous loot which the cyclone had amassed. The wind pounded at the doors like a battering ram operated by invisible assailants. Between 15 and 20 men were at each of the hotel doors, struggling with might and main to keep them closed.

Awe Inspiring Scene.

"Inside was indescribable turmoil. Had it been the Judgment Day, the scene in the rotunda could not have been a wilder, more dreadful, more awe-inspiring one. Upstairs the windows were blown in as if they had been paper. Women, panic stricken, were carried down stairs by the men to join the wild-eyed crowd below.

"After the cyclone passed it was a heart-rendering scene on the streets People were running aimlessly about crying for relatives and friends, and wives for husbands, and mothers for their children. But the way the men pitched in and worked!"

LOCAL MAN IN CYCLONE

Mr. T. A. Savigny Has Close Call In Regina Storm

Yesterday a letter was received from Mr. T. A. Savigny, of Regina, in which he gave some particulars of the cyclone which overtook that city on Sunday last. Mr. Savigny, who is on the staff of Barries, Limited, happened to be in the building when the cyclone developed. When it struck the store the whole front collapsed, the falling debris missing Mr. Savigny by a close shave. He says to give a pen picture of the cyclone would be impossible. It was terrific, no time being given to escape.

The Barries store was not totally destroyed, although badly damaged.

Tom's many friends in Peterborough will rejoice with him in his escape. The handsome electric sign, costing $250, made in Peterborough, disappeared, not a particle of it is to be found.

SIR RODMOND TO REMAIN IN MANITOBA POLITICS

Miami, Man., July 4.—Sir Rodmond Roblin indicated last night in the clearest way, his intention of remaining in the arena of Provincial politics. "My services as a public man in Manitoba," he declared, "will last so long as and no longer than the people of the constituency of Dufferin are willing to give me their support. If the people of Manitoba desire me to retire all they need to do is to persuade the people of Miami and the surrounding country to vote against me."

239 BRITISH WARSHIPS

Greatest Naval Display in World's History—Drawn Up In Line 30 Miles Long

London, July 4.—Wonderful as was the assembly at Spithead last year to commemorate the Coronation, it will be excelled by the fleet which will gather on Tuesday next. There will be 239 warships of every kind, drawn up in six lines along a total length of thirty miles. Nineteen admirals flags will be flown.

THE WEATHER.

showery and a little cooler.

WILL DO HER DUTY

London, July 4.—The Times referring to its Toronto correspondent's prediction that Mr. Borden will offer two or three Dreadnoughts in partial discharge of Canada's immediate duty says the moral value of such an announcement will be incalculable and will depend little upon the disposition of the ships.

RAILWAYS TO BUILD REGINA

Tenders Called For $2,500 Houses and $1,800 Bungalows

1,000 CARPENTERS BUSY

Regina, July 4.—The city officials, in various committees have been working ever since Sunday's cyclone with but a few hours' sleep. Immediate relief is needed for some hundred families while more will be added to the list later. Many who really need the relief are probably concealing their needs and will not apply for help unless urged by actual want. Hundreds of other victims of the cyclone are being kept by friends who can ill afford it. A large portion of those whose residences and property were devastated are wealthy or well-to-do people, who, while they have received a severe set-back are not in actual want and while they lack shelter of their own, are being housed by relatives or friends.

Sleeping In Tents.

Six automobiles are kept busy investigating cases for relief and doling out provisions. The majority of the homeless are being provided for at private houses, but there are still hundreds sleeping in the public schools and various public buildings and in tents.

The C.P.R. have established a record in rebuilding their freight sheds The sheds were almost a total wreck and their whole yard was a scene of devastation which was indescribable. The yards are already nearly cleared and five hundred carpenters have worked with feverish haste so that they will be practically completed to-day. The city has decided to build a corrugated iron warehouse which will be rented to firms unable to find accommodation.

Railways Build Houses.

The railway officials decided to erect a large number of residences, and they settled on plans for two classes of buildings, one a two-storey house to cost about $2500, the other a bungalow costing about $1,800. If necessary they will build five hundred of these houses. Tenders for the houses have been called for and the work will be started at once. It is hoped to have some completed within ten days. Over a thousand carpenters were at work to-day and more are pouring into the city on every train. All are being put to work.

GO TO FLORIDA FOR HEALTH AND wealth.—The question is asked me repeatedly: Why, if all that is claimed for the climate and earning capacity of the land in Florida is true, how is it that only a percentage of the State's area is under cultivation? It is a fair question, and the answer is a simple one. After the war between the North and the South Florida found herself in a deplorable condition financially. The State Government leased hundred of thousands of acres of its best prairie and timber lands for periods running as high as 99 years. This latter period tied up the great Kissimmee Prairie until recently. It is now, however, in the hands of a splendid colonization company, whose selling agent is the Hunter Land Company, Kissimmee Prairie is in the Southern portion of Osceola County, and is noted for its fertility and uniformity of soil. It is the healthiest spot in North America, and every day in the year is a growing day. Write for maps, illustrated literature, excursion particulars and any desired information. Address Alf. Law, Ontario, Manager, 49 Cecil street, Toronto. D-6 in J4

PINE TAR CORDIAL

NUGENT'S SARSAPARILLA—PRICE FOR large bottle, 100 full doses, 85c, and well worth it, too. It's better to take no medicine at all than to depend upon cheap concoctions that are compounded to sell at a low price and a big profit just because there is a large demand for certain remedies at certain seasons of the year. There are so-called Sarsaparillas offered to us to sell to our customers at 75c a bottle that would bring us a larger profit than Nugent's Sarsaparilla sold at 85c. Nugent's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, arouses the torpid liver, drives out all impurities, cleanses and tones up the system, and helps Nature throw off the dullness that comes from the indoor life of winter. It arouses energy, brightens the eye, clears the brain, gives lightness to the movements. Nugent's Sarsaparilla is not the only thing you will find in this drug store. We make a specialty of Nugent's Remedies. Nugent Drug Co., 380 George St. directly opposite Cressman's store.

Cursory.

A huntsman called on Hodge to settle for damage done by a run to hounds and found only Mrs. Hodge at home.

"Has your husband," he inquired, "made an examination yet?"

"That he have, sir," replied Mrs. Hodge, with a curtsey.

"Rather a cursory examination, I suspect?"

"Oh, dreadful, sir. Such langwidge I never heerd—never!" And the good woman held up her hands at the bare recollection.

Fighting Seasickness.

There is one place in a ship where the voyager may be at rest. This writer discovered it during a mid-Atlantic storm when he went down to the bathroom, tumbled into a warm sea bath and floated. The vessel was performing the most amazing antics, but the water in the bath kept its usual gravity, and the bather floated with a smile upon its bosom.—London Tatler.

LEGEND OF ALUMINUM.

If a certain incident in Roman history, as related by Pliny, be given full credence, then it would seem that aluminium was derived by means of a secret process long before our time.

The story is this: During the reign of Tiberius there one day appeared at the emperor's palace a worker in metals who displayed a magnificent cup made of a brilliant white metal that shone like silver. In presenting it to Tiberius the artificer purposely dropped it. The piece was so bruised by the fall that it seemed hopelessly ruined, but the metal worker took his hammer, and in the presence of the court quickly repaired the damage. It was thus evident to all that the metal was not silver, though it presented an appearance as brilliant as that metal. Besides, it was more durable and much lighter.

The emperor, so Pliny relates, interrogated the metal worker, from whom it was learned that the mysterious metal had been extracted from an argillaceous earth, in all probability the clay known to modern chemists as alumina. Tiberius then asked whether any one but the metal worker knew of the process and received the reply that the secret was known only to the worker and Jupiter.

The answer was unfortunate, for, reasoned the emperor, if it were possible to obtain such a metal from so common a substance as clay, would not the value of gold and silver be reduced? Tiberius, it would seem, was determined to avert such a catastrophe, for he commanded the workshops of the discoverer of the new metal to be destroyed and the luckless man himself to be decapitated, so that the secret might die with him.

Did the cruelty of Tiberius deprive the world for centuries of the use of the metal aluminium?

A Lesson With His Autograph.

An admirer once wrote to Lowell describing his autograph collection and concluding with the remark, "I would be much obliged for your autograph." The reply came, bearing with it a lesson on the correct use of the words "would" and "should," which deeply impressed itself on the mind of the recipient. The response read:

Pray, do not say hereafter, "I would be obliged." If you would be obliged, be obliged and have done with it. Say, "I should be obliged," and oblige yours truly.
JAMES RUSSELL LOWELL.

A Boswell and Johnson Story.

Boswell once asked Johnson if there were no possible circumstance in which suicide would be justified.

"No," was the reply.

"Well," says Boswell, "suppose a man has been guilty of a fraud he was certain would be found out."

"Why, then," says Johnson, "in that case let him go to some country where he is not known and not to the devil, where he is known."

POVERTY DINNERS.

Cheap Meals That Are Served In Some Berlin Restaurants.

There are many interesting facts regarding cheap food in various portions of the earth. Berlin is said to lead the civilized world in the way of cheap restaurants. There are many places where you may secure a meal of horse flesh, bread and coffee for 25 pfennig, which is about 6 cents. In the poorer parts of the city there are many little restaurants where you can buy a meal for 12 pfennig, which would be about 3 cents.

In some of these cheap restaurants there is a long table, and no chairs are to be seen, but there are long benches. Tin spoons are chained to the table, soup plates are sunk into the table, and the one who wants to eat a meal comes in and sits down in front of one of these plates and lays his 3 cents beside it. Usually a woman is in the kitchen, and in many of these places the kitchen is a part of the restaurant itself. As soon as you have laid your money on the table she trots forward with a steaming hot kettle of thick soup, although this soup is sometimes served. She fills your soup plate with this hot soup and lays a thick slice of black bread beside the plate, and your dinner is complete.

This is certainly a cheap meal. There are many places in all our large cities where a dime will provide quite a generous dinner, sometimes pot roast and a thick slice of bread and butter and a cup of coffee.—Mary F. Rausch in American Thresherman.

Dining In Luxembourg.

Though "town patriotism" exists all over the world, nowhere, perhaps, is it fiercer than in the little grand duchy of Luxembourg. The tourist can turn it to excellent advantage. When he arrives at the inn of any little town he should get into conversation with the master or, better still, with the mistress of the house and mention that at the last town at which he stayed the best and cheapest meals he ever had in his life were served. Madame will depart to the kitchen determined to demonstrate to the tourist that he has never before really had a decently cooked meal. And by the time for coffee and cigars he will come near to believing it. The finest cooks in Europe are women of Luexbourg.

AN ARMED SITTING.

It Was a Critical Moment In the Career of Wellington.

Had Wellington not commanded the British at Waterloo would there have been any prisoner at St. Helena? Whether or not some one exists competent to answer this momentous question, a story told in Rachel Challice's "Secret History of the Court of Spain" indicates that Napoleon once came nearer than he knew to being relieved of his enemy and future conqueror.

When the Anglo-Spanish army drove Joseph Bonaparte from Madrid attentions were showered upon the English commander, Lord Wellington, who, however, took little pains to be cordial. His coldness and his fancy to have his portrait painted by Goya nearly caused the future hero of Waterloo to lose his life.

For, be it known, the illustrious Spanish painter was irascible to a degree, the more so that he was completely deaf. When the great general made his appearance in the studio the painter's son interpreted the Englishman's wishes in deaf and dumb language to his father.

The artist worked assiduously and when he thought the portrait far enough advanced placed it before the general. Unfortunately the picture did not please the commander, who shrugged his shoulders contemptuously and said that he would not accept such a caricature as a gift.

The artist's son declined to translate this depreciatory remark, but the artist had noted the scornful gestures of the Englishman, and the son in alarm saw his father turn his eyes to the loaded pistols which always lay ready to hand on the table.

The young man's fear increased when Wellington rose from his seat and put on his hat preparatory to departure. Then Goya, enraged at the officer's contemptuous manner, seized the pistols, and the general clapped his hand to his sword.

The scene might have ended in a tragedy had not General Alava assured the irate Englishman that the artist was suffering from sudden mental abberation, and young Goya restrained his father by force from using the deadly weapons.

Happiness In Sleep.

I saw once how like sleep was to life in the deep waters. A man who to my waking eyes looked cold and starved and ragged sat upon one of the benches on the embankment. He was sleeping, and I knew from his face that then at least he did not count himself miserable. But presently a policeman came and shook the sleeper into waking life. Then all the violence of the world seemed to be let loose upon this wreck of a man. He shook and blinked his eyes and breathed with heavy spasms. It was just as when a fish is caught out of the depth of the sea and suddenly cast into a basket. I have seen mackerel shake and gasp like this poor man suddenly caught up out of the native depths of sleep. Or if you think that a fish thus dying is only an amusing and not a painful sight then think of what it might be if some giant of fable could catch us up out of our native air into the space between the stars. Would we not willingly sink back again into the depth of air? So it is when the loud world lets us glide down into sleep.—London Outlook.

His Name In the Directory.

"One funny thing I have learned about human nature," said the drug store cashier, "is the habit many people have of marking their own names in the city directory. They do that because the directory is the only place where their names ever get into print, and it has such a fascination for them that they can't resist calling attention to it. A funny old man who likes to talk tells me that he has made special trips to different parts of the city just to mark his name in the directories of the neighborhood. He puts a little cross in red ink before it. I asked him what good it did. He said none possibly, although he is a teacher of languages and may get a few calls on account of that queer advertisement. But his is an exceptional case. Not many persons spend time and money hunting city directories, but every time they happen to see a new one they can't help looking up their names and putting some kind of a mark around them."—New York Sun.

Mansfield's Coaching.

"Richard Mansfield," said an actress who played in his company, "was a great teacher, but terribly relentless. I shall never forget a time when I was playing with him in 'The First Violin.' I could not, strive frantically as I would, do the thing he wanted. He was gentle at first, and then, persisting in my failure, he began to lash and whip and sting me with his words until I thought I should have to run away. In agony of impotent desperation I cried out:

"'I cannot! Oh, I cannot!'

"Mr. Mansfield threw up his hands in a gesture of relief, and a smile played about his lips.

"'Why,' he said sweetly, 'you're doing the very thing right now. No one on earth could do it better.' And then I knew what he meant, and those lines were a triumph to me all that season."—Detroit Free Press.

Walking.

The Almighty has not freighted the foot with a single superfluous part. Every inch of every foot is meant for use. When a man walks in the right way, speaking literally, the back of the heel strikes the ground first. Then the rest of the heel comes down, after which the outer edge of the foot takes the bulk of the burden until the forward movement shifts the weight to the ball of the foot and finally to the toes. The ideal step is a slightly rocking motion. At no time should the entire foot be pressed against the ground. Heel to toe is the movement. Try and see how much farther and more easily you can walk. It's the Indian's way, and what poor Lo doesn't know about footwork can go into the discard.—New York Press.

SIR HENNIKER HEATON

A few days ago there foregathered in the Guild Hall, London, a distinguished company to do honor to Sir Henniker Heaton for the work he has done in connection with the postal and telegraph service throughout the world. Although he has accomplished much, yet Sir Henniker Heaton's ambitions are not yet satisfied. He sees new worlds to conquer, and in his speech upon this occasion, exhorted his hearers to hasten the conquest. He still hopes to witness fresh strides towards the universal penny rate, which is his postal goal—apart from the reforms he has always ready for the British postmaster general, he is now strenuously advocating the introduction of an Imperial penny cable. It will cost money to do this, and few treasuries can afford reckless expenditure, even for the most popular purposes like this. But it is manifest that such a service would confer an invaluable boon on mankind at large. It would bring the outer ways of the nation closer together and rob emigration of a good deal of its sting. The mails and telegraphs are the shuttles ever weaving day and night on the "roaring loom of time," the fabric of the world's beliefs and opinions. Such are the true foundations of one's hopes of Imperial federation of which we speak so often and so earnestly desire to see accomplished.

The reforms which Sir Henniker has carried out have done much to stimulate that feeling, and the scattered units of the Anglo-Saxon race will wish him every success in his last and greatest reform.

THE SYSTEM OF TIME.

A mechanism has been attached to the time clock at the Hamburg observatory, by which the exact official time is transmitted to the telephone system of the city. From the fifty-fifth to the sixtieth second of each minute the apparatus transmits a musical signal, which is followed by a phonographic announcement of the exact minute. The signals are transmitted by special wire to the headquarters of the telephone system, and thence to each local exchange. Any telephone subscriber who wishes to get the exact time has only to ask for the time connection at his exchange, and listen for the phonographic announcement. This is an improvement upon the American method by which time signals are transmitted by telegraph only once a day.

Editorial Notes

A Harrisburg Telegraph tells of a Western penitentiary that is to have a gymnasium, a baseball field, and a swimming pool. Luxuries are now within the reach of all. A common workingman has only got to murder somebody to put himself in the position of the idle rich.

The campaign of a hundred girls in Lynn in helping the school principal to make effective war against cigaret smoking is an interesting suggestion to other localities where the good intentions of the boys are going up in smoke.

While the Examiner is working overtime in its efforts to create feeling against the Government, the rest of the country, it is gratifying to note, is enjoying a peaceful calm.

ARE YOU DROOPY, TIRED, WORN OUT

Here Is Good Advice to All Who Feel as If Their Vigor and Life Had All Oozed Away.

This Condition Can be Quickly Cured by a Good Cleansing Medicine.

Your experience is probably somewhat similar to that described by Mr J. T. Fleming in the following letter from his home in Lebanon: "I think I must have the most sluggish sort of a liver. In the morning my mouth was bitter, and that foul, soft feeling that tells you, "No breakfast needed here this morning." A cup of coffee would sort of brace me up, but in two hours I was disposed to quit work, all energy having ozzed out of me. Supper was my only good meal, but I guess I didn't digest very well for I dreamt to beat the band. A friend of mine put me wise to Dr. Hamilton's Pills. I think they must have taken hold of my liver, perhaps my stomach too, because at the very start they made things go right. Look at me now—not sleepy in the day time, but hustling for the mighty dollar and getting fun out of every minute. That's what Dr. Hamilton's Pills have done for me — they have rebuilt and rejuvenated my entire system."

To keep free from headaches, to feel young and bright, to enjoy your meals, to sleep sound and look your best, nothing can help like Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c per box, five for $1.00 at all druggists and storekeepers or postpaid from the Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

CUBAN REVOLT NEARLY ENDED

President Gomez Now Turns His Attention to Other Matters

Havana, July 2.—The government expresses confidence that the insurrection is fast approaching collapse, and is now considering the question of withdrawing a portion of the regular troops, this in spite of the fact that Col. Piedra, who returned from Oriente yesterday, reported 2000 insurgents in arms. Other estimates place the rebel strength as high as 4000.

Apparently military operations in Oriente are practically at a standstill, awaiting the development of a new plan of campaign undertaken by Gen. Monteagudo.

A conference which President Gomez had last night with the Liberal leaders is taken as an indication that the president considers the insurrection now of secondary importance and that it is time to turn attention to practical politics in preparation for an active presidential campaign. The question of a Liberal candidate, however, is still in abeyance, with no indications that Gen. Gomez and Vice-President Alfred Zayas will arrive at any agreement.

The first shore leave since the arrival of the American warships was granted to the crews of the Rhode Island and Washington to-day. One hundred liberty men from each spent the afternoon in the city. The same number will be allowed ashore daily hereafter.

Gen. Monteagudo advised the government to-night that his troops had had an engagement with the rebel leaders, Estenoz and Ivonet, at the head of 100 men near Calabazas, dispersing them and capturing Ivonet's horse. Gen. Monteagudo adds that the troops are now actively pursuing the rebels.

Washington, July 2.—The improvement of conditions in Cuba led the war department to-day to abandon the arrangements made for the dispatch of the "expeditionary force" of about 15,000 men, and orders were issued to put out of commission the four big army transports at Newport News. The soldiers comprising the force to have been "resting on their arms" for the past month will return to the dull routine of garrison life.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, July 3.—At the Canadian Pacific live stock market the receipts of live stock for the week ending June 29 were 1100 cattle, 1250 sheep and lambs, 1150 hogs and 1400 calves, while the offerings on the market this morning amounted to 1100 cattle, 800 sheep and lambs, 1400 hogs and 1800 calves.

A weak feeling developed in the market for cattle to-day, and prices scored a further decline of 75c to $1 per 100 lbs., which was attributed to the large increase in the supply of common and inferior stock. The top price realised for choice steers was $7.50, but the bulk of the trading was done in good stock at $6, $6.50 and $7 per 100 pounds, while the common and inferior sold from that down to $3.50 to $4 per 100 pounds. Choice butcher cows sold at $5 to $5.50, and the lower grades from $3 to $4 per 100 pounds. Bulls sold between $3 and $3.50 per 100 pounds.

The market for sheep and lambs was weaker, and prices ruled lower, with sales of the former at $4 to $4.50 per 100 pounds, and the latter at $4 to $5 each. The supply of hogs was much larger than expected, and the market in consequence was weaker, and prices declined 25c per 100 pounds, with sales of selected lots at $8.50 to $8.75 per 100 pounds, and mixed lots sold as low as $8, weighed off cars. Demand for calves was good at prices ranging from $3 to $8 each.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, July 3.—Cattle—Receipts, 450; dull.

Veals—Receipts, 200; active and higher, $4 to $8.25.

Hogs—Receipts, 2800; slow and strong to 5c higher; heavy, $7.85 to $7.90; mixed, $7.80 to $7.90; yorkers, $7.25 to $7.85, pigs, $7.25 to $7.35; roughs, $6.25 to $6.75; stags, $5 to $6; dairies, $7.50 to $7.75.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 1800; slow; sheep steady; lambs 25c lower; lambs, $4.50 to $7.50.

Chicago Live Stock.

CHICAGO, July 3.—Cattle—Receipts 9000. Market steady to 10c higher. Beeves, $5.70 to $9.70; Texas steers, $5.90 to $7.60; western steers, $6.25 to $7.70; stockers and feeders, $4 to $6.55; cows and heifers, $2.70 to $8.30; calves, $5.50 to $8.25.

Hogs—Receipts 20,000. Market for best 5c higher, others 5c off. Light, $7 to $7.10; mixed, $7 to $7.60; heavy, $6.90 to $7.60; rough, $6.95 to $7.10; pigs, $5.25 to $6.95; bulk of sales, $7.30 to $7.45.

Sheep—Receipts 10,000. Market steady to 15c up. Native, $3 to $5.25; western, $3.25 to $5.25; yearlings, $4.25 to $6.00; lambs, native, $4 to $7.75; western, $4.50 to $7.25.

Cheese Markets.

WOODSTOCK, July 3. — Offerings were light, amounting to 600 boxes. All sold on the board at 12 5-8c.

MADOC, July 3.—Five hundred and thirty cheese were boarded and 380 sold at 12 9-16c, the balance being disposed of at 12½c.

PETERBORO, July 3.—Two thousand three hundred boxes of cheese were boarded. Larvelle bought 1800 at 12⅝c, and Cooke the balance at 12 11-16c.

Preference Shares are preferential both as to assets and cumulative dividends at the rate of 7 p.c. per annum, also participate in dividends after 7 p.c. has been paid on common stock.

The average net profits of the Cafeterias, Limited, on King street, for the month of May, as shown by the report of the auditor, John I. Sutcliffe, C.A., amounted to over 30 p.c. on the entire issue of stock. A complete auditor's statement of the finances of Cafeterias, Limited, up to the end of May, may be seen at the offices of Messrs. Fleming & Marvin, Lumsden Building. This statement shows the monthly profits.

About $50,000.00 will be required to put the new Yonge street Cafeteria on a running basis. Of this amount about fifteen or twenty thousand dollars will be required to complete the interior finish, and make this restaurant one of the finest cafeterias in America. The balance will be required for outfitting the restaurant and providing a certain amount of working capital. The new restaurant will have a dining room of the large dimensions of 7,000 square feet on the ground floor, and will also have spacious additions for other purposes of the business.

Cafeterias, Limited, has found in the running of its business on King street that it has eclipsed the old style of waitress-serving restaurants, which is a great saving of labor and expense, and that the new restaurant is the best system of meeting the demands of the public for quick service, consistent with quality and efficiency of service.

We have opened subscription books for sale at par ($10.00) $50,000.00 fully paid shares of the above-mentioned 7 p.c. cumulative preference participating stock, carrying a bonus of 25 p.c. of the amount of the preference shares in common stock.

Payments as follows:
25% per share with subscription;
and 75% per share on allotment.

Subscription books are now open at our offices, and the right is reserved to allot only such subscriptions and for such amounts as may be approved, and to close the subscription without notice.
Subscriptions may be forwarded by mail or by telegram at our expense.

Church Activities.

The news of Western Canada recently included an unusual church item.

At Spartanburg, B.C., a church, not a stone or stick of which was standing at sunrise on a recent day, was worshipped in during the evening by a congregation that filled the building and overflowed into the street.

It had been announced by the members of Bethel Methodist Church that they would erect a building in one day, the church to be known as El Bethel. There were those who doubted, but when more than two hundred workmen, well organised, gathered at the scene it became apparent that the undertaking might be accomplished.

It is estimated that 5,000 persons visited the building during the day. Motion picture machines played upon the building at every stage of its erection. At night the building stood completed, painted, papered, and furnished throughout.

Heads Manitoba Commission.

All shades of opinion in Manitoba seem to approve the appointment of Judge Robson as provincial public utilities commissioner. Hugh Amos Robson, who is a Liberal in politics, having been appointed judge of the king's bench of Manitoba by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, was born at Barrow-in-Furness, England, in 1871, and studied law at Regina, N.W.T. Civic authorities who have just invested the control of Winnipeg's public utilities, representing a capitalization of several millions, in the newly created provincial public utilities commissioner, express themselves as very well satisfied with the appointment.

Immigrants From Britain.

British Government returns of emigration shows that the following went to Canada during April: From England, 20,163; from Scotland, 5,557; from Wales, 316; from Ireland, 1,334; total, 27,370.

To the other dominions the number was 10,694.

While Scotland's population is one-eighth of England's, emigration from Scotland is twice as rapid as from England.

Dominion Fair at Ottawa.

Novel features are being secured every day for the Dominion Exhibition to be held in Ottawa from September 3 to 16. These innovations, with the expansions in the main departments will form an aggregation of attractions and displays that will create a bustle and stir in every part of the hundred acres of Fair Grounds. The Exhibition Association has prepared a bulletin of the features secured up-to-date, which will be sent to any applicant. Later additions will be published in the regular programme. Only by perusing these publications and the prize list can an adequate idea be formed of the enormous scope of the Dominion Exhibition.

The result of the judging in the live stock departments will be impressively demonstrated to the public at 1.30 p.m. Thursday, third last day of the Fair, by a monster parade of the animals winning Dominion Exhibition premiums. The procession will be repeated at the same hour on Saturday. On Friday and Saturday an extra display will be made before the grand stand of the championship stallions, one of each breed to be designated by printed cards. This is chiefly for educational purposes. Another special number on the programme for Friday afternoon is the lining up before the Grand Stand of the heavy horses which will compete in strings of ten for a purse of $100.

Some of the special features are mentioned in the advertisement which appears in another column.

HUDSON BAY ROUTE.

Is It Open to Shipping All the Year Round?

According to Dr. Bell, who was for years head of the geological survey in Canada, the Hudson Straits never freeze over. "It is impossible that there should at any time in the twelve months be difficulty in navigating the straits, for they are upon tide water, and, more than that, the waters of the Gulf Stream come back this way from the north of the coast of Europe," he says. "The Hudson Bay railway will always have an open port. There may be some little difficulty near the shore at some times of the year, but I do not think it will ever be necessary to have ice-breaking boats."

At Nelson River, Dr. Bell says, there is tide water for a considerable distance up stream, and water that is always open.

"Why," said the doctor, "navigation through the straits should be particularly easy, because while there may at times be floating ice, there are no rocks and no islands upon which to go ashore."

Asked if it would not be a bleak coast upon which to be stranded, Dr. Bell said the coast was very much under-rated. "What is more, there are some remarkably fine people, Indians, who live there. You know, it is generally understood that many of these Indians are descendants of Hudson and his navigators, who were stranded there, and who probably made friends among the Indians and married squaws. At any rate, though they are not what we might call civilized, I have been delighted at the people I have met there."

Of the east coast of Hudson Bay, Dr. Bell says that it is thickly wooded for a great part right down to the coast. He tells of the vast extent of Ungava River, which he characterises as one of the great rivers of the world, over 700 miles long, and very wide and deep. At its mouth is what he believes to be the greatest tide in the world rising 70 feet from low water to high water.

"I was told of an accident that happened to a steamship captain," he said, "that will illustrate the extent of the rise, and the necessity of being careful in casting anchor. The captain had cast anchor the night before, and the crew retired in a feeling of security, when they were awakened by the vessel careening to one side. Daylight approaching, they were able to discover that the water had receded 150 feet from the vessel, and that they were on the side of a slippery rock, down which, should the vessel lose its grip on the side of the rock, they would fall a sheer 70 feet, and probably be smashed to pieces."

Dr. Bell says that there are great stores of pulpwood, and that the outlook for miners in the country well up Hudson Bay, through Ontario's new hinterland, is splendid. He says further that there are good agricultural lands, and that many things are now grown there, showing the possibilities for agriculture.

Dr. Bell first visited the points on Hudson Bay in 1875, and two years later he traversed 700 miles of the east coast of the bay. In the intervening period he has many times gone over the country and through the waters of the bay and the straits.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

THE H.B. CO'S BIRTHDAY

MAY 13TH WAS THE 242ND. ANNIVERSARY OF CHARTER.

Great Trading Company, Which Has Played So Notable a Part In the History of Canada, Was Born In the Reign of Charles II., But Did Not Become Really Extensive Until Early In the Last Century.

A short time ago an interesting anniversary passed almost unnoticed, for it was on May 13, 1670, that King Charles II. granted to his cousin, Prince Rupert, the dashing young cavalry leader at the time of the Great Rebellion, and seventeen other gentlemen, the charter under which the famous Hudson Bay Co. has conducted its widespread operations for nearly two centuries and a half, says The Standard of Empire. Second only to the great East India Company in the list of large trading corporations of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries, the development of the two companies could hardly have been more diverse. In one respect they shared a similar source of annoyance. Both suffered severely at times from the almost ceaseless strife between England and France, and both gained their immunity from French attack in the second half of the eighteenth century. But while the East India Company was formed to trade in a densely populated tropical country, already highly civilized, and with well-established industries and commerce, its Canadian contemporary busied itself with an unknown wilderness, very sparsely inhabited, and subject to a severe winter climate, while industries and commerce were entirely lacking. The East India Company is defunct, weighed down by a burden of government too heavy for any private corporation to have borne, but the Hudson Bay Company is still in vigorous activity as regards its trading operations, though it has been shorn of the governmental incubus which eventually ended the life of the Indian corporation.

In the days when the royal charter was granted to "The Governor and Company of Adventurers of England trading into Hudson Bay," the vast territory in which the company was permitted to operate was not included under its present name of Canada. The region was christened Rupert's Land, after the first governor of the company, and this designation is still perpetuated in the style and title of the Canadian Primate — the Archbishop of Rupert's Land.

The wording of the original charter conferred on the company "the sole trade and commerce of all those seas, straits, bays, rivers, lakes, creeks and sounds, in whatsoever latitude they shall be, that lie within the entrance of the straits commonly called Hudson Straits, together with all the lands and territories upon the countries, coasts, and confines of the seas, bays, etc., aforesaid, that are not already actually possessed by or granted to any of our subjects, or possessed by the subjects of any other Christian Prince or State."

The first posts established by the company under the terms of this charter, which deeded an empire in itself to Prince Rupert and his associates, were located at the mouth of the Churchill and Hayes rivers and on the shore of James Bay. Of recent years Fort Churchill has been much in the public eye as the possible terminus of the Hudson Bay Railway, and the site of a port whence a large portion of the grain grown in western Canada will be transported to the markets of Europe. In view of the discussion that has taken place as to the feasibility of the navigation of Hudson Straits, it is interesting to note that this was for many years the only outlet for the Hudson Bay Company's produce, the St. Lawrence route being then in alien and hostile hands. Yet these little trading vessels which regularly penetrated to Hudson Bay posts were the veriest cockleshells by comparison with even the most battered cargo tramp of the present age.

As late as 1749 the company's operations were on a very small scale. In that year it had four or five trading posts on the shores of the bay from which it takes its name, and its regular employes numbered only some 120. In fact, an attempt was made in Parliament to cancel the charter, on the ground that the company was a "non-user." The real development of the company's territory did not begin until the cession of Canada to Great Britain in 1763. Soon afterwards a rival concern, the Northwest Fur Company, of Montreal, came into existence, and a fierce contest between the two corporations ensued, only ending with their amalgamtion in 1821. From then until confederation the Hudson Bay Company continued to exercise full jurisdiction over its far-flung possessions. In 1869 the Deed of Surrender was completed, in terms of which the company yielded to the Dominion Government all its rights of government and other privileges, subject to certain conditions and the payment by the Canadian Government of $1,500,000. The company retained its posts and stations, and the right to claim one-twentieth of the land contained in the tract known as the "Fertile Belt," lying between the United States boundary, the Rocky Mountains, the northern branch of the Saskatchewan river, and Lake Winnipeg and the Lake of the Woods.

PUBLIC DOCUMENTS.

Easiest and Cheapest Way to Procure Government Publications.

No doubt most people interested in useful reading matter will thank us for information, obtained through official sources, as to how public documents can be procured with least trouble and at trifling expense.

The idea that prevails most generally—that this class of literature may be secured through the courtesy of members of congress—is correct only in so slight a degree that it had best be corrected. There are nearly 600 senators and representatives; hence an edition of several thousand copies, if distributed pro rata, gives to each only a few copies. Some of these the senator or representative needs for reference, the few left over are soon exhausted, and these constituents who then write for them are necessarily disappointed, through no fault of the public man whom they have addressed.

Now, as a general proposition, the reader who is interested in a government publication will serve himself best by addressing the official known as the superintendent of documents, government printing office, Washington, who is authorised to have reprinted any government publication for which there is a demand, and sell the same at cost to all applicants. He will mail price lists, divided by subjects, free upon application, and remittance can then, as required by law authorising such sales, accompany the order.—San Francisco Chronicle.

BIRTH OF A WING.

Evolution of the Dragon Fly From Its Ugly Aquatic Pupa.

A wonderful spectacle is presented by the sudden apparition of an insect's wing at the completion of its metamorphosis. The transformation of the grub into the butterfly, though familiar, is none the less amazing, but the evolution of the active and gossamer winged dragon fly from its ugly and sluggish aquatic pupa is still more impressive.

Early on a May morning the pupa emerges from its cocoon at the bottom of a ditch, swims on its back by paddling with its long haired paws to the stem of an aquatic plant and climbs up out of the water. Then, after a momentary pause, the skin suddenly bursts open, and the perfect insect appears with closely folded wings, which soon unfold and assume their final form.

The older naturalists believed that the insect "swallowed air," with which the wings were inflated. In reality the air is absorbed in the digestive organs, causing an increased blood pressure, which mechanically expands the wings. The presence of dew is also necessary; hence the first flight is always made at dawn.

This spectacle of the birth of a wing may be observed in dragon flies reared in an aquarium, the atmosphere of which should be moistened with an atomizer when the pupa rises to the surface.—Scientific American.

Fishes and Memory.

The fact that fishes will return time after time to bite at the hook by which they have been caught is often cited as proof that fish have no memories. But Yves Delage, the great French biologist, has been making some expriments which seem to prove the contrary. He says that fish return to the hook because their greediness is greater than the influence of their memory. If you place a bright red disk upon a hook the fishes will cease to take it after being caught seven or eight times. If you change the color of the disk the fish will return indefinitely. The red disk made an impression on the fish's memory—slowly, it is true—and when it recognized the danger signal it avoided it.—New York World.

Repartee.

At a dinner party at which several distinguished medical men, including Sir William Gull, were present the conversation happened to turn upon the subject of quackery, and Sir William expressed his conviction that a certain amount of it was essential to success in practice, adding, "It is an example of the old saying, 'Populus vult decipi'—'people like to be deceived.'" "Quite so," said the host. "Now, can any one present give an English equivalent to that?" "Nothing easier," remarked a well known Manchester physician. "The public likes to be gulled."—London Mail.

The Social Weaver.

Perhaps the most curious nesting habit is that of a certain species of weaving bird to be found in Africa called the social weaver. A number of these begin clubbing together and build immense grass canopies, like umbrellas, on the tops of trees, weaving the grass so closely together that it acts as a rainproof roof. Under this shelter each pair of birds build their own nest and thus form happy little colonies.—London Tit-Bits.

Her Ultimatum.

"My dear, would you have time to sew a button on for me before you go?"

"I've told you before, Alfred, Jane will do it for you. Please remember you married a typewriter, not a sewing machine."—San Francisco Chronicle.

Chief Ingredients.

The self made man has hardly ever neglected to begin by laying in a large supply of self esteem.—Chicago Record-Herald.

A stout heart may be ruined in fortune, but not in spirit.—Victor Hugo.

Remarkable Conduct of the Duke.

Toronto daily papers gave their readers some amazing information about H.R.H the Duke of Connaught during his recent stay in the Queen City.

The Telegram related how he swung his umbrella "much like persons of more common clay."

The Star described how H.R.H walked down Avenue Road in the rain. Also, like a wise man, he wore rubbers.

The News asserts emphatically that the duke rises before breakfast every morning, and sometimes takes a walk after breakfast.

Other papers had equally startling announcements. It would really seem that the duke is human after all.

PUNISHED THE SHREW.

Story of the Vixen's Head That Decorates a House in Berlin.

In Berlin, as a tourist turns into the Heiligengeist, not far from the kaiser's palace, he will see, fixed in a niche in the second story of the house No. 88, a bust carved in stone. This is called the "Neidkopf." It represents a hideous, harpy faced woman, with snakelike curls of hair and tongue sticking out in mocking derision. This is the story of its origin and purpose:

One day almost 200 years ago Frederick William of Prussia, "Old Fritz," was walking about the streets of his city in the shabby, free and easy way he loved, looking about for some grievance to redress or some load to lighten, which was an agreeable habit of this plain living king. Looking in at a window, he was struck by the intent industry of a humpbacked goldsmith, and so the king entered the little shop for a chat. The result of this interview was an order for a gold table service for the royal household, which made the fortune of the hunchback. Later the king made other visits to see how the work was progressing and on one of these occasions noticed a woman in the window of the opposite house, making the most hideous grimaces and pointing a derisive finger at the little cripple.

"What is the matter with the shrew over there?" asked Frederick William.

"It is envy, your majesty," exclaimed the goldsmith. "She is the wife of a rival goldsmith, and ever since your majesty gave me this order she and her daughter have not ceased to mock and deride me."

Frederick William, paternal in punishment as well as in reward, at once made inquiries as to the ownership of the house wherein this shrew lived. He found that it belonged to her husband, and therefore reasoned that there was little likelihood of the family moving. This seemed to please him. He next enlisted the services of a sculptor and ordered him to make the bust of a woman with the most shrewish, Xantippe like face he could imagine. The king then bought and renovated the house in which the hunchback had his workshop, presented it to him and caused the bust to be placed conspicuously above the workroom window. Thus whenever the envious woman across the street looked forth from her casement the first thing on which her eyes fell was this intended portrait of her amiable self.

For more than 100 years the "Neidkopf," "spiteful vixen head," as one would say in English, stood in proud prominence, a reproach to the envious Frau Goldschmied and her descendants. It afterward mysteriously disappeared, but in 1840 or thereabouts it was found again in a forgotten collection of bric-a-brac. Frederick William IV. bought the bust for a very large price and had it replaced in its original niche, where it stands today. —New York Press.

Chateaubriand's Tragedy.

Writing on M. Chateaubriand in the Paris Temps, Jules Claretie recalls the story of the first performance of the great author's tragedy "Moise." Unable to secure its production in Paris, he had it staged at Versailles. Too nervous to be present in the house on the occasion, he sent his valet with orders to return and report as to the reception of the piece. The servant duly arrived.

"Well?" asked Chateaubriand.

"Ah, M. le Vicomte, I amused myself. I spent a most delightful evening."

"It was a success, then?"

"A success, M. le Vicomte? Of course it was a success. It was an immense success. The audience never stopped laughing from the beginning to the end of it."

Enigma of Gravitation.

Gravitation is one of nature's enigmas. The great Newton himself did not pretend to know what gravitation is. He only knew that it existed, and he was able to prove how it acted, but what it was in and of itself he never knew. Gravitation is a law of nature or a force acting in accordance with a law of nature, and that is all that the wisest man is able to say about it—unless he is prepared to talk nonsense. It is like electricity. We know perfectly well what electricity does, but what electricity itself is baffles the profoundest of scientists and philosophers.—New York American.

Merely a Suggestion.

The second hand dealer looked the car over carefully and then made his offer.

"I'll take the machinery of the motor," he said, "but I don't want the rest of it."

"But," said Wiggins, "what'll I do with my body?"

"Your body?" said the dealer, "why, I don't know. You ought to consult an undertaker about that."—Harper's Weekly.

Up to Date.

"They're very up to date."

"That so?"

"Yes. Her daughter is to be married soon, and she has sent out invitations that read this way: 'Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wattersby Brown request your presence at the first wedding of their daughter Jane.'"—Detroit Free Press.

Good Advice.

Never suffer your courage to expend itself in fierceness, your resolution in obstinacy, your wisdom in cunning nor your patience in sullenness and despair.

Our bravest lessons are not learned through success, but misadventure.—Alcott.

PRESERVING THE BISON.

Nearly a Thousand Head In the Wainwright Park.

There are now 980 bison in the national preserve at Wainwright, Alberta, and the number is increasing rapidly. Last year 170 calves were born in the herd, and it is expected that this year the natural increase will be about 280. Mr. Ellis, who has charge of the park at Wainwright, has stated in the course of an interview that it is not probable that many more of the animals will be brought up from the Flathead range in Montana. There may be twenty or thirty brought up this summer, but it is not likely that the men who are engaged in rounding up the herd will be successful in catching more than this number.

Mr. Ellis states that a profitable industry might be evolved from the bison farm because of the value of the heads and hides. The old cows and bulls might be killed off each year for their hides. The cost of feeding the animals is very small. During the summer they are out on the range, and even in the winter they are able to graze and obtain sufficient nourishment to keep them in good condition. Last winter only 600 tons of hay have been required. This hay is grown on the farm in connection with the range, and about 1,200 tons of hay were put up last year, so that 600 will be carried over this year.

The range is one hundred thousand acres in extent, and the bison roam this tract during the summer, but in the winter they are confined to the winter quarters, which are about twelve square miles in extent. The animals browse on this tract, and their feed is carried out to them on hay racks. Mr. Ellis says that some of the cows are becoming very fierce, and it will be necessary to shoot them in all probability. They have charged the herders several times, and there have been a number of narrow escapes. None of the animals have charged the teams on the hay racks as yet, but it is feared that they will do so some day. The bulls, however, seem to be much more quiet than the cows, as they have not given any trouble as yet.

There is a large herd of bison in the country north of Fort Chipewyan, and it is probable that some of these animals will be brought down to Wainwright to put new blood into the herd there.

There are a number of moose, elk, antelope, and deer at the range now, it being the Government's intention to use this place as a stock farm. Animals which are native to this country will be bred there and used to stock the parks all over the Dominion.—Standard of Empire.

Child Emigrants.

Speaking at a meeting held at the Mansion House in connection with the child emigration work of the Salvation Army, Earl Grey said a greater kindness could not be done to the state-aided children in England than by removing them from the Poor Law conditions of this country to the freer, more wholesome life in Canada or any of the Overseas Dominions.

People in this country could hardly realise how large was the number of good homes in which people were longing for the entrance of an imported child. Last year the number of children imported into Canada was 2,422, and the number of applications for children for whose care the state was responsible was over 18,000—eight applications for every child.

There was not the slightest difficulty in securing for the imported child the certainty of a good home in Canada. If the demands of the Canadian homes that required children were met in two years this country would save a million of money on its rate-aided children. That would help the rates, would help Canada, and would help the Empire, but that threefold assistance would be nothing compared with the good it would do the children.

Ontario Beavers Valuable.

The recent sale of furs at the Parliament Buildings realized $8,384.66 for the province. The pelts are taken from animals trapped in Algonquin Park under the direction of the Minister of Lands, Forests and Mines. There were 480 beaver skins, which were caught under special order, and realized $4,090.50, 80 mink, 5 fisher, 11 marten, 71 muskrat, 12 otter, 6 ermine. In addition, twenty-three pounds of castoreum were sold. This is a secretion found in the beaver, and is used in making perfumes and for medicinal purposes. The bidding was keen, and buyers came all the way from New York.

The revenues of Algonquin Park have also been augmented during the past year by the sale of live beavers to several zoological societies. Animals have been shipped to London, England, and other cities.

Must Build Bigger Sheds.

The increase of freight traffic on the Canadian Pacific Railway at Fort William has made expansion necessary, and work is now progressing rapidly on the huge new freight shed, situated on the Kaministiqua River. This great freight shed, the dimensions of which are 1,000 feet by 60 feet, will be the finest of its kind on the Canadian side of the Great Lakes. The building is a two-storey one, with all the most modern and up-to-date conveniences. Boats docking alongside will be loaded, or unloaded as the case may be, by machinery. Package freight will invariably be consigned to this new shed, which, it is expected, will be in readiness soon.

Diamonds Now.

Diamonds in Ungava is now the word and diamond rumors which have been floating about northern mining camps for some months now begin to take tangible shape. The other morning a prospecting party passed through North Bay en route to Ungava, where one of the party is said to have previously uncovered rich diamond deposits and brought out samples of genuine sparklers.

Some reasons why Oakdale Park offers a gilt-edged investment:

"It has the best car service of any restricted residence district either inside or outside the city.

"Its proximity to Winnipeg's largest and most beautiful city park.

WINNIPEG PROPERTY

Has made FORTUNES for SMALL INVESTORS, and there is More Money being made TODAY than ever before in the History of the CITY.

Why you should buy in Oakdale Park:

Because: "It is the centre of a 500 acre restricted residential area.

Because: "It is farther from the smoke, dust and noise of railways than any Residence District inside or outside of the City, and with better car service."

Western Canada is the World's Attraction

The United States cannot keep people from realizing the GREATEST OPPORTUNITY ever offered, to secure Independent fortunes, by locating Homes in Western Canada. WINNIPEG is growing by leaps and bounds—A SUBSTANTIAL, PERMANENT GROWTH. VACANT HOUSES ARE UNKNOWN and yet Building is more active than ever.

The history of Crescentwood will be repeated in Oakdale. Where in the former 5 or 6 years ago lots were sold at $15 to $25 per foot, with the same building restrictions as Oakdale Park has to-day, and now $80 to $150 per foot is being paid in Crescentwood and residences to the value of $10,000 to $100,000 are being erected. History will repeat this in Pakdale, but in less time, as it has better Electric Car Service now.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH WEST LAND REGULATIONS.

ANY PERSON who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years old, may homestead a quarter section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. The applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for the district. Entry by proxy may be made at any agency, on certain conditions by father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of intending homesteader.

Duties—Six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within nine miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres solely owned and occupied by him or by his father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister.

In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt a quarter section alongside his homestead. Price $3.00 per acre. Duties—Must reside upon the homestead or pre-emption, six months in each of six years from date of homestead entry (including time required to earn homestead patent) and cultivate 50 acres extra.

A homesteader who has exhausted his homestead right and cannot obtain a pre-emption may enter for a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $3.00 per acre. Duties—Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate fifty acres and erect house worth $300.00.

The many friends of Miss Lavina Hallihan, who is pursuing a musical course in London, Eng., will be interested to learn from a London publication that Miss Hallihan was one of the eight young ladies in the Canadian stall in connection with the Country Fair held in the Royal Botanical Gardens, in aid of Our Dumb Friends' League (a society for the encouragement of kindness to animals). The Fair had as patrons Queen Alexandra, and the Lord Mayor, and the leading men and women of London.

The latest despatch from the scene of the disastrous cyclone, say that Miss Etta Guthrie, formerly of this city, was killed while asleep, the Guthrie home being obliterated by the storm.

No elk have been seen in central Missouri since 1836. Prior to that time they were reasonably plenty. They were attracted by the prevalence of the salt licks. Nathaniel Walker, or "Uncle Natty," as he was familiarly called, a famous pioneer hunter, claims to have counted fifty elk in a drove on the knoll near the present Saline county courthouse. The bear disappeared about the year 1840, though occasionally animals of the bear tribe were afterward seen. Old time Democrats said that the Whigs scared the bear, deer, elk and almost every other kind of game out of the country in 1840 by their yelling, anvil firing and torchlight parades in honor of General Benjamin Harrison, their successful candidate for president.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Fire Insurance Policies.

There are not many real estate brokers who know how to write a fire insurance policy. Many, however, think they are experts about such matters until a client of theirs learns after his property has been damaged by fire that he was only partly insured. "If buildings are to be insured," says R. O. Haubold, "care should be taken to issue the policy in the name of the persons in whom title is vested; that provision is made that should the building stand upon ground held in any other way than fee simple the policy will not be voided by that fact. If the premises be or become vacant for a period of more than ten days the contingency must be met."—New York Tribune.

Old Glory.

I have seen the glories of art and architecture and of river and mountain. I have seen the sunset on the Jungfrau and the moon rise over Mont Blanc. But the fairest vision on which these eyes ever rested was the flag of my country in a foreign port. Beautiful as a flower to those who love it, terrible as a meteor to those who hate it, it is the symbol of the power and the glory and the honor of fifty millions of Americans.—George F. Hoar.

A Sigh From the Author.

"Proofreading is Greek to me, even after having several books published," Miss Alice Louise Lee recently wrote to her publishers. "But what worries me is this psychological question. Will my corrections be as unintelligible to the printer as all his marks are to me? It seems to me very confusing. In the face of proofreading I feel like the farmer who before the rhinoceros' cage declared, 'There ain't no such beast!'"

Modern Beauty.

A young man the other day said to his best girl:

"I visited that fashionable palmist this afternoon, and he told me I'd marry a blond."

The girl, who was very dark, said thoughtfully:

"Did he say when the marriage would take place?"

"Yes; in three months."

"Well, I can easily be a blond by that time, dear," said the girl with a shy smile.

Fish Surgery.

Although the fish doctor probably finds less demand for his services than the practitioner of any other branch of the medical profession, his duties are of a most important character, and his knowledge of the diseases and biology of the fish must be profound. Fish surgery is one of the least known of the various departments of surgical work. It requires a most delicate handling of instruments and a minute knowledge of the anatomy of the fish.

Two of a Kind.

"How did you ever come to marry, old man? Thought you'd determined to stay single?"

"I had, but I was introduced one day to a girl who had determined never to marry, and our thoughts seemed to harmonise so completely that—well, we married each other."

So Much For Mamma.

Papa—I hear you were a bad girl to-day and had to be whipped.

Small Daughter—Mamma is awful strict. If I'd 'a' known she used to be a schoolteacher I'd 'a' told you not to marry her.

Miles of Films.

On the average of about 150,000 feet of film are placed on the British market every week, and this quantity is steadily increasing. It is computed that there are same 50,000 picture theatres scattered throughout the world, and as the number thereof is increasing daily, the supply of films has by no means yet reached the limits of the demand.

England's Coal Trade.

England produces in a normal year, 230 million tons of coal; it exported 64 million tons last year and imported only the trifle of 20,000 tons. Therefore its whole manufacturing industry, and its foreign trade to the extent of 182 1-2 million dollars a year, are dependent on the coal trade.

Heredity.

"Oh, hubby, dear, what do you think are the first words our baby will say?" gurgled Mrs. Matron.

"Well, if she takes after you they will probably be, 'This is a nice time to come home,'" said the brute.

A Remodeled Text.

"Perhaps you could preach us a sermon about the condition of things in our town," says the resident pastor to the visiting one. "Saloons, gambling houses and the like run wide open all the time, and the officers pay no attention to them."

"Yes," agrees the visitor; "I might take as my text, 'There's no arrest for the wicked.'"—Judge.

Grace Before Meat.

The Zulu admires a woman according to her weight. The Zulu can respect a 200 pound woman, but it is only a 300 or 400 pound one that he can really love. We enlightened persons, on the other hand, have been taught to like grace before meat.—Exchange.

A Thoughtful Sentry.

When the sergeant of the guard came round on his visits the green sentry was nowhere to be seen. The sergeant was about to depart to make inquiries when there came a rustling noise from a heap of straw, and the sentry stood before him minus his boots and looking very sleepy. "Hello!" cried the sergeant. "Where were you when I came round just now?" "Marching round," was the sentry's reply, giving in tones of conscious virtue. "Marching round, were you? Why, you've got your boots off." "Yes, sergeant, I took 'em off so's I should not wake the 'osses."

Uncle Dan's Big Feet.

One of the prominent figures in the Canadian Senate is the Hon. Daniel Derbyshire, who stands over six feet and is broad in proportion. He has a buoyant manner and his interruptions when a member of the House of Commons and in committee created a great deal of mirth. Sir Wilfrid christened him "Uncle Dan," and the name stuck. As "Uncle Dan" he was introduced to Lord Roberts at the Tercentenary at Quebec, and Sir Wilfrid could not repress a smile when he saw Uncle Dan, with his six feet six, and Bobs, the diminutive hero of Kandahar and Pretoria, walking together.

Everyone acquainted with "Uncle Dan" knows that he is celebrated for his glad hand, cheery smile, large heart, and his big "understanding." Relating to this last, a good story is told of his earlier days. He was visiting cheese factories at Lyn, and meeting in with a friend, the latter accompanied him to the station. They reached the depot before the train was due, and filled in the time walking up and down oblivious to the curious glances of two Americans on the platform.

This tale relates to the days when boots were made with extension of grass edges, and Mr. Derbyshire, who has a large foot, wore a pair of these, which were apparently size nineteen.

As soon as Mr. Derbyshire left the station, the Americans approached the friend and inquired if the big gentleman lived across the St. Lawrence. "No," he answered. "Why?" They replied that they were sure he lived across the river, and that he had on a pair of scows to ferry him across.—Star Weekly.

Bachelor Parsons.

The young unmarried minister is the most carefully watched bachelor of them all. He has to guard his every move, or some one will start a story that he has at last fallen in love, or is engaged to marry some girl or other. He is also the victim of his friends' practical jokes, and sometimes he is his own victim. Last Sunday morning Rev. W. A. Cameron of Bloor Street Baptist Church was responsible for a laugh on himself when he announced hymn No. 44 in the Baptist hymnal, and began to read it to the congregation. He got as far as the middle of the third verse, when he suddenly stopped, his face went crimson, and with more than usual vehemence he again announced "Hymn 44," while the whole audience smiled. The verse at which he balked reads thus:

"For the protected gift of life,
For reason; for home's sheltering bower,
For the strong love of child and wife,
We praise Thy power."

Parliamentary Wits.

There are some promising recruits to the select circle of humorists on both sides of the House of Commons. B. R. Hepburn, of Picton, who redeemed the county of Prince Edward for the Conservatives, came within an ace of breaking up the solemn proceedings attending the summoning of the Commons to the Senate Chamber for prorogation recently. Major Chambers, he of the Black Rod, knee breeches, silk stockings, and exquisite bows, had performed his duty in resonant English and faultless French, and Col. Harry Smith, with his gold chain of office, clanking sword, and glittering medals, swung the heavy mace to his shoulder. Hepburn was watching the time-honored ceremony with the curiosity of a new member, and just as the Sergeant-at-Arms shouldered the emblem of authority, he yelled out "Carried." Even Dr. Sproule—in a few moments to face royalty as the representative of the free and equal Commoners—could not refrain from smiling.—Saturday Night.

Division Court To-day.

The July sittings of the Division Court will be held to-day. His Honor Judge Huycke will preside. The list of cases to come up for hearing is light and will in all probability be concluded to-day.

Charged With Burglary.

Two young men were in the police court yesterday, charged with breaking into the store of Mr. J. C. Sullivan, East City, and stealing eleven bottles of gin. One of the young men pleaded not guilty and the other confessed. Both were remanded until Tuesday next.

NasalDischarge Proves Catarrh is Active.

THE PURE BALSAMIC ESSENCES OF CATARRHOZONE AFFORD SUREST AND QUICKEST CURE.

Catarrhozone is certain to cure because its healing vapor is carried with the breath directly to the seat of the chest, nose or throat trouble. Being composed of the purest balsams and pine essences, it immediately allays irritations, facilitates the ejection of mucus, soothes and stimulates the lungs and bronchial tubes. The marvel of the age in curing winter ills—that's what thousands say about Catarrhozone. There is nothing so sure to cure, and to those in fear o. changeable weather—those who easily catch cold—those who work among lung-chilling surroundings, or where dust, impure air, fog or damp can affect them —let them get Catarrhozone and use it several times daily—it will cure every time.

BAD CASE CURED IN TWO DAYS.

"I was unfortunate enough to catch a bad cold from sitting in a draught in my bare head" writes Miss Nora E. Jemieson, well known in Sangre Grande, Td. "An acute condition of catarrh developed in my nostrils and for three days my eyes and nose ran most copiously. The usual remedies entirely failed to relieve. I read in The Mirror newspaper about Catarrhozone and sent to Smith Bros. drug store for a dollar outfit. In two days Catarrhozone cleared out my nostrils cured the sneezing, coughing, and all traces of catarrh."

Improving Victoria Park.

The working of water-tabling the main roadways through Victoria Park is progressing and will soon be completed. This will be a great advantage, the cement gullies affording means for the water to escape.

Yesterday's Electric Storm.

Yesterday's electric storm was severe while it lasted. Lightning struck a house on the river road near Lakefield, and also fractured a chimney on Antrim street, little damage being none in either case. Lightning struck the power line of the Peterborough Radial Railway jo. and tied up the service for several minutes.

Police Force Paralysed.

Havelock Standard: Chief Seeney commenced the collection of the dog taxes on Friday last, and he met with so much discouragement that he resorted to the flowing bowl to drown his sorrow. In consequence he lost his job as municipal officer for the village.

The Cressman Picnic.

The fifth annual picnic of the employees of Cressman's took place yesterday afternoon to Highland's Park, per steamer Geneva. Notwithstanding the rain there was a large attendance, and pleasant time was spent. The committee in charge of the function are to be congratulated on the success which attended their efforts.

Italian Dismissed.

A young Italian fruit dealer appeared in the police court yesterday afternoon charged with attempting to procure and influence a girl for immoral purposes. Considerable correspondence, which was alleged to have passed between the parties concerned was produced by the prosecution, but Magistrate Dumble ruled that no criminal offence was proven and the case was dismissed.

Purchased Fine Launch.

Hastings Star: Messrs. Frank and Fred Linton, the former of Peterborough and the latter of Campbellford, unloaded a very handsome launch here last Thursday and will use her at Trent Bridge. She is 25 feet long and is driven by a four cylinder, 20 h.p. Sterling motor, and is also electric lighted. She will make most of the craft here on the river go some.

57th Regiment Deserves All Credit.

The success of the Dominion Day celebration is due almost entirely to the officers and men of the 7th Regiment. In an article in yesterday's Times this fact was overlooked. While the Board of Trade approved and supported the efforts of the celebration Committee, the regiment practically did the rest, for which they deserve the greatest praise.

Local Talent Abroad.

Norwood Register A grand concert under the auspices of Christ Church, will be given in the town hall on the evening of the 12th July. The management have secured the services of Mr. Jack Howard character comedian and monologist, of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Devey, in operatic duet; Mrs. Davidson, vocalist; and Miss Hill, elocutionist, of Peterborough. Admission 25c, reserved seats 35c. Plan of the hall at Thompson's drug store.

Campbellford Power Question.

Hastings Star: The water power question in Campbellford has been settled by the Government agreeing to pay the full cost of installation necessary for the change from water to electric power. The Seymour Power Co. is offering to supply power free for the water privileges at Ranney Dalls, and it is likely they will furnish the power for the industries concerned in the deal.

Brakeman Severely Injured.

Lindsay Post A very distressing accident befell Mr. William Huffman, a brakeman on the G.T.R., which resulted in the victim receiving injuries that necessitated the amputation of his leg. The accident occurred at Port Hope, on Sunday morning, about 8 o'clock, and was occasioned by the train to which Huffman was attached, was backing down upon him while on his way to the switch. Another train was passing at the time and it was thought that the victim of the accident became confused, and in order to avoid being struck by the oncoming train, stepped back directly in the path of his own train, which was backing toward the switch at the time. He was knocked down and when rescued from his precarious position was on the verge of collapse, having sustained serious injuries about the head and back in addition to having the left leg all but severed from the body.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

Mrs. Geo. E. Chandler, accompanied by her son, Victor, left yesterday for a visit to Chatham.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Jardine, 509 King street, are spending their holidays at their old home in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Miss Mae Weir, of Kingston, is visiting in the city, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Roy F. C. Laing, Dalhousie street.

Misses Mamie and Aileen Sullivan have gone to Toronto, Hamilton and St. Catharines, where they will spend the summer.

Mr. Joe Reesor, of Markham, Ont. has been the guest of Mr. Arthur Lewis, of Aylmer street, for the past few days.

Mrs. Jas. Grey's many friends will be pleased to learn that she is doing nicely after undergoing a serious operation for appendicitis.

Mr. W. H. McIntosh, who has been visiting at the home of Mr. R. J. G. Sutherland, Water street, left for his home in Hamilton yesterday.

The Times had a pleasant call from Mr. J. C. Brackenridge, of Toronto, who is spending a few days in the city on business.

Mr. E. S. Munroe of the Wilson-Munroe Co., wholesale stationers, Toronto, was in the city yesterday on business. The Times has had many years of pleasant business intercourse with this firm, and cannot speak too highly of them.

Mrs. T. A. Simpson, Lakefield, announces the marriage of her daughter, Florence May, to Warren V. Nicholls of Peterborough. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. A. Ben Oliel, in St. John's church, Lakefield, on Saturday, June 29th.

LITTLE LOCAL LINES

A man named Astor (not one of the N.Y. family, however,) was sent to the Central Prison for six months by Magistrate Dumble at the police court yesterday.

The long vacation common in legal circles has commenced and will continue throughout August. All the law offices in the city will close at 4 p.m. daily, and one o'clock on Thursday.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Thomas O'Connor.

The death occurred on Wednesday morning of Alice Hurley, widow of the late Thomas O'Connor, formerly of Hastings. The deceased lady was born in Asphodel in 1832, and spent her life in the County of Peterborough, where she was well and favorably known. She has resided in Peterborough for the last twenty years, and leaves to mourn her loss one brother, Mr. T. Hurley, of Hunter street, one sister, Mrs. Grant, also of Peterborough, and many nephews and nieces.

The funeral will take place at 9 o'clock this morning, from the residence of her brother, Mr. Hurley, of 282 Hunter street, where requieum high mass will be sung, after which the cortege will proceed to the C.P.R. station. Interment will take place in Norwood.

THE NORTH AMERICAN LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY

Is practically a mutual one, with the protection afforded by a guarantee fund upon which interest is paid While such fund is only $60,000.00, the guarantors are liable for five times this amount; so that the position admirably reflects the best points of stock and mutual companies. The Directorate is composed of both policy holders and guarantors, who are equally interested in its management. Home Office, Toronto.

BIRTHS.

COMSTOCK—On Saturday, June 29 1912, the wife of Wm. Comstock of 211 Sherbrooke street, of a daughter.

DETCHER—At Nicholls Hospital, on Tuesday, July 2, 1912, the wife of Mr. George Detcher, Reid street, of a son, (George Roland).

DEATHS.

ERRETT—At his late residence, 344 Jarvis street, Toronto, on Saturday, June 29th, 1912, Richard W. Errett, formerly of Peterborough, in his 60th year. Funeral took place to Mount Pleasant cemetery on Monday last.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

WEDDING BELLS

Fee—Curtis.

The wedding was quietly solemnized at St. John's church on Wednesday, of Mr. Joseph Fee of Mount Pleasant, and daughter of Mr. David Curtis. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Canon Davidson, rector of St. John's.

MacAfee—Faux.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized in St. Luke's church, East City, yesterday afternoon, when Dr. Robertson MacAfee of Hamilton, was married to Miss Louise Faux, daughter of Mr. Jas. Faux of this city. The happy couple will reside in Hamilton. The Rev. F. J. Sawers performed the ceremony.

Weller—McAndrew.

A quiet wedding took place on Wednesday evening at the parsonage of the Park street Baptist church, when the pastor, Rev. W. C. Riddiford, united in marriage Mr. Thomas Weller and Miss Helen McAndrews, both of Peterborough.

The groom was supported by Mr. Wm. R. Patterson and the bridesmaid was Miss Nellie Goodwin.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Weller will leave shortly to make their new home in the west, at Regina.

WELLAND CANAL.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

SEALED TENDERS, addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tender for Port Colborne Entrance Improvements," will be received at this office until 16 o'clock on Monday, the 8th July, 1912.

Plans, specifications and form of contract to be entered into can be seen on and after this date at the office of the Chief Engineer of the Department of Railways and Canals, Ottawa, and at the office of the Superintending Engineer of the Welland Canal, St. Catharines, Ont., at which places forms of tender may be obtained.

Parties tendering will be required to accept the fair wages schedule prepared by the Department of Labour, which schedule will form part of the contract.

Contractors are requested to bear in mind that tenders will not be considered, unless made strictly in accordance with the printed forms, and in the case of firms, unless there are attached the actual signature, the nature of the occupation, and place of residence of each member of the firm.

An accepted bank cheque for the sum of $20,000 made paybale to the order of the Minister of Railways and Canals must accompany each tender which sum will be forfeited if the party tendering declines entering into contract for the work at the rates stated in the offer submitted

The cheque thus sent in will be returned to the respective contractors whose tenders are not accepted.

The cheque of the successful tenderer will be held as security, or part security, for the due fulfillment of the contract to be entered into.

The lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted.

By order,
L. K. JONES,
Secretary.

MEXICAN REBEL FORCES SCATTERED || End Of Camorrits Trial Near; Has Lasted 554 Days || SERIOUS ROITING IN FRENCH CITIES

A NEW PARISH IN PETERBORO

All Saints Parish Has Been Divided--Rev. J. Price Will Have New Parish

Some tiWe ago the Bishop of Toronto had under consideration the division of All Saints' Parish, on account of the rapid increase in the population of that part of the city. It appears that some local opposition was made, as it was believed that the time was not ripe for such a step. We are now in a position to state that the division has actually been accomplished and the division between All Saints and the new Parish, Lansdowne street. We understand that the Rev. Mr. Grobb has given his consent to this boundary.

The first service in the new parish will be held to-morrow evening at seven o'clock in Mr. Wanley's house, on the corner of Lock and Braidwood streets. It is understood that a gentleman in the city is prepared to give a site for the new church and immediate steps will be taken to raise the necessary funds. St. Marks Otonabee, has been transferred from St. Luke's to the new parish. The Bishop of the diocese has appointed Rev. J. Price, as first rector. He will conduct the service to-morrow evening.

Mr. Price has come recently from England, where he served for some years as a member of the Bishop of Manchester's staff. He was one of the special preachers for that diocese where his services were very much in request.

Mr. Price took the services in St. John's church for two Sundays a short time ago, and the impression amongst the people was that he would be a decided acquisition to the preaching powers of the English church of this city.

REBEL FORCES ARE SCATTERED

Guerilla Warfare Threatens To Devastate Northwestern Mexico

MANY BRIDGES DESTROYED

Roving Bands of Outlaws Hope to Embarrass the Government.

El Paso, Texas, July 5.—Organized revolution in Mexico, in-so-far as it simulated a military campaign of concentrated forces was by to'day's movement of the rebel army shown to have ended, and in its place there was substituted a guerilla warfare, threatening widespread devastation in Northwestern Mexico.

Five troop trains bore the retreating insurrectos from the vicinity of Chihuahua City to Juarez, opposite here and before the day was over it was expected that most of the rebels would be sent southwest from Juarez, a distance of 76 miles to Casas Grandes, from which point it was intended to effect an entrance to the rich mining State of Sonora.

Destroyed Bridges.

Having abandoned Chihuahua to the Federals, the rebels destroyed all bridges between Machimba, where the last battle occurred, and Sauez, 30 miles north of Chihuahua, the small station at which the rebels outposts now are gathered. The evacuation of Chihuahua means that the zone of rebel control will be greatly diminished, Jaurez being the only important point that remains.

Gen. Pascual Orozco, the rebel chie', spent the night at Sauez, but was expected in Jaurez to-day to direct the movements of various bands into which the rebel army is now disintegrating. Jaurez at present is the rebel capital, train loads of archives having been sent there within the last three days.

AVIATORS KILLED

Salisbury Plain, Eng., July 5.—Captain E. B. Loraine and Sergt-Major Wilson of the Army Flying Corps, were killed this morning while flying over the great military encampment here. They were taking their usual early morning practice and the aeroplane had reached a height of 400 feet, when the machine lost its balance, turned over and fell with a crash to the roadway.

Sergt-Major Wilson was killed instantly, but Captain Loraine lived a short time, although he was unconscious when picked up.

WARM RECEPTION FOR PREMRIE BORDEN BY BRISTOL CITIZENS

Bristol Turned Out In Large Numbers To Meet Mr. Borden--Canadian Premier Waved Acknowledgement of the Lord Mayer's Salute From Deck

Bristol, July 5.—Premier Borden's arrival here was made the occasion of a remarkable display of enthusiasm by hundreds pressing against the barriers and cheering and waving handkerchiefs. Mr. Borden, standing on the upper deck, waved his hand in acknowledgement of the salute of Lord Mayor Sir A. Wills, who was on the quay.

Speeches of welcome were delivered and Mr. Borden made a reply in carefully measured tones, impressive for the feeling way in which he more than once used the phrase "Mother Land." He said it had been very truly said here to-day that besides ties of kinship and allegiance which bind together this Mother Land and the great Dominion across the seas, also there is to be considered the ties which are certainly not to be neglected.

"I trust we have in the past given and we may in future give every possible evidence of our desire to make not only the ties of commercial interests, stronger. I may venture to say to-day, though really it does not require utterance by any of my colleagues or myself, the ties of allegiance which bind together the Mother Land and the Dominion are stronger, I believe, to-day than ever before."

SERIOUS RIOTS IN MANY CITIES

Striking Dockers Attack Police--Led By Women Wearing Red Sashes

Havre, France, July 5.—The strike of seamen and dock laborers which is spreading rapidly throughout France was accompanied late last evening by serious rioting here. A number of strikers took possession of a local steamer and when expelled and driven off by the police gathered at the docks and met the police and a detachment of infantry which had been called to support them with showers of stones and bricks and other missiles.

Many of the soldiers and police were injured by bricks hurled from windows of houses in adjacent streets.

The strikers were finally forced to retire, but retreated slowly, erecting barricades consisting of wagons and furniture on many of the streets. They broke all the windows in the two principal police stations of the city.

Among the ring leaders of the strikers were several excited women wearing flaming red sashes.

Military reinforcements arrived here this morning from Rouen.

Strikers Fight With Police.

Bordeaux, July 5.—The strike of the dockers here in sympathy with the seamen of other ports has been only partially effective. A serious fight occurred to-day between strik- [illegible] the steamship Magellan from South America. Several policemen were hurt.

American Dockers Claim Victory.

New York, July 5.—Although the steamship companies declare that their vessels are arriving and leaving without unusual delay, Secretary James Vidal, of the National Transport Workers' Federation, is optimistic over the progress of the seamen's strike and prophesies a general tie-up of marine transportation within the next two days.

INDIAN MAIDEN SPREADS TERROR AMONG HER TRIBE

Prescott, July 5.—Tense excitement prevails at the little Indian village of St. Regis, where the people are living in terror of Lola Razor, a natice girl of 15, who is believed to possess an evil eye. To her powers of witchery are already attributed the madness of a dog and the death of live stock.

The Indians declare that Lola is a "Black Witch" and that wherever she appears, children get sick, dogs go mad, animals die, and the lives of the residents made hideous. The medicine men have been unable to dispose of the evil spirit. The squaws tell their children to shun the "witch" girl and warnings have been given out not to let her shadow fall on any member of the tribe or on their horses, cattle or dogs.

The chiefs decided in council that the girl must leave the tribe at once and she has gone to Luzerne Mountain, where an uncle is engaged in basket making. Lola is described as a bright, pretty girl, who cherishes an ambition to become a teacher to her tribe. It is believed that a few clever tricks performed by her at a school entertainment— gave rise to the idea that she is in league with the evil spirits.

END OF CAMORRIST TRIAL NEAR; HAS LASTED 554 DAYS

Viterbo, Fuly 5.—The trial of the Camorrists is approaching an end. Aldo Vecchini, counsel for Enrico Alfano, the alleged head of the organization, who was the last of the lawyers to address the court, said he would never have taken up the defence of Alfano if he had not been convinced absolutely that he was innocent.

Friday and Saturday would be devoted to the summing up by the President and it is expected that a verdict will be reached Sunday night. Thus the trial will have lasted 554 days, of which 136 were taken up by the harangues of the lawyers. During the trial of the case three of the accused and seventeen witnesses have died.

The minutes of the sittings cover 9,217 pages. The clerk of the court sent out 1,623 telegrams, 627 by order of the President, besides two volumes of letters.

NO "STATE" CHURCH HERE.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—Will you please let your readers have an answer to this question: Is there any State Church in Canada? And has the Church of England any more official standing here than any other Church? This question is suggested by what many people consider the impertinent, and as Mr. Pogue well says, "grotesque" doings at St. Paul's on Sunday. For the sake of our own military interests, it is important that this Anglican monopoly should cease.

Reader.

Reply—There is no "State" Church in Canada, the Anglican Church possessing no privileges in this country not accorded to any other church.—Ed. Times.

THE MARRIAGE CASE

(Editor Morning Times.)

Sir.—So many were the aspects of the discussion before the Supreme Court that several important items have scarcely been touched upon. The principal of these is that keystone right of the British constitution entitled "the liberty of the subject." The guiding rule has always been that any British citilen has a right to perfect freedom of thought, speech and action except where some clear law can be shown to the contrary. If he be arrested he has even a right to apply to the courts for a writ of Habeas Corpus demanding that legal cause be shown why he is restrained of his liberty. In last weeks' hearing before the Supreme Court, Chief Justice Fitzpatrick, (a very prominent Roman Catholic) did not seem to understand this aspect of the case since, in asking Mr. Lafleur whether the chief question was not the right of a Protestant minister to marry two Catholics, he appeared to miss the true point—the right of the citizens applying to go to whatever clergyman they please. By the Treaty of Paris of 1763 the 'new Roman Catholic subjects may profess the worship of their religion according to the rites of the Romish church as far as the laws of Great Britain permit.' These words contain no permission to ecclesiastics to restrain their adherents against the latters' will. On the contrary the constitution of Great Britain—containing the liberty of the subject—was part of the clause. Even the word "may" and "Roman Catholic subjects" clearly imply the same. By the Quebec Act of 1774 the same words are repeated. Suppose the alleged Catholic, applying for marriage, is not in conscience a Catholic at the time; or that he dislikes the priest, or objects to the enormous and arbitrary tariff of marriage fees (which is the usual cause of objection among the poor); or that he desires to assert his liberty; is it true that in this British Empire any citizen is so chained that he cannot assert himself without endangering the future of his family and their happiness? The whole claim smacks of the period when Protestant marriages were illicit in France and Canada; and belongs to that pre-Revolutionary "baggage" which Judge Charbonneau finds was all left behind at the conquest.

A second item not mentioned was a bargain arrived at when the clauses of the British North America Act, assigning the power of legislating on "Marriage and Divorce" to the Federal Parliament, and on the "solemnization of matrimony" to the Provincial Legislatures. Sir Hector Langevin, the Cabinet representative of the heirarchy, explained that by agreement with his colleagues he had put in writing the intentions of the Government, "in order that there might be no equivocation or misunderstanding." The writing was as follows :—"The word marriage has been placed in the draft of the proposed constitution to invest the Federal Parliament with the right of declaring what marriages shall be

LONG DELAYED RAILWAY NOW UNDER CONSTRUCTION

The Central Railway Being Built---Will Form Part of the Midland---Montreal Grain Line

Montreal, July 5.—After years of delay, the Central Railway of Canada, which was formerly called the Ottawa Valley Railway, and which will form part of the Midland-Montreal grain route, has entered upon the construction period, some 28 miles or more being now under contract between McAlpine, on the C.P.R. Ottawa short line, and South Indian Station, on the Grand Trunk, as the new railway crosses the two big lines west of the Ottawa river. The Central, after crossing the Island of Montreal from the eastward, crosses the Back River a short distance above the C.P.R. bridge, and traversing Jesus Island to St. Eustache, a second bridge of considerable length crosses Thousand Island River, thence northward to Hawkesbury, where the company have running rights over the Canadian Northern bridge. A few miles more and McAlpine is reached, where the initial contract has been subdivided and five or six sub-contractors are at work. A spur will be run from South Indian to Ottawa.

TWO MEN ADRIFT SIXTY HOURS ON LAKE HURON

Wiarton, Ont., July 5.—At seven o'clock on Monday evening, H. F. Murphy, lumberman of Tobermory, in company with a friend, left Southampton for the Sauble, where they intended to remain for the night. Mr. Murphy had just purchased a gasoline launch and was on his way home. Having reached the Sauble, the party decided to push on to Stokes Bay, but well out in the lake the engine gave out and they were not sufficiently experienced to repair it. They had neither oars or sail, and was therefore helplessly adrift. A good breeze was blowing off the shore and they were carried out into the lake toward the American side and even within sight of that shore. One of the party had a revolver and when a tug passed at some distance, he fired several shots, but failed to attract attention. As the little boat neared the American shore the wind shifted to the exact opposite point of the compass and it was driven back to the Canadian side. On Thursday morning after having been out sixty hours without food, they were blown ashore on the island of the Oliphant and made their way to Wiarton. They were in a very exhausted condition, but as the weather was warm they did not suf-

PINE TAR CORDIAL

NUGENT'S SARSAPARILLA—PRICE FOR large bottle, 100 full doses, 50c, and well worth it, too. It's better to take no medicine at all than to depend upon cheap concoctions that are compounded to sell at a low price and a big profit just because there is a large demand for certain remedies at certain seasons of the year. There are so-called Sarsaparillas offered to us to sell to our customers at 75c a bottle that would bring us a larger profit than Nugent's Sarsaparilla sold at 50c. Nugent's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, arouses the torpid liver, drives out all impurities, cleanses and tones up the system, and helps Nature throw off the dullness that comes from the indoor life of winter. It arouses energy, brightens the eye, clears the brain, gives lightness to the movements. Nugent's Sarsaparilla is not the only thing you will find in this drug store. We make a specialty of Nugent's Remedies. Nugent Drug Co., 366 George St. directly opposite Crossman's store.

PAINTS.

THE LAW OF QUALITY IS AS SURE AS the law of Gravity. Gravity keeps both your feet on the ground. Quality informs your judgment when you are on the "Ground Floor" in the matter of value. Martin-Senour's Paint is the Ground Floor of paint value. It makes good every time. It flows freely, has great covering capacity, shows a beautiful finish, and wears like iron. It will more than meet your expectations in quality brilliancy and durability. Campbell & Best, 134 Hunter St. Next to post office.

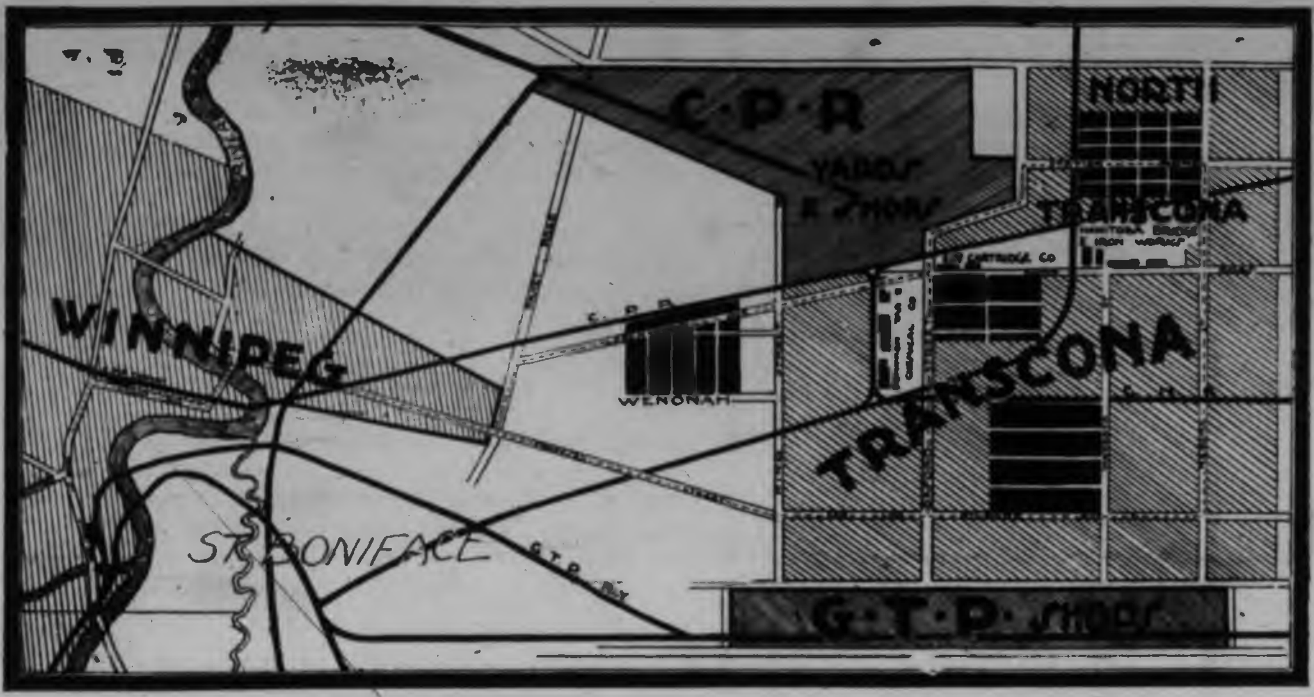
Take Our Advice and Invest in Transcona To-day



Winnipeg's Railway and Industrial Centre

TRANSCONA is rapidly becoming the recognized manufacturing centre of Winnipeg, and will be to Winnipeg what Toronto Junction is to Toronto.

The Grand Trunk Pacific are rushing to complete their immense shops at Transcona, one unit of theses are already finished, the machinery is now being tested, and in a few weeks' time one thousand men will be employed permanently and other sections will be pleted as rapidly as possible, and will give employment to a small army of mechanics.

The C. P. R. are now building the largest railway yard in the world at Transcona, together with elevators, round houses and other terminal facilities. Several industrial plants are already located in Transcona, and many others will be located there in the near future. The Dominion Tar and Chemical Co., and the Ely Cartridge Company now have their plants in operation. The Manitoba Bridge and Iron Works are building an enormous plant, and expect to have a part of it completed by the first of the year.

The G. T. P. shops will give employment to four or five thousand men, and in the near future the C. P. R. will require fully one thousand mechanics and yard men and the several manufacturing plants will require sufficient men to bring the total number of employees in Transcona up to fifteen thousand, this will mean a city with a population of over fifty thousand people.

Transcona has been incorporated, a progressive Council elected, and contracts have been already let for several mile of sidewalks, streets graded, electric light, and the question of sewage is now under consideration.

Investors who buy in Transcona to-day will make large profits. Real estate values in Transcona are exceptionally low, considering the possibilities of this young City. Lots that we are now offering for $5.00 per ft. and upwards will be worth from $100.00 to $300.00 per ft., in less than five years' time.

Any Investor can make 100 p.c. or more on their money in a very short time by investing in Transcona Lots.

STUDY THE MAP.—Note the Location of our Property—Shown in Black.

We have several of the choicest locations in Transcona. We have made a specialty of Transcona Property from the very first, and control the best buys in all parts of Transcona.

Prices: $5 to $20 per ft., including Kildare and Oxford frontage. Terms: Quarter Cash, Balance in 6, 12, 18, and 24 months.

The Worst in the Country.

"Are you the landlord of this hotel?" asked the guest who had his baggage on the porch.

"I guess I be," answered the man with pale eyes.

"Well, I want to hand this little sentiment to you. Your hotel is positively the worst I have ever seen in this country, and I've traveled all over it."

"I know it," answered the landlord. "And I have a kinder pride in it. Lemme tell you something about it. Every time we git beat outer a board bill it's sure some satisfaction to know that we got the best of the feller that done it."

Heat From the Moon.

The moon is made of material supposed to be stone, since its specific gravity is about that of the rocks within reach here on earth. It reflects the light it receives from the sun to the earth, but in greatly weakened proportion. Therefore this light will affect plants in the same ratio. The effect is very small indeed. Heat energy sent from the sun to the moon is very nearly the same as that radiated to the earth, but the quantity sent from the moon to the earth is so small that it is negligible.

Mr. Barnet is 21 years old, and is said to be the youngest graduate of any Canadian University to be awarded this coveted prize. He will go to Chicago to begin a three years' course.

Margaret Wore a Beard.

Bearded women have been very numerous. The most noted of the number was the famous Margaret of Austria, appointed by Charles V. to be governor of the Netherlands. She had a long, stiff black beard and, conceiving the idea that it added to the majesty of her appearance, was very careful of it and so combed and trained it as to make it seem much greater than it was.

PRINCE RUPERT
CANADA'S GOLDEN GATE

WHY IS PRINCE RUPERT A SAFE PLACE TO INVEST IN ?

BECAUSE of its wonderful Resouces, Fisheries and Timber, Coal and Mineral, Agriculture and Fruit Lands.

The fame of Prince Rupert as the City of Opportunity has spread all over the world. It is the City of Western Canada, of Canadian people, typical of progress, significant in its plans for the future. It is the Pacific Coast terminus of the Grand Trunk Pacific, Canada's new Transcontinental Railway. It is situated where economic laws demand there shall be a great city, and untold natural resources vouch for her future. This fact the people of Prince Rupert realize.

These are the days of work, big splendid work, days of ambition and accomplishment. The agricultural, mining, timber, fishing and other resources of Northern British Columbia are being developed, and Prince Rupert is the hub of all this activity.

Every incoming boat brings new people. These people must have homes to live in. The demand is greater than the supply. A Co-operative Organization is now being incorporated to build homes, business blocks and apartment houses, also to buy and sell Prince Rupert city property.

The company is to be incorporated for $100,000, divided into one hundred thousand shares of the par value of $1 each. This plan of co-operation is not new. It is one of the oldest proven plans of safe investment. Dividends will be paid and the stock will increase in value.

The stock will be offered at par and subscriptions for ten shares or more will be accepted.

The assets of this Company—LANDS AND BUILDINGS—are the safest on earth. DO YOU REALIZE THAT IT IS A GOOD INVESTMENT?

JUST THINK !

Stock in a similar company now doing business in Prince Rupet is worth THREE TIMES its initial selling price, and no more stock can be obtained.

Similar companies Operating in Los Angeles and San Diego have all experienced wonderful success.

Wage earners and investors are invited to join as stockholders in this wonderful plan of investment. Fill out the coupon, and write to-day for full information.

The affairs of this Company will be administered by a board of directors composed of men whose standing and integrity is unquestioned in the community in which they live. They are successful business men, all identified with substantial business interests in Prince Rupert.

The Company is distinctly CO-OPERATIVE. No promotion stock will be issued to any organizer or to any other person for a cent less than one dollar per share. Neither is there any preferred stock or bond issue. The shareholders, including the officers, share and share alike in proportion to their holdings.

Reservations are now being made for stock. Why not add your name to the list of stock holders? It is an opportunity for you to share in the prosperity of Prince Rupert for a very small outlay. A safe and sure way to profit by the growth of a City like Prince Rupert, especially for people who are not on the ground, to make their own private investments, or who have not sufficient capital to make a worth while purchase of real estate, is to join with several hundred others in a CO-OPERATIVE BUILDING AND INVESTMENT COMPANY such as this. In this way one's savings may be advantageously invested by officers of keen judgment who are giving their entire time and attention to the business and are, therefore, able to get the largest returns for the money.

WHY IS PRINCE RUPERT A SAFE PLACE TO INVEST IN ?

ELECTRIFYING THE RAILWAYS.

The attention of The Times has been called to an article on the above subject in a Boston paper, which states that the movement for the electrification of the railways is making substantial progress through the initiative of the lines themselves, and ultimately this part of the country must benefit from it. The New Haven system has made the definite announcement that it expects to have 500 miles of its lines working electrically within eighteen months, and the New York Central has 225 miles; the New Haven lines 114; the Pennsylvania 400; the Long Island, 150; the West Jersey and Sea Shore, 175, and the most is in the Detroit River, St. Clair and Hoosac tunnels, with a stretch of a dozen miles on the Great Northern where it climbs the Cascade mountains. The present plans of the New Haven and the New York Central lines will about double this total by the end of 1913. The C.P.R. is also moving along these lines.

In Europe the systems of electrification installed at important terminals and for urban traffic are modelled after American designs and principles, and the work is being pushed forward on a larger scale than at present in the United States. In Switzerland the national railways, totalling 1800 miles are undergoing electrification at an expense of $13,000,000. The comparative cheapness of the entelprise is explained by the abundant water power available there. However, the heavy grades and the long tunnels were the prime reasons for abandoning steam locomotives. In Germany the electric system is continually expanding. The Berlin Stadtbahn is about to employ 500 electric locomotives, entirely abolishing the use of steam. In France there are now 130 miles of electric trackage leading out o Paris, and it is proposed to electrify the whole suburban service at an expense of $30,000,000. In Italy 300 miles of track in the northern part, where there is plenty of water power, is now being electrified.

Editorial Notes

The cleverness with which local politicians and others are sidestepping his reams of advice is very distressing to the Hon. J. R.

In view of the fact that Nicholas is supporting Taft and Alice backing her papa, it is a safe bet that some lively curtain lectures are going on in the Longworth family.

It will be remarked that just so soon as Mrs. Pankhurst and Mr. and Mrs. Pethic-Lawrence are released from prison after serving a mere fraction of their sentences, suffrage violence is resumed on a large scale. The plan now is to smash the windows of all the postoffices in England. By and bye the British government will be compelled to treat these people as other classes of criminals are treated.

At the monthly meeting of the York Pioneers and Historical Society Tuesday in Toronto, Rev. J. Harris produced a recent letter from Hon. Col. Sam. Hughes, Minister of Militia, in reply to a letter concerning the Bunker Hill cannon, in which the Colonel stated: "We won't return the cannon until every British trophy in the United States is returned to us, and this they will never do."

Stops a Cough IN ONE NIGHT

CATARRH AND WEAK THROAT NOW CURED WITHOUT SWALLOWING DANGEROUS DRUGS

By Breathing the Soothing, Healing Vapor of Catarrhozone All Throat and Catarrhal Trouble is Quickly Cured.

It's simply wonderful to think how quickly a bad throat or Catarrh can be cured with Catarrhozone. Its rich balsamic vapor is carried along with the breath into the innermost recesses of the lungs, bronchial tubes and chest, making it impossible for the germ of any disease to live. Thus soreness in the chest is at once alleviated—phlegm is loosened and ejected from the throat, old-standing coughs are removed.

"I suffered from an irritable, weak throat for three years. I had a severe cough, pain over the eyes, constant bad taste in my mouth, and noises in my ears. It was chronic catarrh. Nothing gave me permanent relief till I used Catarrhozone. In one hour it relieved, and in a few weeks drove all trace of Catarrh from my system.

"TIMOTHEUS A. SALMON,
"No. 6 Lopez street, Kingston, Ja."

REMEMBER THIS—You breathe Catarrhozone and it will cure any throat, chest or bronchial cold. Large size, guaranteed, costs $1.00, and lasts two months; smaller sizes, 25c and 50c. Beware of imitations and insist on "CATARRHOZONE" only. By mail from the Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Ont.

MARVELLOUS GROWTH OF THE CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY

Only Twenty Six Years Ago Yesterday The First Transcontinental Train Was Run

Twenty-six years 6ago the first transcontinental train of the C.P.R. left for the Pacific coast. The western terminus was then Port Moody, which was shortly afterwards changed to Vancouver, and the eatern terminus of the road was Montreal and not St. John, N.B., as it is to-day. During the interval marvelous changes have taken place in the growth of the company as well as the development of the country. At that time there were many who despaired of the future of the C.P.R. and imagined that the attempt of Canada to build a railroad across the continent was an act of supreme folly. Labouchere's Truth in England poured forth a sad tale of woe, and called it a "bubble" which would soon be pricked and expressed a doubt about its completion. The country which it was to traverse was entirely barren and forbidding, and, it is said, amongst other things, "fifty railways would not galvanize it into prosperity." History tells altogether a different tale.

In 1886 the mileage controlled by the C.P.R. amounted to 4,315 miles. To-day it is over 16,000 miles — and still rapidly increasing. The company had no steamships in 1886; to-day there are about 75 in commission, sailing on the waters of the Atlantic and the Pacific, on the Great Lakes, and in the inland waters of British Columbia.

In 1886 the locomotives numbered 336, as against 1,845 in 1912; there were 7,835 freight cars in 1886, and 62,486 to-day with large orders for both kinds of equipment. And so it is with the sleepers and diners and parlor and first-class passenger cars. In each there is an equally marked increase. Its observation cars have even invaded Austria where they are operated on the State railway of that country.

The earnings, too, show a remarkable growth. In 1886 the gross earnings amounted to $8,368,493, and the net earnings to $3,225,217. After twenty-six years the gross earnings have grown to over $120,000,000 and the net earnings to over $40,000,000.

With its steamship, telegraph, express and hotel systems, the company has also established a natural resources department, which looks after its lands and irrigation schemes and mining interests and business opportunities that are ever opening along the road, and this department is also making a complete register of all business and openings along the line of the C.P.R., the company builds its own locomotives and cars at large shops located on different parts of its lines; it looks after the welfare of its 80,000 employes, establishes Y.M.C.A. institutions, organized a pension department by which employes after ten years' service upon reaching the age of 65 can retire on not less than $20 a month, furnishes ready-made farms for certain class of settlers, encourages others by generous loans to come to Canada operates demonstration farms, and runs better farming special trains by which farmers are taught the latest and most profitable methods of farming, and deservedly earns the distinctive title of "Providence Incorporated," which was bestowed upon it by an eminent foreigner after he had travelled over the system.

MONTREAL is growing at the rate of 40,000 people a year

MONTREAL'S densley populated districts extend 5 miles to the west, 4½ miles to the east, and 6½ miles to the north and there are scattered sections beyond these limits

Now Look to the South

BELLEVILLE

[ST. LAMBERT]

BELLEVILLE is 3 miles from the centre of Montreal. It is reached in 20 minutes from the centre of the city, and is guaranteed to be high, dry and suitable for building purposes. Cars run there every 20 minutes for a 5 cent fare.

Land within the three mile radius of Montreal, which touches Belleville includes Westmount, Outremont, and Maisonneuve, where lots cannot be bought for under $1,000 each. Yet Belleville lots can be purchased for from $225 each, payable 10 p. c. cash and the balance by small monthly payments.

The reason for this is that Belleville is on the South shore, and the South shore in the past has been like Cinderella. Although it is the most beautiful residential section round Montreal, the other sections all got good transportation systems, whilst the South shore, separated by the Victoria Bridge, could not get anything but a slow train service.

To-day all that is changed. Cinderella has come into her own. The South shore has a perfect system of Electric cars One line runs to within a few minutes of Belleville, whilst a new line, almost completed, runs right along the whole of one side of the property.

These lines have been operating for less than two years, yet in that time the South shore has quadrupled its population.

Belleville is in the finest possible location for an investment. It immediately adjoins St. Lambert, which is now practically all sold and built on, and investors there will see their money double and treble within a very few months.

Montreal Grain and Produce.

MONTREAL, July 4.—The demand from foreign buyers for Manitoba spring wheat continues very dull, and bids for oats today were 3d lower, which checkde any further business for the time being. There was a slight improvement in the demand for flour from country buyers, but the export trade is still very quiet. The demand for mill feed is also improving some. The butter market is firm, with a fair trade doing, but cheese is quieter. Eggs fairly active. Hams and bacon are more active, owing to the warm weather.

Corn—American, No 2 yellow, 84c.

Oats—Canadian western, No. 2, 51c; No. 3, 49c; extra No. 1 feed, 50½c.

[illegible] feed, [illegible] to 66c; malting, $1.05 to $1.07.

Flour—Manitoba spring wheat patents, firsts, $5.90; seconds, $5.40; strong bakers, $5.10; winter patents, choice, $5.40 to $5.50; straight rollers, $4.95 to $5; bags, $2.40 to $2.45.

Rolled oats—Barrels, $4.90; bags, 90 lbs., $2.32½.

Millfeed—Bran, $21; shorts, $26; middlings, $27; moullie, $30 to $34.

Hay—No. 2, per ton, car lots, $19.

Cheese—Finest westerns, 12½c to 13¼c; finest easterns, 12½c to 12⅝c.

Butter—Choicest creamery, 25c to 25¼c; seconds, 24c to 24½c.

Eggs—No. 1 stock, 25c to 26c; No. 2 stock, 15c to 16c.

Potatoes—Per bag, car lots, $1.80 to $1.85.

Dressed hogs—Abattoir killed, $12 to $12.25.

Pork—Heavy Canada short mess, barrels, 35 to 45 pieces, $26; Canada short cut backs, barrels, 45 to 55 pieces, $25.50.

Lard—Compound, tierces, 375 lbs., 10½c; wood pails, 20 lbs. net, 11c; pure, tierces, 375 lbs., 14c; pure wood pails, 20 lbs. net, 14½c.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Toronto Live Stock.

TORONTO, July 4.—The receipts of live stock were 22 cars, consisting of 140 cattle, 113 calves, 388 sheep and 367 hogs.

Prices at the Western market yesterday were.

Butchers—Good, from $7 to $7.65; medium, from $6 to $6.50, common, from $4.25 to $5.25.

Cows—Good, from $4.50 to $5.50, medium, from $3.50 to $4, common, from $1.75 to $2.25.

Calves—Good, from $7 to $7.50, medium, from $6 to $6.50; common, from $4 to $6.

Sheep—Heavy, from $3 to $3.50; light, from $4 to $4.50; bucks, from $3 to $3.50, lambs, from $5 to $8.50.

Stockers—Good, from $4 to $4.25; special lots, $4.75.

Bulls—Heavy, $5.25 to $6, light, from $4 to $5.

Hogs—F.o.b., $7.65; fed and watered, $8.

Two features came out in the buying at the Union Stock Yards yesterday Butchers of the quality offered dropped ¼c a pound, while hogs fed and watered went up 10c per cwt. The f.o.b. price remained the same, and the rise of 10c in the porkers was hung out as an inducement to sellers to handle all hogs fed and watered, and not on the f.o.b. plan.

Exporters—From $7.25 to $7.90.

Butchers—Good, from $6.50 to $7.25; medium, from $6 to $6.50. common, from $5.25 to $5.75.

Cows—Good, from $4.75 to $5.50; medium, from $3.25 to $4.25; common, from $2 to $3.

Bulls—Heavy, from $5.50 to $6.25, light, from $4.25 to $5.25.

Calves—Good, from $8.25 to $8.50; medium, from $7 to $7.75.

Sheep—Heavy, from $3.50 to $3.75; light, from $4.50 to $5, lambs, from $8 to $8.50; common, from $6.50 to $7.75; bucks, from $3.25 to $4.

Hogs—F.o.b., $7.65; fed and watered, $8.10

Milkers—From $60 to $65.

Stockers—Good, from $4.35 to $5.25; medium, from $4.25 to $4.75.

"Safe and Sane" In Gotham.

New York, July 5.—Yesterday promised to be the safest and sanest Fourth of July in the history of New York.

The sale of fireworks, except by special permit, was practically prohibited, and the celebration in the city proper was confined to a parade up Broadway, exercises at the City Hall, a patriotic song rally at the City Hall last evening, and several fireworks displays in the parks last night under municipal supervision. The day was fine and not too warm

INDIGNANTLY DENIES THAT HE SPENT THE $3,000

Toronto, July 5.—"Did the $3,000 Farmers Bank cheque, marked 'C,' which has caused so much speculation to the Government Commission go towards the chartering of a special train for a joy ride from Ottawa to Montreal ?"

Ever since the sensational statement made by W. R. Travers, ex-manager of the Farmers Bank, before Commissioner Sir William Meredith last Saturday, that the $3,000 marked cheque had been forwarded to Mr. Peter Ryan, rumors have been rife as to the destination of the money. This latest story emanating from Ottawa, was emphatically repudiated by Mr. Ryan this morning in his office.

He was shown a copy of an Ottawa evening paper in which it was claimed that private investigation had shown that the proceeds "went for a joy ride to Montreal on a special train and that the cheque was given to a local Jehu whose first name began with a "C."

"PREPOSTEROUS."

"Preposterous," Mr. Ryan said. "I have not the remotest idea or knowledge of the whole thing."

"Do you think," he added in indicating the impossibility of the story, "that ——, or any other man, would have carried that cheque for three weeks, without spending it ?"

"How would your name become connected with it ?" he was asked.

TO TRAP INTO PERJURY.

"I have not the faintest conception under Heaven," he declared with vehemence, "and I want to tell you right here," he continued, shaking his finger, "that I am indignant that the Commission should send for me to attend immediately and to put leading questions to me without warning of what was coming and with the evident object of trapping me into perjury. Even had I been guilty I should not have been invited to become a perjurer. Had there been the slightest foundation for the evidence which Mr. Travers and Mr. Hodgins desired to go forth to the world it would have been most serious in my case. If the object of the Commission was to elicit the truth it was surely not the purpose of trapping men into such statements.

"I want the name of that man to whom Travers said he pledged his honor not to divulge the name of the recipient.

"How can Sir William Meredith close his Commission without it and be satisfied ?"

Mr. Ryan produced a letter from ex-Mayor Fred Cook, of Ottawa. It reads as follows :—

"SHOWED TRAVERS A LIAR."

"When I saw Traver's statement, I immediately went to the Russell House and urged them to dig up the register for 1906, but found your telegram had arrived in advance. Confidently, I may tell you that the Russell House people at first did not quite realize the seriousness of your case and were disposed to make light of your request. Jack O'Brien found what I hoped and believed would be the case that the register showed Travers to be a liar.

"You were quite justified in tipping off the news to The Globe, but it is a curious thing that such an important item should have been overlooked by the active young men of the Ottawa press.

"CONFOUND THEIR POLITICS."

"O'Brien enjoined me to say nothing about it but I left free to tip it off to one of my newspaper friends to-day. I assume no responsibility for the story in to-day's Journal.

"In the words of the National Anthem 'Confound their politics, frustrate their knavish tricks.'

"Yours in the true Tory faith,

Fred Cook."

Mr. Ryan has received word from Mr. Hodgins that the Investigation will be resumed this month.

Some reasons why Oakdale Park offers a gilt-edged investment:

"It has the best car service of any restricted residence district either inside or outside the city.

"Its proximity to Winnipeg's largest and most beautiful city park.

WINNIPEG PROPERTY

Has made FORTUNES for SMALL INVESTORS, and there is More Money being made TODAY than ever before in the History of the CITY.

Why you should buy in Oakdale Park:

Because: "It is the centre of a 500 acre restricted residential area.

Because: "It is farther from the smoke, dust and noise of railways than any Residence District inside or outside of the City, and with better car service."

Western Canada is the World's Attraction

The United States cannot keep people from realizing the GREATEST OPPORTUNITY ever offered, to secure Independent fortunes, by locating Homes in Western Canada. WINNIPEG is growing by leaps and bounds—A SUBSTANTIAL, PERMANENT GROWTH. VACANT HOUSES ARE UNKNOWN and yet Building is more active than ever.

OAKDALE PARK

Is the choice Residential District, All restricted property located in the West End reached by direct Electric Street Car Line in 20 minutes, from the Centre of the City (service every 4½ minutes). 301 Northern Crown Bank Buildings
Winnipeg, Canada

The history of Crescentwood will be repeated in Oakdale. Where in the former 5 or 6 years ago lots were sold at $15 to $25 per foot, with the same building restrictions as Oakdale Park has to-day, and now $60 to $150 per foot is being paid in Crescentwood and residences to the value of $10,000 to $100,000 are being erected. History will repeat this in Pakdale, but in less time, as it has better Electric Car Service now.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH WEST LAND REGULATIONS.

ANY PERSON who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years old, may homestead a quarter section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. The applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for the district. Entry by proxy may be made at any agency, on certain conditions by father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of intending homesteader.

Duties—Six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within nine miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres solely owned and occupied by him or by his father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister.

In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt a quarter section alongside his homestead. Price $3.00 per acre. Duties —Must reside upon the homestead or pre-emption, six months in each of six years from date of homestead entry (including time required to earn homestead patent) and cultivate 50 acres extra.

A homesteader who has exhausted his homestead right and cannot obtain a pre-emption may enter for a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $3.00 per acre. Duties —Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate fifty acres and erect house worth $300.00.

Department of Railways and Canals, Canada.

WELLAND CANAL.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

SEALED TENDERS, addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tender for Port Colborne Entrance Improvements," will be received at this office until 16 o'clock on Monday, the 8th July, 1912.

Plans, specifications and form of contract to be entered into can be seen on and after this date at the office of the Chief Engineer of the Department of Railways and Canals, Ottawa, and at the office of the Superintending Engineer of the Welland Canal, St. Catharines, Ont., at which places forms of tender may be obtained.

Parties tendering will be required to accept the fair wages schedule prepared by the Department of Labour, which schedule will form part of the contract.

Contractors are requested to bear in mind that tenders will not be considered, unless made strictly in accordance with the printed forms, and in the case of firms, unless there are attached the actual signature, the nature of the occupation, and place of residence of each member of the firm.

An accepted bank cheque for the sum of $20,000 made paybale to the order of the Minister of Railways and Canals must accompany each tender which sum will be forfeited if the party tendering declines entering into contract for the work at the rates stated in the offer submitted.

The cheque thus sent in will be returned to the respective contractors whose tenders are not accepted.

The cheque of the successful tenderer will be held as security, or part security, for the due fulfillment of the contract to be entered into.

The lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted.

By order,
L. K. JONES,
Secretary.

No Ladies, No Stead.

Mr. Stead, the London editor, who went down with the Titanic, was a great peace man, a woman suffragist and was an active agent in most great reforms. There was one peculiarity told of him. He didn't believe in any classification among people. He did not believe in meetings for men. He wouldn't attend such meetings. One time when he was invited to attend a big public function for men only, in Toronto, he wired the committee: "No ladies, no Stead." While attending a great peace congress in this country he was invited to a newspaper men's banquet, but wouldn't go because no women had been invited.

It was not gallantry that moved him to this course, but antipathy to social distinction of any kind. The women were to be included in every effort toward the promotion of good in the world. They were not to be proscribed. He regarded their encouragement and assistance as necessary in all progress.

A Clever Scout.

One of the most interesting figures in the recent militia camp at Niagara Falls, Ont., was Lloyd Colquhoun, the fourteen-year-old son of Captain M. A. Colquhoun of the Dufferin Rifles of Brantford, who was attached to the regimental signalling corps. Being too young to take his place in the ranks, he wore the uniform of the Brantford Y.M.C.A. Boy Scouts, of which he is an enthusiastic member. Scout Colquhoun was one of the fastest signallers in the camp, and can use the heliograph, flag, or night lamp with equal facility. He was practising on the field with the heliograph sections every day and proved his ability. Scout Colquhoun has the distinction of wearing no less than twenty-six scout badges on his arms, as witnesses to his proficiency in many lines, including dairying, fire-fighting, cooking, sewing, life-saving, daring, general usefulness, and many others.

Railway Gives Scholarships.

Four free scholarships, each covering four years' tuition in the faculty of applied science of McGill University, are offered by the Grand Trunk Railway System, subject to competitive examinations, to apprentices and other employes of the company under twenty-one years of age, and to minor sons of employes. The competitive examinations, which will be the regular entrance matriculation examination provided for in the annual calendar of the university, will be held at the university, Montreal, and other centres, beginning June 12, 1912. The four candidates making the highest average and complying with the requirements of admission will be awarded the scholarships and have the option of taking a course in any department of the faculty of applied science.

No Changes.

"Why don't you work up some improvements in this department?" demanded the proprietor.

"Well, sir, the work has always been done this way. Could I have an increase of salary?"

"Why should you? This job has always drawn $8 a week."

She Had Retired.

"Is that hair restorer any good?"

"Fine! I put a bottle of it on my wife's dressing table the other night and when I got home from the club the dressing table was covered with hair."

The Lynx.

The lynx is a great yellow, long legged cat, nearly the size of a collie dog, with a stumpy tail and camel's hair pencils on the tips of his ears. His weapons are his claws, and they are terrible weapons, sharp as razors and so large that the imprint of a lynx's paw in the snow is actually almost the size of that of a bear.

Lindsay Post: A very distressing accident befell Mr. William Huffman, a brakeman on the G.T.R., which resulted in the victim receiving injuries that necessitated the amputation of his leg. The accident occurred at Port Hope, on Sunday morning, about 8 o'clock, and was occasioned by the train to which Huffman was attached, was backing down upon him while on his way to the switch. Another train was passing at the time and it was thought that the victim of the accident became confused, and in order to avoid being struck by the oncoming train, stepped back directly in the path of his own train, which was backing toward the switch at the time. He was knocked down and when rescued from his precarious position was on the verge of collapse, having sustained serious injuries about the head and back in addition to having the left leg all but severed from the body.
